The West annual

Look-Alike

Tarried usi before the

at Nappy Joe's Bar in

--- is was Levisi's

2 A other Brothers

No andi-

boiled over Tuesday when two 400-meter runners criticized the coach, one calling him "unprofessional" and "inconsistent" and the other accusing him of lying. The remarks, by Steve Lewis and Danny Everett, stemmed from their continued unhappiness over Rosen's intention to include Michael Johnson on the 1,600-meter relay team. A1though he has been the world's leading runner at 200 and 400 meters for two years, Johnson competed only in the 200 at the Olympic trials last month. Training Under Fire The air-raid sirens would tell Mirsada Buric when it was time to go for a run. While her neighbors ducked into cellars, she would

But Materials May Have Been Removed However, Rolf Ekeus, head of the Special Commission established by the UN Security Council to eliminate Iraq's weapons of mass destruction, said Tuesday, "We have not given up the possibility of finding something."

The head of the operation said that the inspectors would, among other things, be looking for signs that the Iraqis had recently removed weapons-related material from some portion of the building. BAGHDAD — United Nations arms inspectors finally began a search of the Ministry of Agriculture building on Thesday, after Western intelligence agencies said they suspected it might have housed some kind of headquarters

The inspectors spent about six and a half hours in the building and will return there Wednesday. A spokesman for the special commission said later that the team would not start See IRAQ, Page 14

Saddam, a Warrior Defeated in Battle Who Manages to Keep Clawing Back

Disputed Site in Baghdad

West Suspects Link to Missile Program,

By Caryle Murphy AMMAN, Jordan - Saddam Hussein is for President Saddam Hussein's program to and materials from the building. After keeping a 24-hour watch since first being refused access to it on July 5, the United Nations inspectors withdrew last Wednesday because of threats trace has had five days to remove documents develop long-range ballistic missiles.

and harassment from demonstrators.

The Global Newspaper

Edited and Published in Paris

Printed simultaneously in Paris, London, Zurich, Hong Kong, Singapore, The Hague, Marseille, New York, Rome, Tokyo, Frankfurt.

No. 34,032

That was the real news from Baghdad, be-youd the predictable rhetoric from the Ba ath Socialist Party machinery proclaiming "a splendid victory" in the diplomatic solution to the latest confrontation with the United Na-

Back onto the world stage marched a man who had been defeated militarily, who was bound by sanctions, challenged by rebellions and isolated and humiliated in the world,

Through a theatrical display of hravado over the "sovereignty" of a huilding in Baghdad, he compelled the president of the United States to cut short a campaign trip, send warships to the Gulf and spend a day huddled with top hrass, Recall this man just 16 months ago; The television pictures showed Mr. Saddam in an underground bunker, wrapped in an overcoat because there was no heat. His country's entire electrical grid was out. Sewage systems, traffic lights, telephones did not work. Baghdad's bridges over the Tigris were bombed ont, as were more than 100 others

His secret policemen did not know what was going on. Residents of Baghdad held private into the Breach, Baidly

OLYMPIC COO PODIUM

The U.S. men's voileyball team, heads shay en to show their solidarity with Bob Samuelson to protest a reversal of their opening victory against Japan, struggled to a 15-12, 15-12, 10-15, 11-15, 16-14 victory Tuesday over Canada. The Americans are seeking a third straight gold medal. In other matches

Monday, France defeated Japan, 15-8, 9-15,

15-11, 10-15, 15-9, and Cuba beat Algeria,

U.S. Champions Swamped

Janet Evans's 6-year victory streak in the 400-meter freestyle ended Monday. Dagmar

Hase of Germany upset Evans of the United States, the world record-holder, by .19 seconds. "I think I died a little at the end," Evans said through tears. Her compatriot, Matt Biondi, winner of five gold medals at fifth in the men's 100 meters.

15-4, 15-2, 15-3.

military was confused and in disarray. A good part of his air force was impounded in Iran, his

He had just been evicted from Kuwait, which he had declared Iraq's 19th province, and had agreed to the most humiliating, intrusive, encompassing cease-fire conditions since the Versailles Treaty punished Germany after World

NEWS ANALYSIS

To top it off, 14 of Iraq's 18 provinces had just been racked by the most furious upnising in What happened?

For ooe thing, even in his disastrous circumstances, Mr. Saddam, 53 years old, had some luck. The allied coalition in Operation Desert Storm left him with enough troops and equipment to enforce his rule and put down rebellions by the Shiites and the Kurds.

For another, he had prepared financially. Somehow, somewhere, he had stashed away enough money to buy what he has needed since United Nations economic sanctions were imposed almost two years ago - luxuries for his elite and equipment to rebuild, to an amazing

See SADDAM, Page 14

INTO THE WILD BLUE YONDER — A U.S. Navy Intruder jet bomber getting ready for takeoff from the carrier Saratoga in the Adriatic as allied forces maintained the United Nations Security Council embargo against Serbia and Montenegro. Page 3.

New' Israel Tries to Redefine U.S. Ties

By David Hoffman

Herald International Cribi

Published With The New York Times and The Washington Post

PARIS, WEDNESDAY, JULY 29, 1992

HAIFA, Israel - Beyond a forest of cranes and docks laden with ocean-bound commercial cargo in this Mediterranean port loom gray warships with distinctly American names --- the Trenton, the Spartanburg County, the Saginaw, and the Yellowstone. They are U.S. Navy vessels, and all have sliced through the waters of Haifa Bay recently, where dredging and dock improvements are making way for even more and larger ships from the 6th Fleet.

Arriving here for repairs and routine port calls, the ships are one But today Israel's military and routine port calls, the ships are one example of how Israel hopes to preserve its role as an ally and military partner of the United States in the post-Cold War era. With the collapse of the Soviet Union, Israel and the United States have been forced to rethink the concept of "strategic cooperation" that has alliance over the last decade. Developed in the late 1970s, strategic cooperation envisioned Israel underpinned much of their military political leaders are eager to forge a new definition for their partnership with the world's sole superpower.

The rethinking coincides with the recent shift in Israel's govern-ment that has elevated Yitzhak Rabin to the posts of prime minister and defense minister. Mr. Rabin, who plans to visit President George Bush oext month, has said the alliance with the United States is critical to Israel's security, and he has pledged to repair relations with Washington that were strained under his predecessor, Yitzhak Sha-

هكذامنالأجل

In his talks with Mr. Bush, Mr. Rabin's immediate goal is to secure the U.S. guarantees for $10 billion in loans for immigrant absorption that have been a bone of contention between the two countries for months. But some Israeli and American officials say they think Mr. Rabin also wants to seek com-

See ALLY, Page 2

U.S. Would Sell Arms to Seoul

Kiosk

WASHINGTON (AP) -The Bush administration has told Congress it intends to sell South Korea nearly $1 billion worth of Apache attack helicopters and related equipment, the Peotagoo aonounced Tuesday.

The package includes 37
AH-64 attack helicopters, 775 Hellfire missiles, 30mm ammunition, eight spare engines, spare night vision systems, other spare parts and support equipment, the announcement

General News

Two old political focs closed ranks in Washington to em-barrass George Bush. Page 6. A drift toward civil war in Algeria is feared.

Business/Finance

U.S. consumers turned pessimistic in July.

Page 13.
Up 1.11 % 90.85

127.40 127.45

Will Depress Economies, Study Says

ESTABLISHED 1887

EC Unity Plan

Brook-

t door.

cafés /s-busy

fruits

Anderva 6.50 F Iceland 175 KR Omers 1,000 Plans Analisis 10 F.F. Fram 115 Risks Poland 22 000 21.
Assets 25 S wars 185 5.50 Portugal 2,700 21.
Belgium 60 B.Fr. Jordan 11,0 Rep 0 Portugal 2,700 Exc.
Belgium 60 B.Fr. Jordan 1,0 Rep 0 Polation 69 P.
Copins C1100
Cuschoole-stacks to Dames 14 00 D.M.
Egypt 6P, 5000
Egypt 7, 500 File States 100 Plans
Erroce 8.50 F, 500 File States 100 Plans
Erroce 8.50 F, 5000
Egypt 100 FM
France 10.00 FM
Refreshed 0.050
Greec Brass 0.050
Refreshed 0.050

Report Lends Weight To Maastricht Critics Ahead of French Vote

By Tom Redburn ional Rerald Tribune

PARIS - Stoking a controversy with wide political implications in several European Community countries, a report by the Interna-tional Monetary Fund estimates that moves to achieve economic and monetary union will be a significant drag on growth in Europe over the oext four years, officials said Tuesday.

The IMF study, being prepared as part of its semiannual World Economic Outlook to be released in October, is likely to give added credibility to complaints from some politicians and business executives over the treaty approved by EC leaders in December at the Dutch city of Maastricht. It also could have a major impact on the crucial French poblic referendum in September that may determine the fate of the agreement.

Many Europeans worry that the Maastricht treaty could impose an economic straitjacket on the Community. The treaty places demands on several nations, particularly those in southern Europe, requiring them to squeeze inflation and tighten government budgets before being allowed to adopt the common currency that is scheduled to come into effect before the end of

The IMF stody, based on simulations of different financial market reactions to efforts to achieve ecocomic coovergence in Europe, suggested that EC growth would be retarded hy between 0.4 and 0.8 percentage point annually from 1993 through 1996, officials said.

The report, which was first disclosed by the French oewspaper Libération on Tuesday, pre-dicted that Italy would be hardest hit over the

Uoder the more favorable scenario, in which

Rome adopts credible measures to rein in deficit spending, Italian growth would be cut below what it otherwise might be hy an annual average of 1.1 percentage points over the four-year period. The early years would be particularly tough, but there would be a gradual payoff from lower inflation and narrower deficits later in the decade. An Italian failure to move toward a more credible fiscal policy, however, would be even worse. If financial markets anticipate an exchange-rate realignment because of the inahility of high-deficit countries to meet the Maas-Italy's economy would steadily erode over the next few years. Growth might be cut by about 2 percentage points oext year, with the drag in-creasing to 3.4 percentage points by 1996.

But IMF officials caotioned that the report's findings, based on computer models of economic effects, should not be taken as definitive. These are only simulations, not a forecast, said Graham Newman, a fund spokesman in Washington.

Although IMF economists generally confirmed the figures, the French Finance Ministry contended that the IMF report was actually more optimistic about the impact of the Maastricht agreement on European economic performance.

In Brussels, the EC Commission disputed the French newspaper's contention that a separate study by the Community backed up the IMF's cooclusions with similarly negative figures. The Commission released an internal study that estimated that the Maastricht standards would crimp growth in the 12 EC nations by only 0.1 percentage point, to 2.2 percent, next year. It predicted overall EC growth would improve to a 2.5 percent rate in 1994 and 3 percent in 1995.

"The IMF scenarios are extreme and unrealistic," an EC spokesman said. "The comparison is made between a situation involving full application of economic convergence and the one in which the member countries would not act." Several independent economists agree that such countries as Italy and Greece would have to go through an economic wringer even if the Maastricht treaty did not exist. But they also contend that the fiscal criteria requiring countries to slash budget deficits are likely to impose unnecessarily harsh economic pain on Europe.

"Policy in the EC will be subject to an contractionary fiscal hias during the next few years," concluded Willem Buiter, an economics professor at Yale University, in a recent study conducted at the London-based Center for Economic Policy Research. "The fiscal norms

See EUROPE, Page 14

To Our Readers

Beginning Today: A World Stock Index

called. Buric's ordeal in preparation for the lence.

This newspaper today begins publication of the International Herald Tribune World Stock Index, compiled by Bloomberg Business News. The daily index will provide a quick indicator of the health of the world's stock markets, and, indirectly, of the international economy. The IHT and Bloomberg have been guided by two main principles, which together dis-tinguish the Trib Index from other world market indicators: That international investors be able to buy all the shares in the index and that the index he as simple as possible.

The index is limited to a select group of major, beavily traded stocks in the world's most significant markets. The Trib Index thus provides a concise economic and financial benchmark for analysts and international shares each are represented, bringing the total to 230.

Pail daily charts and results, Page 9.

The level of the index reflects rises and declines in the total value of the 230 stocks starting from a base point of 100 on Jan. 1,

That date was chosen as an easily understandable point of reference, independent of any market trend.

The index weights the stocks according to their market value. That means, for example, that the 10 shares from a relatively small on the index than the 10 shares from a major trading center like Frankfurt.

dart into Sarajevo's ruined streets, ready to women's 3,000 meters is being hailed as dodge sniper bullets in pursuit of her Olym- perhaps the most inspirational symbol of pic dream. "I felt stronger at those mo- these Olympics, one that illustrates the tri-ments," the 22-year-old Bosnian runner re- umph of personal will over political vio-

Bob Samuelson of the U.S., with Scott Fortune behind him, protesting during the volleyball game with Canada. The U.S. won. Page 21.

In selecting 10 stocks per market, the aim is to establish a representative picture of each country's performance from the viewpoint of the international investor.

As most of the world's top 20 stock markets are in Europe, the method of selection gives Europe 140 out of the 230 stocks. But the relatively low total value of European shares produces a European weighting of only 40 percent in the world index.

The high value of shares traded in New York gives North America, with only 30 shares, a weighting of about 35 percent. The Asia/Pacific region represents about 25 percent of the index's total value.

The relatively low Asia/Pacific figure reflects the recent big drop in share prices in Tokyo. If, for example, the value of the Tokyo stock market were to rise faster than the thunder of spears pounded on cowhide

See INDEX, Page 14

Zulu King Takes Bride, the Xhosas' Juliet shields. The featured dancers included the

By Bill Keller New York Times Service

NONGOMA, South Africa - Before a throng of guests, some in pinstripes and others in leopard skins, King Goodwill Zwelithini, the hereditary monarch of 7 million Zulus, wed his fifth wife.

Olympic Baseball

Olympic report: Pages 16, 17, 19, 20 and 21

Cuba 8, Japan 2

On a drought-seared promontory beneath the thatched palace compound he had commissioned for his new queen, the king formally declared his love to a 19-year-old Xhosa-speaking maiden whose selection excited a swirl of political speculation.

In the new South Africa, which aspires to nonracial democracy, kings and tribes are not supposed to matter much anymore. But by reaching outside the Zulu nation, at a time when many Zulus feel themselves at war with the world, and with the Xhosas in particular, the king touched off a controversy that reminded the country of the power such distinctions still hold over much of the population.

It was a cariously ecumenical wedding, in which the names of Jesus and Chaka were both invoked, with the greater fervor accorded the bellicose 19th-century founder of the Zulu em-The bride arrived in a red Cadillac Seville to KwaZulu government officials who compensated for the lack of pockets in their leopard kilts by tying BMW keys to their wrists, and a troupe of Portuguese folk dancers from Johannesburg, who whirled to Iberian compah music before king's bare-breasted daughters, a panoply of Tribal (and political) questions at a curiously ecumenical wedding.

thousands of amazed Zulus squatting in the reddish dust.

But it was the whiss of politics that made the event most unusual. The king, 44 years old, who descended from a half-brother of the childless Chaka, has been relegated to a largely ceremo-nial position in KwaZuln, the archipelago of 40 or so land fragments designated by the old apartheid government as the Zulu homeland. In affairs of state, he is eclipsed by his chief minister, Mangosuthu Gatsha Buthelezi, president of the Inkatha Freedom Party and master of KwaZulu's one-party state. In the 1970s, egged on by ambitious Zulu princes and a white government that found Mr. Buthelezi too independent, the king moved to assume the role of constitutional monarch. Mr. Buthelezi, it is said, threatened to cut off his allowance.

Since then, the king and Mr. Buthelezi have settled into an amiable mutual dependency. Mr. Buthelezi reaps the legitimacy of the monarchy; the king tends his cattle, visits his multiple wives in their separate palaces and races his black Mercedes through the mountains without fear of ever getting a ticket for speeding.

In the 1980s, Inkatha, which Mr. Buthelezi. built on Zuln nationalism and a free-market, anti-Communist ideology, became a deadly rival to Nelson Mandela's African National Congress. The congress espouses no particular ethnic tradition, and in fact includes many Zulus, but Mr. Mandela and several or his top lieutenants are Xhosa-speakers.

As the violence has risen across the eastern provinces of Natal and Transvaal, embattled blacks on both sides have increasingly tended to see it as not just a political struggle but also an ethnic war.

Many non-Zulus have come to regard the Zulus as a bellicose people stirred to vicious feats of nationalism by their political leaders. Zuhus, in turn, assert that they are attacked

See ZULUS, Page 2

Fischer Set To Play Spassky Once More

BELGRADE - Bobby Fischer, the reclusive former world chess champion, has confirmed that cooditions have been fulfilled for his first public match in 20 years, a spokesman said Tuesday.

Mr. Fischer is to play Boris Spassky, aoother former champion whom he defeated in 1972 to take the title, in a $5 million, nine-game match in Yugoslavia next month.

Mr. Fischer had given promoters a list of demands for adjustments to one of the venues where the match is to be played. But on Tuesday the promoters said Mr. Fischer was "extremely satisfied" with the conditions for the match, which is scheduled to begin

Now 49, Mr. Fischer won the world championship in 1972 in Reykjavik, Iceland, defeating Mr. Spassky, now 55, in one of the most celebrated series of games ever. The match would end nearly two decades of self-imposed obscurity for Mr. Fischer, who resigned his title in 1974 after a long dispute with the Interoational Chess Federation over scoring rules.

The match would also likely be viewed as a violation of the ioternational sanctions against Yugoslavia imposed by the United Nations in an effort to half the fighting in Bosnia-Herzegovina.

American diplomats in Belgrade said officials in Washington were aware of Mr. Fischer's reported cootract to play the chess match despite the stiff UN economic sanctions against Yugoslavia. "It's a Washingtoo call," a diplomat said. "It's a game for the lawyers."

The U.S. government has adhered to the sanctions' provisions so strictly that even Yugoslavs with the right to U.S. Social Security payments have had their checks cut off. Mr. Fischer is a U.S. citizen; Mr. Spassky holds French citizenship and lives outside Par-

The match would begin in Sveti Stefan, a resort island on the Adriatic coast, and move to Belgrade, the promoters said. The winner would receive $3.35 million and the loser $1.65 million, they said.

One of the conditions Mr. Fischer demanded was that all journalists be kept well away Yugoslav news reports said. (AP, NYT) moo understandings on security

The United States provides Israel with $1.8 billion a year in military assistance, and in the last 20 years the two countries have developed a close military relationship.

Israel has served as a testing ground for equipment, a research and development center, and a

But this relationship was bruised

by accusations last spring in a State Department inspector general's report that Israel improperly trans-ferred American technology to other countries, and by a separate allegation that Israel had shared

Patriot missile technology with

China, a charge American officials termed groundless after an investi-

UNIVERSITY DEGREE

BACHELORS - MASTERS - DOCTORATE

Pacific Western University

For Work, Life and Academ

(310) 471-0306

FAX: (310) 471-6456

weapons purchaser and supplier.

and military matters.

UN Warns of Huge New Wave of Bosnia Refugees

By Blaine Harden Washington Post Service

ZAGREB, Croatia - On the eve of an emergency conference to address the refugee disaster in Bosnia, a United Nations refugee official said here Tuesday that another huge wave of Bosnian Muslims was at imminent risk of being forced to join the more than 2 million people made homeless by civil war.

The chief of operations in Croatia for the UN High Commissioner for Refugees said that about 350,000 Muslims living in the northwest corner of Bosnia "are completely surrounded by Serbs and therefore very vulcleansing" that since April has depopulated selves. much of eastern Bosnia.

suddenly, it would suggest enormous logisti- gees, if donors do not act quickly.

cal problems," said the official, Anthony

The commission has called an urgent meeting of Western donors in Geneva on Wednesday to raise money and open up European borders for the 2.5 million people that it says have already been displaced by war, both inside and outside of Bosnia.

Most of the refugees are Muslims, who until this spring made up 44 percent of Bosnia's population. Refugee officials say most of these Muslims are victims of ethnic cleansing, a Serbian tactic of using terror, intimidation and murder to flush non-Serbs oerable" to the Serbian practice of "ethnic from territory that Serbians claim for them-

uch of eastern Bosnia.

Officials from the commission have made tional organizations, John R. Bolton, said that oumber of people were to move dire predictions about the fate of the refu-

Mr. Land pointed to the success of the 25-day-old humanitarian airlift to the Bosnian capital, Sarajevo, which he said has managed to deliver more than 5,000 tons of food and has reached more than 80 percent of the tations on the subject right now.

450,000 people in the Sarajevo area. Serb forces reluctantly accepted the Sarajevo airlift, which shattered their two-month attempt to starve the city into surrender, after Western powers made it clear that armed force would be used, if needed, to support the operation.

Remarks in Geneva by a senior American official suggested that a similar threat might be made to back up the trucking operation proposed by the commission.

The assistant secretary of state for internafavor the use of force.

"But we would support a Security Council resolution to authorize the use of all necessary means to ensure the delivery of humani-tarian assistance," be said. "We're in consul-

In EC-brokered peace talks on Bosnia in London, meanwhile, the Muslim representative rejected a proposal that would divide the republic along ethnic lines.

Saying that any splitting of the republic would produce ethnic divisions "drawn in blood," Foreign Minister Haris Silajdzic of Bosnia refused to consider a proposal from the European Community mediator, José Cutileiro of Portugal. He had suggested easing ethnic tensions by drawing jurisdictional lines to separate Muslims, Serbs and Croats.

"These ethnic lines can only be drawn in blood," said Mr. Silajdzic, whose government demands a unitary state.

Bush Tempers Stance on Iraq

With Crisis Eased, Chance of Military Action Recedes

By Michael R. Gordon

New York Times Service WASHINGTON - After a week of increasingly tough state-ments, the Bush administration sought Tuesday to dampen public expectations of military action as it struggled to come up with a policy to counter President Saddam Hussein of Iraq.

Without the crisis over access by United Nations inspectors to the Agriculture Ministry in Baghdad, American officials said, they lack the means to galvanize the UN coalition, and perhaps some members of the administration itself, to confront Iraq militarily. Yet Iraq still remains a thorn in the administration's side, and the White House is still trying to develop oew steps to thwart Mr. Saddam. Seeking to lower expectations of a military strike, which the administration itself encouraged only days ago, the Pentagon announced that it had canceled plans to send a second aircraft carrier to the Mid-

Marlin Fitzwater, the White House press secretary, said that "the immediate situation is defused," even though many tensions there would be future confronta-strate its continuing concerns is One of those who met with the asking the United States to aggres- president, the speaker of the sively pursue future inspections. House, Thomas S. Foley of Wash-Mr. Fitzwater said that he expected ington, said: "I didn't get the im-Americans to be members of new pression that immediate use of inspection teams and insisted that force was contemplated today be-Irao's influence over the composi- cause of the actions taken by Iraq. tion of the team now inspecting the It was emphasized today that any

The administration is also contions with Congress." sidering a plan to tell the Iraqis that military attacks on the Shiite rebels in the south will not be tolerated and that the United States will either act militarily to stop those at-treated as a precedent.

Tuesday with congressional leaders, members of both parties gave him pledges of support for contino-ing pressure on Baghdad to comply with the resolutions.

tions. He quoted Mr. Bush as hav-"I would not want to convey a ing told the congressional delegasense of crisis publicly," Defense secretary Dick Cheney added.

Among the moves that the administration is taking to demon-

Agriculture Ministry would not use of force would be accompanied by consultation and communica-

Some lawmakers complained that the compromise over the inspection of the Agriculture Ministry had diluted the anthonity of the tacks or prevent Iraq from carrying support among the legislators for At a meeting Mr. Bush held using force if oecessary to enforce the UN cease-fire resolutions, if action was taken with other members of the UN coalition.

"There was oo blank check given ith the resolutions. to the president," said Senator Da-Mr. Fitzwater predicted that vid L. Boren of Oklahoma.

U.S. Faulted on Demjanjuk

By Stephen Labaton New York Times Service

WASHINGTON - Lawyers for John Demianiuk have accused the Justice Department of withholding crucial evidence showing that he was oot the savage Nazi murderer known as "Ivan the Terrible" in the Treblinka death camp in occupied

In their first brief since a federal appeals court in Cincinnati reopened the case last month, Mr. Demjanjuk's lawyers maintained that for years the Justice Depart-ment withheld evidence that would have cleared their client -showing nal described by U.S. and Israeli prosecutors but was instead caught up in a case of mistaken identity.

Israeli officials are aware that the Pentagon has put more emphasis on Saudi Arabia as a potential U.S.

jumping-off point in the Gulf, and that there are difficult obstacles to using as small a country as Israel for large-scale military operations, which might alarm the Arab states.

Nonetheless, they said, Israel's interests in the region and those of the United States may overlap in

"As long as the United States cannot conceive of a role for Israel in Gulf security matters, Israel has the years ahead.

ALLY: Israel Seeks to Define Role

prosecutors were seeking the deportation of Mr. Denijanjuk, a re-tired auto worker in Cleveland. they had improperly failed to disclose the existence of testimony by former guards at Treblinka indicating that another man, Ivan Marchenko, was Ivan the Terrible, Marchenko was last reported alive in 1944 and his fate is un-

Mr. Demjanjuk was stripped of U.S. citizenship in 1981 and de-ported to Israel in 1986 to be tried as a war criminal. In 1988 he was sentenced to death and is now judge panel of the appeals court awaiting a ruling on his appeal to reopened the case last mooth and the Israeli Supreme Court.

The Justice Department has stood by its investigation of Mr. stood by its investigation of Mr. Demjanjuk's deportation to Is-Demjanjuk, asserting in a brief rael to stand trial was based on filed two weeks ago that the new erroneous information. evidence should, at most, be con-

The lawyers said that while the linka, where more than 850,000 Jews were killed, and later lied about his past when he applied to immigrate to the United States.

> The briefs are part of a flurry of legal documentation in anticipa-tion of an unusual fact-finding hearing to be held Aug. II by the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati. Appeals courts almost oever initiate fact-finding proceedings but limit theinselves to reviewing interpretations of law by district courts.

Acting on its own, the threeexplain its actions, saying it feared

Mr. Demianiuk's lawyers are seeking a declaration from the ap-Prosecutors in the United States peals court that the United States and Israel have questioned the reliability of the testimony by the Treblinka guards, and both have contended that Mr. Demjanjuk operated the gas chambers at Treb-

U.S. Hospital Infections Killing 80,000 a Year to find strategic relevance for the relationship in the Mediterranean Los Angeles Times Service

LOS ANGELES — Infections theater, and in non-Soviet-related scenarios," said Dore Gold, an au-thority on U.S.-Israeli relations at the Jaffe Center for Strategic Studies at Tel Aviv University.

For Israel, this cooperation yields vital security benefits. The mere presence of American training and weapons is a deterrent, Over the longer term, however,

Israel sees the spread of missiles and ouclear weapons as the principal threat to its security. Again, close cooperation with the United States, particularly in sharing intelligence, may be crucial. Moshe Arens, a former defense minister, told an Israeli Defense Ministry journal this month that "the working assumption of the de-fense establishment" is that it remains "a matter of time" until nuclear weapons are in the hands of such nations as Iraq, Iran, Libya,

Mr. Rabin then added a potent postscript to Mr. Arens's assessment in his inaugural address, warning that Israel would thwart any effort by its enemies to obtain nuclear arms "possibly in collabo-ration with other countries."

The military relationship has other facets as well. Israel Aircraft Industries now services all U.S. F-15 planes from the European the-ater. The United States and Israel are jointly developing the Arrow missile defense system. And approximately 25 U.S. Navy ships, most from the 6th Fleet, pull into Haifa each year for repairs, while others make regular port calls.

Zeev Almog, director of the govemment-owned Israel Shipyards here, said the company signed a $15 million expansion agreement with the U.S. Navy a year ago, including dredging the harbor and Strengthening the piers. Eventually, he said, all but aircraft carriers will be able to find berths here for re-will be mandatory for all hospitals seeking accreditation. By Janny Scott acquired in hospitals are one of the leading causes of death in the United States, the direct or indirect cause of 80,000 fatalities every

As hospitals look for ways to reduce this toll, they are looking to measures as simple as making sure doctors and nurses wash their

Hand-washing is "one of only 10 or 12 practices proven to be effective" in reducing the risk of infec-tion, said Elaine Larson, a profes-sor of oursing at Johns Hopkins University School of Nursing in Baltimore. "Ironically, it's the cheapest and the least followed."

Things like sterilization of surgical instruments are always fol-lowed," she said. "Closed drainage for urinary catheters, that's done 100 percent of the time." Although hand-washing ranks with those procedures in significance, "people lose sight of its importance," she added.

Federal guidelines prescribe when health-care workers should wash their hands: before all invasive procedures, before caring for anyone with a weakened immune system, before and after touching wounds, after caring for an infected patient and after contact with mucous membranes, blood, body fluids or excretions.

Many larger hospitals have also developed surveillance programs to keep statistics on infection rates for comparison with those of other hospitals. By the mid-1990s, standardized surveillance programs

33 Hurt in Paris Rail Crash The Associated Press PARIS - Two underground commuter trains collided on the eastern edge of Paris on Tuesday, injuring 33 people, including one is the relative oeglect of the issue to the lack of a system for counting such infections in the nation's vital statistics. In medical records, an infection-caused death is often attributed simply to the patient's underlying disease.

Consumer advocates also maintain that hospitals are not held sufficiently accountable for infections. They say one reason is that aged patients must prove that their infections were avoidable and that the hospital was oegligent — a task lawyers say is difficult.

Charles Inlander, president of the People's Medical Society, a medical consumer group, suggests that consumers should have access to hospitals' infection rates. Patients should also insist that oo health-care workers touch them without first washing their hands. Professor Larsoo suggests a sim-ple reminder: "I didn't see you wash your bands." She added, "My sense is that if a physician or ourse hears that one time in their career from a patient, their behavior will be permanently

(Continued from page 1)

merely for being Zulu, an opinion

Against that backdrop, many were astonished by the king's

Local reporters and KwaZulu of-ed the match, nervous about beficials said the bride's family resist- but a member of the Bhaca tribe,

Mr. Buthelezi encourages.

can National Congress.

"We are going through a phase wheo everything seems to be stacked against us: the economy, finances, the foreign exchange market, the Mafia, the crisis of our Some experts trace what they say pobtical parties," Mr. Amato said in a television interview. His blunt and pessimistic assessment came hours after assassins pumped eight bullets into Giovanni Lizzio, 47, head of anti-extortion investigations in Catania, Sicily's second city after Palermo, as be drove home Monday night. Mr. Lizzio died even as authori-

By Alan Cowell

New York Times Service

ment's deployment of 7,000 soldiers to counter the Mafia in Sicily, mobsters have gunned down a third foe of organized crime on the island. Prime Minister Giuliano

Amato, facing a sea of troubles after only a few weeks in office, said Tuesday that state credibility

had been lost

ROME - Scorning the govern-

EX-DICTATOR ON TRIAL — Todor Zhikov, former Com-manist leader of Bulgaria, listening in a Sofia courtroom as a prosecutor asked for a 10-year sentence. Mr. Zhikov is being tried on charges that he embezzled $30 million in public funds.

Italian Leader Says

day to call a confidence vote some time in the next few days oo its proposal to cut Italy's huge budget deficit, which is Europe's biggest at a projected $130 billion this year.

The government proposal calls for savings of about $27 billion in tax increases and spending cuts.

Under parliamentary procedures, opposition parties may not demand changes in proposed legislation be-fore a confidence vote, but the gov-

Mr. Amato's government has only a slender majority in Parliament, and is apparently calculating that none of his adversaries wants time when the anthorities face challenges from organized crime and the economy. The subsequent loss of international confidence has

"It is essential the package is approved by both houses before the summer break," said Finance Minister Giovanni Goria "We don't have much time because there is a need to give a signal to the oot enjoy the same oational status

as Judges Falcone and Borsellino.

his murder was nonetheless significant because it showed how the

It remained unclear Tuesday night whether the Catania murder had been ordered by the same Ma-

While the victim in Catania did pressed the lira steadily down.

ernment must resign if it loses.

ties in the city were discussing how to use the troops sent to Sicily by the government following the Mafia killings of Judge Giovanni Fal-cone in May and Judge Paolo Borsellino last week. "All this can be translated in a single word: the credibility of the state," Mr. Amato said, "We have lost so much of it."

cant because it showed how the mob had spread its tentacles in the city. The Italian leader's reference to economic problems coincided with a drive by his tragile coalition government to push an emergency budget through Parliament to fight an economic crisis before Parliament goes into its summer recess His comments gave the impression that his administration felt beleaguered on all fronts.

The government decided Tues-which was driven south across the هكذامن الأحل

ZULUS: The King Takes a Bride, a Xhosa Juliet

were persuaded to accept the bridal price of 20 heifers, plus a white bull in honor of her virginity.

Bhaca people are actually Zuln people," the chief insisted.

That opinion was tactfully con-If the marriage was intended as an act of reconciliation, the gesture was quickly quashed by Mr. Buthechoice of a fifth queen. The bride, born Nompumeleio Mchiza, comes from Transkei, Mr. Mandela's nater derided the Zulu-Xhosa thaw as tive province. Her parents live in "the biggest nonsense that we have Clermont, a stronghold of the Afriread in the media for a long time." many Zulus are not prepared for reconciliation with the Xhosas.

He went on to point ont that the bride was not really a Xhosa at all, The Zulus do not forgive quickly. More than a century after the British smashed the independent Zulo empire in a fearsome battle at Ulundi, 25 miles (40 kilometers) coming embroiled in the hostilities, Umzimkulu River by Chaka and and also uneasy about the 25-year eventually took up the language of south of here, many Zulus are still age difference. But the girl, they said, was smitten, and the parents there. "Everybody knows that the waiting for an apology."

WORLD BRIEFS

Mandela Holds Firm on Strike Plan

JOHANNESBURG (Reuters) — Nelson Mandela said Tuesday that a general strike called for next week by his African National Congress would add impetus to a campaign for an immediate interim government

Church leaders met President Frederik W. de Klerk in Pretoria in an initiative aimed at getting ANC negotiations with the government back on track and preventing any upsurge in violence. "We are trying to save the country from disaster," said one of the clerics, the Reverend Wilfred

Mr. Mandela said at a news conference that he supported the church leaders because they, like himself, wanted a resumption of negotiations. But, he said, "the strike will take place." He said its goal was not insurrection but the peaceful removal of Mr. de Klerk from power.

Ex-Romania King Rejects Candidacy

BUCHAREST (Reuters) - Romania's exiled former king, Michael, has turned down an offer by the National Liberal Party to stand in presidential elections due Sept. 27, a Romanian newspaper said on

The independent daily Romania Libera quoted Cornelin Coposi, leader of the National Peasant Party, as saying the former king, 70, "has categorically refused" to accept an offer by the Liberal party to be its presidential candidate in the elections.

The former king, who now lives near Geneva, was dethroned and banished from the country in 1947 by a Soviet-installed Communist government. The Communists were toppled in 1989.

Poll Shows German Doubts on Kohl

BONN (Reuters) — An opinion poll made public on Tuesday said that many leading German businessmen, politicians and civil servants think Chancellor Helmut Kohl's center-right government is too weak.

"Three-quarters of the West German and two-thirds of the East German leaders from politics, business and public administration consider the government too weak," a poll published by the business monthly Capital said.

er the government too weak," a poll published by the business monthly Capital said.

"Cnly about half of them thought this way at the beginning of the year," noted the study by the Allensbach Institute for Demoscopy. Only 58 percent are happy with his economic policies, a drop from the 78 percent satisfaction level registered at the start of this year, it said.

Japan Curbs Troop's Cambodia Kole

TOKYO (UPI) — The Japanese troops who are expected to join UN peacekeepers in Cambodia later this year will be limited to such duties as repairing roads and bridges and monitoring cease-fires, a Defense Agency official said Tuesday.

The government had hoped to allow Japanese peacekeepers to assist in the air transport of personnel and materials, but manpower constraints forced it to reconsider the idea, the official said.

Japanese participation in UN peacekeeping operations would mark the first dispatch of Japanese soldiers abroad since World War II. Last month the Diet, Japan's parliament, passed a law allowing Japanese troops to provide logistical support to UN peacekeepers in such trouble:

Ex-CIA Official Accused on Contras

WASHINGTON (AP) - Clair E. George, former deputy director for operations of the Central Intelligence Agency, knew of Oliver L. North's covert effort to provide military aid to the Nicaraguan contras as early as 1985, long before he denied such knowledge to Congress, a former subordinate testified Tuesday.

Alan D. Fiers Jr., the chief prosecution witness in Mr. George's criminal trial, said that by spring 1985 there was no doubt that Mr. North was driving the process and was the big player." At the time, Mr. North was a White House aide.

Mr. George, who headed the CIA's overseas spy operations, has pleaded not guilty to three charges of obstructing Congress and a federal grand jury and six counts of perjury and false statements. He is accused of lying about secret dealings involving U.S. hostages in the Middle East, arms sales to Iran and illegal support for the contras, the U.S.-backed Nicaraguan rebels.

For the Record

Pope John Paul II, looking thin and pale, left Gemelli Hospital in Rome Tuesday after a benigh tumor was removed from his intestine. (Reuters)

TRAVEL UPDATE

Credibility Is 'Lost,' Japan Air Lines Plans Service Cuts
TOKYO (AFP) — Japan Air Lines announced sweeping change TOKYO (AFP) — Japan Air Lines announced sweeping changes on Tuesday to its international network, including the suspension of service to four cities. The changes are aimed at reducing costs and increasing revenue to counter recent operating losses.

The airline said that in October it would suspend service to Berlin.

Copenhagen, New Delhi and Seattle. The company will add flights to Munich, Milan, Sydney, Jakarta and Shanghai as well as Cairns, Austra-lia and Pusan, South Korea, JAL also said it would increase passenger capacity to Manila.

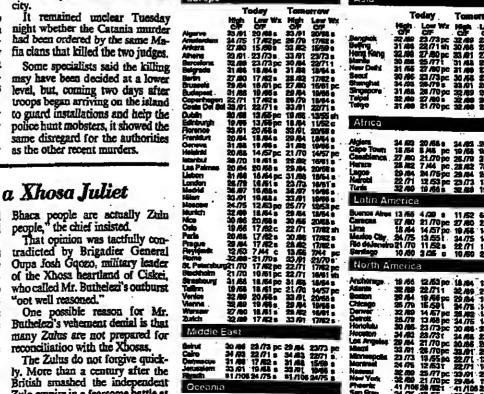

A bus strike in Athens was extended Tuesday for at least a week, and trolley and urban train workers decided to begin a three-day strike-Wednesday. With traffic in chaos, the government brought in hundreds of army trocks to help transport commuters.

SAS resumed flights to Prague on Tuesday after Denmark agreed to accept 13 Kurdish refugees from Iraq who had been stranded at the The Weather

North America Europe New York City and WashIngton, O.C., will have some sunshine Thursday.
Warm weather Thursday. Showers and cool weather will be cooler. Typical summer heat will be telt in Dalmer heat will be telt in Dalmer heat will be telt in Dalmer heat will be rather cool.
Tororto will be rather cool.

STATE OF THE STATE The bear of it - - TEN W. HARKE - - in the The Stage dest. Emiliary of the pre-See Read and Man

Manacha Manach Jun Marie has and the pa Brite-Unquote LOACOUR ! · : Republi 1-14 0S - W. F

Away From the in the b

the Democratic composite of the The second ERECTOR OF SURGES first Person warms to deser ----More Vision Curp. and its the state of the s the Sent Club an environ Estate Proper

The Clean The second of the second the medica of a Viscine Co Sime to Partition: Rever No TELES TE ET LO SCHOTE form Rest int worth. The Marchael De libra a regular The Sense roted to me Section of Pre pared curior microst in the Mester George Book some mention or proper for the "m min to amount of Aid to Bearing to the Tomas est of benefits aft tists doubt be incomming Entre des disease, alere Entre the U.S. Pubbe!

read THE MONEY REPORT

every Saturday in the IHT investment information

CAMPAIGN '92 / FOREIGN POLICY

Attack Ad Campaigns Are on the Defensive

WASHINGTON — The widespread assumption in the press is that Governor Bill Clinton's sudden lead in the polls will melt away under a withcring round of Republican attack ads in an instant replay of the 1988 campaign. But the terrain of this election looks very different, in part because of the lingering controversy over the racially charged Willie Horton ads of 1988.

"Willie Horton in particular, and the Bush campaign in general. has come to symbolize illegitimate negative campaigning," said Kathleen Hall Jamieson, dean of the Anneaberg School of Communications of the Anneaberg Schoo nications at the University of Pennsylvania. That wasn't hanging around Bush's neck in '88. If Bush begins to engage in unfair negative advertising he's very vulnerable to a backlash.

For the Bush camp, this presents a problem. "Everyone is afraid of the bad press we'll get for going negative," said a Bush strategist

The media environment has changed a great deal since 1988. When the Republicans used Mr. Horton, a black convicted murdercr. as a symbol of the Massachusetts furlough program presided over by the Democratic nominee, Governor Michael S. Dukakis, the ad received buile criticism in the press. Today, however, news organizations routinely critique campaign ads.

Quote-Unquote

EFS

Strike Plan

edela said Tuesday that a ricar National Congress diate intering government

e Klerk in Pretoria in an ith the government back we are trying to save ics, the Reverend William

he supported the church sumption of negotiation ie said its goal was no e Klerk from power.

ts Candidacy

ed former long Michael Liberal Party to stand in named the spaper said of the liberal party to be in nena was decimoned and wici-restailed Communic

ıbts on Kohl

ublic on Tuesday said that

Es and civil servants think the case servants that amount is too weak. It workers of the Ear this administration consid-tion of the business monthly are at the degreening of the

.: Ute to: Demoscopy Only

dense 2 arop from the 7

tear, il said

umbodia Role

has are expected to join UN

Care Defense Agen

and promote topons to assist a

The state of the s

g operations would mark the unte World War II. Lag

2 2 2 Andrewing Japanese

:--- = such troub

d on Contras

The Series Great for

Charles L. Norms

Torques, 2 lorner, of Schools in Mr. George's war in accurate that Mr. North

At the time. Mr. North

The contractions, na and a federal

the second and a firm of the special in Roma

in the state of th

DATE

_ S-bada

Lyn Johnson, spokeswoman for the Houston Host Committee, as her city prepares for the Republican convention next month: "We're lly ensure it will be a successful convention, not necessarily politically, that's not our job. It's to showcase our city as a desirable place to hold a convention or to move here."

(AP)

Away From the Hustings

• An organization of relatives of prisoners of war apologized to President George Bush for the hecking he received at its meeting last week from what the group described as "a small but organized"

• Three Democratic congressmen who said they would refuse to testify in an investigation of the House Post Office were excused from a scheduled grand jury appearance. But negotiations were continuing between prosecutors and lawyers for Representatives Dan Rostenkowski of Illinois and Austin J. Murphy and Joseph Kolter of Pennsylvania to determine whether they would eventually be required to appear.

 General Motors Corp. and its Hughes Aircraft subsidiary — mired in de- exporate slumps themselves — pledged to sponsor an $18 million program to aid the revitalization of economically neglected sections of Los Angeles.

• The Sierra Club, an environmental group, filed suit against the federal Environmental Protection Agency, charging that it had ignored provisions of the Clean Air Act of 1990 regarding toxic air pollutants, vehicle emissions and gases that cause global warming. ● The wreckage of a Marine Corps tilt-rotor V-22 Osprey was taken by harge to Patuxent River Naval Air Station in Maryland, where investigators will try to determine what caused it to crash in the Potomac River last week. The aircraft is built to take off like a helicopter and fly like a regular airplane.

• The U.S. Senate voted to require the administration to release its files on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, a response to renewed public interest in the 1963 shooting.

• President George Bush gave federal approval to an experiment aimed at discouraging people from moving to Wisconsin to receive higher welfare benefits. The "two-tier" welfare plan would pay new residents the amount of Aid to Families with Dependent Children they would have received in the state they left. They would receive Wisconsin's level of benefits after living there six months,

• Children should be immunized against hepatitis B, a contagious, blood-borne liver disease, along with their vaccinations for child-hood diseases, the U.S. Public Health Service says. AP, UPI, LAT and Al Gore on Tuesday stepped up a sharp debate with the Bush exchange that was started by a country." Clinton proposal for forceful U.S. action in Yugoslavia.

Bush-Clinton Feud On Striking at Serbs

Governor Clinton, the presidential nominee, said he was "frankly amazed" at an assault on his proposal by Bush spokesmen. In fact, a senior Bush administration official appeared on Tuesday to support a position that resembled Mr. Clin-

Responding to Republican at-tacks, Senator Gore, Mr. Clinton's running mate, said: "They are in a state of extraordinary political panic in the White House and it's not a pretty sight. President Bush and Vice President Quayle have concentrated on foreign policy and made a botch of it while ignoring domestic issues while millions of Americans are unemployed."

If the two Republicans "are such whizzes in foreign policy why is Saddam Hussein still thumbing his nose at the entire world and proelaiming victory and why is he still in power?" Mr. Gore said during a campaign appearance in Atlanta.

The sudden shift of the focus to foreign policy in the presidential campaign was signaled by a Clin-ton statement calling for an energetic U.S. policy in the remnants of former Yugoslavia to contain the Serbs, led by Slobodan Milosevic.

"The international community should take steps to charge the Milosevic regime, and those responsible for the slaughter of innocent manity under international law as we should have done long ago in powerful country, or asking how the case of Iraq," Mr. Clinton said.

"The continuing attacks by Serbian elements in Bosnia threaten manitarian aid, jeopardize the safe-

"If the Serbs persist in violating campaign spokeswoman. the terms of the current cease-fire air strikes against those who are paign suit. attacking the relief effort," Mr. Mr. Clinton said he was "per-Clinton said. "The United States plexed" by the White House reshould be prepared to lend appropriate military support to that op-

Bush aides quickly pounced on the statement to make a direct attack on the Democratic ticket.

SAN FRANCISCO — The House spokesman, led the charge Marlin Fitzwater, the White Democratic ticket of Bill Clinton on Monday, He called Mr. Clinton's ideas "reckless," saying they showed that he was "a long way campaign over foreign policy, an from being qualified to lead the

> "It sounds like the kind of reckless approach that indicates he better do some more homework on foreign policy," Mr. Fitzwater said. "It's clear he's unaware of the political complications in Yugoslavia."

Yet remarks Tuesday in Geneva by a senior U.S. official suggested that a Western threat of force may be forthcoming to back up a relief operation in Bosnia-Herzegovina that is being conducted by the UN

High Commissioner for Refugees. The official, John Bolton, who is assistant secretary of state for in-ternational organizations, said the U.S. government did not "at this point a favor the use of force.

"But we would support a Securiensure the delivery of humanitarian assistance," be said.

During a campaign swing on Monday, Mr. Bush made no direct mention of Mr. Clinton's statement, but raised the issue of foreign policy experience and "trust." "When you get down to it." Mr.

Bush said, "this election will be like every other, and when you go into that voting booth and pull the curtain behind you, trust matters. And that's the way it should be.

"Many times in the White House late at night, the phone rings and usually it's some young aide double-checking on the next day's schedule. But occasionally it's ancivilians, with crimes against hu- other voice, more serious, more solemn, carrying news of a coup in a we should stand up to the Baghdad bully balfway around the world."

bian elements in Bosnia threaten the delivery of urgently needed hinattacking Mr. Clinton. "I don't think anything will help Bill Clinty of UN personnel and put at risk the lives of thousands of citizens," has no ability and no experience whatsoever," said Torie Clark, a

Despite such remarks, Mr. Clinagreement, the United States ton's campaign argued that Mr. Bush was being defensive on for-security Council authorization for eign policy — his strongest cam-> sponse, since he had not criticized the administration and his stand was close to Mr. Bush's. "Maybe they are on the defensive," Mr. Clinton said.

(AP, WP, NYT, LAT, Reuters)

Vice President Dan Quayle, center, visiting a housing development under construction in Hoffman Estates, Illinois, near Chicago.

But we would support a Secrutity Council resolution to authorize the use of all necessary means to Becalmed, Bush Passively Awaits a Wind

By R. W. Apple Jr.
New Fork Times Service

WASHINGTON - Four years ago, George Bush went to a Republican convention in a hot, steamy city on the Gulf Coast and turned his political fortunes around with a well-written speech that included a memorable phrase something about reading his lips.

Many of his aides are suggesting, as they read poll after poll showing him trailing Bill Clinton by 2-to-1 margins, that he will repeat his electoral escape act next month. But the Republicans are meeting in Houston this year, not New Orleans, and the political context is different: The economy is far weaker, the Democrats are far more united, Mr. Bush's approval ratings are far lower than Ronald Reagan's were in

"He's in big trouble and we're all very disturbed, but a great speech at the convention just won't do the trick for him," said Senator John McCain of Arizona, a conservative Republican who faces a tough re-election fight of his own this fall.

"He had a blank slate in 1988," he said, "but now that blackboard has writing all over it, and you don't erase that in the minds of the American people with one big speech or one convention. He has to defend his record, emphasize his accomplishments and lay out a fresh program of positive action."

Mr. Bush has done some of that, albeit episodically and often in a half-hearted fashion. Almost plaintively, he has said that Americans should give him some of the credit for the end of the Cold War, and he has spoken with pride of pushing through legislation to help the dis-abled, to improve education and to protect the

But there has been no boldness about the man, none of the spirit of Harry Truman in 1948, daring the opposition to take its best shot, and none of the spirit of Ronald Reagan in 1984, calling on the electorate to continue with him on the road to a nation reborn. Mr. Bush has seemed more like Gerald R. Ford in 1976, weighed down by the Nixon pardon, or like Jimmy Carter in 1980, burdened by the hostages in Tehran.

For Mr. Bush, the albatross is the economy. Its poor performance, combined with the president's espousal of higher taxes despite his promise not to, combined with people's conclusion that the country is on the wrong track, has rendered him highly vulnerable. And like Mr. Ford and Mr. Carter, Mr. Bush has found it hard to get past the subject on which he is

NEWS ANALYSIS

A man of remarkable physical vigor, he has seemed intellectually and politically listless, somehow passive in the face of great danger.

Sometimes he seems unwilling to take re-sponsibility for his own acts and those of his administration. If you want an outsider, choose me, he has improbably told the nation. Invoking the buzzword of the year, he casts himself as a spokesman for change, as if the man he defeated in 1988, Michael S. Dukakis, had been president the last four years.

Unable to do very much to change the course of the economy before the election, Mr. Bush has concentrated on influencing how people see it. He acknowledged a week ago that a "tremendons percentage, 60 percent, think the economy is getting worse," but insisted they were wrong because "the overall national economy is grow-

He even tried to sugar-coat the figures showing that unemployment was up again by saying that that always happens in the early stages of a

According to several polls, only a quarter to a third of the electorate believes the economy will get better in the year ahead. The pessimism is strongest on the West Coast and in the Northeast, two regions with weak economies and large numbers of electoral votes.

Some Republicans think the answer lies in changing the No. 2 man on the ticket to send an unmistakable message that things are going to change, but Vice President Dan Quayle insists that that has been ruled out. Some think that Secretary of State James A. Baker 3d will make things hum as soon as he makes his expected switch from diplomacy to politics next month.

Some, finally, think that the answer lies in unrelenting attacks on Mr. Clinton and his running mate, Senator Al Gore, But Mr. Bush's two most successful attack coordinators, Roger Ailes and the late Lee Atwater, are absent from this year's campaign, and negative politics may not work so well in a year when voters seem to be more interested in substantive answers.

"We cannot, in my view, go to the American people and simply attack Democrats as big 'L' liberals and big spenders and big taxers without making our case that we would do things differently," Housing Secretary Jack F. Kemp warned over the weekend. No one expects Mr. Clinton's lead to hold up until Nov. 3. But even the Republicans, who only a few months ago were talking about their lock on the Electoral College, now consider Mr. Bush the underdog. And it seems possible, if by no means yet probable, that 1992 may prove to be one of those pivotal years in American politics, like 1912, when Woodrow Wilson won a three-way race, and 1932, when Franklin D. Roosevelt won the first of four terms, and 1952, when Dwight D. Eisenhower won the first of Each time, a long partisan reign came to an end in a landslide.

Someone back home would also love to hear the sound of your voice.

After a day of rooting for the athletes, call home from Barcelona for only $1.09* a minute with AT&T USADirect Service.

After cheering, shouting, screaming, oohing and aahing, we know you'll want to share the excitement of the day with people back home. That's why we've made it so easy and economical to call the States with AT&T USADirect® Service.

In Barcelona, or anywhere in Spain, simply dial 900-99-00-11 and you'll quickly be connected to AT&T. You can dial directly and bill it to your AT&T Calling Card. Or if you prefer, call collect and an English-speaking AT&T Operator will complete your call.

With USADirect Service, not only will you minimize hotel surcharges, you'll save with our competitive international rates.

Of course, with AT&T you also know you'll get clear, crisp connections. So there's no need to raise your voice.

The Dictator Has Been Winning

And Democrats Should Say So

Be Stronger Next Time

battle with Saddam Hussein - to everyone's relief, without dropping any bombs. But if the United Nations is to bring him into full compliance, it needs to be far more resolute and ready than it was this time.

Although some officials insist that Iraq emerged the victor, the United Nations successfully asserted its right to go anywhere in Iraq to uncover efforts to defy the disarmament provisions of the cease-fire resolution. Bowing to international pressure. Saddam will allow arms inspectors to search Irag's Agriculture Ministry.

But the standoff at the Agriculture Ministry was not Saddam's first test of the world's will and unity, nor will it be his last. The United Nations can brook no further interference or delay in carrying out its mandate. The Security Council needs to prepare concerted and proportionate responses, including the use of force, if the Iraqi dictator remains defiant.

Iraq is not the only place in the world where the United Nations' authority is in question. Standing tall against Saddam may make a useful impression on despots in Cambodia, Yugoslavia and elsewhere who might be tempted to emulate him.

Slowly hut surely, the United Nations has done more to disarm Iraq than have all the bombs dropped during the Gulf war. And it is difficult to demonstrate how renewed bombing would have achieved a better result this time.

Saddam Hussein did succeed in delaying the arms inspectors' entry. The materials the inspectors sought may no longer be there. And he got the United Nations to change the composition of the inspection team, excluding representatives of the United States and other countries that fought in the coalition against Iraq. But the United Nations retains the right to select future inspectors and to search everywhere in Iraq for evidence of noncompliance on arms. The UN victory will not satisfy George Bush's need to get rid of the butcher of Baghdad. But that only points up the rashness of making Saddam's overthrow his number one objective in the Gulf. Iraqis may eventually ditch the demonic dictator who has brought them such grief. In the meantime, Mr. Bush's task is to strengthen the United Nations' authority and undermine Saddam's by sustaining global support for its mission. That mission is far from fulfilled, as

Mr. Bush rightly reminds everyone.

Saddam has not agreed to sell cil to finance food and medical imports. He will not renew the mandate for UN relief efforts in Iraq. He harasses UN personnel who carry it out. He blatantly violates the ceasefire by flying fixed-wing aircraft and wag-ing war on the Shiites. And he refuses to help draw Iraq's boundary with Kuwait. All this underlines the UN Security Council's need to develop more creative and compelling means to enforce its will in time for the next Iraqi challenge. The United Nations can prepare now to tighten its economic embargo. It can dispatch awards to protect its relief workers. And it can authorize strikes on Iraq's air forces if they again attempt to violate the cease-fire.

The United Nations needs to arm itself now to bring Saddam Hussein to heel. THE NEW YORK TIMES.

The Solutions Are Known

in government and outsider Ross Perot come up so easily with a formula for reducing the U.S. budget deficit that has eluded the professionals and insiders all these years? Easy. All he had to do was go inside—all the way to ground zero, you might say.

The Congressional Budget Office puts out a book each year called "Reducing the Deficit: Spending and Revenue Options." The staff hates to do it. Neutrally written for illustrative purposes only, it consists of one- and two-page essays - primers - on the the pros and cons of more than 200 deficit-reducing steps, large and small, defense and domestic, spending cuts and tax increases. The anthors think it is unread and a waste of time. Not so, if the plan that Mr. Perot failed to issue before folding his never-quite-declared presidential candidacy is any indication.

Some of the still unpublished Perot

plan's most controversial features were based on the novel idea that the federal income tax would be fairer if it contained fewer exceptions and applied to more income. It applies now to only 50 percent of Social Security benefits, and then only if the beneficiary is over certain income cutoffs. The Perot plan, while keeping the cutoffs, would have taken the revolutionary step of applying it to 85 percent. For a one: that the ideas are not the office's, good short discussion of the idea, see CBO revenue option 13, Page 309.

The Perot people earlier had considered and rejected as less fair the idea of reducing the annual cost-of-living increase in Social Security benefits to two-thirds of the infla- knowledge but the will. Mr. Perot does not tion rate. That is entitlement proposal 59, Page 271, "Restrict Cost-of-Living Adjustments in Non-Means-Tested Benefit Programs." The plan similarly suggested that edition of the text again next year. employer-paid health insurance premiums

above $335 a month be counted as income

and taxed to the employee (entitlement alternative 50, Page 271) and that the mortgage interest deduction be limited (in the revenue section as Rev-05, Page 294).

The Perot plan would have allowed a deduction of only 50 percent instead of the current 80 percent of the cost of business meals and entertainment (Rev-26, Page 333, "The tax code generally does not allow deductions for personal living costs, but ..."). It would have raised the top income tax rate from 31 to 33 percent (Rev-01, Page 287, "Rate increases have two advantages ... "); raised the gasoline tax 50 cents in 10-cent increments over five years (CBO has only a first increment, Page 340) and doubled the cigarette tax (Page 338). And so it goes, all or almost all the way through. The Congressional Budget Office saves a theoretical $6 billion over five years by canceling the Seawolf submarine on Page 37, $10 billion more by killing the space station on Page 115, and about $230 million by eliminating below-cost timber sales from national forests on Page 119. Ditto Mr. Perot, or near enough. The parallels are fun, but the point is not that the Perot people somehow stole their good ideas from the Congressional Budget Office. Rather, the point is the opposite either. The necessary steps for reducing the deficit are all in the public domain just as the budget is. They have been there for years; there is no magic or secret about them. What is missing in deficit reduction is not the seem to have been quite able to muster it; neither, sadly, have the other candidates. Poor CBO seems fated to crank out another

- THE WASHINGTON POST.

Let's Start With Quayle

so fast and with so little reflection or examination in a political campaign that the unproved, the untrue and the unquestioned, not to mention the illogical, once uttered and once repeated tend to be accepted ever is dumping Treasury Secretary Nicholas after as immutable wisdom or fact. From Brady and the director of the Office of time to time we mean to point out some of these oddities and elisions.

So let's start with Dan Quayle. Three questions invite attention.

First, there is the question, much agitated over the weekend, of the fitness of bringing the hypothetical pregnancy of his 13-yearold daughter into the campaign, with the ensuing hypotheses about whether she would or would not have an abortion. Criticism was leveled at an interviewer, Larry King, who in supposed disregard of taste, tact and privacy would introduce her as an example. But it was not the interviewer who did the introducing. It was the vice president himself, who, in answer to another question, began the dialogue, saying: 'My daughter, for example, if she wants to take an aspirin at school, she has to call and get permission. If she wants to have an abortion, she doesn't."

Next there is the interesting and now presumably closed question of whether or not the vice president would be dropped from the ticket. After a week or more of rumors and meetings and rumors of meetings, it appears to have been decided that Mr. Quayle will not be dumped by George Bush. What we find worth spotlighting here is the reasoning of some who are pleased about this decision. They were busy pointing out over the weekend on the tube that it would have looked terrible - weak, desperate, panicked - for the president to have

We think they are right. What is hard to to assert in the next breath that George Management and Budget, Richard Dar-man. Why would that not also look weak, desperate and panicky? In fact, why would it not look even worse than dumping Dan Quayle would have, since dumping the economic team leaders in late July would surely also have the added ingredient of obvious scapegoating to it?

since the chairman of the Joint Chiefs was widely and recurrently mentioned as one of Mr. Quayle's hypothetical replacements. The question is this: Has anybody ever asked General Powell whether he wants to be a vice president, whether he is a Democrat or a Republican or an independent, whether he is inclined under any circumstances to leave the military, which has been his lifelong career, and run for political office? There has been an implication, not very flattering or respectful in our view, that General Powell naturally would snap up the offer and that his views hardly need to be considered by those conducting the discussion. This has to do not only with Republicans. The Powell vice presidency was equally vigorously recommended and chewed over by Democrats and Perot advisers. Was he ever consulted? Or did nobody think it was necessary?

So much for recent loose ends and loose thoughts. We figure there will be more. - THE WASHINGTON POST.

INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE KATHARINE GRAHAM, ARTHUR OCHS SULZBERGER

LEE W. HUEBNER, Publisher

JOHN VINOCUR, Executive Editor © WALTER WELLS, News Editor © SAMUEL ABT, KATHERINE KNORR and CHARLES MITCHELMORE, Deputy Editors © CARL GEWIRTZ, Associate Editor ROBERT J. DONAHUE, Editor of the Editorial Pages © REGINALD DALE, Economic and Financial Editor

RENÉ BONDY, Deputy Publisher © RICHARD H. MORGAN, Associate Publisher IUANITA I CASPARI, Advertising Sales Director © ROBERT FARRÉ, Circulation Director, Europe International Herald Tribune, 181 Avenue Charles-de-Gaulle, 92521 Neuilly-sur-Seine, France. Tel.: (1) 46.37.93.00 Telex: Advertising, 613595, Circulation, 612832; Editorial, 612718; Production, 630698. Durecteur de la Publication : Richard D. Shrimons

Chairman from 1958 to 1982: John Hay Whitney Chairman from 1930 to 1982: John 1709 vrauney

Editor for Asia: Michael Richardson, 5 Canterbury Rd., Singapore 0511. Tel.472-7768. The R$56928

Mng. Dir. Asia, Rolf D. Kranepuhl, 50 Gloucester Rd., Hong Kong, Tel. 8610616. Telex: 61170

Mng. Dir. U.K., Gorry Thorne, 63 Long Acre, London WC2. Tel. 836-4802. Telex: 262009

Gen. Mg. Germany, W. Lauterbach, Friedrichstr. 15, 6000 Frunkfurt M. Tel. (069) 726755. The 416721

Pres. U.S.: Michael Conroy, 850 Third Are., New York, N.Y. 10022. Tel. (212) 752-3890. Telex 427175

S.A. au caputal de 1.200.000 F. RCS Nauterre B 732021126. Commission Paritaire No. 61337 5 1992, International Herald Tribune. All rights reserved. ISSN: 0294-8052.

While Bush Holds Back, Saddam Is Scoring Points

WASHINGTON — An unqualified loser on the battlefield, Saddam Hussein has a big advantage in the war of nerves he wages episodically with George Bush. The Iraqi knows what he wants and uses all the resources he possesses to achieve it. That unfortunately has not been true of the American president since the end of Operation Desert Storm.

Saddam used the latest cheat-and-retreat confrontation with Washington to claw back a few more inches of control over his country and to re-establish some authority at home after a coup attempt. American misunderstandings about what was at stake in Iraqi and Arab opinion this time helped Saddam do this.

The misunderstanding was apparent in an answer given on "Face the Nation" on Sunday by President Bush's normally astute and careful national security adviser, Brent Scowcroft. Asked if the Iraqi dictator was now stronger militarily than he had been six months ago, Mr. Scowcroft replied:

"Probably marginally, because as time passes he is able to organize, reimpose discipline on his units and get them back in shape. He is still not a threat to his neighbors... Saddam right now is a peril only to his own people, and the whole purpose of this UN inspection regime is to keep it that way ..."

My blood ran cold when I heard the "peril only to his own people" phrase. After the

By A. M. Rosenthal

N EW YORK — The two largest New York tabloids carry triumphant front-page headlines: Saddam backs down. Why not? It's not often that papers get to shout out such good news. And the editors of Newsday and The Daily News have the proof right there in their hands - the statement from the president of the United States announcing that Saddam Hussein had "caved in." What more do they need, right?

Americans have the choice of immediate reactions to this White House and press pap:

laugh, cry, throw up or get good and mad for

Then they can start paying more attention to the occasional politician who tells them the truth about what is going on in Iraq.

Saddam Hussein is making fools of the United Nations and the United States. That is neither new nor unexpected. But in the pro-cess he is digging himself deeper into power, slaughtering his enemies, preparing for more Unholy War in the Mideast. And as usual the man takes understandable pride and pleasure

Senator Al Gore has been telling the truth about Saddam Hussein. Long before he became a vice presidential candidate he said in a series of clear-sighted speeches that unless Saddam was replaced, not with his killer cro-nies but with a decent government of the opposition, the danger from Baghdad to the world and to the Iraqi people would continue, est — usually the same — will not be met with a bomb or bullet with Saddam's name on it. As

Mr. Gore has said in the past and said again after the latest Saddam game, support is need-ed for the latest Kurdish appear in in northern Democratic reality and American self-interin not pretending otherwise.

being taken for idiots.

By Jim Hoagland

program, I asked Mr. Scowcroft if his answer did not risk giving Saddam license to intensify the murderous campaign he recently launched against the Shiites in Iraq's south. Mr. Scow-croft quickly said that Saddam should not draw that conclusion. The administration would watch such developments carefully.

But it is hard to see why Saddam would not draw that conclusion. Leith Kubba, a leading figure in the Iraqi political opposition now in Washington, told me he was also astounded by Mr. Scowcroft's answer: "I asked myself, is he signaling Saddam? Was this statement intentional? Saddam is using aircraft the United States once forbade him to fly to attack the Shiites now. Saddam is destroying Shiite vil-lages ... just as he did with the Kurds. After Desert Storm, will the United States really look on and do nothing again since Saddam is 'only a menace to his own people?"

Saddam uses the disputes with Mr. Bush over the United Nations role in Iraq to mitigate the sting of defeat for his regime, and to add to his chances of political survival. For Saddam, that is not "marginal." That is essential.

Saddam Hussein and George Bush are playing different games. That is how they both come out ahead, in their own terms, in the

Iraq and the anti-Saddam Arab groups fighting

No. Saddam did not "cave in." He won.

First, with contempt, he forced the United Nations into three weeks of negotiation to persuade him, in his grace, to allow its inspec-tors into a building that housed military infor-mation and material. They should have been permitted to enter with a knock on the door, or strip the building. But that is a trifle. His real victory is that the United States and the United Nations gave him virtual veto over the makeup of inspection teams, degrading their value.

They replaced the American head of the ly pushy, with a German, sent the American home, and named inspectors whose nationalities did not offend Saddam. An American will be allowed to hang around -outside the Saddam won - and every blessed soul in Anyway, it is monumentally hypocritical of both sides to make inspection the only issue.

Both know that every day Saddam spits on the UN resolution about respecting the minorities.

The Bush administration, having surrendered political victory to Saddam after the Gulf War, has been making things worse ever since. Proof: He is stronger militarily, politically and economically than the day he was supposed to have been so thoroughly thrashed.

The opposition to Saddam grows, but is fractured. The Kurds of the north, his great enemy, sometimes feud among themselves. In the south. Arab opposition groups are under pressure from Iran, Syria and Saudi Arabia,

He still kills, blockades and starves them.

ulding, not in.

the Middle East will know it.

m, whom Saddam found too professional-

Of course he had all the time in the world to

UN punishment immediately meted out.

for their existence in the south.

confrontation over UN inspection of the Agriculture Ministry in Baghdad. Saddam plays chess, seeking incremental advantage; the American holds his cards while the pot grows bigger. This causes the Bush team to underestimate the gains that Saddam won from the "compromise" that stayed American air strikes this week in return for UN inspectors being allowed fine to enter the Agriculture Ministry, long after incriminating evidence would have been represent would have been removed.

Iraq gained veto power over composition of the inspection team. Baghdad kept inspectors from any nation that contributed forces to Operation Desert Storm off the team, which also will not be allowed to inspect the Agri-culture minister's office. Only Rolf Ekens, a Swedish diplomat who heads the overall UN inspection program, will be "permitted" by the Iraqis to enter the office.

Saddam thus draws a line between the Desert Storm coalition and the rest of the United Nations. The confrontation, he has always asserted, is not between the United Nations and Iraq but between the United States and Iraq. Saddam has scored a debat-er's point, no small matter in the Arab and Third World constituencies which he courts to help grode UN sanctions and control. sident Bush and his advisers discount these gains. They clearly believe that they will get another shot at launching a punishing military strike against Saddam before election day. That is the pot Mr. Bush lets build up as Saddam advances pawns. The statements that the Bush team made on Sunday condemning Saddam's widespread misbehavior were premeditated justification for immediate action if and when Saddam sticks his head up in late September or October.

William Drozdi

Building Drozes

Maria section of the section of

MARIE CASE I

Service Column of the la

Service Colors of the Service Colors of the milet and the Martiness of the Martiness

MANUAL MENT LEMENTS OF

Marie Little L. Learn Sp.

OLYMPIC NO

1 Junits Is Out, Friend San

Sill Action of Morocco, a don misma mile-telling re

migure the mid-1880s. h

steamed with a friend to

Nab St 1 3775 47107. 58

ton us science from paint note mercanes in his rig in Receiped the in my du

Minche The species came

The world 1.500- and 5,0000-m months and topod to re is larger over our or both

Acom, St. was the 5 000-mes

phinto Amie in 1994. B

the operators on his callytes, waterly a bronze in the 800 m

ne a Seel and dropped out to 190 meets other qualifyin

Twildnes like to say this is t

eddiscreen tot I am afraid might be. Saint said.

mase Trace

te district.

But Saddam, who knows the U.S. election calendar, may not oblige with a clear-cut provocation on schedule. Even if he does, that "marginal" improvement he has achieved in his air defense, thanks to the Bush administration's amazing decision in April to reverse course and let the Iraqi air force fly again south of the 36th parallel, may translate into downed American aircraft and pilots—an inescapable political liability for Mr. Bush and one that could ultimately deter him from trying to cash in the pot.

Without in any way seeking last week's confrontation, Mr. Bush clearly relished the chance to don his commander in chief's hat and recall Desert Storm glory to disenchanted voters. But Saddam's gams may turn out to be more lasting. He may be cunning enough to maintain an initiative and the flexibility given him by Mr. Bush's error of steachly weakening his own hand while building up the stakes. The Washington Post.

Section 2

pendent on them. But if there is any ember in the ethical ashes of the Gulf War, it is to try to help Iraqis who have suffered so bitterly in the fight against the man the United States did not destroy.

Leaders of opposition groups are in Washington. They are scheduled to meet with Secretary of State James Baker, for the first time. But the administration's problem remains. It did not not grasp the importance of freedom movements in the Baltics, in the Soviet Governor Bill Clinton and Senator Al Gore are on the same track about Iraq. The Democratic candidates have time before the election to work out a policy that would lead to what has to be done — the international criminal indictment of Saddam Hussein, the recognition of a coalition government, and decent support to it.

And if they do, the governor and the senator will have done a service to their party and country, before a vote is cast.

The New Tork Times.

So Much for the Pacific Century — It Will Be America, as Usual

HONG KONG — Whatever hap-pened to the Pacific Century? Nine years before the century was about to begin, this silly idea has been laid to rest.

best-seller "The Emerging Japanese Superstate," the argument became received wisdom in 1979 when the Harvard sociologist Ezra F. Vogel published "Japan as Number One: Lessons for America." In the 1980s, the Pacific Century was flavor of the decade, with hundreds of imitators, almost all American, banging the Pearl Harbor in December 1941. They know that Japan's position compared to that of the United States is funda-mentally the same as it was 50 years ago. Japan remains a chuster of resource-poor islands, while North America is still a vast, resource-rich continent with plentiful manpower. The United States has the world's

SINGAPORE — The collapse of communism in the former Soviet Union and Eastern Europe has brought the model of the centrally planned or command economy into disrepute. Leaders in Russia, Eastern Europe, Africa, Latin America and elsewhere are looking for an economic model. There has been discussion about the paths Singapore and Hong Kong have followed to become newly ndustrializing economies. Is there a Hong Kong or a Singapore model? Are their similarities greater than their differences? What conclusions can be drawn from the success of these two economies?

Which is likely to do better in the

Hong Kong is a British colony.

The colonial government has adopted a laissez-faire approach. With a small but efficient civil service, the

Hong Kong government concentrates on effective control of a minimalist regulatory system and on the preservation of law and order. Defense and foreign affairs are the responsibilities of Britain, not of the

The colony benefited from an influx of entrepreneurs and skilled workers from China after the victory of the Chinese Communist Party in 1949. Refugees from Shanghai transplanted cotton spinning and textile businesses to Hong Kong. The colony also benefits from its large hinterland of southern China, especially Guangzhou. Hong Kong enterprises today employ some 3 million workers in the Pearl River Delta of China, about four times the manufacturing work force in Hong Kong itself.

government in Hong Kong.

next phase of development?

the world's basic research and carries off most of the Nobel prizes for sci-

Putting aside Japan, the region is dominated by Caina with its population of 1.1 billion. When communism is finally overthrown in China, the resulting mess will make the turnultuons transition to capitalism of the completely lacks elements of a civil society, any tradition of rule of law, impressive economic performers. But whatever the future holds for China, the role as the center of gravity for a Pacific Century is not part of it.

However, the biggest flaw in the tiveness, imagination and creativity are tragically lacking.

Although accounting for a third of the world's population, East Asia is not a source of modern ideas, big or small, technical or nontechnical. These are derived economic cultures that have succeeded in modernizing by Soviet Union pale by comparison. accepting the challenge of the West.

Japan announced this month that it was pushing back its ambitious national space program schedule by at least a year due to incessant techno-logy failures. Japan has spent more than two decades developing high-definition television in the hope of dominating commercial sales, but it now appears that superior U.S. and European inventiveness is producing a bet-ter system ahead of the Japanese.

Nothing illustrates the failure of the East so well as Japan's recent decision to give up on its much vaunted fifthgeneration computer project. If the end of communism in the Soviet Union represented America's victory in the Cold War, the collapse of Japan's super-computer venture symbolizes a devastating economic defeat.

The abandonment of this crucial field. to the Americans virtually cusares

U.S. dominance of the next century. Of course, Japan has big and successful computer companies: Pujitsu, Hitachi and NEC, for example, Their tinued prosperity. Although there is no guarantee, the capacity that Hong Kong and Singapore have shown for successful evolution in the past an-gurs well for their future.

Microsystems or Hewlett Packard. Sony, which wants to develop a ministure computer, has teamed up not with another Japanese computer company but with Apple, the symbol of American computer creativity. The software used for computers is duct improvements rather than on innovations of the sort made by Sun

virtual U.S. monopoly and it shows every sign of remaining one. This includes crucial domination of electronic design automation software, a key tool in electronics development. Nowhere in East Asia are there signs of creativity emerging. If it did, it would show up in patents granted, but these are almost nonexistent in the region. Singapore, for example, produces half the world's disk drives by volume, but in all the time the island-state has been making them it has not moved one pat-

Singapore has never managed to get a disk drive design off the ground in time to catch the next stage of an increasingly stage of an increasingly miniature technology. It now looks as though other data storage media for com-puters, such as flash memory, will supersede the disk drive system.

A Pacific Century can hardly be based on borrowed technology, espe-cially computer technology. The Pa-cific Century was a fun idea but it is time to give it a decent burial and recognize that the United States reins what it has been since 1776 -

Tommy Koh is director, and Lee Tsao Yuan deputy director, of the Institute of Policy Studies in Singapore. They contributed this comment to the International Herald Tribune.

1892: Kossovo Uprising

grade state that a tribe of Maliasors, in Kossovo, has risen and invested the town of Jakovo. The attacking force is said to number 15,000, and to be well supplied with rifles. Edhem Pasha has been sent to meet them with five battalions and six batteries of artillery. The road to Scutari has also been occupied by Turkish troops to protect the Mirdit district. The nsurrection is due to a long-standing fend between the tribes.

communiqués refer to the stubborn resistance of the Russians. This is a sign that the army is less gangrened than Germany hoped and Russia's friends feared. "In her sufferings and tears," prophesies Andreyev, "Russia will find strength and courage."

lyansk the enemy crossed the river at one place and reached the southern bank," the communique said."On men are attempting to repel the ene-my attacks. Soviet tanks destroyed eight Nazi tanks, eighteen guns and ten trucks and killed 200 Germans during this engagement."

strengths, however, are built on pro-

By George Hicks best graduate schools, does the bulk of Unlike the former U.S.S.R., China

Launched in 1970 by the American futurologist Herman Kahn with his same imaginary drum.

The Japanese never became converts to this fantasy. They had their illusions dashed when they attacked cace. This research is not just theory. It translates into productivity, which the eminent Harvard economist Dale Jorgenson says is up to 15 percent higher in the United States than in Japan. As for agriculture, Japanese farmers can still be seen cultivating rice by hand on postage stamp plots. The Pacific Century concept as it was developed in the 1980s went much further than the original Kahn-Vogel idea of Japan as an economie superpower destined to overtake the United States. The whole of East Asia, from Tokyo to Singapore, was to become the new economic center of the world in the 21st century.

would make any city proud. It has three universities and provides de-cent health care and housing to a population of 5.7 million people. Singapore did not, and could not, choose the Hong Kong model. It is an independent island-state and therefore had to create the capacity to defend itself. As a country with a parlia-mentary democracy and a government accountable to the people, Singapore had to be more attentive to the aspirations of its people. Thus, for example, influx of entrepreneurs and skilled workers, the government had no choice but to jump-start the economy by assuming the role of creator, entrepreneur and regulator. In addition, it encouraged multinational corporations to become major players so that the economy could achieve rapid industrialization and high rates of economic growth. For these reasons, the state in Singapore plays a bigger eco-nomic role than it does in Hong Kong. Which of the two models is better?

In terms of government/private sector mix, Hong Kong and Singapore represent two ends of the spectrum. It is not possible to say that one is better than the other. Hong Kong and Singapore have taken different paths that have been equally successful. They have achieved per capita incomes of An economy must choose a model between $13,000 and $14,000.

Because Singapore did not enjoy an

it provides better public housing.

or even the faintest historical memory of any democratic experience.

Other countries in East Asia may be

Pacific Century thesis is not the political, demographic, environmental and resource weaknesses of East Asia. For all its diligence and ability to produce quality goods at competitive prices, the region is heir to a flawed culture. Originality, inven-pacity of an economy or state to generate and apply the appropriate growth-oriented policies at the right time, It is a mistake to emphasize differences between Hong Kong and Singapore; it is more important to see their similarities. Hong Kong and Singapore are two market economies that have embraced open trading, investment and financial systems. They have pursued export-oriented industrialization. Their prudent fiscal policies have resulted in budgetary surpluses in most years. They have competent and committed public administrators working in civil services that are based upon merit. Finally, both societies have shown a high de-

These shared economic fundamen-tals account for the success of Hong Kong and Singapore. Both approaches to governance are proven successes for transition to the status of newly industrializing economies in their re-

However, there is no guarantee that this will hold true for the transition to developed country status. Industrial restructuring requires massive public expenditures on human resource development, and on research and development. It also requires intellectual space for creativity and innovation to blossom. A more educated society can also be expected to want greater political participation.

Change is therefore certain. The spective sociopolitical contexts,

gree of adaptability.

Hong Kong and Singapore Are Hard Acts to Follow

By Tommy Koh and Lee Tsao Yuan

The Hong Kong model has worked for Hong Kong. The colony has a physical infrastructure that temporary circumstances. The test is not the proportions of the government/private sector mix but the ca-

Through immense hard work, they have produced goods at the quality and price that the world wants.

The writer, an Australian economist and author of several books on Asia, contributed this comment to the Inter-national Herald Tribune.

IN OUR PAGES: 100, 75 AND 50 YEARS AGO

VIENNA - Telegrams from Bel-

1917: Russia's Strength

PARIS — The existing confusion in Russia is not unnatural — the revolution is only four months old - and it should not blind us to the fact that control of affairs is getting into strong hands. Even the gravity of the military crisis should not make timid spirits lose their head. The latest news from the Galician front shows that the Rusappropriate to its historical and con- country which adapts best to new sian resistance is gaining. German 1942: War in Caucasus MOSCOW - From our New York edition:] German troops pouring into the Cancasus have made another crossing of the lower Don at Tamlyansk and have reached the Bataisk region 15 miles south of Rostov, in their attempt to cut the Stalingrad-North Cancasian railroad, the Russians announced officially today [July 29]. "In the region of Tsim-

هكه!مر«الأعهل

OPINION

هكنامنالأصل

* Deadline For the Rascals?

By David S. Broder

ASHINGTON -- It will be almost like a national referendum: From coast to coast, voters in as many as 15 states will have the opportunity in November to decide the maximum length of time any legislator from their state may stay in office.

After an embarrassing defeat in Washington state last year, the term limits movement has come roaring back, powered by a public rebellion against politicians in general and incumbents in particular.

I have not changed my view that term limits will damage Congress and the legislatures, shift power to the executive branch and unelected bureaucrats and diminish citizens' responsibility for choosing their own representatives. The record wave of retirements and primary-election defeats in House contests this year shows that the makeup of Congress can be radically altered without artificial limits on tenure. But I am impressed by the energy and commitment of the people who think that term limits are the way to revitalize a wilting political system.

When I sat down recently in Washington with two national leaders of the movement, they had a lot to report. James Coyne 3d, a Republican who heads the Americans to Limit Congressional Terms, and Cleta Deathezage Mitchell, a Demo-crat who runs the Term Limits Legal Institinte, said that measures to cap lawmakers' careers have been certified for the November ballot in California, Michigan, South Dakota and Wyoming. Signatures have been filed in Arizona, Arkansas, Florida, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, Oregon and Washington, but are not yet certified. North Dakota and Ofiio are utshing to best deadline. rushing to beat deadlines.

In every state but California (which has term limits for its legislature), the controls would affect both Congress and the legislature. The Supreme Court, in a California case, upheld the constitutionality of term limits on state legislators. The question whether a state may similarly limit whe tenure of federal officeholders has not been litigated.

Public polls continue to show 3-to-1 or 4-to-1 majorities for term limits, but the Washington state fight demonstrated that people can be persuaded to reconsider. There, the House speaker, Thomas Foley, Democrat of Washington, organized a coalition of major economic interest groups and several "good government" organizations that reversed the sentiment.

A key argument was that Washington would lose its clout in Congress to California and other big states, because the measure would have counted past service against the term limits and would have forced Mr. Foley and other influential members of the Washington delegation to step down in 1994.

Term-limits advocates learned a lesson. from the Washington defeat and have dropped the "retroactivity" clause from all the 1992 initiatives. The clock will start running toward automatic retirement only after each measure has passed.

Major battles are expected again in Washington, California, Florida and Michigan. Both sides are playing tough, with term-limits propouents exploiting (and occasionally exaggerating) the House bank scandal and the pay and benefits that incumbents get.

Incumbents are using their leverage to fight back. In Michigan, the opposition was organized by Debbie Dingell, a Washington lobbyist for General Motors and an active Democratic Party leader who is married to John Dingell, a Michigan Democrat who is chairman of the House Energy and Commerce Committens.

But the measures seem likely to pass in most states where they are on the ballot.

Mr. Coyne is hoping to enlist many of tee, arguably one of the five or six most powerful men on Capitol Hill. When Mrs. Dingell lined up the chairmen of Upjohn Chemical and Detroit Edison, Michigan's three top labor leaders and former Republican Governors George Ronney and William Milhken to head the opposition group, term-limits advocates raised such a cry about alleged "coercion" that she withdrew from leadership of the effort. Despite some prominent crossovers, there is a partisan tinge to the battle. The Republican platform endorses term limits and Vice President Dan Quayle is pushing the issue on the campaign trail. Opponents claim that it is a conservativefinanced plot to displace Democrats from their long-standing majorities in Con-

Ross Perot's disappointed followers in the banie. Last week he sent a fax to Perot headquarters in all the states saying. "You may have to give up on having a citizen-president, but don't give up on a citizen-legislature."

The ultimate goal is a federal constitutional amendment to limit congressional terms. Mr. Coyne's group is seeking pledges from members of Con-gress and candidates to support such a measure, which Mr. Foley and others have kept bottled up in committee. Mr. Coyne is so optimistic about the November initiative results "sending a message" to Washington that be pre-dicts that the Democratic leadership roadblock will be broken in the first month of the new Congress.

Those of us who think this remedy worse than the disease will have to crank up our arguments again.

The Washington Post.

and stability. Yet Britain has suffered three epidemics of urban rioting in the allel in the developed world.

Libertarian Alternative

Regarding "The Libertarian Diversion Offers Lenin, Unleavened" (Opinion, July 9) by George Will:

It is surprising that Mr. Will could call the Libertarian Party "frivolous" when the campaigns of the two major American parties are notorious for trivializing the democratic process. President George Bush has shown that he cannot provide needed leadership; Mr. Clinton has not explained what he would do differently.

The Libertarian Party, basing its policies on the ideas of John Locke and the American Revolution, at least adds some seriousness to a process that deserves more respect. Why are journalists so unwilling to discuss the alternatives available to American voters?

WILLIAM CONROY. Kaiserslautern, Germany.

Down With Monarchy

Regarding "Long Live the Monarchs" (Letters, July 23):

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

While it may be true that a monarch is brought up from birth to perform his or her role, it is also worth pointing out that the general public exercises absolutely no choice in this matter. No matter how incompetent such individuals may be, their position is assured.

Since they are neither rewarded for their achievements nor penalized for their failures, their role is less and less important in contemporary politics.

As to the claim that monarchy is a symbol of the fact that not everyone is born equal, that British subjects are ranked in a social hierarchy. The final defense of monarchy is that it provides an element of social cohesion

Byrne's Tuesday chess column is one of symbol, in the United Kingdom it is a of history. CHARLES J. WELSH. New York On Board Every Tuesday In my humble opinion Robert the best in the world. As a club player, I find his comments very instructive and belpful. Will someone please convey my good wishes to him?

C. W. BROAD.

. London.

N EW YORK — When we decided to move to New York from Paris last winter, we were going to yet another city we hardly knew. And unlike Paris, it was a city we had heard few good things about. I was not familiar with much beyond the trash and flash that any visitor to Manhattan sees and I was ready, at best, to tolerate the city. We were moving for jobs, not lifestyle.

There are many things to miss about Paris: the parks and museums, the wine and food, the friends and the adventure of exploring another culture. I expected that little would compare well with Paris, though it would be good to get back to a more-or-less English-speaking envi-ronment. I had stalled at the paisserie level of speaking French: "comme ca"

MEANWHILE

and "une baguette." I found myself surprised both by New York and hy my reaction to it. I enjoyed taking my children to play in Central Park. I liked the variety of restaurants, It was easy to master the not-so-scaryafter-all suhway (though it is not nearly as pleasant as the Meuro). And after a couple of weeks, Manhattan's dirty streets and its beggars, for good or bad, fade into the background. We spent more than four months in a midtown Manhattan apartment, acclimating ourselves as we waited to finalize the purchase of a house in Brooklyn. We took our children, ages 5 and 7, to Chinese restaurants, pizza parlors, every age-appropriate movie we could find, a Broadway show, a kiddle matinee at a dinner theater, a children's museum. We even rode the gondola high over the East River to Roosevelt Island

And when we moved into our bouse, I was ready to commit to New York. We had found a three-story, 10-room, cedar-shingled, seven-gabled house with a wrap-around front porch. "I can't believe this is in New York!" is the typical reaction of our friends.

The mortgage payments roughly equal the rent we paid for a 100-square-meter (1,100-square-foot), two-bedroom apartment in the 17th arrondissement. Parisians may live better than Americans in some ways, but they usually do it in considerably less space.

past decade. Other forms of social dis-Life in this part of Brooklyn, Ditmas content, such as soccer hooliganism, at-Park, is sharply at odds with what I had test to a degree of fragility without parexpected of the city. In some ways it is a throwback to urban life earlier in the century. Sycamore trees line the streets, Monarchies belong on the scrap heap towering over the houses and keeping the manicured front yards in shade all day. Children rum in and out of each other's houses; parents on one front porch exchange greetings with parents on a neighboring porch.

This is not the New York of the tabloid newspapers or television crime dramas, but it's not Kansas, either. Ditmas Park is an amazingly inte-grated neighborhood. Blacks, whites. Latin Americans and Arabs are only part of the picture. A sidewalk census would show a staggering diversity: Hasidic Jews in somber black coats and bats, Indians in flowing robes and turbans, Caribbean islanders, Egyptians, the early 1900s.

By Stephen Bailey

It's Not the New York We Feared

Our family — white. Protestant and decidedly non-ethnic, if that's possible does not quite fit into the culture. but it embraces us anyway, sweeping us along into a great demographic tide.

Our daughter is going to Jewish day camp and both of our children will he in a Catholic school this fall. A woman from Trinidad helps us care for them, A woman from Russia helps clean our house. Pakistani children across the street are our children's playmates. A neighbor welcomed us with a bottle of kosher sparkling wine. In Paris the neighborhood quincuillier lectured me on my French. Here the owner of the neighborhood hardware store thanked me for my patronage with a fistful of pens advertising his store.

We had not expected to live a balf-hour from clean ocean beaches —with the museums, restaurants and theaters. of Manhattan only a bit farther in the hat opposite direction. Much closer to ms Pakistanis, Chinese, Koreans, Russians home are the huge Prospect Park, with and more. New York is now taking in a lake and paddle boats, and the Brookmore immigrants than at any time since lyn Botanic Garden, a park that would meet even Parisians' standards. And as it was in Paris, almost every- io. thing we need, and many things we don't. are a short walk from our front door. Within a few blocks are several small supermarkets, a library, several pharma-. cies. Chinese restaurants, pizza pariors, three-screen cinema, Caribbean cafés that serve cow's feet, and an always-busy Israeli eatery serving only shawala (cur-ried lamb) and falafel in pita bread.

We find fresh and often exotic fruits * and vegetables at stands and small groceries invariably run by immigrants.

But multicultural Brooklyn is not Paris. We have stopped looking for a real cafe, a place to kill an hour in the morn-

Crime at a Cash Machine

By David J. Breen

N EW YORK — On July 3, 1991, 1 was shot and almost killed while using an automatic-teller machine in Brooklyn Heights. I now hope that the New York City Council will, as ex-pected, approve legislation mandatng new security measures for such machines across the city.

Last year there were 743 reported robberies at automatic tellers, according to the City Council. An off-duty police sergeant, Keith Levine, was killed while trying to stop a robbery at one such machine in Manhattan.

In an editorial criticizing parts of the bill. The New York Times said, 'The bill's appeal is based more on exaggerated fear than sense." I disagree. There was nothing exaggerated about my fear when I felt a gun at the back of my head and turned to see a man demanding my money. There was nothing exaggerated about the horror that flashed through my beart when I heard the explosion of that gun and felt a bullet enter my back, sear through my body and exit at the stomach.

Nothing will erase the terror that filled me when I staggered from that lohby, begging God not to let me die on the street. These are the fears, even nightmares, of many New Yorkers. The bill requires minimum safety measures at all automatic tellers. They include adequate lighting, windows to allow pedestrians to view the interior of the lobbies from the street, mirrors to prevent blind spots, surveillance cameras and either full-time security guards or new locks that would check ing over grand crème and croissants. We deget fresh bagels instead. International Herald Tribune the cards of customers against computerized bank records. I am not sympathetic to the complaint by New York hanks that the security measures would cost tens of millions of dollars, with duhious many people would be protected by upgraded security systems. Are lives such as Sergeant Levine's and mine to be subjected to a cost-gains. There is no way of telling how benefit analysis? Besides, automatic tellers help banks make money. A buman teller can manage up to 200 transactions a day, works approximately 30 hours a week, gets sick leave, variation and other benefits.

An automatic teller bandles up to 2,000 transactions a day, works 168 hours a week and demands neither vacation nor benefits.

Critics say that nothing can prevent people from entering an automaticteller lobby when someone exits. But common sense tells us criminals do not like to commit crimes when witnesses are around, so robbers are less likely to strike where there are guards and where the premises are videotaped. Banks say the added costs may force them to remove machines. If banks cannot provide safety, then some automatic-teller locations should be closed.

I have struggled for the past year to put what happened to me last July behind me. But I will forever be scarred by the events of that night.

The writer is an assistant district attorney in Manhattan. He contributed this comment to The New York Times.

The section and Section Al ale trace about less. The and the enterior the Committee State of the State of المعتددة المعاددة C. Serie Base de walle in generated and the growth to the sale

oints

t launching a punish-ainst Saddam before he pot Mr. Bush lets advances pawns. The ah team made on Sun-ainst widespread mis-tasted justification for d when Saddam sticks and the U.S. election disserving the U.S. election nows the U.S. election dige with a clear-on it. Even if he does, that ent he has achieved in io the Bush adminis

BOT IN April to reverse

aci ar force fly again craft and pilots to

mately deter him from an seeking last week's ash clearly relished the manager in chief's hat

mg.cry to disenchanted

23r2 s 233y curri out to be

be criming enough to and the scatbility given and the scatbility given or of steadily weakening up the stakes.

PACT AND IN

2.2

2 Old Foes Close Ranks to Harass Bush on Central America

By Clifford Krauss

New York Times Service WASHINGTON - In the days when Caritol Hill was another battlefield in the Central American revolution, Senators Christopher J. Dodd and Jesse Helms fortified opposite sides of the ram-

As the Connecticut Democrat worked to crack down on the death squads in El Salvador, the North Carolina Republican net red their supposed leader through the halls of Congress. lo the battle for Nicaragua, Mr. Dodd asserted that the reles, known as contras, were obstacles to peace while Mr. Helms characterized as freedom fighters.

Now, in a twist in the long-running battle between the Democratic Congress and Republican White House over the specifics of Central America policy and the general issue of congressional say in foreign policy, the dove and the hawk are sharing the same nest.

Mr. Dodd, the Democrat, and Mr. Helms, the Republican, have merged their considerable powers to block President George Bush's nominees for ambassadors to Managua and San Salvador, asserting that the administration broke the law by covertly meddling in the 1990 election of President Violeta Barrios de Chamorro of Nicaragua.

Mr. Helms is unhappy that the Central Intelligence Agency, apparently at the prodding of the State Department, funneted $600,000 in support of exiled contras who backed the candidacy of Mrs. Chamorro over conservative Nicaraguans more to the senator's liking.

Mr. Dodd is upset because he and administration officials had made a deal to bury the hatchet and work together on Central America, as long as the Bush administration ended covert financing for the centras that was oot specifically authorized by Congress.

The two senators are demanding to know what Michael G. Kozak and Joseph G. Sullivan, who have been designated for the El Salvador and Nicaragua embassies respectively, knew about the covert program when they served in senior positions in the State Department's Latin America hureau.

Mr. Helms is not talking with reporters while he recuperates from heart trouble. but one aide said, "It's an issue of break-

The State Department is furious, noting that a report by the department's inspector general established that neither oominee broke any laws. (The senators' aides call the report a whitewash.)

These senators are trying to destroy the careers of two career State Department employees, both of whom have been exonerated of any charges," a senior administration official said.

Mr. Dodd refuses to discuss the matter with reporters because, his aides say privately, he does not want to be associated with foreign policy matters while running for re-election in a year when the electorate is focused on domestic affairs.

His alliance with Mr. Helms, the nemesis of the kinds of liberal constituencies who back Mr. Dodd, is apparently not something he wants publicized. His aides try to discount his association with the North Carolina conservative, saying they have collaborated before.

"There's an enormous irony," said Senator Patrick J. Leahy, Democrat of Vermont. "The levers to hold things up are always there, but they are usually pulled in tandem. You usually see two right hands on the lever or two left

Escobar Scales Down Surrender Conditions

By Don Podesta

Washington Post Service
BOGOTA — Pablo Escobar Gaviria, the fugitive leader of the Medellin cocaine cartel, scaled down his conditions for surrendering as Colombians were learning more about the life he led in the prison he escaped from, where he had a water bed, a jacuzzi and a 60-inch television screen.

The government, meantime, dismissed two more high-ranking army officers for their roles in the episode in which Mr. Escohar and nine others broke out of the prison, near Medellin, on July 22. Troops had been sent to transfer him to a more secure location after charges that he had ordered killings while confined in the hilltop prison, which he helped design.

According to a government communiqué, Mr. Escobar is oo longer demanding that he be returned to the ranch-prison, from which he is said to have operated his international drug husiness after his sur-render last year. Confinement at the prison was one of his conditions then, and another was not to be extradited to face U.S. prosecution.

The drug lord's reported conditions are that he be allowed to serve his sentence in his home province of Antioquia, that he be allowed family visits and that his guards be with Slovenia early Tuesday, Ausdrawn from military units rather trian radio reported. Nobody was ing an unconditional surrender. News coverage here has focused on remarks by some American memforces capture him for trial, which might account for his almost daily offers to surrender.

an account in El Tiempo, a Bogotá

Gaviria Trujillo ordered the early retirement of Brigadier General Gustavo Pardo, commander of troops guarding the ranch-prison, and Lieutenant Colonel Manucl Espitia, who was operations officer, Colonel Navas was also forced eastern Alps on Austria's border trian radio reported. Nobody was

Tremor Shakes Austria Alps

Mr. Escobar's latest negotiating position appeared closer to that of the government, which is demandbers of Congres urging that U.S.

Officials inspecting Mr. Esco-bar's former prison confirmed re-ports that the jail had more in common with a five-star hotel than a penitentiary. He had extensive video and sound equipment besides the giant television set, assorted weapons and a doll's house, apparently for his daughter, according to

On Monday, President Cesar

VIENNA - A tremor shook the AMERICAN TOPICS

A Fresh Touch At Dinner Tables

People are eating more fresh vegetables, and that is all to the good, according to U.S. Agriculture Department economists, who say U.S. consump-tion was about 90 pounds (40 kilograms) per capita in 1990, up from about 70 pounds in

"Produce, especially fresh items, appeared more frequently on the plates of Americans in the 1980s as they gained an increased understanding of the nutritional advantages of such foods," according to a report by the department's Economic Research Service.

In the last two decades, eating habits have brought about many changes in the vegetable and fruit market, the report said, including these:

• Numerous salad bars in restaurants and supermarkets.

• A variety of items caten year-round, raising the demand for imports.

New varieties and consequently wider choices. · Fast-food restaurants that offer tomatoes, lettuce, onions, and other fresh vegetables as condiments, as well as fruit and vegetable salads.

• The influx of Latin American and Asian immigrants, who are accustomed to vegetable-based diets. • The rising popularity of ethnic restauraots, whose menus offer lots of vegetables, including beans and lentils.

Short Takes

Too late for the Gulf War, the U.S. military has developed a meat sandwich wrapped in tin-foil with a shelf life of four weeks at 125 degrees Fahrenheit (52 centigrade) and six months at 100 degrees Fahrenheit, thanks to some highly sophisticated preservatives. The army says soldiers who tried the sandwich rated it 8.1 out of a possible 9 oo the army's "hedonic rating scale." Hedonic, as in hedonist, is the army word for good-tasting. The new sand-wich has a beef filling; the Pentagon is experimenting with poultry, bam and cheese, It will supplement the Meals Ready to Eat, prepackaged rations that did not thrill the troops during Operation Desert Storm. "We can't give the damned things away to the Russians, and they're bungry," said Defense Secretary Dick Cheney. Drift to Ci

DANS THE RESERVE THE PARTY OF T

Thank to Break

yes (ensur hip.

Plan TV Stations

The second secon

TELLE STORY

A Law Control of the Control of the 227 37 7 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 5

Secretary and a second and a se a more to

The second secon

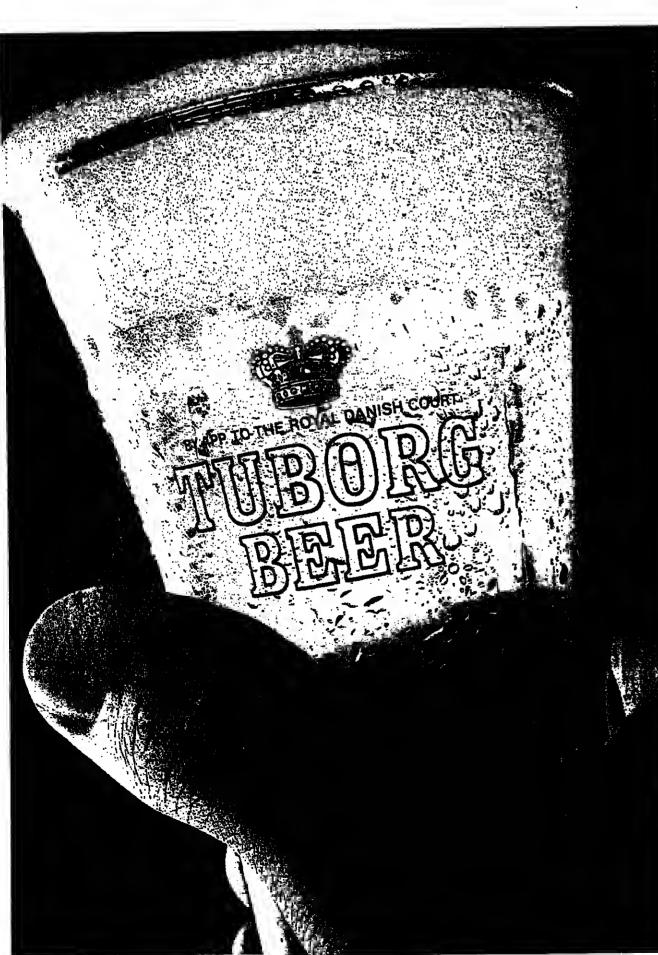

maria 👫

To help bakers and hunters pick up faint sounds in the woods, Bob Walker, a bearingaid specialist in Media, Pennsylvania, has developed a miniature sound amplifier that is worn like a hearing aid. Unlike hearing aids, bowever, which pick up every sound, the "game ear" picks up only high-fre-quency sounds. It magnifies the chirp of a bird or the cough of a deer five times. The device shuts off the amplification if there is a loud noise, like a shotgun blast. Other such devices are available but they are much larger. The device costs $173.

Too much outdoor noise, on the other hand, is the complaint of Project Quiet Yards, a citizens' group that wants to ban motorized leaf blowers from the prosperous New York City suburb of Greenwich, Connecticut. "It really is a national prob-lem," said Dick Roberts, who started the group. A neighbor, Bob Wiley, said, "It's a persistent and pervasive kind of irritating noise that really is against the quality of life." Professional landscapers, however, oppose the ban.

Signal Hill, overlooking the lights of Los Angeles and the Pacific Ocean, has been featured in dozens of movies and is still used as a lover's lane. The classic reason for couples to park at the 300-font (90-meter) summit was "to watch the submarine races," though these were nonexistent. Now the city has issued permits to build 525 houses and apartments on the crest. A spokesman for the city, near Long Beach, said views would be preserved, with a park and additional parking spaces.
"If anything," he said, "we'll enhance the opportunities for watching the submarine races."

Arthur Higbee

TROOP ALERT IN LIMA — Tanks guarding important buildings in the Peruvian capital in response to a rebel warning. The Shining Path, a Maoist guerrilla group, threatened to attack wealthy districts during national independence houdays this week.

The central source on fund investment.

The first and only magazine to be created specifically for the professional fund market-

IFI provides the information necess for fully-informed fund investment deci-

IFI offers the fund industry a forum debating the key issues.

Topics to be covered will include:

- Fund performance measuremen
- Financial regulation
- Changes in investment patterns
- Developments in fund administra
- Viewpoints from industry leader
- Interviews with leading personal

sary isions.	Please send me the 3 issues for 1992 Name	Neuilly Cedex, France. 721 33.
n for	Company
4 101	Address
	City/Code
at	Country Payment is by check or credit card. Check enclosed.	29-7-92
	Please charge by credit card:
ation	AMEX Visa	Access
rs	Card no.	Exp. date
lities	Signature

Heralden Eribune

Drift to Civil War in Algeria Is Feared

r good-tasting. The new and the has a best filling: the has a best filling: the had son is experimenting by mility, have and cheese live prices in the Meals Read to price and the managed rations to bedaring the second washing in properties Described Storm by z's give the damed thing to the Russians and the treat Dick Chency

To belp hater and hand

ck up faint sounds in the

ode Rey Walker a hearing

Media Per Sure of the Couped in the Couped i see the remplication of

are and a such device

e as a large cost (in acoust)

Too much cutdoor noise of the street or the complete of the complete of or wants to be

Salar - Jack Link Cur M.

Connection

anoral police Reberta de

A region

So to the second

D' and temperature had of the

ting there that really h and the Party of the Party

The second second

potential terrories of 20123 ALC (00 to the series of movements (

the second of the late The Section 100 1 Mp Control 10

after fall Egypt

re resulted Nos tiem

- - sa territo in talk is

A TO A SECTION OF THE CO.

at 1 to bout sed we

Durd eine er eine mittepet

grand of board days

W Commercial Commercia

and in Higher

-- C- 47-Tuesto mile

and some government officials are

With attacks by Muslim dissidents multiplying against the secu-rity forces and public facilities, and the country's latest government floundering in its attempt to shore up a collapsing economy, the North African nation of 26 million is experiencing a breakdown in law and order and a loss of confidence m government.

Newspaper reports and editorials in the free-wheeling Algerian press reflected public discontent Monday and Tuesday. This was reinforced by the initial results of an inquiry into the assassination a month ago of President Mohammed Boudiaf that indicates the

Thais, to Break News Censorship. Plan TV Stations

BANGKOK - Thailand's cabinet approved plans Tuesday for up to five new private television networks to break the military's power to censor news broadcasts.

State-controlled television blacked out coverage of huge de-mocracy street protests in May and of the army's shooting of demon-strators. The move set off a public

Mechai Viravaidya, minister for the prime minister's office, said the decision to license private broadcasters was aimed at providing competition for the existing five networks, run or controlled by the povernment or the military. He said the beenses would be granted to companies that agreed to offer most of their shares to the public.

The government has traditionally tightly controlled electronic media. About 200 radio stations are owned and run by government agencies and 288 other stations by the military and police.

The new government of interim Prime Minister Anand Panyarachun has also moved to remove senior military officers from the hicrative chairmanships of the state airline and the telephone company.

warning that Algeria is drifting to-ward social and economic chaos, government with "blameworthy whose six members were friends of stallations have being set on fire. the slain president, charged the Armed men riding on motorcycles and criminal instances of negligence" in its failure to protect Mr. Boudiaf.

maraf, a second lieutenant in a spealone, that he did not not have the stan against the Russians. profile of a kamikaze" and that the complicity of Islamic fundamentalists is far from evident despite earli-talist has been dashed as the new er assertions. A leading Algerian newspaper, national mood Monday when it accumulated by the investigators proved that the June 29 murder was the result of "complicity at the highest level of decision-making."

volved, coincides with an escalation of a bloody conflict between armed Muslim fundamentalists Council headed by Mr. Kafi vowed been daily reports of homemade by the militants against all symbols and in cars are shooting and killing policemen and army soldiers with increasing frequency. Army units are roaming the hilly They said the still uncompleted areas of Algeria engaging in what is investigation shows that the 26-becoming an active anti-guerrilla year-old assassin, Lembarek Bou-maraf a canonal interesting the still uncompleted areas of Algeria engaging in what is becoming an active anti-guerrilla warfare against militant armed fundamentalists, some of whom cial army brigade, did not act fought with the rebels in Afghani-

A much-expected opening by the government toward the fundamenleading figure in the Supreme State are already unable to obtain basic Council, Ali Kafi, who took over as necessities or jobs. La Nation, accurately reflected the president of the five-man body after the murder of Mr. Boudiaf, imsaid in an editorial that evidence posed stiff conditions for any effort toward national reconciliation.

Mr. Kafi clearly excluded militant followers of the Islamic Salvation Front, the country's largest The damning but inconclusive and most powerful political party, result of the inquiry, which has yet from any future dialogue rendering to further identify the persons inlargely meaningless. Instead, the Supreme State and security forces, which claims to intensify its crackdown on fundamentalists. This has already led In the past month there have to a major and growing challenge

By Youssef M. Ibrahim

New York Times Service

PARIS — Western diplomats murder was the result of a conspiration bombs exploding in public places of authority, a struggle that is throughout Algeria. Telephone watched with apathy by a population was the commission, several of lines, electric cables and public in the commission was the result of a commission. for more than 30 years.

> For his part, the country's new prime minister, Belaid Abdessalam, who was appointed a little more than two weeks ago, appeared to break away from the program of economic liberalization and reforms adopted by his predecessor, Sid Ahmed Ghozali, thus risking a suspension of foreign aid.

Instead. Mr. Abdessalam spoke to the nation late Monday night about the need to apply greater economic austerity for a country where the great majority of people Dismissing talk of privatizing the economy, particularly the highly inefficient state enterprises, Mr. odessalam said, "I am not here to provide opportunities for vul-

But be offered Algerians a return to the failed attempt to revitalize the public sector that runs every aspect of life in the country.

The result, in the view of many Algerians and foreign diplomats, has been to give the impression of a government unable to articulate credible solutions to the entrenched economic, political and

IF AT FIRST — Delayed briefly as she tried to leave Manila for Hong Kong on Tuesday, Imelda Marcos made it on a later flight and arrived in the colony for meetings to discuss settlement of some charges related to her accumulation of wealth during her lusband's presidency. It was her first trip abroad since returning from exile last year. With her was her lawyer, James Linn.

Koreans To Discuss Opening Frontier

SEOUL - North and South Korea agreed on Tuesday to consider opening their border for the first time since the Korean War ended nearly 40 years ago.

Officials of the two sides, meeting at the truce village of Panmunjom, agreed to study the possibility of opening a land link across the demilitarized zone that splits the Korean Peninsula.

"There was progress today as the North's attitude seems to have changed slightly," a Seoul spokesman said.

"Nothing has been agreed," he said, but the North said the land link proposal would be "seriously studied." Direct links between North and South were cut with the construc-tion of the DMZ at the end of the Korean War in 1953, separating millions of people from families and homes for four decades. Cautious progress was made in arranging the reunion next month of a few of these war-divided families, although the meetings may still be postponed.

Pyongyang changed its earlier insistence that the Red Cross be solely responsible for the meetings, saying instead they could be super-vised "under Red Cross sponsor-

But the southern spokesman warned that there was still much to be agreed. "The North's revised suggestion does not mean the issues will be settled soon," be said.

The two Koreas agreed to meet again on Ang. 10.

The South's deputy unification minister, Lim Dong Won, told the northern officials that a visit to Scoul last week by Pyongyang's deputy prime minister, Kim Dal Hyon, had helped improve the atmosphere of the committee.

Mr. Kim ended his weeklong visit with a promise from the South to send a team of officials and businessmen to the North to investigate the establishment of joint economic ventures.

and save.

Just contact us at our Zurich office. Phone: (01) 481 7200 Fox: (01) 481 8288

China's Women Discover New Wealth Doesn't Buy Equality

By Sheryl WuDunn

New York Times Service
BEIJING — The capitalist-style changes in China in the last dozen years have made almost everyone richer, but in abortion if it is female. some ways they have also made life more difficult and more frustrating for the nation's $65 million women. As Chinese society focuses more on profit than on equality, and as Communist morality loses its influence, women are in some cases losing the ground they gained in the Maoist years.

More now than under Mao Zedong, they are being discriminated against in jobs, in housing, in land allocation. Physical attractiveness has become a crucial factor in hiring women. Women are increasingly used as ornaments in the office, or as lures to bring in business. The proportion of women in the most powerful positions has declined. And traditional practices that the Communists had essentially eliminated, like the selling significant scale. New technologies like ultrasound testing allow couples to know the sex of a fetus -and they often get an Everyone has benefited from the reforms, but men have moved ahead at a faster pace than women," said Tao Chunfang, deputy director of the Women's Research Institute, an official organization in Beijing. This is China, where the man has always been the focus of the culture. China has glorified the man for several thousand years." The glorification goes on, in new ways. In Shanghai in May, at the opening banquet of the Metal Exchange, a new commodity futures exchange, 50 attractive, seductively dressed women were brought out after dessert to dance with the guests, of whom perhaps one-third were women.

These days if you're a woman, you're as good as a commodity," a Chinese businesswoman said, "You're either of women as wives, have reappeared on a worth six pounds of gold or two tons of aluminum.

Chinese attitudes toward women appear fraught with contradictions and Women face greater economic opporunity than they did under Mao, but also more discrimination: They may drive buses and taxis, but they usually take only one-third of the spots in universities; they enjoy excellent maternity benefits, but they are the first workers sent home with part pay during times of economic austerity.

There is no doubt that economic liberalization under Deng Xiaoping has enriched China's women, along with its 599 million men, and neither group would wish to go back to the Maoist days when men and women alike wore shapeless gray tumics and toiled equally hard for equally miserable wages.

In the 1990s, China's women continue to gain in many ways: maternal death rates are declining, women are running successful businesses, and many factories give preference to young unmarried women in manufacturing toys, clothing and other products.

- ADVERTISEMENT -

When Mao and his fellow Communists took power in 1949, they imposed farreaching measures to improve the status of women, such as eradicating prostitu-tion, child marriages, the use of concu-bines and the sale of brides.

The number of women in the industrial labor force rose from 600,000 in 1949 to more than 50 million, or 82 percent of urban women today, compared with 29 percent in 1949.

The gains gave women a measure of economic independence and self-confi-

To be sure, discrimination existed even under Mao, But in those days factories and offices had little autonomy, and they been imported since the early 1980s, along with pinups and pornography.

As a result, discrimination against women in many factories and offices is not only more widespread now but also more blatant than in Maoist days.

were not much motivated by market economics, so they tended to observe central

And society was so prudish that it was guidelines against sex discrimination.

scarcely possible to take note of sex differences — everybody wore similar clothes, and cosmetics were in effect banned - so that it would have been most unrevolutionary to regard women as ornaments or to comment about their the traditional male-dominated nature of to advertising - using images of beautiful young woman to sell products - have

Chinese society has reasserted itself.

With the collapse of Maoism, however,

At the same time, Western approaches addearance.

INTERNATIONAL FUNDS 191.61 19788.00 1912.99 14.74 9.75 12.80 216.5399 24.14 169.80 4144.51 69.14 169.80 215.25 175.94980 10.44 97.50 17.54 97.55 14.95 174.30 95.94 7.44 112.46 1.37 9.39 10.31 9.31 9.31 PIERSON, WELDRING & PIERSON
WAIGH TO SUTZIA, AMERICAN WAIGH THE GOOD WAIGH THE MAY A MARINE SERVICION FOR MA 7.40 7.40 7.40 d GT Axion Simes
d GT Thiocomm. Fo A Shores
d GT Tricosm. Fo B Shores
J GT Tricosm. Fo B Shores
J ST MANAGEMENT PLC (44.77 28 46.67) 34,452/ U PUTURES PLC (447) 225 30(1) Final Bond Sciection Fig.
Fromovities Fig.
Fromovities Fig.
Fromovities Fig.
Fromovities Fig.
Fig.
Geology field Sp.
Geology field Fig.
Geology field Fig.
Geology field Fig.
Geology field Fig.
Geology ECU PUTUSES PLE 1997 25 5911

ECU PIC CORROL PORT

ECU PIC CORROL PORT

ECU PIC CORROL PORT

ECU PIC REVIOLEN FUTUS

FOR REVIOLEN FUTUS

FOR REVIOLEN FUTUS

FOR REVIOLEN FUTUS

BOLINGAR PHI HEST SERVICES (Lego)

FOR WAS SERVICES (Lego)

FOR PHI PHI SERVICES

FOR PHI PHI SER Althorough Germany

g Global

d Netherlands

d Netherlands

d Switzerland

SF Tale

G Switzerland

SF Tale

G U.S.

ALPHA ASSET MANAGEMENT LTD

Royserland & Currocoo NA 599 4724

Europe Find Ltd

5 17 Auest Fund Lid.

Reliabow Fathers Lid.

Relia LID INCOME PORTFOLIO 97.24 3436 w Levil Vote Froncoites Fin London Partirollo Services 5
mLPS Init H.P.B. 5
w Lucturd 5
mLytus 6. Holdings 5
d M I Holded Derivolives Fd.3
w M I Modit-Sirvices N.V. 3
w M I Growth ESCF 0
w Modit Growth USCF 0
w Modit Growth USCF 0
w Modit Revent College 0
w M Millerial Not Lindied 0
w Millerial Not Lindied 0
w Millerial Not Lindied 1
w Modery Global Invits Lid 0
w Modification Fd. 1
w Modery Global Invits Lid 0
w Modification Fd. 1
w Modery Global Invits Lid 0
w Mullivaria Fd NCA Fund 0 w Millerial Note 1
w Malliferial Fd 1
w Modery Global Invits Lid 0
w Mulliferial Fd 1
w Modery Global Invits Lid 0
w Mulliferial Fd 1
w Modery Global Invits Lid 0
w Mulliferial Fd 1
w Med Note 1
w Mulliferial Fd 1
w Millerial F 153436.16 13.44 9.91 12.01 11.00 9.63 11.73 11.4 97.00 71.50 11597 14461.40 118.43 103.24 10.54 Street Front. S. 123
FIRMANAGEMENT SA-Lesses419/12/9729
FIRMANAGEMENT SA-LESSES419/972
FIRMA 1147 1147 113.11 104.60 122.64 10.47 10.05 111.53 104.50 104.61 92.93 94.13 96.42 7.98 22.34 2.36 8.46 7.92 24.39 16.70 24.77 20.46 37.64 34.42 EASIC VALUE PORTFOLIO

COMO E

CONVERTIBLE SECURITIES PTFL

COSS A

CO INTERNATIONAL ASSETS PUMO
2 Bit North Libral Library
2 bigons B.
2 bit North Libral Library
3 bigons B.
2 bit Person Sud E.
3 bit Person Sud E.
4 bit Person Sud E.
5 bit Person Sud E.
5 bit Person Sud E.
6 180.54 181.96 100.96 97.34 97.14 12.43 12.20 d Cheart Euro Bond Food of Cheart Austr. Doilor Bond. As of Chinart Austr. Doilor Bond. As CITITEUST WISS Earthes 3 WISS Bonds. 10.10 10.24 7.55 7.54 295.30712 15.3043 15.37054 15.37054 13.4141 13.39410 4719.19 14394.74 45.84 11.92 1678.24 922.06 177.04 137.13 5.87 71629.91 5.16 THORNTON TAIWAN FUND

BE EQUITY INCOME

BE EQUITY (GOVER)

B E-SERSEEDANK ZOTICK

B E-FUND

B E-FUND

F E-FUND

F E-FUND

F E-FUND

M - Deby Builton

SF

M - Deby Builton

M - De 10.14 EN 12162 121 10.20 1070,25 547,43 254,98 93,53 1074,91 18,40 1617 EX 32.27 200.37 1621.55 11.23 10.50 O LAGON PORTFOLIO

O LAGON PORTFOLIO

S Class A

O CLAS 104.00 104.00 102.70 114.99 114.11 105.40 10 9.29 9.36 9.85 4.59 6.54 4.90 16.44 1123 $47,50 $14.14 1909,30 1947,50 5,440 7,840 4,200 1,140 4,500 4,500 4,500 4,500 1,180 5,780 Other Funds

w Acropots Fund Ltd 3

Acropots Fund Ltd 3

Actifications Story 5

w Actification Story 5

w Convert. Fel Int'l A Cert's 5

w Misson Emerorise

A Nisson Emerorise

A Nisson Growth Warrand

A Nisson Growth Warrand

A Nisson Growth Warrand

A Nisson Growth Natura

W Class A Nisson Growth Natura

W Class B (Global Bend)

A Class B (Global Bend)

A Class D (Bou Bond)

A F Par Bast Wrait Tr

A JF Par Bast Wrait Tr

A JF Hond Conv. Tr

A JF Hond Conv. Tr

A JF Hond Kane Trust

A JF Hond Kane Trust

A JF Hond Trust

A JF Trust Trust

JOHN GOVET MANT (LD.M.) LTD

Tel: 44.04

W Govert Man. Fatures

S W Govert Man. Fatures

W Govert Man. Fatures

S F Govert Man. Fatures

W Govert Man. Fatures

S F Govert Man. Fatures

W Govert Man. Fatures

S F Govert Man. Fatures

W Govert Man. Fatures

S F Govert Man. Fatures

S F G Contor

S 14.87 26.95 184.97 16.95 16.95 16.95 16.95 12.95 253.87 7.75 31,59 174,71 9570,50 13264,00 m NCF FRF
m NCF JPY on NCF BEF OBLIFLEX LIMITEO
w Multicarrency
w Dollar Medium Term
w Dollar Lass Term w Mohl Carrency ... $

w Dollor Mession Term ... $

w Dollor Lees Term ... $

w Parend Sterties ... Y

w Pound Sterties ... Y

w Pound Sterties ... Y

w Dourstee Merk ... DM

w betch Florio ... FI

w HY Euro Currencies ... Ecu is sets from ... $

w HY Euro Currency ... $

w Hy Euro Currency ... $

w Sels Multicurrency ... $

w Bellion Franc ... $

w Convertible ... $

w Convertible ... $

w French From ... FF

w Swiss Auth-Orvidend ... $

w Convertible ... $

w Sect 1 erm Global Incane. $

outh Floria Modifier ... $

w Winch Form Divide ... $

w Winch Form Divide ... $

w Winch Form Divide ... $

w Winch From Divide ... $

w Winch Hole Infl Medican ... $

w Winch Form Divide ... $

w Winch Mode Infl Medican ... $

w Winch ... $

w Wi PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY OF TH 774.51 774.51 111.96 111.96 111.96 117.46 187.46 187.46 187.46 187.46 187.46 187.46 187.46 187.46 187.46 187.46 187.46 187.46 14.28 17.22 16.22 CREDIT COMMERCIAL DE FRAM

d Environ Prest, Fund A. Edu

d Carper Sunday

d Convert Valor US - Dollor - S

d Convert Valor Ser Ing. - S

d Convert Valor Valor Ser Ing. - S

d Convert Valor Valor Ser Ing. - S

d Convert Valor US - Dollor - S

d Convert Valor US - Dollor - S

d Carper Valor US - Ser Ing. - S

d Carper Sulprest Ser Ing. - S

d 734,00 1544,00 124,16 2114,60 1477,00 1627,00 2677,00 2750,00 1257,00 1257,00 110,46 110,46 110,40 101402,00 74,714 95,146 101,257 102,578 102,578 102,578 102,578 102,578 102,578 103,578 104,508 104,508 105,5 121.57 19.77 100.45 17.88 484 5336 1307 494 1333 49,43 10,71 11,73 11,73 11,74 1 THE SE STATE OF THE SE STATE O B Chestopease Fund LAW

B HAT Gouronited Fund LS

B Straeberse Lid LS

B The Gol Asset Alloc Fd LH2 S

D The Krieger Curr. Pd L10_S

LATIN AMERICAS MANAGEMENT (
Tel: London E7 GB 12/4

W Arsentisian Invest Co Sicov S

W Brustilen Invest Co Sicov J

W Colombian Invest Co Sicov J

W Lotin American Invest Co Sicov S

W Hartonn Invest Co Sicov S

W Harton Invest Co Sicov S

W Horton Invest Co Sicov S

W LOTO American Invest Co Sicov S

W IDD Money Market Fd S

W IDD Money Market Fd S

W Aston Growth Fund S

W Aston Growth Fund S

W Aston Growth Fund S

W Afterno Food S

W Afterno Food S

A Alterno Food S

A Single Specific S

A Single South Food S

A Second South Food S

A Single South Food S

A Singl 30.42 21.43 11.19 10.00 29.95 (5.11 17.03 16.27 301.97 7674.24 SE Europe Bond A. DM
SEUrope Bond B. DM
SF Fraid 1 SF 7% 1/76. SF
SF Fraid 1 DM 6% 1/7% DM
SF Fraid 1 Ex 5 3/6% 1/7% Ex
SEURO Blee Chies A. DM
SEURO Blee Chies A. DM
SEURO Blee Chies A. DM
SEURO BLEE
SE STANDAM
SE STANDA 7.59 LLOYD GEORGE ASSIGNAT (ISS) NO 44
W ANTENDE FUND.

W ARISIN STRUCTURE CAS F-5 ... S
W HOURD STOCKES FORM ... S
MAIL ABAR CAP MGMT I Bermula) L

IN MINISTER REATYONAL FUTURES
IN MINISTER REATYONAL S
IN MINISTER LLO SORCE ISSUE S IN MINISTER LLO SORCE SINGLES
IN MINISTER LLO SO BEF/LUF To our readers in Switzerland .TD 12,34 it's never been easier to subscribe

259.36 8489.00 2410.94 1227.48 12549.27 971.55 INTER STRATEGIE 9,95 9848,99 931,06 2941,71 761,85

AS - Australian Dollars; AS - Austrian Schillings; SF - Belgian Franci; CS - Corodian Deliars; DM - Deutsche Mork; ECU - European Currency Unit; FF - Franch Franci; Ptes - Pasetas; $68 - Shiptoore Dollars; SF - Swiss Franci; Y-Yenj a - asked; +- Offer Prices; N.A. - Not Available; N.C. - Not Communicated; a - New IS - suppended; 1/3 - Incodes Spill; -- Ex-Policiand; -- Ex-Ris; -- Offer Price Incl. 3's prailin, charge; -- Ports excharge; ++- Assistancian exchange; -- make-easted earlier; -- not replaced and the charge; -- Ports excharge; -- Make-easted active; -- not replaced and the charge; -- Ports excharge; -- Make-easted active; -- not replaced and the charge; -- Ports exchange; -- Make-easted active; -- not replaced and the charge; -- Ports exchange; -- Make-easted active; -- not replaced active; -- not rep

For information on how to list your fund, fex Simon OSBORN on (33-1) 46 37 21 33.

Tribune

PARIS FASHION

Chanel: Funk Turns to Gold

Ungaro Moves Into the Green '90s

By Suzy Menkes International Herald Tribune

ARIS - Karl Lagerfeld Tuesday demonstrated his Olympian ability to pick up fashion's baton and run like the wind. His chest to go with it," said Carolyne show for Chanel was an outright winner. Yet everything be sent out — the swelling velvet corsets. the veiled sexiness of gauzy skirts, the show. Since a child seems to the floppy hippie hats and the be the fashionable accessory of dandified jackets — had started this couture season, Judy Taub-

Westwood and John Galliano who have never made a cent from their ideas to see Lagerfeld turn corsetry and transparency into corsetry and transparency into the green '90s. His front row looked like the vegeta-Westwood and John Galliano corsetry and transparency into gold — and into haute couture. gold — and into haute couture. But that is his extraordinary tal-ent. The mob scene backstage was a testament to his powerful and unique position in fashion.

What Lagerfeld does for Chaboots and nests of hats and you still have the essence of modern fashion. That means jackets that go for the body-line, fitted like a corset with whale-bones of seaming and the wispy pants and skirts (worn over hold-up stock-ings) that gave a feeling of naugh-

ASHION has to be tight as a glove, or loose and fluid," claimed Lagerfeld, who at night replaced the traditional silks and satins with rivulets of panné velvet or the wool gauze that was laid like thick cobwebs across the bodice above a drifting skirt. Modern-day luxury means work-ing with materials and following techniques that do not look showy. Stretching Chanci's ateliers to their creative limits is all part of Lagerfeld's skill in creating new countre. His only stumhle was with heavy-handed embroideries that were inspired by crumpled Christmas wrapping paper and looked just like that.

A traditional Parisian corse-tiere created the black velvet bodices that laced up the back, pushed the supermodels' busts way out front and brought the Rochm, in town with her stepdaughter, 17-year-old Kimberly Kravis, who was knocked out by the race on another runway or in another country.

It must be galling for designers like England's Vivienne sational."

ble patch with Audrey Gruss, Kathy Ford and Carolyne Rochm all in spring green suits and the rest of the heavy-hitter clients in beige or cream. And on nel is to make classics look funky.
But take away the painted wigs, the zippy, hippy accessories, the jewel-colored sucde walking beets and provided the painted with the runway, against a back-cloth of Man Ray's surreal scarlet lips, came quiet beige and brown whipcord suits, skirts raking the knee, felt hats pulled down. style; right, Ungaro's Could Ungaro, master of the sassy city silhouette and hothouse flower prints, be making country

Well, not quite. But Ungaro's collection — brief and calm reflected a new spirit that brought the clothes closer in touch with the reality of rich women's modern lives. It was as significant for what was wiped off the designer's slate as for what was on the runway: There were none of the colorful full-hlown blooms and dotty prints. Instead, there were surreal motifs: the lips stretched across the bosom of a black dress or kissing the pocket of a body-skimming jacket; a sur- garo. real embroidered eye winking from a plain sweater. On one lit-tle black dress, the lips caressed one bosom and an eye stared out from the other. Ungaro did not the knee ending in a frolicsome fringe, although other skirts dropped to mid-calf, below a raised waist. The show was played out in sober colors, often black, but hit up with jet fringing on velvet, encrustations of lace and very fine workmanship that exuded a subdued luxury.

Chanel suit, hippie-

Inspirations-from-all-over was another theme with a touch of Spain or even the Russian steppes in the frogged and fringed tailor-ing, and a clash of the tartans that we have seen before from Un-

Lynn Wyatt summed up a couture day that made clients ecstat-

"I just loved everything at Cha-nel — with normal shoes and take develop the surreal theme, but it made an arresting decoration.

The clothes were relatively simple with a lot of pants, and skirt hemlines mostly lengthened to

A Wry, Savage 'Columbus'

ONDON - Hooray and halleluish: despite what many of my more churlish colleagues would have you believe, we have for the first time in almost a decade a major new play on the main stage of the Barbican. To be sure, Richard Nelson's "Columbus and the Discovery of Japan" is not another "Becket" or indeed "Amadeus" but it is a implementation. deas," but it is a junior entry in that league.

As its title would suggest, it subscribes to the theory of history as a series of misadventures turned lucky. Nelson's Columbus is neither the hero of the old history books nor the colonialist villain of modern American political correctness.

Instead, as brilliantly played by Jonathan Hyde, he's a shambling, ineffectual opportunist who takes on a voyage to be knows not where, largely because it will allow him to be called Admiral of the Ocean Sea and might guarantee a slight shift in his financial and social fortunes back home. His crew are a motley collection of unemployed fisherman and Icwish evacuees forced out of Spain and in need of a project to hide some cash they are trying to transfer to North Africa.

LONDON THEATER

When, after several weeks' becalmed at sea, they arrive off the coast of North America, Columbus is still expecting Japan and mainly engaged in trying to deny one of his sailors cash promised him in a bet about who would be the first to spy land. Nelson's interests are in character rather than geography, and his play stops at the moment Columbus sets foot on than geography, and his play stops at the moment Columbus sets foot on land. But there is something wryly funny in a Columbus constantly on the brink of catastrophe, and around Hyde the performances of Philip Voss as the wandering Jew. Jane Gurnett as the discarded mistress, and Christopher Benjamin as the only sailor who might just about be able to recognize land through a telescope, add up to some splendidly revisionist

True, there are moments when the ships of Timothy O'Brien's hugely inventive set seem to be drifting around, like the play, without going anywhere very far. But that is Nelson's central point about Columbus, that he was a drifter who only discovered a New World because he couldn't be bothered to locate it on the map. It makes for a savagely sharp character study, never better than in the final moments where a man of total confusion and contradiction is forced to clamber onto a pedestal and look decisive as a statue for posterity.

T the Albery, Sharman Macdonald's "Shades" is an out-of-the-closet family album from Glasgow in the 1950s, where Pauline Collins is the young widow torn between a desire to remarry and the demands of her predatory 10-year-old son. Both characters are drawn with considerable insight into the hangups of the period, but neither has been given a play of any real dramatic shape or intensity.

As a result, the first half is largely a dialogue between mother and son, while the two characters who do put in appearances in the second half (her mother and the aging suitor who just might giver her an escape from a cloying maternal relationship) both seem to have more interesting tales

Macdonald is I think trying to tell them.

Macdonald is I think trying to tell us that widowed mothers and young sons can do terrible things to each other if left alone without the kindness of strangers, but she is no Tennessee Williams and this is a glass of strangers, but she is no tennessee winams and this is a gast of the strangerie constructed of old Scots fragments desperately lacking the passion or intensity required to hold them together. Collins gives a luminous and touching performance: all she needs is a play to put it in.

For an example of how these family albums should best be dusted down and reopened, travel around the corner to Wyndham's where, in the strangers, but she is no its prediction. The strangers who getters twing translation to getters twing translation and touching the passion or intensity required to hold them together. Collins gives a luminous and touching performance: all she needs is a play to put it in.

For an example of how these family albums should best be dusted down and reopened, travel around the corner to Wyndham's where, in the wake of "Dancing at Lughnasa," Brian Friel's 30-year-old "Philadelphia" Here I Come" has come in for a splendid revival.

The first of Friel's plays to acquaint us with life in Ballybeg, this is the one about the young Gareth setting off for a new life in America but, haunted by his alter ego, who comes ou stage with him at all times to voice his innermost thoughts.

Defeated by life in a small Irish town, fed up with working in his father's grocery, and destroyed by the decision of his girl to marry a richer young man, Gareth is off to Philadelphia in the morning, but before he goes, we get to look back on a claustrophobic village life brought into sharp focus by the apparently uncaring father (Eamon Kelly, back in the role he created three decades ago here and on Broadway) and the loving housekeeper (Pauline Delaney) who have been his two great influences. Friel is arguably our greatest living dramatist, and certainly the Irish Chekhov: his ability to find a kind of poetry in the bleakest of surroundings, his talent for characters who seem to live rather than just act, was

Reinventing East Europe Film Fest

By Rich Zahradnik

ARLOVY VARY, Czechoslovakia — The Karlovy Vary Interna-tional Film Festival has much in common with the characters in "Krapatchouk," the French illing residents of Paris when their country vanishes. They find that no one - not the railroad, not the mian spa town, was once the show- grammed by Uhrik.

ROYAL

case for East European filmmaking supported by Czechoslovakia to catch up with," Ulnik said.

and the rest of the former East bloc

Organizars have already said to with films and funding. All that ended with the Velvet Revolution next year, sandwiching Karlovy vary in between the Munich and Moscow festivals in June and July.

earlier this mouth under new manfilm that took the festival's grand agement, was Karlovy Vary's first nim that took the resultar's grand attempt at real international scope.

In the comedy, two fami workers from Eastern Europe become unor Slovak films entered in the main competition.

The 1990 edition, coming just nine months after the overthrow of police, not the French Foreign Min- the Communists, became a catharthe Free Republic of Prajevitza. vak films of the 1960s were brought Their country has disappeared in out from the vaults and screened at the shifting of borders and fracture the festival, explained Stefan Uhing of nations that's occurring rik, one of the festival's organizers.

between East and West and must across Eastern and Central Europe.

This year, the festival took steps to Like Poini and Tchelovek in the broaden its reach and appeal, film, Karlovy Vary itself must find its way home. The festival, held every other year in this rustic Bohe directors for a sidebar event pro-

Organizers have already said they plan to switch to an annual schedule hopes again to bridge East and West.

compete with big media circuses like Berlin and Cannes? The question has no casy answer, as evideaced by reactions to this year's Westernized Karlovy Vary. Czech journalists attacked the festival for its focus on Hollywood, yet U.S. films like "A League of Their Own," "My Own Private Idaho," "Down by Law" and "Milier's Crossing" were the ones pulling the sellout crowds.

From Eastern Europe, only Hungary, Russia and Lithuania were represented in the main com-Organizers said the absence of home-grown products was not the result of their desire to bring Western films to the festival but Czech and Slovak directors' own longing to compete at more prestigious events. The Slovak director Jiri Jakubisko held back his saure "It's Better to Be Young and Rich Than Old and Poor" so he could enter it in the Venice Film Festival.

"Of course, they have nothing against us personally," Tereza Brdeckova, festival program director, told The Prague Post. "But as for the business point of view, the

"There are so many films for us Western festivals are more interesting for them since they can present themselves to potential foreign cus-

DIA MARKET

m Tailors A white Hip an a al com

TARREST ME

E 5- .-

in the second

Sam Raine

Production in Czechoslovakia has fallen as subsidies have been chiminated, and the nation's film-But how is Karlovy Vary to survive when it is no longer a bridge privatization of the massive Barrandov Film Studies in Prague. Things are better in Poland and Things are better in Poland and Himgary, but not much. And these days, an Eastern filmmaker who can get his film made faces the prospect of competing against "Krapatchouk," a co-production financed out of Spain, France and Belgium that may have Eastern Europe as part of its plot but in many ways is a conventional Western comedy, albeit a funny one. Nonetheless, Karlovy Vary still takes seriously the job of bringing its own country's cinema to the world's attention. A special program on re-cent Czech and Slovak cinema featured six films outside the competi-tion, including Irena Pavlaskova's "Corpus Delicti," a well-received look at life in the country just before the Velvet Revolution.

Festival organizers suggest that next year they will strengthen the emphasis on first films already in evidence. This year seven of the 18 competition entries were directorial debuts, including the winner "Krapatchouk," and 11 other East European films from new filmmakers were screened in a separate De-

Karlovy Vary may secure its own survival if it becomes the festival where first-time directors can get their work seen. However, it will first need to overcome the more prosaic hurdle of again securing funding from the government, which will likely be the government of just the Czech republic by next year.

Rich Zahradnik reports from London for the Hollywood Reporter.

POLO I IE WESTERN

French and Insh cooling. rue du Mont Thabar. Tel: 42.60.60.26. PARES 6th

LE PETIT ZINC - LE MUNICHE intioned in every puids. Tel: (1) 46 33 51 66 or (1) 46 33 62 09.

YUGARAJ

LA PETITE CHAISE

PARS 7%

THOUMBUX ties of the South-West, Confe de

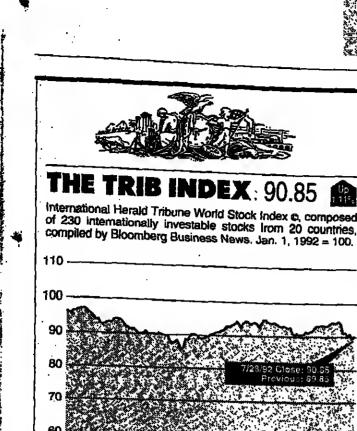

AL GOLDENBERG Mails havings - Postromi - Cream chasse bagel and lax homemode - Chasse cake & all the road Jewish area. 40

CHEZ FRED Lyonnois bistro, traditional French coo doily dishee, 190 bis, bld. Pereira. Tel.: 45 74 20 48.

DA MEO PATACCA

KERVANSARAY in & Int'l specialities, lobater bor, by and restourant, light floor. Mohierate tels by test is Philadelphi 100 and the a Balling wilder to a new day to America be to with the color of the color a the opening with the ball and the first of the contract of the contract

هكدامن الأجل

Control of the second in Stracker in the Comment of the comment of the The state of the s Compare the Compare of the Compare o in a murvey it. Dr. Cor. : in this is the de Reg

ALLEY THE ALL OF THE PERSON

the trees of a decident the state of the state of Letter be arrelative here rendered to the control of the The state of the s Andreas Take Water -ca - 1-31.1 (25) 254

9

A 121 A 121 A 121 B فيختلف ويسرون A CONTRACTOR OF THE CONTRACTOR

12.00 A. GREEF

A STATE OF S :50 F

33.

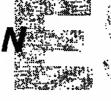

EX. AVENERY.

Currency Per S Currency Per S (17.79 Mex. Mess 3114.51 Mess, Mess 414.51 Mess, Mess 3114.51 Mess 3114.51 Mess, Mess 3114.51 Mess 31 Brazil craz, 3872.60 Chinese your SA449 Czech karvas 24.89 Denish krase 5.707 Egyst, poend 3.3333 Forward Rates Currency 38-day 68-day 99-day Pound Sterting 1,915 1,903 1,853 Decision mark 1,863 1,8921 1,897 Swiss fram; 1,3177 1,5172 1,3226 Sources: NAB Bank (Amsterdom); Indebutz Bank (Brussels); Banca Commerciale Holland (AMica); Agence France Presse (Parls); Bank of Tokyo); Rayal Sonk of Conado (Toronte); NAF (SDR), Other date from Reuters and AP.

Thomson Gives Up THE TRIB INDEX: 90.85 LTV Bid International Herald Tribune World Stock Index c, composed

N. America

Approx. weighting: 35%

Close: 98 46 Prev : 97 16

FMAMJJ

98.58 97.71 +0.89

99.52 98.44 +1.10

97,45 96,13 +1,37

104.73 103.20 +1.48

The index tracks stocks in: Tokyo, New York, Lundon, and Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Denmark, Finland, France,

Germany, Hong Kong, Italy, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway.

Singapore, Spain, Sweden and Switzerland. In the case of Tokyo,

New York and London, the index is composed of the 20 top issues in terms of market capitalization. In the remaining 17 countries, the ten

Europe

Capital Goods

Raw Materials

Consumer Goods

Asia/Pacific

Clase: 72.20 Prev 71.72

FMAMJJ

1992 World Index

Energy

Industrial Sectors

Tuesday Prev. % Close close change

96,38 95,71 +0,70

86.65 86.00 +0.76

71.46 70.63 +1.18

98.78 97.76 +1.04

MEDIA MARKETS

urban and rural settings.

men, silent, romping athleti-cally on an isolated beach.

for which Levi Stranss & Co.

will spend $50 million, are for two types of jeans. Both are entries in a fiercely competitive market that, like detergents, automobiles and soft drinks, is growing increasingly segment-separate identities.

Brussels Frankfort London (a) Madrid

Allian Hew York (b) Ports

Other Dollar Values

Per S

Confused? Actually, the ads,

For readers dessing more information about the international Herald Tribu Index, a booklet is available free of charge by writing to Trib Index, 181 Avenue Charles de Gautle, 32521 Neutly Cedex, France.

Levi's Tailors Ads to Fit

Both the Hip and Hippy

By Stuart Elliott

New York Times Service

And new advertising for Levi's jeans also takes a glossy, chic and trendy approach, featuring extraordinarily handsome young ed to appeal to every real or perceived need of consumers.

To help differentiate the styles - venerable Levi's 501 denims and new, fashionable Levi's Loose - Foote, Cone & Belding San Francisco is introducing sharply contrasting campaigns to allot

The Lovi's 501 campaign features television commercials directed by Leslie Dektor, who infused earlier campaigns with an off-the-cuff spontaneity. The Levi's Loose campaign was directed by Herb Ritts, the fashion photographer whose stylized ads for products like Calvin Klein's fragrances and the Gap's casual

"Leslie likes oddly painted buildings," said Michael Koelker, in charge of creative development at Foote Cone. "Herb wants to

Mr. Dektor's 501 spots are designed to appeal primarily to men up through the mid-20s who prefer the button fly and straight leg.

In the Loose jeans ads, Mr. Ritts appeals primarily to a different group of men up to the age of 34. Mr. Koelker said there was a simple rationale behind the Loose line: "As you get older, you get

The Loose line comes in two versions: more room in the seat with thighs tapering to the ankle, and loose-fitting legs to the ankle.

Steve Goldstein, a marketing executive, said the first-time budget for the Loose line was more than spent on any campaign since 1984. With that as a guide, the budget is estimated at $30 million. The 501 budget was estimated at $20 million.

apparel typified hipness as marketers perceive it.

get rid of the buildings and look at one weed."

bigger, and looser fitting is more comfortable."

EW YORK -New advertising for Levi's jeans takes a down-to-earth, back-to-the-ranch approach, featuring earnest young men in charmingly inarticulate discussions of life's larger meaning as they wander through

Lot 501

LEVI STRAUSS & CO.

QUALITY CLOTHING XX

Puzzling Move Carries Penalty Of $20 Million

NEW YORK - Leaving its potential partner puzzled, Thomson-CSF of France Tuesday pulled out of a deal for a minority stake in a leading American defense electronics company, even though with-drawal could cost it a $20 million penalty.

In a terse announcement upon which spokesmen in Paris and Washington refused to elaborate, the government-controlled defense electronics company said it had decided not 10 proceed with a $30 million purchase of a stake in the missile division of LTV Corp., which is operating under bankruptcy court protection.

Loral Corp. is trying to buy the missile division from LTV for $240 million, and the French company would bave taken a 10 percent stake. But Bernard L. Schwartz, Loral's chairman, said, "They wanted board participation, equity participation and strategic participation, and we were not prepared to do that for Thomson or any other company."

When Mr. Schwartz disclosed an agreement in principle between Loral and Thomson last Thursday, he bad already made it elear the French concern could not expect to take an active role in running the company's missile division in exchange for the minority stake,

He could offer no explanation Tuesday for wby the deal was vetoed at the last minute, presumably by officials in Paris and perhaps by the French military, because Thomson-CSF answers to the defense and not the industry ministry,

More than likely, said French officials observing from the sidelines, Thomson and the French Defense Ministry had hoped to he able to obtain from Loral greater cooperation than it was willing to offer, and then dropped out when when it discovered that Mr. Schwartz would not yield it.

Thomson first offered to buy LTV's missile division outright for $300 million, and its bid was approved in April by the bankruptcy court over the objections of two rival bidders, the U.S. military contractors Lockheed Corp. and Martin Marietta Corp.

Thomson then agreed to pay LTV a $20 million penalty if the purchase failed to fulfill security guidelines.

Because of complaints partly or-ebestrated by lobbyists for its U.S. competitors, Thomson withdrew its bid and searched for an American partner in hopes of saving its $20 million and making inroads into the U.S. defense industry. After Thomson's latest withdrawal, Loral announced it would go ahead with its bid $240 million if the bankruptcy court approves.

nent company Valeo. -LAWRENCE MALKIN Italy," said Giovanni Agnelli, chairman of

Consumer Gloom Drives U.S. Bonds Up By Lawrence Malkin International Herald Tribune NEW YORK - American consumers

suddenly turned pessimistic this month, the Conference Board reported Tuesday. The news confirmed what is widely seen as another stall in the U.S. economy, sent interest rates on bonds sharply lower and drove investors into stocks for better returns.

After climbing steadily since February, the Conference Board's consumer confidence index dropped to 61 in July, which the board pointed out was a "stark loss" of 11.6 points in one month and an unraveling of almost half the 25-point gain posted during the spring. Fabien Linden, director of the board's consumer research center, blamed most of the loss on consumers' uncertainty about their jobs. Early in the month, when the

"This means that the recovery that we had hoped was in process is weaker than we thought, and that people out there know it,"

The dollar dropped about a half-pfennig against the Deutsche mark on the news, but in a volatile day it rebounded on fears of another round of intervention by central banks before falling again. The dollar closed in New York at 1.4730 DM, well off its midday high of 1.4845 and down from 1.4809 at the close on Monday.

The biggest rally was in the bond market, where prices rose and yields on long-term Treasuries tumbled below 7.5 percent, a sign that investors believe low inflation and slow growth were likely to stay. In late trading, the bellwether 8 percent Treasury bond due 2021 survey was being taken, the unemployment was up almost 14 points, dropping its yield to 7.43 percent from 7.52 percent at Monday's close. The Treasury also sold $15.2 billion in two-year notes at a yield of 4.29 percent. It was the lowest since it started regular two-year note auctions in 1974 and down sharply from 5.11 percent just a month

With more gloomy economic news expected later this week, dealers predicted that bond yields would drop below the year's low of 7.39 percent, set on Jan. S.

The odd market out was the stock market. which shrugged off the bad economic news and surged in response to the fall in bond yields, which sent investors to stocks in search of better returns. News of Chrsyler Corp.'s second-quarter profit, which was more than double what analysts expected, helped make the market look attractive. The Dow Jones industrial average surged 51.87 points to 3,334.07.

How long this rally can last in the face of a soft economy remains to be seen, Mr. Linden pointed out that the Conference Board's, confidence index has a long record of accurately tracking the direction of the economy and is one of the statistics in the Commerce;

Department's index of leading indicators.
The decline in consumers' spirits evidently. reflects the faltering in the nation's economy."
he said. "Beyond this, the accelerating political debate in this election year, with its emphasis on economic issues, is probably contributing to some public uncertainty and

The survey showed that buying plans for bomes and appliances were markedly lower

See GLOOM, Page 10

By Erik Ipsen

onal Herald Tribune LONDON - The British government's ecoomic policies took a pair of body blows Tuesday from one of its erstwhile staunchest defend-

Not only did the CBI's quarterly industrial trends survey reveal a sharp downturn in business confidence in the second quarter, but Howard Davies, the group's new head, went ou to lay much of the blame on the already stooped

He lambasted the government for its seeming inactivity in the face of growing adversity. it is completely powerless to do anything," Mr. Davies said. In fact, he stressed that the government's appearance of economie impotence was now itself contributing to the fall in business

In April the CBI survey had registered the first increase in business optimism in nearly four years. It showed that the difference between manufacturers who felt more optimistic about the economy and those who felt less optimistie had swung from minus 24 percent-

everything they can to stop the recovery," said Christopher Smallwood, head of planning for TSB Bank. "They have blocked all the escape

By steadfastly sticking to its opposition to a devaluation in the pound on the one hand, and by taking a tightfisted approach to public spending on the other, the government has left

Fiat SpA. "But you can't put yourself with rogues like Calvi and come out looking good."

Another view is that Mr. de Benederti has paid for being a bristling ontsider, a Jew in a Roman Catholic country who challenged the long-dominant Christian Democratic and So-land of the bonsal. If you stay small in busi-

In recent weeks its sole response to the recession has been to laud its continued success in battling inflation while counseling patience for the long-awaited arrival of the recovery.

The rumblings from the CBI now put the government on notice that more is necessary. "Given the fact that the CBI had fully supported the government before the election, this is another indication of how sentiment is shifting," said Gerard Lyons, chief economist at DKB International in London.

Some economists also predict that the swing back to pessimism by Britain's manufacturers will soon manifest itself in more layoffs of workers. That, Mr. Lyons argues, could eliminate the one glimmer of hope in otherwise bleak economie figures of recent months, the tapering off in the growth of unemployment.

Chrysler Impresses In Return To Profit

Compiled by Our Staff From Disputches DETROIT - Chrysler Corp. surprised investors Tuesday by reporting second-quarter earnings of $178 million, far more than had been expected.

Boosted by strong sales of minians, trucks and Jeep vehicles, Chrysler also showed that it has improved the efficiency of its production process.

"This was a very encouraging set of numbers, with no special onetime gains or anything else," said Joseph Phillippi, an analyst with Shearson Lehman Brothers in New York. "A little bere and a little" there, and they wound up with a. real nice positive earnings sur-

The automaker's second-quarter earnings were equivalent to 54 cents a share, and they followed a loss in the comparable 1991 period of $212 million. Following the report, Chrysler's stock rose $1.625, to $21.75 a share, by late afternoon on the New York Stock Exchange. Analysts had expected Chrysler to earn between 15 cents and 30 cents a share for the second quarter, and several subsequently revised their third-quarter estimates

China agrees to buy cers from U.S. makers. Page 14.

Chrysler's sales for the quarter rose 19.2 percent, to $9.31 billion from $7.21 billion a year earlier. Industry analysts noted that the Tuesday report by the Conference Board that U.S. consumer confidence in July plunged to its lowest level in five months masked the fact that the number of consumers who the next six months increased. "Consumers are telling us that there is pent-up demand for new vehicles," said David Garrity of McDonald & Co. Securities in New York.

plan to purchase a new car within

The earnings turnsround was the latest in a litany of positive news for Chrysler, which a year ago was gasping amid the recession and doubts about its ability to survive, Over the past year, Chrysler has sharply cut production costs and impressed the market with a series of promising new models. Much of the quarter's earnings advance stemmed from sales of the $25,000 Jeep Grand Cherokee, a slick-looking four-wheel drive car that has come to symbolize Chrys-ler's aggressive strategy to become John Kirnan, an auto analyst with Salomon Brothers Inc. in New York, said Chrysler's ability to make money despite the start-up costs for the Grand Cherokee and the new line of LH midsize cars was signifiowned 70 percent of BCCl before it themselves to become the industry's low-cost producer," he said.

(Bloomberg, AP, UPI)

An Ex-Ally Hits Tory Economic Policy

ers, the Confederation of British Industry. shoulders of Conservative government.

"It is wrong for the government to argue that

By Roger Cohen
New York Times Service

plots and counterplots, of unsolved crimes and unresolved mysteries. Even by these standards, the case of Carlo de Benedetti, the chairman of Olivetti SpA, is unusual.

Mr. de Benedetti, widely viewed in the United States as one of Europe's most perceptive businessmen, was sentenced by a Milan court this spring to six years in jail. Now free pending an appeal, he has insinuated that a political vendetta was behind the verdict, and many in Italy and the United States

"I've always been seen as against the Italian political class, as a sort of strange political animal, and I've paid a very high price, culminating with this groundless conviction," Mr.

The conviction stemmed from charges of

For 65 days between November 1981 and January 1982, Mr. de Benedetti was deputy chairman of what was then Italy's largest private bank. He left after a falling-out with the chairman, Roberto Calvi, who was found hanged in mysterious circumstances under

Blackfriars Bridge in London, shortly before

Some believe the verdict is Mr. de Benedetti's comcuppance for countless deals, some of them very successful, that critics say dis-played a combination of greed, vanity and impatience. His interests include the influential Italian newspaper La Repubblica, a hotel group in Spain and the French auto-compo-

"He's the most complete businessman in fraud in the collapse of Banco Ambrosiano in 1982 beneath $1.3 billion in bad loans.

share that view.

de benedetti said.

the bank sbnt.

ROME - Italy is a Machiavellian land of age points in January to plus 8 points in April. As of Tuesday's testing of the waters, that balance had dropped into negative territory once again, by 9 percentage points. "The government's policy seems to be to do itself in an unenviable position.

De Benedetti Sees Vendetta in Jail Term In Italy, while successful small and medium-sized businesses abound, the self-made man who builds an industrial group and takes it public is rare. Mcanwhile, establishment figures in the private sector, like Mr. Agnelli or Leopoldo Pirelli of the Pirelli tire group.

have sought stability through cross-stock-ness, nobody troubles you. But if you want to grow, they start calling you a communist and troublemaker." In June, Digital Equipment Corp. agreed to invest about $365 million to acquire almost

'I've always been seen as against the Italian political class, and I've paid a very high price.'

Carlo de Benedetti 10 percent of Olivetti, which posted a $383 million loss in 1991 as it suffered from the shakeout in the European computer industry.

A spokesman for Digital said, "We did not regard the conviction as a big deal." Mr. de Benedetti will battle to clear his name through appeals, but it will probably not be beard until 1994. Meanwhile, questions re-

• Was his jail sentence a frame-up? Did the man once regarded as the golden boy of Italian business really break the law? · Has the verdict compromised Mr. de Benedetti's ability to lead Olivetti to profitcialist parties and the country's risible stock exchange. Mr. de Benedetti said: "This is the holdings in each other's companies, often coordinated by the country's leading mer-chant bank, Mediobanca, and its octogenarian mastermind, Enrico Cuccia. It is this system that Mr. de Benedetti wants to break. "In the last 15 years," he said, "I have systematically wanted to change things, to modernize, to end the ossification, to go beyond the capitalism of the family, to make this a more genuinely capitalist country. I was saying, let's have hostile takeovers. I was saying, let's produce plenty of Agnellis, and if possible better ones." His newspaper, La Repubblica, has fired repeated broadsides at the governing parties. He has criticized the business establishment. For many years Mr. de Benedetti was well known as the entrepreneur closest to the Communist Party. Mr. de Benedetti also made politicians uncomfortable simply by growing very fast. In Italy, be and Luciano Benetton of the clothing group stand virtually alone in having developed from scratch big businesses quoted on the stock exchange.

Buoyed by the 1980s stock market boom, Mr. de Benedetti's holding companies were vehicles for an extraordinary expansion aimed at establishing what he described as a pan-European business empire. Just about anything seemed to be a target: Yves Saint Laurent and the Valeo auto-com-

See VENDETTA, Page 13

2 Washington Lawyers Face Indictment Over Links to BCCI

By Sharon Walsh Washington Post Service
WASHINGTON — District Attorney Robert M. Morgenthan of

Manhattan is preparing to an-nounce the indictment this week of the Washington lawyers Clark M. Clifford and Robert A. Altman for whether Mr. Clifford and Mr. Altman lied when they told regulators that the Bank of Credit & Commerce International would have no ownership interest or involvement

Eurocurrency Deposits

Lombard rate Call menty 1-month interbank 3-month interbank 6-month interbank 18-year Stan-1 in the operations of First American. Washington's biggest bank holding company.

illegally controlled First American. and has given advice to virtually every Democratic president since Clifford said before a House Bank. Mr. Truman His law from Clifford.

The Justice Department is continuing its investigation of the take-over and could seek new indictments as early as this week, sources said. A number of BCCP's foreign and federal grand juries investigating the worldwide banking scandal.

Specific charges could not be determined, but the sources said investigators had been formed. on Monday to comment ou reports of impending indictments. Both Mr. Clifford, former chairman of First American and Mr. Altman, former president of the company, have denied knowing that BCCl ing Committee bearing last year. Spokesmen for both the Justice Department and Mr. Morgenthan declined to comment Monday.

BCCI, which was closed down by regulators around the world a year ago, pleaded guilty in Decem-ber to criminal and civil charges brought by U.S. authorities and forfeited $550 million in U.S. assets. It conceded as part of that plea agreement that it illegally owned First American and three other U.S. banks without the permission of federal banking regula-Mr. Clifford, 85, has had a distinguished career as a lawyer in Washington for more than 40 years. He was special counsel to President Harry S. Truman and secretary of defense under Lyndon B. Johnson

& Warnke, closed this year after most of the attorneys left for other firms following the state and federal investigations of BCCL

Sources said that during the investigation, defense lawyers have repeatedly emphasized that Mr. Clifford has heart disease and his fragile health might not withstand

Mr. Clifford's protegé, Mr. Alt-man, 45, and his wife, the television the server 17% p.a.

TOP FUNDS!

North Star

actress Lynda Carter, are one of Washington's most socially prominent couples. Mr. Altman now heads his own law office, and Mr. Clifford acts as counsel to the firm.

The investigations have been hampered by the fact that many of the witnesses and documents involving BCCI and First American are in Abu Dhabi.

closed last year and is still a major shareholder in First American.

The ruling family of Abu Dhabi cant. They are really positioning

CURRENCY & INTEREST RATES

July 28

New York

U.S. dollars per ounce. Landon official fixings; Zurich and New York opening and clas-ing prices; New York spot market.

+0.99

DIVIDEND ANNOUNCEMENT The shareholders are hereby informed that the Annual General Meeting of July 28th, 1992, has approved the payment of a dividend of JPY 150 per

The shares are quoted ex-dividend as from July 29th, 1992, and the dividend will be payable as from July 29th, 1992, against presentation of coupon n 21 at the following banks:

- BANOUE DE NEUFLIZE SCHLUMBERGER, MALLET 3, Avenue Hoche, Paris 8° ALGEMENE BANK NEDERLAND N.V. 32, Vijzelstraat - AMSTERDAM

- SOCIETE BANCAIRE JULIUS BAER (SUISSE) S.A.

— BANK MEES & HOPE N.V. 548, Herengrachis - AMSTERDAM C BANQUE GENERALE DU LUXEMBOURG 14, rue Aldringen - LUXEMBOURG

2, Boulevard du Théâtre - GENEVE

Jakarta, Indonesia Asia's tastest growing toy exporter. Can you with a domestic market of some 90 million children, will host Asean's afford to first international Toy Fair. To join in, or for more information, contact: miss this

International Toy Fair, P.T. C2, Jl. H.O.S. Cokrosminoto 113, Jakurta Pusat 10310 INDONESIA Tel: [6221) 384 3425

HYATT Headquarters

opportunity Fax: (6221) 310 3112

NEW YORK — U.S. stocks ralhed Tuesday despite news that consumer confidence in an economic recovery sank to a five-month low 5The Dow Jones industrial aver-alle soured 51.87 to 3.334.07, re-

N.Y. Stocks

couping all of last week's loss. A haif hour before the close, the gain passed the 50-point mark, trigger-ing the New York Stock Exchange's "downtick" rule aimed at kaeping prices stable.

Advancing common stocks outnumbered decliners by a margin of about 11 to 3 on the Big Board. Trading was active, with about 218 million shares changing hands, up from 164.7 million on Monday.

"The consumer confidence report gained 1½ to 41% following the fanned hopes of yet another cut in news.

interest rates, igniting an explosive rally in Treasury bonds that pushed the yield on the benchmark 30-year bond down 10 basis points to 7.42 percent, the lowest level since early

Better-than-expected earnings from Chrysler Corp. and Telefonos de Mexico cushioned the blow to sentiment dealt by the confidence

"You're just getting a one-day reversal in bearishness," said Rob-second-quarter earnings of $178 million, compared with last year's loss of $212 million.

GLOOM: Mood in U.S. Darkens than in June, although plans for buying a car rose after falling in June. Consumers assessing that busioess cooditions were good dropped from 11.3 percent to 10.6 percent, and those finding jobs plentiful dropped from 6.3 percent to 5.6 percent, while reciprocal indicators of oegative business and

Oo Thursday, the Commerce Department is to give its first report oo economic growth in the second quarter. Many economists predicted it would show gross domestic product grew at only a bit more than half of the first-quarter's rate of 2.7 percent.

Foreign Exchange

"The June employment figures showed shocking weakness," said David H. Resier of Nomura Securities. He attributed that weakness to francs from 1.3100 and to 4.9760 the stall in consumer spending dur-ties the spring when, adjusted for pound rose to $1,9310 from $1.9190.

report, analysts said.

ert Stovall, president of Stovall/Twenty-First Advisers "Stocks got somewhat oversold." Chrysler, the most-active stock jumped 1% to 21% after releasing

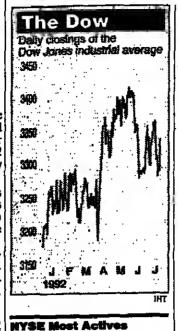

Ford rose 1% to 45% and GM

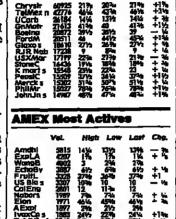

(Continued from first finance page) inflation and excluding automobiles, retail sales actually fell. "People want to be upbeat, but the political polls tell us that life is miserable out there, and that does not make for anything but a floundering and anemic economy," he Does this mean a triple dip back into recession? At such low growth employment coofidence rose rates, the precise figures hardly sharply. The Conference Board make much difference. David Wyss sharply. The Conference Board make much difference. David Wyss added consumers' expectations of DRI/McGraw Hill said the about the cext month "are also a economy is not repeating the rollercoaster recession and recovery of good deal less optimistic than a 1980-82 but instead of simply "failing to pick up momentum.

"Dipping has been replaced by a 'spurt-and-stall' pattern, where the economy accelerates for a couple of months, then stalls out," he said, We expect this pattern to continue, with growth stuck in the 2.5 percent range for the oext few The dollar was virtually unchanged at 127.40 yen, versus 127,45 Monday. Japan's rate cut on Monday has weakened the yen, The dollar fell to 1,3037 Swis

NASDAQ Diary

Accur Accur

Sao Paulo
Banco de Brasil N.O.
Brotesco 75
Brotena 43
Portenacionema 520
Petrobras 78,50
Vale Rio Doce 732
Bevessa ladez 2 2002
Previous 2 27,85

EUROPEAN FUTURES LONG GILY (LIFFE) ESE,000 - pts & Sinds of 100 pct 96-21 96-07 96-27 96-25 N.T. N.T. ne: 19,149. Open i GERMAN GOVEENMENT BUND (LIFFE) DAI 230,000 - pts of 700 pcf Est. soles 183, prev. s Open Interest 11,434. Spot Commodities

79day 0.602 0.615 1.2705 213.80 0.37 335 473.00 81.80 4.466 0.635 Financia To Our Readers SMOHTH STERLING (LIFFE) Dividend information was not available for this edition due to transmission problems at the hatsoever for any ings of any kind

It's easy to subscribe in Budapest just call: 175 77 35

ORANGE JUICE INYCE)
75,000 Bys.-conts per fly.
175,00 115,25 Sep 11;
145,50 111,00 Nov 11;
163,00 4,60 Jon 11;

U.S./AT THE CLOSE

SEC Suggests Hybrid Mutual Fund
WASHINGTON (Reuters) — The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission proposed Tuesday to create a new breed of mutual funds in a bid to give the $1.5 trillion fund industry more flexibility to sell products that

The proposal was put out for public comment following a 4-0 vote by the agency's commissioners. It offers a middle ground between the two kinds of mutual funds now available: open-end and closed-end funds. The new interval fund would limit the frequency investors could redeem shares to regular intervals, such as every month or quarter.

Industry officials said the plan would allow funds to invest in narrowly. traded securities, such as overseas and small company stocks, as well as certain bonds. The mutual fund companies would be in an improved position to plow their cash into such securities because they would not have to meet daily redemptions, as is the case in an open-end fund.

Tax Claim Helps USX Profit Surge

PITTSBURGH (AP) — USX Corp. said Tuesday that its profit soured 828 percent in the second quarter, mostly because of a favorable accounting adjustment in the value of inventory and the settlement of a tax refund claim amounting to $296 million.

The company's profit rose to $232 million in the second quarter from $255 million a year earlier. Sales feil nearly 4 percent, to $4.48 billion.

The company received a refund of $119 million in taxes and $177 m million in interest in a claim sought by its Marathon Oil unit for 1982 through 1985. The adjustment in inventory value totaled $98 million.

Canada Supports Airline Merger OTTAWA (AFP) — A senior government minister Tuesday said a proposed merger between Canada's two major international airlines may be the only option for them to survive in the international marketplace.

Deputy Prime Minister Don Mazankowski, who is also finance minister. Deputy Prime Minister Don Mazankowski, who is also finance minister, said: "We had an industry that was competing head to head, but obviously both airlines are losing money and there has to be a remedy found to this rituation." He was referring to Monday's announcement by PWA Corp., parent of Canadian Airlines International, and Air Canada that they had resumed broken off merger talks.

At the same time, PWA announced it was ending negotiations with AMR Corp., parent of American Airlines, for the possible purchase by AMR of up to a 25 percent stake in Canadian Airlines.

IBM Introduces a New RISC Series

WHITE PLAINS, New York (Reuters) — International Business: Machines Corp. said it introduced a new series of RISC, or reduced instruction set computing, System/88 computers, used in "mission critical" operations, such as telephone communications, credit card authorizations, and emergency 911 telephone systems.

The System/88 doubles the system's power, operating with matched pairs of processors and other hardware components. The systems will begin selling on Aug. 28, with pricing starting at $52,960.

Sunbeam Owners Seek $300 Million PITTSBURGH (AP) - Sunbeam-Oster Inc. hopes to raise more than, $300 million by selling about a quarter of the company in a public stock offering. The proposed sale of 20 million shares will still leave about 77 percent of Sunbeam in the hands of a limited partnership that includes the company's top management, now based in Rhode Island. Common shares in the offering would be priced at $15 to $18 apiece.

Tenneco Reports Profit Turnaround

HOUSTON (Renters) — Termeco Inc. reported second-quarter and first-half profits against year-earlier losses and said the outlook for the rest of the year was favorable. The company said profit totaled $178 million, compared with a loss of $14 million a year earlier as all divisions reporting improved operating income. In the first half, Tenneco earned $211 million, compared with a

CANADIAN DOLLAR ((MM)

Sep J Dec J Mor Jun Sep Dec Pray Sale Inc. 25,799 t

+10 +10 +10 +10 +10 +10 +10

+.60 +.60 +.60 +.60

1657 1190

CFA Franc Sold as Devaluation Talk Hits Africa

DAKAR, Senegal - Businesses have rushed to convert local frames into French francs in recent days after indications that some countries using the CFA franc, the umbilical monetary cord linking France to its former African colonies, are seeking a devaluation.

· The devaluation talk has been fueled by leaks to journalists that President Félix Houphouët-Boigny of the Ivory Coast had converted to U.S. orthodoxy on the CFA franc, which con-

WORLD STOCK MARKETS

London
Abbey Nat'1
Aliliad Lyens
Ario Wigoins
Alife
Base
Bario Sala
Bario Cartie
Bario Cartie
Boots
Boot

Finance said Tuesday that there was no change in the French position on the CFA franc, which is that a devaluation is out of the question.

Senegal's leading weekly, Sud-Hebdo, last week reported that the Ivory Coast was bent on devaluing to boost its flagging revenue from cocoa and coffee exports.

The new president of Mali, Alpha Omar Konare, fanned the speculation last Saturday after talks with Mr. Houpbouët-Boigny in Abi-djan. Asked if he favored a devaluation, he replied: "If that is a condition for our econo-mies improving, why not?"

Montreal

Montre

None of the 14 governments that use the CFA franc have denied the devaluation talk. Leaders of most of those governments are in

Dakar this week for meetings. Banking sources in the Ivory Coast and Sene-gal, key members of the West African CFA bloc called UMOA, told of a rush by businesses to convert local francs into French francs at 50 to 1, a rate that has been unchanged since 1948. This was an atypical movement - we are talking about several billion CFA," a banker in Abidjan said. One billion CFA is currently worth about $4 million.

Sydney

157
11.66
11.67
11.68
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69
11.69

U.S. FUTURES

Via Associated Press Grains

172.60 173.50 187.20 188.60 187.50 187.50 187.50

CARE
CAMPOOU
CIBC
CAMPOOU
CIBC
COMPOCION
COMPO

+.17 +.09 +.10 +.10 +.10 +.10 +.10 +.10

CATTLE (CME)
4000 fbs. certis per fb.
74.25 46.59 Aug 72.30 72.
74.25 46.59 Oct 77.35 77.
74.25 46.50 Oct 77.35 77.
77.26 46.20 Oct 77.35 77.
77.26 46.20 Oct 77.35 77.
77.26 46.20 Aug 48.30 42.
68.75 67.30 Aug 48.30 67.
68.75 67.30 Aug 48.30 67.
68.77 67.30 Aug 67.70 67.
68.70 77.45 Aug 67.70 67.
68.70 77.30 Nov 60.70 67.
68.70 77.30 Nov 60.70 67.
68.70 77.30 Nov 60.70 67.
68.70 77.30 Aug 67.70 77.
78.50 Aug 77.30 70.
78.50 Aug 77.30 Aug 47.
68.50 Aug 77.30 Aug 47.
68.50 Aug 77.
68.5 72.70 72.92 77.72 77.77 77.87 49.40 46.15 72.70 P. 72. 81,77 81,80 81,72 81,72 81,73 71,85 77,26 81.25 80.57 80.57 80.90 70.55 71.00 77.90

4477 4413 4413 4413 4413 4413 4413 4413 42.15 37.46 37.46 37.46 37.46 44.95 44.95 44.95 41.00

COPPEE C INYCSCEI
37.500 Bis.-centis per ib.
100.00 54.00 Sep 54.55 57.15
100.00 54.00 Sep 59.10 59.75
107.25 58.90 Dec 59.10 59.75
14.75 61.79 Apr 61.80 62.90
14.75 61.79 Apr 62.00 64.59
15.95 64.00 Jul 62.00 64.59
15.95 64.00 Jul 62.00 74.00
17.15 58.90 Dec 74.00 74.00
17.15 59.90 Dec 74.00 74.00
17.25 Oct 14.50 Prev. Solies 15.88
17.20 Dec 74.00 74.00
17.200 Dec 11.00 10.71
17.200 Dec 74.70 Oct 16.00 10.11
17.200 Dec 74.70 54.60 97.35 62.20 64.15 74.05 74.05 54.00 51.55 61.55 64.70 70.40 74.00 10.04 9.49 9.49 9.55 9.41 9.49 9.49 9.23 9.42 9.42

H1 GRAOE COPPER (COMEX)
23,000 fbs. cents per fb.
116,70 92,80 Jul 114,10 115,00
116,70 92,80 Jul 114,10 115,00
116,70 92,80 Jul 114,10 115,00
116,70 92,80 Jul 114,20 115,20
114,10 92,80 Sec 111,20 114,25
113,70 92,80 Abor 172,20 113,20
110,50 100,55 Abor 172,20 113,20
110,50 100,55 Abor 172,20 111,40
110,50 93,80 Sec 100,80 100,80
107,90 93,80 Sec 100,80 100,80
107,90 93,80 Sec 100,80 100,80
107,10 97,13 Macr Macr Jul 114,00
116,00 93,80 Sec 100,80 100,80
107,10 97,13 Macr Macr Jul 114,00
116,00 93,80 Sec 100,80 100,80
107,10 97,13 Macr Macr Jul 382,3 Jul があるからからなられるからないと

44444444444

COTTON 2 (NYCE)
98,000 lbd. contsper lb.
70,64 57,64 Oct
87,96 59,96 Miler
12.36 51,10 Oct
12.36 52,11 Oct
12.36 52, 71.46 5.44 OCT GLS 62.44 64.34 62.40 41.05 62.12 62.55 63.50 63.01 5.654 +1000

Commodity Indexes
Close
1,014,20
1,547,20
118,36
204,45

ON YIM PE HOS HIM

9.50c 3040 3 19 1.40 1435 44

龚.

是一种,我们就是这个一种的,我们就是这一种的,我们就是这个一种,我们就是这个一种,我们就是这个一种,我们就是这个一种,我们就是

科·通行改法通过包括阿拉利斯基本的图象

纮

22

Although the state of the state

建筑线线线

4、以外のは、中ののは、大きなないないないのである。 はないのでは、これのでは、これのでは、これのでは、これのでは、これのでは、これのでは、これのでは、これのでは、これのでは、これのでは、これのでは、

13 1

2 H

4000

BETT HOUSE IN THE PARTY OF THE 25

泛水水水水水水

SELECTION REPORT

2,10c 1,34 1,34

124

13 m

ESCORTS & GUIDES

THE PERSON OF TH

nt be of ier Ir

i Mutual Fund Securities and Exchange Constitution of the formation of the series of the formation of the emeant following 2.4.0 vortes and consorted funds. The management of the control alog fames to myest in the small company stocks in minds and social se in an infinite mould be in an infinite mind and an infinite company stocks as all a small and an infinite company stocks as all and an infinite company stocks as all and an infinite company stocks are all an infinite company sto & Profit Surge and Tuesday that its prefit say is because of a lavorable across bak ung aps statisment of spiles

alliers in the second quale he are 4 percent to $1.45 billion $51.16 million in terms and in by its Marain a Oil min for the large value totaled $53 million

rline Merger

muren minist Tundy 20. the competing bad to be a ing to Mary Low a management in International and Au Con ger (3/k) use for the borough bruges

median Arrian

ew RISC Series man - International new series PLISC or refer APPRELLY DELL DELLOCK The state of the s Se / Same STATE OF THE STATE OF THE STATE OF

SEASTER TO THE SERVE ek $300 Million

wier in ... him with the ment the state of the same to the same hamin' partie de buside rasi in Et de haid fran ad S. f. L. S. S. Lytiate ofit Turnaroud the the security and er and the ordered

27 TO 12 TO

NASDAQ prices as of 4 p.m. New York time.
This list compiled by the AP, consists of the 1,000 most traded accurates in terms of dollar value. It is updated twice a year.

DIV YE PE TOO HIGH LOW 4 PM CYD

1.04 李林林

EPPRENENS IN AND THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY 本 はななななななななななななななない。

本本 社会主義 本本 大大大大 大大大 24

S ARTHU

23

...

셯

ela Rannung Barara \ddot{z} AUNA AUNA ANA 汉所覆鲁 in in its in the same of the s 0.7.3553

ISAN PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY Property Control of the Control of t Comment of the Commen Carried States Contracts of the Contract of th

. -

And the state of t

,这种是一种,我们的一种,我们的一种,我们的一个,我们们的一个,我们们的一个,我们们的一个,我们们的一个,我们们们的一个,我们们们的一个,我们们们的一个,我们们们的一个,我们们们的一个,我们们们的一个,我们们们的一个,我们们们的一个,我们们们的一个,我们们们的一个,我们们们的一个,我们们们的一个,我们们们的一个,我们们们的一个,我们们们的一个,我们们们的一个,我们们们的一个 | Table | Ta THE 2 COURT OF THE PROPERTY OF 1,52 26

INTERNATIONAL HERALD TRIBUNE, WEDNESDAY, JULY 29, 1992 Tables include the nationwide prices up to the closing on Wall Street and do not reflect the trades elsewhere. Via The Associated Press

225 135 135

是一个,但是这种,我们就是不是一个,我们就是有一个,我们就是有一个,我们就是一个,我们就是一个,我们就是一个,我们的,我们就是一个,我 1,18 H .95 .20 幸幸 .10 5.7

THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY O 報 ははない 本本本本 二本本本

SANTAL STATES AND STAT TO THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERT

MERCEDES MAJOR CREDIT CARDS ACCEPTED TEL LONDON [971] 351 6666 AMMASSADOR ESCORT SERVICE Tel: London 0/1 625 4060 INTI ESCORT SERVICE Available Worldwide 212-76-7876 New York, USA lajor Gredit Conta & Orects Accepted CHELSEA ESCORT SERVICE.
51 Beaucharap Place, London SW3.
Tel: 1071-584 6513 Established 18 years.

(Continued From Page 15) ESCORTS & GUIDES ESCORTS & GUIDES Escart Service. Credit cords occupited. Tel: (077 / 63 83 32 NORDIC FAIR New York Escont Service Tel: 212-229-2165 * * Z U R 1 C H * * Isobelle Escort Service 01/252 61 74 LONDON BRAZULAN Escori Service 181 724 5587/91 Open 7 days Please phone (77 22) 3314 CONDAC • HIGH SOCIETY • ESCORT AGENCY CONDON (27) 584 6146 • STAMAN • ESCORT SERVICE TEL LONDON (27) 383 7685 London facont Service (37) 730 DAIS German' Swedish Indian specing VOGUE DNDON (Scort Agency (IV) 373 709)

TATION OF THE PROPERTY OF THE

THE REAL COLUMN TO THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERT

THE THE TAX THE SECTION AND THE SECTION OF THE SECT

本述是"以为为的"。 是在《《《《》的》。 是在《《》的》。 是在《》(《》)。 是在《》(《》)。 是在《》(《》)。 是在《》(《》)。 是在《》(《》)。 是在《》(《》)。 是在《》(《》)。 是在《》(《》)。 是在《》)。 是在《》(《》)。 是在《》)。 是在《》》。 是在《》》。 是在《》》。 是在《》》。 是在《》》。 是在《》)。 是在《》》。 是 《》》。 是 》 。 是 《》》。 是 》 。 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。 是 》 。
 》 。
 》 。 93132 .054 42 ないないないの 12 14 * THE PARTY The state of the s ALL MARKET STATE OF THE STATE O THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY O TOWNSTANCE OF THE PERSON OF TH のかりです。 あるがいないのかのできる かいかい ないのかい THE PARTY OF THE P

INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED GENEVA & PARIS CONN
PESTIGE Int' I SCORT S
Geneva Tel- (122 321 97

*YERNA - BUDAPEST
Enrocentral Secret Secrets Secret Secrets Secret Secrets Secret Secrets Secret Secrets Secret Secrets Secret ESCORTS & GUIDES Princess Except Service, 7 days.
Tel 109 / 666 25 64.

MUNICH * WELCO ME EXCEPT & GRUDE AGENCY.
PLEASE CALL 087 - 91 23 14.

AMSTERDAM LIBERTY RNTL Except & Gode Service. Credit curts occepted.
Tel 1204-180404

FRANKFURT & AREA
Morals New Infl Except Agency.
Please Call 089 - 997 66 66. Days.
ESCORT SERVICE
till over Germany
Tel 12161-183600 or 183899

VIBRIA - ZURBICH - AMSTERDAM
Kennedy's Infl Except Service. All cards, vienna + 431-5321132

dividend declared after spill-up or stack divider dividend pold fills year, amilited, deferred, or itself of latest dividend sectared or pold fills year, an occur sew entit dividends in arrange and sectared in arrange and sectared in arrange and sectared in arrange and sectared in a sectar sectar sectar sectar sectared or pold in preceding 12 maximity expects. The high-low range stock dividend.

8 — stock spill, Dividend begins with date of spill, is speed.

1 — dividend opid in stock to preceding 12 maximits as speed.

2 — dividend opid in stock to preceding 13 manifes, in a speed.

2 — read yearly high.

2 — new yearly high.

3 — broker pold or arrange and preceding the preceding the property of the preceding the preceding the property of the preceding the pre

ESCORTS & GU

For investment information read THE MONEY REPORT every Saturday in the IH

2 努 超强清 1.60 22 强权

.56 20 44 544 CA 资温 海湖

到代表的是是是是一种的特殊的。 1000年,1000年的第一年的特殊的,1000年的1000年,1000年的1000年的1000年的1000年的1000年的1000年的1000年的1000年的1000年的1000年的1000年的1000年的1000年 THE STANDARD OF THE PROPERTY O The in stratute that is a second to the interest transmit that the second is the interest to the interest that is a second to the second to th

TO THE PERSON OF THE PERSON OF

23. G. 编工3. 本政小公司上於西京教育基地區的出版 神代は 教を 報を表を ながられる よっぱい

THE REAL PROPERTY OF THE PROPE B. Chicalestic field in the same of the same best and the same of

Section Chair Court of the Cour 新疆,在北京新疆的一种东西

.12

136 IU 7

15 THE PERSON IN

274 11

*

出出

E MANGE | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | 1805 | Hand while with the Tables of the Tables of 作为中国和广泛的"特别"(2012年)等,1914年(2014年)2014年(2014年)等)。 了2014年1018年(2014年)第一年(2014年)第一年(2014年)第一年(2014年) TOTAL CAN THE STATE OF THE STAT Combined on next least the state of the stat NEW ALIGN PW

Amitten Time
Articoline of Articoline
Articoli Ambocine
Ambocine
Assiril in Authoritie
Bankir un
Cipseo
Chase of J
Conedisa Cypresha at Embray Fallora in Piliped of Gyyner o
Herculosine
Housine
Hou Amoris of American Amoris of American Amoris of American American

THE STATE OF

1.12

1.29

2.65 鹭

White the property with a similar of the property of the prope

Se Hallende he was not the THE PROPERTY OF Service of the Carrier of Carrier of Algebra

مك إمن الأجل

Underwriting Loss for Allianz

U.S. and East German Ventures Trim Insurer's Profit

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches MUNICH - Allianz AG Holding, Europe's largest insurer, re-1991 and a drop in pretax profit that stemmed largely from its operations in Eastern Germany and from the first-time consolidation of its U.S. subsidiary, Fireman's

Fund. Allianz shares plunged more than 3 percent on the Frankfurt Stock Exchange on a day in which Daimler-Benz AG, Germany's largest industrial company, also tumbled 1.6 percent as a result of disappointing Mercedes auto sales

Allianz shares dropped 62 Dentsche marks to close at 1,955 DM ($1,320), erasing all gains since car-ly October, while Daimler-Benz shares fell 11.50 DM to 689.50 DM. Together the two shares account for roughly a quarter of the weighting of the Frankfurt DAX index and put pressure on the market as a *whole Allianz said its underwriting loss for 1991 totaled 1.78 billion DM. In 1990 it had posted an underwriting profit of 182 million DM.

could fall again.

Ecu Bond Prices Stabilize

But Outlook Is Still Weak

LONDON - Prices of bonds denominated in European Currency

"It's still a pretty tricky situation after the shocks of last week," said

Ecu bond traders stopped quoting two-way bid and offer prices on bonds Friday as institutional investors dumped bonds on banks. The market has fallen sharply since early June, when the Danish vote rejecting the Maastricht treaty cast doubt on Europe's plan to create Mr. Heyvaert said the bounce in prices was more of a reaction to "The main problem for the Ecu is there's no central bank to support declines of almost 21/2 points in recent weeks than a reflection of it," said Tim Bond, analyst at Tokai International. "All that the bigger players are trying to do is get the smaller market-makers to buy their inventories. It will be stable for a week and then it will collapse."

currently, compared with a low of 8,35 percent in January, when euphoria about a single European currency was at its peak.

Benchmark 10-year Ecu bonds are yielding about 9.40 percent

Analysts said the market will continue to have a cloud over it until

Sept. 20, when France will hold a referendum on the Maastrich treaty. "If the French vote is a No," the Ecu bond market will mably be left to wither on the vine," said Neil Rogers, analyst

a single currency, Traders resumed two-way quotes on Monday.

Units stabilized for a second straight day on Tuesday, but traders cautioned that there were virtually no retail buyers and that prices

The 1991 loss included 625 million DM of start-up losses at its million DM. In 1990, it bought East German operation and 625 Fireman's Fund for $3.3 billion ported a steep underwriting loss for million DM for Fireman's Fund.

> The underwriting loss follows two years of rapid acquisitions. Earlier this year Allianz bought the 49 percent it did not already own of the East German insurer Deutsche

Hypobank's Earnings Show 12.7% Increase

Agence France-Presse MUNICH - Bayerische Hypotheken- und Wechsel-Bank, known as Hypobank, said Tuesday that its first-half group operating profit totaled 769.2 million Deut-sche marks ($517 million), up 12.7 percent from half of 1991's earnings.

Partial operating income, which excludes own-account trading earnings, rose 23 percent, to 592.2 million DM. Assets totaled 204.1 billion DM at the end of June, up 5.7 percent from the end of 1991.

and the initial 51 percent stake in Group pretax profit dropped to 1.78 billion DM from 1.94 billion acquired Navigation Mixte's Via Rhin & Mosell unit.

> Allianz first told investors last October to expect an underwriting loss for the first time ever in 1991. It has also moved to plug up prob-lem areas, analysts said. Since completing the purchase of Fireman's Fund, for example, Allianz replaced a large part of the U.S. insurer's common stock holdings with cash and high-grade bonds.

> But the big insurer now faces other problems, analysts said. Even as Allianz loses money outside Western Germany, German underwriting profit also is declining. In 1991, it dropped to 145 million DM from 421 million DM in 1990, due to industrial fire claims and auto thefts caused by weakening economic conditions in Germany.

Allianz said it expected profits to remain under pressure in 1992. (Bloomberg, Reuters)

LONDON - Bardays Bank

PLC became suspicious about

Robert Maxwell months before his death last year, prompting the bank to try and cut its exposure to his nies, England's High Court

The revelations came as the said Tuesday.

Bull Misses Forecast With First-Half Loss

PARIS - Groupe Bull SA, France's state-controlled computer maker, on Tucsday posted a larger first-half loss than it had forecast only a month earlier, and said its goal of reaching break-even by the end of the year was in doubt.

Bull said a major restructuring program had helped narrow its loss compared with a year earlier, but it reported a 9.6 percent drop in revenue, which it blamed on a tough computer market.

The company posted a loss of 1.69 billion francs ($337 million) for the half ended June 30, down from 1.94 billion francs a year earlier. The loss was larger than the forecast made last month by Francis Lorentz, then chairman of Bull, who predicted a loss of 1.5 billion francs, half due to interest costs. Mr. Lorentz was replaced last month by Bernard Pache.

Bull's loss from operations was 857 million francs, down from 1,29 billion. Revenue fell to 13.8 billion francs from 15.2 billion. Bull cited "competitive pressure on prices and the persistence of difficult economic conditions on the group's main market segments."

The company still sims to reach break-even on an operating basis by the end of 1992, but depressed computer markets make it hard to predict results, a spokesman said.

"Bull will be in better shape next year, and I think they've got a market for their open systems," said Karen Benson, an analyst at Dataquest. But she said she was less optimistic about Bull's personal computer business in the face of weak market growth and the continued erosion of profit margins.

Since late 1990, Bull has cut its work force by some 20 percent. closed factories, launched a new software system and forged an alliance with International Business Machines Corp., which has taken a 5.68 percent stake in Bull. (Reuters, AFP, Bloomberg)

$30 million paid to the bank three U.S. creditors. Almost all Maxwell weeks after Mr. Maxwell's death. Communication's assets are in the $50 million, tried to stop the case clays's suspicions were aroused from being brought in the United when Maxwell Communication de-

States because it feared it had less faulted on a foreign exchange deal chance of winning there than in an on July 15, 1991. Barclays was owed

But the judge agreed with Max- succeeded in getting it back three Barclays, still owed more than United States. The judge said Bar-

Barclays Had Doubts About Maxwell

Allied Told To Modify Beer Pact

LONDON - British and EC regulators on Tuesday set conditions on a planned brewing joint venture between Allied-Lyons PLC and Denmark's Carlsberg A/S, saying the deal as proposed would reduce competition and block the entry of new lager brands.

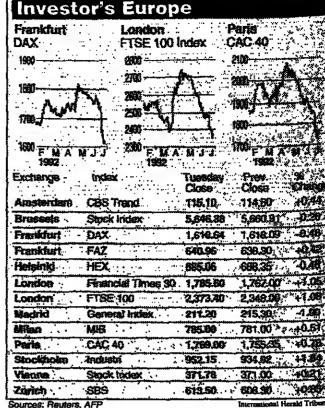

Allied-Lyons and Carlsberg expressed confidence that they could meet the conditions and that their venture, to be called Carlsberg-Tetley Ltd., would go ahead. Affied-Lyons shares, which fell to 592 pence ($11.32) on the news, recovered somewhat to close at 601, down 4 pence on the day. The companies plan to merge the six Allied-Lyons breweries in Britain, Carlsberg's single British plant and their wholesale interests.

The Carlsberg-Tetley venture would have sales of more than £1 hillion and control 18 to 19 percent of Britain's beer market, behind Bass PLC, with 23 percent, and Courage Ltd., owned by Australian Foster's Brewing Group Ltd., with 20 percent In statements in London and Brussels, Britain's Monopolies and Mergers Commission and the EC Commission said the venture must promise to maintain terms of supply to Carlsberg's existing customers, such as regional brewers and independent wholesalers, for three vears. Also, the beer-supply agreement between Carlsberg-Tetley and Allied-Lyons should be reduced to five years from seven Finally, regulators said Allied-Lyons must change its agreement with public houses it controls so that they were free after two years to purchase half their lager from other suppliers. (Renters, Bloomberg)

Very briefly:

وكذامن الأجل

• IG Metall, which claims to be the largest labor union in the Western, world, said it would fight Beyerische Motoren Werke AG's plan to build a nonunion auto factory in South Carolina.

. Swissair will set up independent companies for catering, duty-free and restaurant operations.

• Rank Len AG said its second-quarter budgeted operating income was below that of the first quarter and that its half-year result did not meet expectations, but gave no figures.

• Hochtief AG and Société Auxiliaire d'Entreprises, part of Fougerolle SA, are the final candidates to build and operate a new Athens airport. • Fried. Krupp AG Hoesch-Krupp plans to cut 4,000 more jobs than announced before their merger, a Hoesch board member said. • M.L. Laboratories PLC plans to raise a net £15.8 million ($30 million) through a 1-for-10 rights offering at 650 pence a share.

AP, Reuters, AFX, Bloomberg

Marc Heyvaert, Ecu bond trader at Kredietbank in Brussels. "Conficourt ruled that Barclays must face well Communication's U.S. admin-weeks after Mr. Maxwell's death in dence has really gone and it will take some time to come back." Ten-year Ecu bonds for September delivery on the MATIF, the istrators that an English court November following letters to his should not prevent the U.S. court son Kevin, the chief executive of administrators of the media tycoon's flagship Maxwell Commu-French international futures and options exchange, closed at 102.64, up 0.12 point from Monday and up from Priday's low of 101.78. nication Corp. in U.S. courts over from considering the position of Maxwell Communication.

Ruble Slides as Support Is Curbed Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches

MOSCOW - The ruble numbled further against the dollar on Moscow's foreign exchange market on Tnesday, and traders said there was no floor in sight for the battered currency.

English court

On the Moscow Interbank Currency Exchange, the Russian currency was quoted at 161.1 rubles per dollar, sharply weaker than Thursday, the last trading session, when it was quoted at 155.7. Earlier this month, it

The decline has been prompted by the decision of the Russian central bank's new governor, Viktor Gerashchenko, to halt massive support for the currency on the foreign exchange market, Mr. Gerashchenko, who took office earlier this month, has said that funds spent on intervention should have been used to pay off foreign debt. (Remers, AFP) He has strongly criticized his predecessor, Georgi Matyukhin, for

"wasting" $500 million in supporting the ruble. One Russian trader said. "The central bank is intervening less in the market and the ruble has been falling ever since,"

The life voted in 11 to 1 to 1 to 10 to 10

Div Yid PE 1886 High Low 1PM Citys High Low Stock Div Yid PE 100s High Low 1PM Citys

VENDETTA: De Benedetti Views His Conviction as a Political Penalty

$30 million in early October and ponent company in France; the Pearson Group, owners of The Financial Times, in Britain; hotels and real estate in Spain, and the huge Belgian holding ompany, Societé Générale de Belgique SA, which be claimed to have successfully raided in 1988 before being foiled by Compagnie de Suez of

In ftaly, his bids for the Mondadori publishing group and the mess. state-owned SME food group met Lik verdict," Mr. de Benedetti con-

He clearly became stretched. Many of his holdings have been sold as his group retrenches. His French company, Cerus, has lost more than $600 million in the last brought in recently as managing director of Cerus to clean up the

ago. Olivetti shares, having traded as high as 20,000 lire ($17.79) in 1986, oow trade at 3,200 lire.

in 1978, when Mr. de Benedetti took over Olivetti, the once illustrious typewriter manufacturer was on the brink of bankruptcy. Within two years. "He allowed himself to five years, the company was transbe carried away by the times in the formed into a leading European 1980s, and I think he knows it," computer maker, with profits computer maker, with profits said Michel Cicurel, who was reaching $365 million by 1987. Last year it plunged into the red. At best, Mr. de Benedetti said, Olivetti might break even this year, tially those of the entire European computer industry, and Olivetti is banking on its integrated systems, its flexibility and the muscle and technology of its new alliance with Digital to survive.

Born into a middle-class family in Turin, Mr. de Benedetti left Italy for Switzerland during World War II, when he was 8.

Interviews showed that while Renato Bricchetti, the magistrate who led the initial investigation, is convinced of Mr. de Benedetti's state-owned SME food group met

Like other companies in the after shedding 16,000, or 25 perinnocence, the public prosecutor, virulent opposition. It is a straight group, Cerus is now trading at a cent, of its workers over the last Piero Dell'Osso, defended the verline from SME to the Ambrosiano fraction of what it did a few years two years. Its problems are essendict. Both denied political pressure.

at UBS Phillips & Drew.

renewed willingness to buy Ecu bonds.

Tables include the nationwide prices ur the closing on Wall Street and do not re

23 Truncate

24 Him and her

25 European polecat

ACROSS

1 A kind of bone

. 3 Ride downhill

14 Grocery item

15 High dudgeon

20 On the outside

- the fat

18 Computer

17 UNITED

19 M. Coty

一個の一個人

section, for 29 Athos and Burr 33 Filipe, Jesus or 49 Foliage 34 Very important 52 Put handcuffs

(words on a tombstone) SE UNITED STATES 40 Vane letters 41 Cargo handler 42 Port in Algeria

Solution to Puzzle of July 28

es Booklet on

CLOP IDIOT TOLA ASTRONOMER ETAL ROSEMARY EFFORT SOLE TELAR OBAR DISTANCES DOWN 5 is unable to s Ready to be drawn

43 Young 45 Gridiron player 47 Newspaper

13 Cut down a shaft 22 Greeting 24 Private 57 Reagan's first 26 Actress

SE UNITED STATES eo Pisa's river 61 Military cost 53 Harold of the sa Give the slip to

1 Used a loom 2 Beny-bearing shrub a Famed muralist 4 "Sweet" place

Verdugo 27 One in a scull 28 Jamaican export 29 Cubes 30 'Jaws' menace 31 Like some currents 32 Teatime treat 34 Item in a rec 37 Author of Deronda' 38 A chemical salt 39 Transport for 44 Loser to St. George 46 Furniture style

e Cap. Hitt figure

5 Like a windpipe 10 Moola

11 Over again

instructor

room

12 Narrow fillet on 25 Ancient temple 9 New York Times, edited by Eugene Maleska 52 Give a 55 Site of Vance – Price A.F.B. 53 Roman Lika an

54 Certain to N.Y.C.

- kleine

transportation

59 Lemmon film:

Our service is hard to beat.

When it comes to service, Bank Julius Baer has a way of coming up with aces. In fact, it's hard to beat the individual attention we give our clients. Backed by a century of experience, Bank Julius Baer provides sound expertise and in-depth advice in the classic tradition of Swiss banking.

Bank Julius Baer: Our service is a winner.

BANK JULIUS BAER For the Fine Art of Swiss Banking

Zurich, Bahnhofstrasse 36, CH-8010 Zurich, Yel. (01) 228 51 11 Bevis Marks House, Bevis Marks, London EC3A 7NE, Tel. 071-623 4211 New York, 330 Madison Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017, Tel. (212) 297-360 cises - Los Angeles - Palm Beach - Mexico City

Tokyo-

Soccer

ith Lots

A LANGE WE

A STATE OF THE STA

1917

-

The second of th

200

1

Santa Late V. Comments

F- 30 8 8 8 8

10 mm

The state of the s

STEEL LEVEL BASE

A STATE OF THE STA

For the second

STATE OF THE STATE OF

A CONTRACTOR OF THE PARTY OF TH

The second is the second

CONTRACT THE PARTY OF THE PARTY

THE COURSE A STOOL AND

STATE OF THE PARTY OF

SETTING THE STREET

THE PERSON NAMED IN COMME

THE PARTY PROPERTY PROPERTY.

place he have the be former

THE PARTY WAS BOX

THE THE PART OF TH

Marie Trans the Nach B

STATE THE WALLES IN THE

minutes and the land

Transmit or Court for the

TENTER LESS TO COLUMN

Armania a mairt between der Buch be the

BEET TOTAL SEAS SEAS THE

The was contained

THE PARTY OF THE P

ziferemi s Punet se an m attended that women to

Time and the state of

THE PARTY OF THE PARTY OF THE

STRUCTURE CONTINUE SAUSE, F

With the contract of Committee of the second The state of the s

Hiduna with m

والمعالمة المناسبة المناسبة المناسبة

SECOND A FIFA most

The section is the said

THE PARTY IN SHOW

Charles and the same of

Salar car Mil In

PARTY LINE VE WARREN

The state of the Service and her on

We Excess on the !

William I are the Per Esta Tinan

be Carrie Started 9

See See seemd

electric for the species for happy to long American !

to Paper a or the party

The same

III:

The same of the sa

Control of the contro

China Agrees to Buy Cars From U.S. Makers

Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches DETROIT - China announced Tuesday that it had signed contracts with the Big Three U.S. automakers to buy about $150 million worth of vehicles and parts by year's end.

Chrysler Corp., which has two joint ventures in China, got the biggest contract, worth more than $68 million. General Motors Corp.'s contract is worth $48.9 million, while Ford Motor Co. will sell $32 million worth of cars.

"We believe that the U.S. is the world leader in auto manufacturing, and many of its products meet the demands of China's users," said Gan Ziyu, vice chairman of the China State Planning Commission. "Our cooperation in the field of auto industry is a very important sector of overall Sino-U.S. economie and trade relations and enjoys

Rate Fears Hit Stocks In Taiwan

TAIPEI - Share prices fell to an 18-month low on Tuesday, hurt by indications that Taiwan's central bank would terest rates.

The weighted index slid 49.12 points to close at 3,959.10 on light volume of 22 billion Taiwan dollars ($890 million), continuing a monthlong slide. The index has fallen more than 800 points, or 17 percent, since reaching an intraday high of 4,772 on June 23.

not follow Japan in cotting in-

Selling also was spurred by continuing uncertainty about investment and economic growth in the second half, and by low volume, said June Tsai, research manager at National Securities.

"The market's situation really isn't good, and we're seeing one selling wave after another without any meaningful rebound," she said.

Meanwhile, Taiwan's central bank has asked for a halt in company sales of stock overseas until upward pressure on the Taiwan dollar eases. The Taiwan dollar rose about 5 percent between January and early July but has slipped about 2 percent since then. (Bloomberg, Reuters)

John Pekarek, a GM spokesman, said the purchases were intended to help China maintain its most-favored-nation trading status despite its human rights policies. "We have long said that foreign trade and investment keeps China open to the outside world," he said.

Chrysler will send fully built and kit versions of its Jeep Cherokees, as well as wagons and minivans. GM will sell minivans and sportntility vehicles. Ford will sell passenger cars for use as taxis, tourist and government vehicles.

GM and Chrysler have joint ventures operating in China, both of which send kits of antomobile parts to China for assembly there. Ford, which has no joint venture with China, will send cars made in the United States. (AP, Bloomberg)

■ Jeeps for South Korea

Woosung Industrial Co., one of South Korea's major tire producers, said it would soon import Jeeps from Chrysler Corp., Reuters re-ported Tuesday from Seoul.

A company executive said this move would make Woosung the first company to sell Chrysler cars in South Korea.

To test the market, Woosing plans to put 150 Jeeps on sale in September.

Woosung hopes to sell its tires to Chrysler in the future, the executive Rivals Trade Charges in Bid for New Hong Kong Port By Laurence Zuckerman ners from the United States, Japan or Hong Kong with strong financial muscle. And, in testament to the changing business environment in Hong Kong

Fight for China's Gateway

International Revald Tribune

HONG KONG - As cargo from China's booming southern coastal region threatens to overwhelm what is already one of the world's busiest ports, a bitter competition has emerged among three international groups to build and operate Hong Kong's next containership terminal.

Since the Hong Kong government first accepted expressions of interest in May, the consortiums have escalated their attacks from muted accusations of inefficiency and anti-competitiveness to charges of carpetbagging and outright lying.

At stake is the chance to handle some of the millions of containers that arrive in Hong Kong every year, carrying raw materials and unfinished goods to factories in Southern China and returning with electronics, toys, shoes and garments bound for Europe, the United States and other ports in Asia. More than 6 million containers passed through Hong Kong last year, 20 percent more than in 1990, and analysts estimate future traffic will easily outstrip the government's estimate of 14 percent annual growth to the end of the century.

With that promise, there is fierce competition to invest the $1.3 billion the consortiums predict it will cost to construct a new four-berth terminal. The government wants the terminal to be com-plete by the middle of 1995. It is expected to pick a winner by the end of this summer. The leading partners of two consortiums - Sea-Land Orient Terminals of the United States and the partnership of Hong Kong-based Hong Kong International Terminals and Modern Terminals Ltd. - already operate berths at the existing port.

Evergreen International of Taiwan, the leader of the third group, owns one of the biggest container shipping lines in the world.

Each consortium contains international part-as 1997 approaches, each has a mainland Chinese partner, including Evergreen, which has teamed up with a unit of Guangdong Enterprises.

Earlier this month, Sea-Land, which operates one berth in the existing port, charged that Hong Kong International and Modern Terminals, which run the remaining 14 berths, are a defacto monopoly that encourages inefficiency and higher prices. Gary Gilbert, Sea-Land's vice president for Asia, refers to the two rivals as "the duopoly" and says that Hong Kong will lose its appeal to shippers if the two operators are given effective control of the part.

Hong Kong International and Modern Terminais refute Sea-Land's charges and say that a plan to rationalize their operations with the new terminal would allow them to handle an additional 600,000 to 800,000 containers a year.

John Meredith, managing director of Hong Kong International, accused Mr. Gilbert of deliberately misleading the public.

Pointing to Hong Kong International's $2.7 bilbon investment in the port over the past 23 years, Mr. Meredith appealed to the government to repay the company's loyalty. He accused Jardine Mathe-son, a member of Sea-Land's consortium and one of the colony's oldest trading companies, of opportunism in joining the competition after moving its corporate home offshore in 1984.

But Sca-Land, which says it is the largest U.S. investor in Hong Kong, may find that its foreign pedigree is an advantage. If you are the Hong Kong government, you don't want to anger your higgest trading partner," one industry observer said of Washington. "And a new billion-dollar U.S. investment could be a good insurance policy after 1997."

Standard Chartered Seeks $105 Million in India

NEW DELHI - Standard Chartered Bank said Tuesday it has be-gun action to recover at least 3 bil-lion rupees ($105 million) from various banks, including Citibank, to complete securities deals in a billion-dollar Indian financial scandal.

A spokeswoman for Standard Chartered's Bombay branch said that in some cases the bank did not receive payments for securities it sold, and in others it did not receive securities after paying for them.
The amount includes 900 million

rupees that Standard Chartered is claiming from the Bombay branch

Citibank has denied owing any money to Standard Chartered.

A committee of the Reserve Bank of India, the central bank, has called for an investigation of the securities dealings of Standard Chartered and Citibank along with two other for-eign banks, Bank of America and ANZ Grindlays Bank.

The Reserve Bank said the four banks accounted for two-thirds of the securities transactions under investigation for irregularities.

Investigators say brokers and bankers colluded in diverting funds from the government securities market and state-owned companies into the booming Bombay Stock Exchange to speculate on shares.

The Central Bureau of Investigation has arrested 26 people on charges of cheating and forgery. They include the broker Harshad Mehta, the alleged kingpin of the scandal, and several bank officials. Standard Chartered earlier this month fired five of its employees, and the head of the bank's Indian operations has been replaced. The Standard Chartered spokeswoman said the bank had been talking to various banks and brokers to sort out its securities deals with them. Standard Chartered had earlier filed a criminal case with the Central Bureau of Investigation against scandal against a central bank estisome brokers and bank officials, mate of $376 million.

saying it had been defrauded for The spokeswoman said the bank had brought in $800 million to about 8.90 billion rupees. The spokeswoman said the 3 bilaugment the liquidity of the Indian lion rupees the bank was now branch and to support its business claiming was in addition to the We may or may not use this amount in the criminal case. money, but it is there. And it has The bank has set aside £50 million ($95.6 million) to cover possi-hie losses from its exposure in the confidence in the bank," she said. indeed helped to boost customer

TOKYO - U.S. and Japanese negotiators on Tuesday began two days of talks on ways to narrow the huge bilateral trade delicit, but economists have little hope that the talks will do much to up or cancel overseas production facilities, these are made by the private sector with regard to the outlook for profitability," said Jesper Koll, econo-

As far as decisions to import or export, or set keep the imbalance from widening.

In Japan Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches

plans to stimulate the economy.

Tuesday, Japan's Economic Planning Agency said the economy was going through a "difficult" phase but that there was clear evidence that a "modest recovery" would emerge in the six months ending in March. It said recent measures, including Monday's discount rate cut, would trigger demand among domestic companies and consumers that would end the slump in the economy and the stock market. In its report on industrial output, except precision machinery, tex-

earlier, the sharpest decline in the current slowdown.

"Rather than a fundamental turnaround, this represents a blip upwards after a sharp downward turn last month," said Geoffrey Barker, senior economist at Baring

Investor's Asia Bleak View Hong Kong Of Output

TOKYO - Japan's industrial output in June rose 2.1 percent from May but was down 4.2 percent from a year earlier, and the outlook remains sluggish, the Inter-national Trade and Industry Ministry said Tuesday.

Meanwhile, the index of leading indicators fell to 20.0 in May from 27.3 in April, mainly because of low housing starts, a sign that the economic slowdown is continuing. Nonetheless, Japanese officials tried to paint a hopeful economic picture and attempted to sell skeptical financial markets on their

the ministry said "production re-mains singgish," noting that pro-ducer shipments were still weak while inventories were still rising.

The rebound in the monthly figure was the sharpest increase since July 1991 and reflected increased output in all manufacturing sectors tiles and ceramics. It followed a monthly decline of 1.9 percent in May, when output phinged 8.8 percent from a year mist at S.G. Warburg & Co. in Japan. The talks

The meetings are the latest in the Structural Impediments Initiative, begun in 1989, when the Last year, the deficit totaled $43 billion, and economists say it is likely to widen this year as

Japan's domestic shump dampens imports and its companies step up exports. U.S. officials want

Tokyo to spend more to stimulate its economy.

"have absolutely no impact," he said.

bilateral trade deficit totaled $50 billion.

(AFX, Bloomberg, Reuters)

Singapore Straits Times Nikkei 225" Hang Seng BOO F MA MUJ Prev. THESOE Exchange. Close Close 5,664.39 +2.09 5,782.63 Hong Kong Hang Seng 1,422:34 1,412.53 Strangers V Straits Times 1,606.30 -0.06 1,605.40 15,373.34 +0.35 15,427.90 Nacket 225 589.70 SB5.77 Kuala tempur Composte -0.32 734.94 Bengiot SET 732.57 Composite Stock . 61445 517.48 4.008.22 -1.23 Weighted Price 3,959.10 1,475.10 +0.17 In its annual report released Composite Street leader. NA. 1,550.51 -1.23 New Zoeland PESE-40 1,531.42

Very briefly:

 Prime Minister Paul Keating of Australia said he expected the economy grew 1.7 percent or 2.0 percent in the fiscal year ended June 30 and, predicted it would grow 4.0 percent in the current year.

Boundary Merkonst rides 1,282.06 1,286.40 +7.91

• Western Mining Corp. said the planned joint development of the Mount. Keith nickel project in Australia with Ontokumpu Metal & Resources Oy, a unit of Outokumpu Oy of Finland, would cost an estimated 450 million. Australian dollars ($338 million).

• Fletcher Challenge Ltd. said it would sell its Crown Forest Industries Ltd. lumber and plywood operations in Canada to Riverside Forest Products of Canada for 60 million Canadian dollars ($50.5 million).

 Sapporo Breweries Ltd. said its current profit fell 22.5 percent, to 4.692. billion yen ($36.8 million) in the first half, citing securities losses. Asahi Glass Co. said its unconsolidated pretax profit fell 33.1 percent, to 22.7 billion yen in the first half, on a 2.2 percent drop in sales. Japan's transport minister, Kniwa Okuda, said the government was: considering listing 2 million shares of East Japan Railway Co. sometime in the year ending March 31, 1993.

Asahi Breweries Ltd.'s current profit fell 8.5 percent in the first half, to:
 17.45 billion yea, because of higher interest payments, and cut its profit forecast for the year to 15.5 billion yea.
 AFX, Reuters, Bloomberg, AP, UPI

Nikko to Devise Cost-Cutting Plan

TOKYO - Nikko Securities Co., hit by losses from the Tokyo stock market's sharp decline, will draw up a thorough cost-cutting plan by mid-September, a spokesman said.

Nikko's board decided Monday that far-reaching cost-cutting measures were needed, he said. No details were decided. Nikko posted a loss, of 25.87 billion yen ($204 million) in the year ended March 31.

Nomera Securities Co. earlier this month established a committee to. streamline operations and cut the company's work force by 20 percents over five years. The other Big Four brokers, Darwa Securities Co. and Yamaichi Securities Co., are cutting costs as well.

INDEX: Gauge Charts Activity on the World's Major Stock Exchanges SADDAM: Beaten Warrior Who Cries 'Victory' and Keeps Clawing Back"

other markets in the months ahead. the Asia/Pacific weighting in the index would increase and the European and North American share

Of the leading individual countries, the United States accounts for approximately 33 percent of the value of the index. Others include Japan (21 percent), Britain (14 percent). Germany (over 5 percent), France (4 percent), Hong Kong (3 percent), while Canada, Italy and Australia are weighted at around 2

In addition to the world index. three regional subindexes track the performance of stocks in the Asia-America Latin America will be added at a later date, when delivery of stock price information is more

The 230 stocks are also broken down into eight separate industrial groups as follows: utilities (representing roughly 4 percent of the overall index), finance (22 percent). energy (10 percent), raw materials (7 percent), capital goods (11 percent), consumer goods (26 percent), services (17 percent) and miscella-

The daily Trib Index is publongs.

Although anyone can buy shares lished and updated in all editions rate indexes for the three regions and the eight industrial groups. The world index and the three regional indexes go back over six months. the industrial groups record daily day, the index's closing figure will be printed on Page One, with a full graphic and statistical report ap-Monday's Business and Finance In some editions, the indexes are based on closing prices in Europe closing prices. Share quotations used are simul-trial group to which each stock be-

(Continued from page 1) of the IHT from Tuesday through in the world's major markets, some depending on the market, will be Saturday, together with the sepa- stock exchanges, such as Singapore, still bar foreigners from buycan be freely bought and sold,

> have been excluded. From Tuesday through Saturoccasionally more trading in locally restricted stocks than in those freely available to everyone. So, the pearing on the first page of the Business and Finance section. performance recorded from an intime not fully reflect heavy trading section tracks the performance of in restricted-sale stock by local inthe indexes over the previous week.

/Pacific region, Europe and North and the Asia/Pacific regions and on 3 P.M. prices in North America. In later editions, they are updated to include the North American > taneously converted from local currencies to dollars when the regional and global indexes are calculated, at the latest available dollar rate. The companies included in the index are listed alphabetically by country in a table accompanying this article, together with the indus recalculated.

In exceptional cases, there will ing certain shares. In order to make be immediste changes in the com-sure that all the stocks in the index panies forming the index. When companies merge, are acquired by stocks limited to local investors takeover, or are delisted from the exchange, they will disappear from the calculation of the index. Other In some smaller markets there is stocks will be added as necessary. In conclusion, readers should remember that no index is a perfect measure of any market. At their dividual country may from time to simplest, indexes provide a quick numerical check on what is happening, how far a market has come, and maybe a clue as to where it is

On a more complex level, they can prove a useful analytical guide as to what is happening in certain key sections of the market. Or in the case of the International Herald Tribune World Stock Index, the world's markets.

EUROPE: Allowance will be made for sharp falls in a stock following a dividend payment of more than 10 percent, so as not to unduly lower the value of the index. Normally, the capital weighting of each stock will be assessed and readjusted in the Maastricht treaty are arbitrary and without any theoretical Each year the top 10 or 20 stocks, or practical foundation."

A Curb on Growth (Continued from page 1)

> Meanwhile, analysts agreed that high German interest rates that have held down European economie growth are likely to continue at least until the end of the year de-

Consumer prices in Western Germany were unchanged in July from June and up just 3.3 percent from a year earlier, according to preliminary data from the Federal Statistics Office. The annual inflato assess the significance of any findings until tion rate was down sharply from after the visits. 4.3 percent in June, and was the lowest recorded since May 1991.

Nonetheless, said Jan Duesing, an economist at Credit Suisse First Boston in London: "It is not yet time to get excited about lower interest rates in Germany. There is not much chance of an easing before December at the very earliest."

where Iraq set up a press center for coverage of But if inflation in Western Germany remains under 4 percent for the next few months, the Bundesand banners bearing a write military uniform and banners bearing slogans like, "The UN is a puppet of the U.S." and "Down with George Bush." dent Saddam wearing a white military uniform bank is unlikely to push interest rates any higher during the fall.

■ Danes to Seek New Treaty treaty on European union to the ment to admit the inspectors after the United States threatened new bombing strikes and be-European Community this autumn, Prime Minister Poul gan moving extra forces into the region. But the special commission agreed to exclude Schluter said Tuesday, Renters re-Americans and citizens of other countries that ported from Copenhagen. The effought against Iraq during the Gulf War. fort marks an attempt to enable the tion of the Maastricht treaty in land.

Japan and U.S. Start Trade Deficit Talks

degree, Iraq's bombed infrastructure and, at munications systems.

climb back up was, and is, himself, Hitler, to whom President George Bush has compared Mr. Saddam, shot himself when he found himself defeated in war. For Mr. Sad-

His determination was made clear in a response to a child's question about Iraq's withdrawal from Kuwait:

Pupil: "I'll take the class again." Mr. Saddam: "And that's what we will do,

The response highlights his key trait: He is a man who never, ever gives up. In the last 16 months, he has used his willpower, attention to venge and fearful brutality toward his own lah Ruhollah Khomeini, is said to have paid a backhanded compliment to the Iraqi leader. According to a tale in Tehran, when Ayatol-Iah Khomeini was informed that Iran would have to accept a cease-fire in its war with Iraq, he retorted bitterly to his officials: "If you had just one drop of Saddam's blood in you, this wouldn't have to happen." There are many who argue, with clear and

For these people, Mr. Saddam's survival is ephemeral, his days numbered. They point out that he controls only Baghdad and its environs,

(Continued from page 1)

main shopping thoroughfare, and were kept well away from the agriculture huilding which

The demonstrators arrived in buses that were

The demonstrators carried pictures of Presi-

The standoff between Iraq and the United

The inspection team now comprises experts

Mr. Ekeus said that the team would also from Germany, Russia, Switzerland and Fin-left parked ontside the Information Ministry, was cordoned off by the police.

of the inspection.

the dispute.

Denmark expects to seek a new Nations ended over the weekend with an agree-persistent Shirte insurgency in the south. His economy has been ruined by inflation, food prices are beyond the ordinary person's anny at day, even as ne lac means and his country's future wealth is mortgaged to old debts and new war reparations. Dissident military officers are planning coups. And his nemesis, Mr. Bush, has vowed to see him toppled before economic sanctions will be lifted.

"He can offer the Iraqi people no way out of the cul-de-sac he's offered them," said a Western analyst, who noted that up to a week before Nicolae Ceansescu, the Romanian Communist leader, was executed, he, too, appeared to be in complete control. Nevertheless, for now, Mr. Saddam is there.

And his performance in the last 16 months offers clues to what can be expected up to the point when the long intermission in his downfall - a hiatus that began when the guns of Operation Desert Storm were stilled - melts into the final act of Iraq's national drama. Mr. Saddam emerged unrepentant from his wartime bunker. Nowhere do "Tin sorry," or "I made a mistake," appear in his public comments. Instead, he blamed the party, cowards in the military and traitors for the defeat in Kuwait and revolts at home. He chided a group of women for paying too much attention to clothes and shopping and not enough to learning how to scrimp and save to

His explanation for Irag's woes has nothing to do with his invesion of Kuwait, which is rarely mentioned. His explanation is divine. "It will not do to say, 'Had we done this or that the consequences would have been better,' since what happened was willed by God," he told military officers last fall.

Mr. Saddam repeated that last month at yet another ceremony to pin medals on military and political cronies.

having lost Kurdistan in the north, where allied "I firmly believe in my deep conscience that said. "If another superpower had fought Amera," ica there would be no paradox, but this is the paradox: Everyone comes to kill Iraq, and Iraq, remained alive, healthy, and full of determina. tion, faith, sacrifice, work and construction."

Mr. Saddam has so identified Iraq and him-? self in his own mind that, to him, the Gulf War ? was not a defeat. "As long as he's alive," one opponent said, "he thinks he's victorious."

One of the first things Mr. Saddam decided after the war was to rebuild everything. The Ba'ath Congress in September was named the Jihad of Reconstruction Congress. Oil refineries, electrical grids, bridges and factories were ! A project to drain the southern marshes, er," was recently undertaken. This was followed: by a seminar to discuss restructuring the education system. But like everything that Mr. Saddam gave Iraq since becoming its leader 24 years ago, these projects come at a high spiritual cost, for called the "Great Leader Saddam Hussein Riv-

he imposes his will through fear. His omnipotent secret police system was also one of the first things that was rebuilt after the war. Another key element in Mr. Saddam's survival is deception, a talent that makes even Iracis laughingly allude to their country as "Disney-But most of all, Mr. Saddam needs to break the grip that the United Nations has on him. "I think he's calculated that he's got to break out of this box," an American analyst said of the latest confrontation. "Sanctions are not coming off, and he thinks this is a good time because Bush is weak. He's always pushing, and probing, there's nothing new about this. It's just

The Stocks That Compose the Index

AUSTRIA Austrion Airlines is (, Creditonstoll-Bonkver-ein (1), EA-General () 1), interuntali-RAŞ Ver-sitcherungs II), Oesterreichische Elekriz-törswirtschafts Class "A" lui. DAV (el. Perimaser Zementwerke (rm.), Wiener Al-tionz Versicherungs (ff. Wienerberter Baus-toffindustrie (rm.), Z-Luenderbank Bank BELGIUM BELGIUM Delhabe (st. Electrobel)u), Générole De Banaue/Generale Bank (f), Groupe Bruxelles Lambert (t), Kredielbank (f), Petrofina (e), Royale Beige (f), Solvay (m), Sociáh Générale de Belgium (fm), Trachbol Iu)

BCE (st, Conodian Pacific (mt. Imperial Oil (et, Northern Telecom (cap), Royal Bank of DENMARK Baltica Haiding)(), Baltica Assurance)(),

CANADA

Carisbers (can), Codon Forsikrins (f), D/S Svendbors (s), D/S at 1912 (s), Danisco (can), FINLAND Enso-Gutzett (rmt, Huhtamaki (can), Kan-adlis-Osake-Pankki (f), Kene (cco), Kym-mene (rm), Metra (cap), Noklo (m), Pohjola Insurance))), Repola)rm), Union Bank of Finland (f) FRANCE Air Licuide (rm), Alcotel Aisthom (cop), BSN (con), Composite Générale des Esux (s), Composité de Suez III, EM Auditaine (e) LVMH (con), l'Orbal (con), UAP (f), Total (e)

Aliconz Holdines) (1. BASF (rm(, Bayer) rm(, Dalmier-Benz (con), Deutsche Bank (f), Hoechst (rm), RWE (u), Siemens (cop), Hong Seng Bank (f), Hong Kang Telecommuni-cations (s), HSBC Holdings (f), Hutchison Whampool Inst. Jordine Matheson Holdings [m], Sun Hung Kal Properties (f), Swire Pauli-ITALY

ileanza Assicurazioni (f), Assicurazioni

Generali Iff. Banco Commerciale Italiana (1), Flat (con), La Fondiaria (1), Mediobanca on (m(, RAS (f), SIP ls), Società Bank of Tokye (f), Chubu Electric Power (u), Dal-ichi Kongyo Bank) f), Fuli Bank) f), Hi-tachi Ltd. Icapi, Industrial Bank of Japan (f).

recrit Let (copt, industrial Bent of Jepon (f).

Konsal Electric Power (u), Motsushita Electric Industrial (conf., Mitsubish) Bank (ff, Mitsubish) Heavy Industries (cop), Nippon Steel (rmf., Nippon Teleproph & Telephone (st. Normuro Securities (f), Salturo Bank (f), Santra Bank (f), Seven-Eleven Japan (s), Sumitama Bank (f), Takya Electric Power (u), Tashiba Corp., (con). Towin Metar (con) Corp. (cop), Tayofa Motor (con) NETHERLANDS
ABN AMRO Holdings (f), AEGON (f), Akon )rm(, Elsevier is(, Heineken (con), Interneole Nederlanden (f), Philips Electronics

MORWAY NORWAY
Aker Jm), Dan Norske Bank Jf), Elkem (rm), Hofslund Nycomed Icon(, Kvaerner Icap), Norske Skopledastrier (rm), Orkia Borre-sourd Jm), Saga Petroleum (e), UNI Store-brand (f), Vital Forsibring Jf)

NEW ZEALAND Air New Zeoland Close A)s), Bank of New Zeoland (f), Brieriey Investments)m), Corter Holt Horvey (m), Fernz Corpe)rm), Fletcher Challenge (rm), God)rm), Fletcher Challenge (rm), Goodman Fielder Wottle (NZ))con(, Lion Nothan (con), Telecom Carp of New Zwaland (s), Wilco de Bilbon-Vizcaya Iñ. Banco Central (ff. Banco de Santonder (ff. Banesto (ff. Banco Exterior de Espana) ff), Banco Popular Espanal (f), Endesc (u), Iberdrola (u), pore Ship & Engine Isi, Singapore Arrapaces (copi, Singapore Airlines Isi), Singapore Bus spite figures released Tuesday unaterative (1978) (st. Singapore Electronics & Show inflation in Western Germanismenting (copi, Singapore Petroleum Isi, United Over.

Asea loop(, Astro (con), Electrolux Icon(, investor)f), LM Ericseon)cop(, Procorda quarterly.

SWEDEN

But the index will invariably re-

The constituent stocks and the weighting given to each stock will be continually assessed. Stocks will be weighted quarterly, unless there is a change in capital value of 5 percent or more. In that case, the eighting will be changed that day.

flect international investors' views of the market in question.

(m), Sandulk (cap), Stora Kopparbergs (rmi. Svenska Cellulasa Irmi. Valva Icani SWITZERLAND SW(12E)CLAND BBC Brown Bover! (cop!, Cridit Svisse Hold-ing)(), Cibo-Gelgy (rmt, Nestle Icon), Roche Holding (con!, Sandoz Icon), Schweizerische Rückversicherungs)f), Union Book of Swit-Aliied Lyons Jean), Boreleys III, BAT Industries (conf., British Gos (u), British Petroleum Ja), BTR (cop), Cable B Wireless (s), General Electric (cop), Glaza Haidings (con), Grand Metropolitan (s), RTZ (rm(, J. Soinsbury (s), SmithXile closs A)con), Tesco (st, Wellcome)con)

U.X.

U.S.A.
Abbott Laboratories (can), American Home Products (can), American Telestroph (s), American Telestroph (s), American Telestroph (s), Amaca (e), Belišouth (s), Bristol-Myers Saulbb (can), Coca-Colo (can), Du Pont (rm (, Exam (e), General Electric (cap), General Mators (can), GTE (s), International Business Machines (cap), Johnson a Johnson (can), March (can), Moli (e), PessiCa (can), Philip Marris (can), Pracier &
Gamble (can), Wal-Wart Stores (s)

(e) energy; (a) utilities; (f) fiscace; (s) services; (cap) copital goods; (rm) row materials; (cap) consumer goods; (m) miscella-Belgian stack auditions are from the for-ward market (marché à terme). For Finhad, Narwar, Sinocoore and Sweden, where re-strictions apoly, shares are "tree." Two componies. Swire Poeffic in Hong Kang and Smithkline Beecham in the U.K., have spill stocks and are therefore listed twics, country to rejoin the drive for European unity following the rejec-

(Continued from page 1)

least partially, its air defense and military com-But the Iraqi leader's biggest asset in his dam, such a response was unthinkable.

Mr. Saddam: "If you fail your class, what detail, preoccupation with his personal securi-ty, conspiratorial bent of mind, desire for re-citizens to resuscitate his regime.

Even Mr. Saddam's most bitter foe. Avatolmounting evidence to back them up, that Mr. Saddam's revival is mostly sham, a clever use of smoke and mirrors that hides a rotten, corrupt and hated circle at the top that will sooner or later fall, as one Iraqi put it, "like a ripe fig."

IRAQ: UN Inspectors Enter Disputed Building Linked to Missile Program

need to do so." But he insisted that experts from the United The Iraqi authorities organized a large and States, Britain and France would be needed for noisy demonstration to coincide with the start future inspection teams because few other countries have expertise in nuclear, chemical But the bundreds of people marched and and biological weapons development and longdanced along Al Rasheed Street, Baghdad's range missiles.

> ceived intelligence suggesting the ministry might have boused an administrative unit help ing run the ballistic missile program, and also might have been involved in ordering foreign Agricultural credits that the United States granted Iraq just before the Gulf crisis erupted may have been used to pay for parts and equip-

> gram, UN officials say. Iraq complained that the UN special comnission's attempt to inspect the ministry, the first time it had ever tried to do this, constitu a direct infringement of its sovereignty and amounted to unacceptable interference in its domestic affairs.

> ment purchased abroad for the nuclear pro-

But the Security Council called Baghdad's stand "a material and unacceptable breach" of the Gulf War cease-fire terms under which Irac was offered a truce in return for accepting destruction of its most dangerous weapons. The like a replay of the run-up to the Gulf War. He has not changed one bit. He has not learned one single thing."

refrain from entering the private offices of the minister himself "if they do not see a strong out searches wherever it liked. Iraq is now claiming the compromise on inspection as a great victory because Baghdad, in effect, forced the United Nations to negotiate on the composition of the team and agree that its inspectors should not enter the minister's private offices.

its confrontation with the UN because of the The Ministry of Agriculture was designated obvious strong preparations some Security for inspection by the commission after it re-Council members were making for ponitive action, alluding to U.S. moves to renew the air Mr. Ekeus, who expects to see the Iraqf deputy prime minister, Tariq Aziz, before leaving Wednesday night, said the United Nations secretary general had asked him to press Iraq to

But Mr. Ekcus said Iraq had climbed down in under which the UN runs an emergency humanitarian aid program for refugees and other vulnerable groups.

This agreement, signed last year, also permits the UN to deploy about 400 lightly armed guards to protect its aid workers.

renew an agreement, which expired in June.

Iraq has called for the guards to be with-drawn and said it wants to take over management of the relief program itself, including the distribution of food and medicine. This is unacceptable to the United Nations and to the donors financing the program. They insist that the United Nations monitor the distribution to ensure that it is fair.

هكدامن الأجهل

Sheehan Defe h Women's G OATMONT PARTIES AREA TO STREET IN

ball to the rest of the property and the reason All the state of t A State of the sta Able to Lich Hail of Marie Color and Se A PARTY SE SENTENDE

A/PACIFIC

Tokyo Nikkei 225

Prev 5 664.39

1,422.34

1.606.30

589.73

734.94

5.7.48

4.908 22

1,475.10

3:8.94

1.550 51

the referred inteconomy

The June 30 and to deve or ment of the Mount

Resources Oy

2 2 call and 450 million

Crown Forest Industries
Riverside Forest

and a second million).

22.5 percent, to 4,692

:: 44 -- :: (e. 13.1 percent to 27 - Co. sometime in the first helf w

utting Plan

- Tikyo stock

-- 127 27 25 70 md-

Control of Automorphisms

Security Co. and

Clarcing Back

Control of the state of the sta

cc.. (本性

Andrew State

2 - 2 - 32 - 2 - 32 - 2 - 35

المنطقة المستندية ال المنطقة المستندية ال

1. 10 Section 50 1. 10

The same of the sa

7 7 2 2 2 2 3 1

المحترة تتلاشه الماء

Lisile Program

المنية والمنطوع يسدر

The second second

eur endeu Music III

... - care, and out its profe

calling securities losses.

martin a sules.

1 266,40 +1.31

15.373.34 +0.35

-0.06

+0.17

201

SPORTS BURGES

As Soccer Starts, Adrenaline Mixes With Lots of Poison

B ARCELONA — Evidently we pushed providence too far in hoping that a player known as Nino Divino might rescue soccer from the folly of imposing an age limit of 23 on its Olympians. We wait in vain for the providence too far in hoping that the beautiful of any sport strators better than those who sell us the hypocrisy of one sport making its own rules of entry.

The soccer has been generally immature, sometimes malicious. The hehavior when Spain thrashed Colombia, 4-0, would have been unacceptable. able in a kindergarten or a war zone. And Ivan Valenciano, the Colombian I chose as a symbol of hope, proved more spoiled brat than divine child

Valenciano came here a star. Italy's Atalanta had rushed to buy

Hughes A him for $4.5 million, afraid of the Olympic flame igniting an auction for

it. He fouled until he was sent off after 17 minutes' play, and a FIFA official commented: "The trouble with Latin Americans is as soon as they get a big contract, they go wild."

Not all. Some start out wild and get a big contract for it. Others, like Pelé, would grace any Olympian ideal.

But Spain versus Colombia laced beauty with poison. The Spanish goals were spectacular highlights amid a grotesque litany of 61 fouls, 11 yellow cards, and two players sent off from both teams. The German referee, Markus Merk, was blameless. "It was impossible to handle these players," he said. "I never want to go through a horror like

This is sport? This is the Olympic Games? So violent was the pace and fury, so utterly stupid the risk of physical injury, the thought of drugs crossed my mind. A wiser counsel pointed out that to score with such finesse, such coordinated balance of mind and body as Spain did four times is beyond pharmaceutical cheating.

What happened was a near hysterical rush of adrenaline in an atmosphere of nationalistic fervor. The referee was right: One man cannot stop it. The team managers could try hitting their nasty prima donnas in the bonus pocket. And FIFA, which dilutes its contribution to the Olympics by sending young pretenders rather than seasoned campaigners, should make an example of the miscreants by sending them home.

They could do it because, for once, the competition is supposed to be about honor and not primarily money. These are undeniably a mercenary's Games, but there can be fewer than 300 champions among 15,000 contestants here, and I would not insult the striving of the mass by believing it is all a chase for fool's gold.

Good sport depends on good rules and mutual respect. Whether FIFA's attempt to outlaw the back pass to goalkeepers will achieve the aim of stopping time-wasting in time for the 1994 World Cup in the United States is questionable.

Already the Germans, though absent from these Olympics, have obliged FIFA to reword the new law. Some smarty-pants players thought albey could get away with using the knee rather than the foot to pass back, and a couple of referees earned FIFA approval last week by sending them off for ungentlemanly conduct, for abusing the spirit of the law.

M EANWHILE, a referee did not know whether he was on his feet or his head during a match between Sweden and Paragnay. The ref, Lube Spassov of Bulgaria, blew the whistle on a headed pass back to Sweden's goalkeeper, Jan Ekholm. The scene descended into farce: Swedes galore gesticulated that the ball is allowed to be headed back. Spassov's face crumpled with embarrassment.

He gave a bounce ball, but compounded his error by dropping the ball between a Swede and a Paraguayan not outside the area where the header occurred but closer to goal where the keeper caught it. Thankfully, the Swedes cleared their goal's mouth. But Spassov later made the same misinterpretation of the pass-back rule.

After yet another Olympic game, Italy bitterly sought to water down the taste of defeat by three goals to Poland by blanning the English

"There must be something wrong with the rules," argued Italy's team manager, Cesare Maldini, "when a referee gives seven yellow cards in the Wrong? With the rules, the ref; or the play? Don completed his night against Luca Luzardi and Eugenio Corini.

I was not at the game. A FIFA spokesman, Guido Tognoni, saw it as a match that never descended to the violence between Spain and Colombia. "If the referee was at fault," Tognoni observed, "you could argue he might have prevented having to show the seven yellow cards if he had taken stronger action sooner."

As FIFA viewed it, Italy's bursts of ill-tempered fouls was a reaction to conceding quick goals in each half. Indiscipline prompted by bad habits formed in players who have yet to learn that winning is not the only thing. It remains a tantalizing quest. Three days earlier, Italy set off like potential Olympic champions with two swift, artistic goals against the America's fight back to 2-I exposed Italy's fragility, yet the American coach, Lothar Osiander, paid his conqueror this tribute: "Italy has a wonderful team. We knocked on the door a couple of times, but we are innocents in the scoring area. It has long been an Italian dream to make it in the United States, and for us it is now a dream to play soccer like Italy." On Monday, Osiander restored Steve Snow, a striker he timidly omitted against Italy. Snow scored his 20th goal in 19 games for the United States, which climbed above Italy in the league table by beating

But you know the young American Snow's dream? To make it in Italy. Rab Hughes is on the stoff of The Sunday Times.

Sheehan Defeats Inkster In Women's Golf Playoff

OAKMONT, Pennsylvania - Patty Shechan converted some magic scrambling down the stretch into a two-stroke victory over Juli Inkster in their 18-hole playoff for the U.S. Women's Open golf

Sheehan, who forced the playoff when she caught Inkster with a birdie birdie finish in regulation play on Sunday, made it three in a -row wheat she ran in a 15-footer (4.5-meter) on the first hole of the playoff on Monday. She led the rest of the way, winning at 1-over 72. Inkster, who had a two-shot lead with two holes to go in regulation when play was halted by a thunderstorm, could not make a putt when it counted in the playoff.

And Sheehan, her opponent and best friend, seemingly could not miss one. Not when it counted.

The victory was Shechan's 29th on the LPGA Tour — one short of qualification for the LPGA Hall of Fame — and third this year. "A big load off my back," said Shechan, who blew a 9-stroke lead in the 1990 Women's Open. "After '90, I was so devastated, I didn't know if Fd ever have another chance."

The Athletics' Mike Bordick being tagged out in a rundown by third baseman Scott Leius of the Twins as Bordick tried to steal home.

Navarro Deals Indians a 4-0 Shutout

The Associated Press

Jaime Navarro is so hot, anything short of a no-hitter is a disappointment.

"I gave Chicago one hit [on July 17]. I gave Texas two hits [on July 22]. These guys got three hits. I'm getting worse," Navarro quipped Monday night after he pitched the Milwankee Brewers past the Indians, 4-0, in Cleveland. Navarro extended his streak of hitless innings to 10 before surrendering a single by Paul Sorrento in the fifth. He yielded three hits, walked none and struck out five, giving the Brewers their fourth straight victory and ninth silwaukee moved into a second-place tie with Baltimore, four games behind Toronto in Navarro turned in his third straight dominant performance and got his first shutout of the year. In his previous game, he pitched a two-hitter, giving up a pair of third-inning singles, and he lost a no-hitter in the eighth inning of the game before that.

HOUSTON - Warren Moon, the Hous-

There have been frustrations in the pro-

Tokyo for Saturday's exhibition game with about his plans. The broadcast report quoted ton Oilers' quarterback, will set aside a con-tract dispute and travel with the team to

He has yielded six hits and two earned runs in his last three starts, covering 26 innings.

"I just feel locked in," he said. "I'm in a groove right now. My control is excellent. My velocity has been good. I'm getting ground balls when I need to and strikeouts when I need to." Navarro was extremely efficient, throwing 85 pitches - a total that kept him in the game longer than manager Phil Garner had planned. "I wanted to get Doug Henry some work in the ninth," Garner said. "I looked at the pitch count and it was 78. That's hardly even a warm-up. That's amazing Charles Nagy allowed four runs and 12 hits in 6% innings, losing for only the second time in 11 starts at home.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

speculation that he would not make the trip. He said on Houston television Monday night that he remained frustrated and undecided

sources as saying that negotiations were continuing through the night. He was not on the field for a Monday cess but we're continuing to work forward and hopefully, it will be resolved rapidly when they return from Japan," Moon's agent, Leigh Steinberg, said on Houston ra-

Afhletics 9, Twins 1: Bob Welch pitched nohit ball for 6% innings as Oakland beat Minnesota Monday night in Minneapolis and closed within two games of the West leaders.

Terry Steinhach hit a three-run homer off John Smiley in the first inning and added two doubles and another RBI. Randy Ready added his first career grand slam in the ninth off Boh Kipper, his third home run this season.

Red Sox 7, Rangers 5: In Boston, Tom Brunansky hit a first-inning grand slam and Herm Winningham added a two-run homer off Kevin Brown, who lost his third consecutive start since the All-Star game.

Frank Viola survived a shaky second imning when the Rangers rallied for three unearned runs. Jeff Reardon pitched the ninth for his 20th save in 25 chances.

Angels 3, Mariners 0: Chuck Finley won for the first time in eight starts since June 13 as California beat Seattle on Monday night at home for their fourth consecutive victory. Finley allowed six hits in 81/2 innings, struck out four and walked four, Joe Grahe got two

Moon had breakfast with his teammates

The Oilers' general manager, Mike Holovak, declined to comment late Monday night, but the owner, Bud Adams, said he

Monday morning in San Antonio but stayed away from training camp.

Schilling Conquers 5 The Heat as Phillies Chill the Mets, 5-0

Cart Schilling said he was so tired in the last three innings of his shutout over the New York Mets.

he felt like he was pitching under Schilling pitched his second straight shutour Monday night in Philadelphia as the Phillies sent the Mets to their third consecutive no-score loss, 5-0. The futility of the Mets' offense almost overshadowed Schilling's effort on a hot and humid night.

It was the 14th time that New York has been shut out this season, leading the majors in that department. It matches the Mets most shutouts since 1980, when they also were blanked 14 times. Also, it marked the first time they've been blanked three straight games since

NATIONAL LEAGUE

"I don't have any answers," manager Jeff Torborg lamented. We didn't get anything done again. Fourteen shutouts. Wow! We seem to be getting good swings. I can't explain it. I can't ever remember a team having this much trouble scoring runs."

But not to overlook Schilling, who stretched his scoreless streak to 24 innings and the Mets' streak to 29, 10 short of the club record. He pitched a six-hitter, struck out five and walked none in his fourth shutout this season. It was the third consecutive complete game for Schilling and his fifth this year. It also was his second straight game without a walk.

Schilling described his success as "a combination of a solid defense and good hitting" and confident

"I tried to bear down after we got those four in the first inning and not let them creep back in it," Schilling said. "I was tired at the end. Right now I'm tired. I felt like

I was pitching under water the last three innings."

first inning, bases-loaded triple, keyed a four-run start, said Schillling "was overpowering on a reaf muggy night.

"He had the same stuff in the ninth that he had in the first. We didn't have to mix much." Daulton said. "He had a good fastball and hard slider. He's got good endur-Torborg said, "Schilling pitched well right up to the end. He was strong all night. I've always liked his arm.` Indeed, the trade in April that sent Jason Grimsley to Houston for Schilling might be the steal of the year. Grimsley is in the minors.

Cubs 3, Pirates 2: Sammy Sosa celebrated his return from the disabled list by homering on Doug Drabek's first pitch, then scored the go-ahead rum in the eighth inning on Kal Daniels' sacrifice fly in:

Greg Maddux outdueled Drabek as the Cubs pulled within 5½ games of Pittsburgh. The Pirates have lost six of eight. Maddux won for the eighth time in 10 starts, giving up six hits in eight innings. Jeff Robin-son finished for his first save.

Astros 5. Braves I: Eric Anthony hit a grand slam in the 11th inning as Houston won the opener of a 26 game road trip.

Anthony also homered twice Sunday in the Astros' final home game until Aug. 25. Houston is on the longest road trip in team history, so the Astrodome can hold the Republican convention.

Anthony connected for his first career grand slam and 12th homer of the season off Alejandro Pena. Expos 6. Cardinals 4: In St. Louis, Darren Reed hit a three-run homer and Delino DeShields bomered and tripled as Montreal closed within one game of Pitts Ken Hill, traded by St. Louis last November for Andres Galarraga. won his seventh straight decision and set a career high for victories. John Wetteland pitched 11/2 innings for his 22d save, striking out Gerald Perry with runners on second and third to end the game. Giants 5, Dodgers 1: Cory Snyder hit a three-run homer in the first off Tom Candiotti, and Bud Black pitched a three-hitter for his second complete game. Los Angeles lost its sixth game and fell to 2-9 on a road trip that has two games remaining.

Padres 2, Reds 1: Reliever Randy Myers got pinch-hitter Chris Sabo to ground into a game-ending and third, earning his 19th save.

Greg Swindell when Darrin Jackson tripled and scored on Tim Tenfel's two-out single.

LOW COST FLIGHTS

ACCESS VOYAGES

One Wer Rome

York 175-60 F2

Varie 175-60 F2

Varie 175-60 F2

Varie 175-60 F2

Varie 175-60 F3

Varie 175-6

8.30 more destinations ground world
Rotes subject to modifications Restrictions may copyl
Yel: 1-40.12.02.02 at 1-42.21.46.94
Face: 1-45.08.83.35
6 russ Plerrus Lesson, 75001 Puris
Metro - BER Cleatedet Les Helies
(Lic. 1.75.111)_and also

Moon went to Japan last spring to help promote the American Bowl game. Moon walked out of the team's training Moon had the day off to leave early for wanted to go, to tell you the truth, the Dallas Cowboys.

BASEBALL Major League Standings AMERICAN LEAGUE Toronio Baltimore Allwaukes New York Boston Texas Chicago California Konsas City Seattle Pittsburgh Montreal Hear York Chicago St. Louis Philadelphi .535 .525 .465 .480 .480 Atlanta Cincinnati San Dieso 594 582 540 480 435 414 Son Francisco Houston

Monday's Line Scores AMERICAN LEAGUE

Harper, W-Welch, 8-S. L-Smiley, 10-S. HRS-Cakland. Ready 131. Steinbach 191.
Secrite 800 800 800-8 4 8 Catifornic 910 200 69a-5 7 8 Hanson and Valid: Finley, Grahe 191 and Fitzperoid, W-Finley, 3-9. L-Honson, 8-13. NATIONAL LEAGUE

New Year 400 000 000—0 6 1

Philodelphia 400 910 902—5 6 1

Soberhogen, Filer (5), Gibson (8) and Soc-Soberhagen, Filer (5), Gibson (5) and Sonser: Schilling and Dautton, W—Schilling, 9-6, L—Soberhagen, 3-3.

Pittsburgh 199 190 608—2 6 6 Chicase 190 190 118 613—3 9 9 Ordsek and Lavuillere; Maddux, Robinson 191 and Wilkins, W—Maddux, 13-8, L—Probek, 8-8, Sv—Robinson 111, HRs—Pittsburgh, Van Slyke (7). Chicage, Sosa (61. Hoosten 91 100 600 94—3 12 9 Affanfa 100 90 90 94—3 12 9 (11 baelays)

Williams, D.Jones (6), Herrandez 1111 and Taubensee: Smaltz, Mercker (9), Penta (11), Stanfon (11) and Otson, W—D.Jones, 8-7, L—Pent, 1-5, HR—Housten, Anthony (12), Magfred 9 90 90 909—4 9 9 9 91. Looks 22 900 909—4 12 9 19 Hill, Sasnpen 16), Fassers 16), Robes 17). Wetheland (8) and Fiercher; Olivares, De-Leon (5), Perez (7), Carbenter (9) and Pos-nozzi. W-Hilli, 124. L.—Dilivares, 44. Sv—W-heland (22), HRs—Montreol, DeShlekts (5), Grissom (7), Reed (4), St. Louis, Lankford (11), Les Angeles 100 805 806—1 2 1 Sen Francisco 300 802 80x—6 7 9 Condiothi, Craws (3) and Sciencia; Bisok and Balley, W.—Black, 9-1, L.—Candiotti, 6-9, HR—San Francisco, Smyder (10), Clacianatti 618 806 806—1 7 8 San Diege 81 808 915—2 7 8 Swindell and Oliver; Benes, Myers 197 and Santiaso, W.—Benes, 8-9, L.—Swindeli, 9-4, Sv—Myers (19), HR—Cincinnati, Daran (7).

Brown, Rogers (7), Marthews 181 and Rodriguez: Violo, Henris (7), Represe (9) and Peac.

W—Violo, 9-6. L.—Brown, 14-7. Sv—Represe
(1), McRs—Boston, Wieninghem 111, Brusansky (8).

Outland 318 801 804—9 10 8

Welch, Eckersley (8), Corsi (9) and Steinbock: Smiley, Willis (7), Klaper (9) and

KansAs City—Put Chris Gwynn, outhelder, and Mitte Boddicker, pitters on 15-sky disobled list, Receited Dennis Moellar, pitcher, and Kavia Kostotski, outfletder, from Omainc, American Association.

Noticed list, Receited Dennis Moellar, pitcher, and Kavia Kostotski, outfletder, from Omainc, American Association

No. American League

NL—Upheld 2-game suspension of N.Y.

Marts outfletder Bobby BonBia for charuing mound in game a devent of the control of the cont

REAL ESTATE TO RENT/SHARE PARIS AREA FURNISHED

Moon Misses Training but Will Make Japan Trip

site in San Antonio on Monday, causing Houston because of stiffness in his shoulder.

be set up to talk to me to get updated on the discussions," Steinberg said.

See Warren making the trip.

"All indications in San Antonio were that discussions," Steinberg said.

"All indications in San Antonio were that he would go. However, I don't think he really

FLATOTEL EIFTE TOWER OR EXPO PORTE DE VERSALLES from studio to live-room dehate apartments fully equipped and serviced, doily, weekly or mouthly
Any hurther informations
Call US34S.34S Tall Free or 33-1-45-75-62-20 AGENCE CHAMPS ELYSES

LE CLARIDGE
FOR 1 WEEK OR MORE high class
studie, 2 or 3-room agrotiments. Rull
EQUIPMED, INWEDIATE RESERVATIONS
Tol: [1] 44 13 33 33

PARIS BIENVENUE

1 WEEK TO 2 YEARS, in Central Paris
Short term with service & furnished rentals, Tel 1-4753 8081 Fax 4753 7287

First in quality and service Tel: 1-47 53 86 38. Fax: 1-45 51 75 77. HOME - PLAZZA - suites - First class - 50% reduction near Bostille, Opera, Morais. Suites fully equipped, 1/5 persons, private gardens. Let 33-1-40,27,272, fox 351-47,002,40 CHAUSSEE DE LA MUETTE, for company executive, class, double reception, 3 bactrooms, bathroom, stower room, perfect condition. F20,170 net. Let (1) 42,24 85-40 MEST APRAS. MACHINE CLASS BUSTONICS.

INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED

is paid a premium if he is among the top three quarterbacks in the National Football League. The premium is based on the aver-

Moon contends the Oilers owe him more than $800,000 on the bonus from his 1990 performance. The Oilers paid Moon $1.5 million on the bonus but Moon says the figure should have been $2.3 million.

Last week, Moon was late arriving at the training facility in San Antonio amid speculation that he would be a holdout from the A bonus clause in Moon's contract says he

San Diego, playing at home, broke a l-all tie in the eighth off.

SCOREBOARD

Texas 839 100 100-5 11 1

Besten 439 600 11c-7 9 2

Brown, Rogers (7), Mathews 181 and Rodrisucz; Viola, Harris (7), Reorden (9) and Pena.
W—Violo, 94. L—Brown, 147. 5v—Reorden
(20), HRs—Boston, Winninsham 111, Brun-

TRANSACTIONS American League
KANSAS CITY—Put Chris Gwynn, outfiel

(Continued From Back Page)

REAL ESTATE TO RENT/SHARE PARIS AREA FURNISHED ME ICENT charming operaments in Peris Fully equipped. Prime locations, Ne commission. Special roses for long term reutals. Tel. (1) 45 66 55 33. 5th LEFT BANK, neor Notre Dome, charming 3 rooms. 1 yr. from ned-Aug. F8,500. Tel; (1) 43 29 80 17.

LEFT BANK, rightly/weekly/monthly rotes. No opency fee. Jean-Michel fet 1-43.25.08.91. For 43.34.57.98
7th, LARGE STUDIO, 2 blocks from the Deux Magain 1.5,300 per month, Cell (1) 45 48 26 55 (Ipm to midnight). RUE MICHEL ANGE, 100 sq.m., double living, 2 bedrooms, 2 bedrs. F16,000. Tel: [1] 4009 2837. Fear: 4009 9816

Tel: 1) J009 0837, Fase 4009 9916 ILE ST. LOUIS.
Losurious Studio. Maid.
Tel: (1) 46 34 19 25.
MSAR PANTHECN, charming studio.
F3A00 per month. Tel: (1) 45 35 96 20 or (1) 47 52 35 34.
MSURLY: 1st doss large studio, independent bothroom & Richesette, very quiet, on private stress. (1) 4624 7675 RUE DE TOURDNON Metro Odnon 70m2 3rd fl. surny, 4 rooms. F9,800/m/net 3 months-15/9 to 15/12. Tel: 4407245 ARC DE TRICAMME, fiving, 1 bedroom, equipped batchen, quiet building, 6th Roor, its. 76,500. Owner 1-30566574 7th, INVALIDES, DUPLEX, Linearious, 60 sq.m., fully equipped, parking, F8,900 per month. Tel 1-45 50 24 76.

PARES Lovely courtyard, toit, living dis-ing, equipped bitoner. Charm, charac-ter, high cutings. F7000: 1-48.73.88.46 PARIS AREA UNIFURNISHED ISSY LES MOULINEALDS, 35 SQ.M. studio in high class residence, 6th floor, Sene view, elevator, porting, callor, F4,000 net, 10 (1) 46 61 82 32, Contect Mrs Goriffier REAL ESTATE

TO RENT/SHARE PARIS AREA UNFURNISHED NEUILLY SAINT JAMES, NEAR BOIS, POWATE HOUSE 4TO scrn. living space, 100 sq.m. GARDEN. PLSO,000 month - changes. New 6 year lease. Auditied key money: P2,000,000. Write-No. 855, Mundat, 15 rae Taibout, F75009 Paris (who will forward).

PARIS 6th, METRO SEVERS
VERY HIGH CLASS APARTMENT
TO RENT, fiving room, 1 bedroom equipped tatchen, bothroom, ver, pork rig, cebor, free now, F12,000 not.
Tal: [1] 45 44 70 04. MEFRO BOURSE-125 HALLES owner ratts 4-room exportment, 110 sc.m., colm, 2nd floor, large tachen, both-room. Available September. FLRNS-ED POSSELE F10,000 net, 7st (3) 49 23 48 23 or other August 1st provinces 90 75 54 60 (or 61)

AVIATION Two Bening 707's 323lic 185 PAX Fire Blocked, Hash Kis, $25 Million Ench ABCO Call Whitey Varney Telephone: 713/871-9/60 FAX: 713/877-7260 USA

For Sale Or Lesse:
(2) 1984 SAAB 340A, 30-Pax
(2) 1985 NA Westwind B, ETS,
(5) 1995 Fairchild Metro III,
19-Pax/Corgo
(1) Salority S7AA, Corporate
Steven Layne, PJA Harl, Inc. USA
Tel: 415/905-7288 Fax: 415/922-0862

HEALTH/MEDICAL SERVICES

PROSTATE PROBLEMS ?? Do you suffer from prostatic hyperplassol if so, our haspital in London, equipped with the modern instruments will be able to treat you without operation. Please contact The Welbeck Hospital, Dr. R. Ghanadien. Tel: +44.71.224.2462. Foz. 224-2473.

MALE IMPOTENCE Information diagnosis rectiment. CEP.11, 43 over Hacke, Paris 2 Tel: 1-40549454.

LOW COST FLIGHTS

ACCESS IN LYONS
Tour Credit Lyonois, 129 rue Servient
69003 Lyons. Tel: (16) 78 63 67 77
Book now by phone with credit one LEGAL SERVICES MIAMS BASED TAX LAW FRM Highest rated (Martindole) - hondles oil business & commercial needs including Tax law, Contracts, Probles, Estate Planning & Real Estate. Col.
Lowencer F. Michelson, Esta C.P.A., J.D., LL.M-Toussion, 9730 S. Decisland
Blod. #1705, Microi, Florida 33156.
Tel 305-670-0038, Fors: 305-670-0016.
DIVORCE/FRMAL in 1 day. No travel,
Certified by U.S. Embosey, Divorce,
P.O. Box 8040, Acarbeim, CA 92802
USA, Call/Fox (714) 878-3004.
U.S. Intralignation & Bootinese Lewryers

BOATS/YACHTS WINER SELLING 14.53 M YACHT. 3 cabies + crew Roatel awais you, Athens area. Bring liners only proporting. 25k crusing, freshly painted, impecable steek Italian 2 x 520 HPGeWs or conditioning, IVOE, Phone Greece 301-4137257. Fax 4537668. HOLIDAY RENTALS

FRENCH PROVINCES Near ADX-EN-PROVENCE Splendid village house 200 sq.m., 3/4 people. August 1-15. F30.000. Tel: (33) August 1-15. F30.000. Tel: (33) OWNER BENTS JULY-AUGUST-SEPT. Connes, 2/5 rooms, F30.000/F30.000. Tel: (33) 9339 2112. Fox: 9338 1402. WORLDWIDE. Special departure at the lowest ever discount economy oritine. Credit cards possible. Tel: Paris (1) 42 89 10 81 Fax 42 56 25 82 DAMY RIGHTS AT LOWIST FARIS to any major North American int 1 airport, 1et Paris (33-1) 47 04 67 51. USA SPECIALISTS. To any major North American int 1 airports. 1et Paris (33-1) 40 27 86 87 / 45 47 49.

PARIS & SUBURBS MONTPARNASSE 2-bedroom aport-ment - 3rd floor, all comforts, fur-nished. Free immediately to Sept. 30. Possible 15 days: F4,000 net. Tel: 1-45 48 64 51 MARAIS. 7 AIAG. SEPT., neor Musee Picasso, all comforts, 45 sapt. studio, character, XVBth cent. basse, quiet, sunny. F6600. (1) 48 04 36 10.

BITHE LOOP?

AT&T USADirect® Service can get you back to the office from over 100 countries.

Just dial the access number of the country you're in. You'll be connected to AT&T in the U.S. and we'll complete your call fast.

02-64 SAPANT
050-12011 STUTISAL
050-12011 STUTISAL
109 SINGAPORE
101 STRUM
1-5PAN
1-5PAN
1-5WEDEN
1-5WEDEN
1-5WEDEN 0800-711 NEW ZEALAND 800-0011 MCARAGUA (Alex 0800-890-110 (Outside Mana 05077-1288 THALAND
05077-1288 THALAND
235-2372 "TURKEY
1-800-100 UMITED XINGDOM
1800-977-2881 UPLICATION
500-90-001 "YUGOSLAMALIA
022-755-611 ZAMBIAA

DIAL ACCESS NUMBERS Dust from arest phones

SLANDS CZECHOSIONA 1800-872-2981 "OCHMARK S 1872 DOMINICA 000-0312 ECUADOR1 10811 "ESYPT (Carro)

001-800-872-2981 "TALY

001-800-872-2881 "PHILIPPINES

Dream-Time Over, NBA Is Kukoc's Reality

By George Vecsey
New York Times Service

B ARCELONA — Everybody was waiting for the reluctant Toni Kukoc to try his skills against his pals from Chicago named Scottie and Michael Unfortunately, the Toni Kukoc they were looking for did not arrive for Monday night's game. Instead, Croatia used what resembled a vacationing 6-foot-10-inch bus driver from Sarajevo named Dobro Dobrovic, who scored 4 points in 34 minutes 38 seconds, and looked generally as intimidated as a tourist might be when pressed into a real live -

Wherever the real Toni Kukoc was in the province of Catalonia on Monday with the province of Catalonia on Monday night, we can only hope he learned something from the 103-70 victory by the United States over the renewed nation of Croatia. The absent Kukoc did not need to focus on the deities from far across the sea. He could have learned his lesson from watching his Croatian teammate named Drazen Petrovic.

Totally unafraid of these big brutes from America, Petrovic kept flinging the ball up whenever he crossed midcourt, which is precisely how he plays for 82 games a season for the New Jersey Nets. Enough of the 16 shots went in to give Petrovic 19 points. Petrovic has decided he belongs on the same court as Michael Peders and Scratic Pilots of the Same court as Michael Jordan and Scottie Pippen. Now it is time for Toni Kukoc to make the leap.

Kukoc is the willowy 210-pound guard who has chosen to play for the Benetton team in Treviso in the Italian league, where two

Johnson's Knee

By David Aldridge

Washington Past Service
BARCELONA — The U.S. men's basketball team will likely be without Magic Johnson on Wednesday when it continues play against Germany. Though a magnetic resonance imaging of Johnson's right knee Monday might revealed no break or significant knee damage, he did suffer a ligament sprain that will probably require a couple of days' rest.

Johnson is still being listed as day-to-day, an NBA spokesman said. Johnson underwent no additional tests or treatments on Tuesday, an off day for the U.S. men. Medication would ormally be prescribed, but the Americans ob-viously have to consider Olympic drug testing procedures when deciding what kind and how much medication their starting point guard

If Johnson, who was injured in the first half of Monday's 103-70 victory over Croatia, doesn't play, it's oot as if the Americans would suddenly he in peril. Even though point guard

John Stockton, who is still recovering from a fractured fibula, looks more and more as if he won't play until at least the medal round, the Most likely, the Americans would put Michael Jordan at the point, with Scottie Pippen backing him up.

That would hardly be a major problem. Jordan and Pippen bring the ball up most nights for the Bulls, anyway. Even Larry Bird and

: U.S. team is still chock full of options.

Is Not Serious

rejects from the National Basketball Association are generally the high scorers on each team. The life is easier - a game or two a week, practices when they do not interfere with lunch - and the money is terrific. But the competition goes only so far.

Jerry Krause, the general manager of the Chicago Bulls, has thought so much of Kukoc's passing, dribbling, rebounding and shooting potential that he has drafted Kukoc for perpetuity, and has made so many trips to Europe that Krause could travel to the planet Pluto on his air-travel miles.

Kukoc's diffidence has managed to tick off Jordan and Pippen. A year ago, while Krause was offering Kukoc $13 million for five years, Pippen was stuck at $700,000 a year.

Monday night was the first time Jordan and Pippen ever had to play against the man who still belongs to the Bulls. They hounded Kukoc's replacement, the hapless bus driver, into shooting 2 for 11. Afterward, Kukoc said, "Maybe I can score 15 to 20 next time, but I don't know. I never saw that kind of defense before."

Actually, nobody has. Jordan said, "Maybe he was trying hard. It was his first game against us, and he was nervous. He had a lot of fresh bodies coming at him. Everybody has a bad game. I know he's better than that. He's very skillful at passing and driving to the hole."

A SKED IF he had felt the need to show a little hands-across-the-sea diplomacy to induce Kukoc to sample the subtle charms of winter in Chicago, Jordan paused. You must bear in mind that Jordan has a very deep voice that would sing bass in

"I don't think Scottie Pippen and I are in the counseling business," Jordan said, deeply, and somewhat coldly.

It is now up to Knkoc, who has another year on his contract in Italy. He said the other night that he has made up his mind to play with Chicago. He has no other choice, for his own self-

"Drazen told me about the NBA," said Petar Skansi, the Croatian coach. "He said, "I must be quicker if I want to play."
Kukoc is the same thing. He can't play better in Europe. He is the very best player here. Not there."

Not there at all. This was supposed to be the first competitive game the so-called Dream Team has played. It was serious enough for Chuck Daly to give up the gaudy green blazer he wore on Sunday to get back to his normal stylish blue suit. The U.S. players were all business, albeit respectful.

AM impressed with how Mr. Jordan and Mr. Daly pronounced our name," Skansi said. "That means something to us. That means we are something to them."

The real dreams, of course, belong to the Croatians and the Lithuanians and the black South Africans and all the athletes who have emerged from bondage and apartheid to march and play in the Summer Games under their own flags.

These are deeper dreams than the one dreamed up by the sponsors and the agents of the 12 NBA players who will now have a suitable subject for their fall essay. "What I Did on My

But the dream goes just so far, and then competitiveness takes over. No athlete should like being embarrassed. It is time for Toni Kukoc to reclaim his uniform and start making his plans

OLYMPICS ON TELEVISION

Wędnesday's Events All times are GMT

Badminton - Men's and women's singles, second round, 0800; Men's and women's doubles, first round, 0800; Men's and women's singles, second round, 1500; Men's and women's doubles, first round, 1500.

Baseball - Puerto Rico vs. Italy, 1300; Domini-can Republic vs. Japan, 1300; Talwan vs. Spain, 1900; U.S. vs. Cuba, 1900.

Men's Backsthall - Venezuela vs. Australia 0730; Brazii vs. Angola, 0930; Unified Team vs. China, 1230; Lithuanis vs. Puerto Rico, 1430; U.S. vs. Germany, 1830; Croatla vs. Spain, 2030. Boxing - First round, 1100; First round, 1700. Cycling - Men's and women's sprint, 1600; Men's 4,000-meter individual pursuit, semifinals, 1600; Men's individual points race, prelims; Men's 4,000-meter individual pursuit, final, 1630; Men's sprint quarterfinals: Women's 3,000-meter individual pursuit prelims, 1800.

Diving - Men's springboard final, 1300. Artistic Gymnestics — Men's team optional exercises, 0900; Men's team optional exercises, 1800; Men's team optional exercises, final, 1800. Equestrian - 3-day endurance, 1630.

Women's Field Hockey — South Korea vs. Brit-ain, 1400; Australia vs. Germeny, 1530; Spain vs. Canada, 1600; Netherlands vs. New Zeeland, Judo - Men's and women's middleweight, Modern Pentathion - Riding, 0800; Riding.

Trinquete pretims, 0700; Frontants prelims, 1000; Long and short cut prelims, 1400. Roller Hockey — U.S. vs. Switzerland, 1600; Netherlands vs. Australia, 1600; Italy vs. Portu-gal, 1730; Angols vs. Germany, 1730; Argentina va. Japan, 1900; Brazil va. Spain, 1900.

vs. Japan, 1900; Brazil vs. Spain, 1900.
Rowing — Repechages, Women's fours without coxswain; Women's double sculls: Women's pairs without coxswain; Men's double sculls; Men's pairs without coxswain; Men's double sculls; Men's pairs without coxswain; Men's ringle sculls 0600; Women's single sculls; Women's quadruple sculls; Women's quadruple sculls; Women's quadruple sculls; Men's eight with coxswain; Men's quadruple sculls; Men's eight with coxswain; Men's quadruple sculls; Men's eight with coxswain; 1530.

coxswain, 1530.
Shooting — Men's smallbore free rifle, 0700;
Men's rapid fire pistol, 0700; Men's smallbore free rifle, final, 1030. Soccer - U.S. vs. Poland, 1700; Colombia vs. Egypt, 1700; Italy vs. Kuwait, 1800; Spain vs.

en's 100-meter butterfly; men's 200-meter breaststroke; women's 100-meter breaststroke;

men's 400-meter medley relay; women's 800-meter freestyle, heats, 0800; men's 400-meter treestyle; women's 100-meter butterfly; men's 200-meter breaststroke; women's 100-meter breaststroke; men's 400-meter medley relay, fin-Table Tennis — 32 women's first round singles, 0800; 16 women's first round doubles, 1800; 16

men's first round doubles, 1800.

Men's Team Handball - South Korea vs. Sweden, 0800; France vs. Unified Team, 0830; Brazil vs. Hungary, 1230; Germany vs. Romanis, 1400; Egypt vs. Spain, 1700; Czechoslovakla vs. Ice-Tennis - 16 men's singles first round, 0800; 16 women's singles first round, 0800. Women's Volleyball — Unified Team vs. Spein, 0830; U.S. vs. Jepan, 1100; Netherlands vs. Bra-zii, 1700; China vs. Cuba, 1930. Weightlitting - Lightweight (67.5kg), 1030; Lightweight (67.5kg), final, 1630.

Greco-Roman Wrestling — 48kg, 57kg, 62kg, 74kg, 82kg, 90kg 100kg-plus prelims, 0800; 57kg, 62kg, 82kg, 90kg prelims, 1500; 48kg, 74kg, 100kg-plus final, 1700.

Yachting - Men's and women's Lachner, tittle and sixth races, 1115; Europe, third race; Finn, third race; Men's and women's 470, third race; Flying Dutchman, third race; Star, third race; Soling, third race; Tornado third race, 1130.

Wednesday's TV

All hours are local

Eurosport - 24-hour coverage. Eurosport is a satellite channel which can be Eurosport is a satellite channel which can be received in Andorra, Austria, Belgium, Britain, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Gibraitar, Greece, Hungary Ireland, Italy, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Spain, Sweden and Switzerland.

Austria - 0600, 0800, 1310, 1700, 1805, 1835, 1930, 2015, 2300. Belglum - Tale21: 1200-1800, 1900-2300; TVTWEE: 1600-2300.

Britain - BBC-1: 0855-1255, 1420-1735, 2000-2100, 2225-2400; BBC-2: 1300-1420, 1735-1950. Denmark - DR: 0700, 0930, 0956, 1300, 1600, 1800, 2300; TV2: 0810, 0910, 1010, 1110, 1205, 1225, 1255, 1700, 2100. . .

Finland - TV2: 1800-2055; TV1: 2130-0100. Prance - FR3: 0900-1330, 2000-2230; TF1: |330-2000; Cenal + : 24-hour coverage. |Germany - ARD: 0600-2000; 2015-2230, 2300-

- ET-3: 1100-1300; ET-2: 1700-1855, 2400-0130.

treland - Network2: 0900-2400: Italy - FIAITRE: 0755-1400, 1950-2030, 2250-0030; RAIUNO: 1400-1630, 2040-2250; RAIDUE: 1630-1035. Nederlands - Nederland3: 0900-1755, 1820-

1830, 1850-2150, 2245-0030. Normay - NRK: 0750-1315, 1815-1830, 2225-Spain - TVE2: 0800-0100. Sweden - Kanal1: 0945-1755, 1925-2100, 2130-0100; TV2: 1755-1925, 2100-2130, Sufficient — DRS: 1055-1315, 1455-1715, 1730-1755, 2220-2300; DRS aports charmel: 1755-2240; TSI: 1055-1300, 1455-1730, 2800; TSR: 0600-0815, 1455-1730, 2305-2350.

ASIA/PACIFIC All hours are local.

nd States

Mark 18 Transfer Control State State

For the second s

PECTROVAN MRESTERME

a fire of managers

20- Feb. 1 Control Services Services 10042 (1975) (

Australia - The Seven Network: 0700-0800, 1200-1800, 1930. 1200-1800, 1930.
China — CCTV2: 0625-0800, 0916-1200, 1221-1306, 1312-1500, 2125-2155, 2215-2235; CCTV8: 1915-2100, 2110-2330.
Hong Kong — TV8 Pearl: 0700-0730, 0800-0830, 1745-1915, 2030-2130, 2400-0500; ATV:

0800-0900, 1830-2000, 2300-0300, 414, 0800-0900, 1830-2000, 2300-0300, 1705-1817, 2140-2300, 2400-0330; NHK B9-1; 0590-0530, Malaysia — TV3; 0600-0900, 1500-1800, 2230-

New Zeeland - TVNZ1; 1700-1800, 1930-1030. Singapore — SBC: 0600-0800, 1900-0300, South Korea — KBS1: 0600-0800, 0830-1230, 2200-0200; MBC; 0600-0645, 0740-0800, 1000-1300, 1740-1810, 2300-0300. Talwan — TTV: 1100-1200, 2100-2200; CTV: 1300-1700; CTS: 1700-1800, 2400-0200.
Theliand — BBTV5: 2230-0130, 0200-0300.

NORTH AMERICA All hours are EST

da - CTV: 0230. United States - NBC; 0700-1000, 1930-2400, 0035-0205.

Magic Johnson's knee problems didn't pain his teammates, from left, Michael Jordan, Patrick Ewing and Charles Barkley.

Clyde Drexier could probably handle a few possessions there. A U.S. victory would clinch a spot in the quarterfinals for the Americans, who have oever missed a beat when anyone else, be it Stockton or Bird or Patrick Ewing or David Robin-

The Germans know the task ahead, though Detlef Schrempf, the gifted 6-9 forward on loan from the Indiana Pacers, is as talented as any individual the Americans will see the rest of the man award for the second straight season, is familiar with the U.S. guys, and centers Hansi Gnad and Uwe Blab have had their NBA shots.

Still, the Germans were lucky to defeat Angola on Monday, holding on for a one-point win to even their record at 1-1 in Pool A.

The goal of every team is to make it some-

Schrempf, who won the NBA's best sixth- what closer and we're able to keep our faith for the oext two games after that."

> After playing Germany, the U.S. team has Thursday off before playing Oscar Schmidt, Marcel de Souza and the rest of the 0-2 Brazilian team, facing elimination from the quarterfinals if it loses a third straight game in its pool.

Johnson would like to be back for that game, what respectable," Schrempf said, "and oot get because the Brazilians made such a point at the beat by 50. I know we're going to get beat, but I Tournament of the Americas that they wanted hope it's not by 70 or 60. Hopefully it's someting the Americans, and at their best.

The U.S. election

Civil war in Yugoslavia

The breakup of the Soviet empire

Partition in Czechoslovakia

The global recession

These events affect all our lives. Shouldn't you be following them daily in the IHT?

> Subscribe 46% and save up to off the newstand price.

CALL US TOLL-FREE IN FRANCE: 05 437 437 GERMANY: 0130 848585 SWITZERLAND: 155 57 57

Or send in the coupon below.

Country/Currency		12 months + 2 months FREE	14 months newsstand rate	+ 1 month FREE
Austria	A. Sch.	5,800	2700	3.200
Selgum	B,Fr.	13,000	2080	7,100
Dermark	D.Kr.		3026	1,900
Finland	FM		3.00	1,200
hine	F.F.	1.800	$ $ 3000 ···	990
Germany (mail)	DM		E. 1892.	365
— "hand delivery	D.M.	810	3. 4,002
Great Britain			(A. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1. 1.	105
Greace	D.	65,000		36,000
irekand	छन्		2.546	120
Italy	Lite	450,000		250,000
Listenbourg	Lfr.	13,000	21340	7,100
Netherlands	FL		A 1 4 383 %	390
Narway	N.K.	3,300	# 5.086 . (C.)	1.800
Portugal	Stc	45,000	2000 14 a.m.
Span	Pics.		76,440	25,000
— hand deliv, Madrid	Plos	45,000	9.60	25,000
Sweden (armai)	S.K.	55,000	28.10	27,500
— hand delivery	S.Kr.	2,900	100 438	1,600
Switzerland	S.Fr.	3,300	436	1,800
Rest of Europe, N. Africa, former	- J.	590	* e 4.000	330
Franch Airco, Middle Sost	S		123
Rest of Africa, Gulf States, Asia	- -	630		345
Central/Latin Amenco * For information concerns Germany at: 0130-84351	$	780	×	430

Yes, I want to start receiving the IHT (my payment is enclosed). This is the subscription term I prefer (check appropriate baxes): 12 Months (364 issues in all 6 Months (182 issues in all with 52 bonus issues). My check is enclosed (payable to the International Herald Tribune). ☐ Please charge my Credit Card: ☐ AmericanSupress ☐ MasterCord ☐ VISA ☐ Diners Cub ☐ Eurocard ☐ Access ☐ Mr. ☐ Mrs. ☐ Mrs. ☐ Ars. FAMILY NAME

Everything you wanted to know about the world's press but didn't have anyone to ask...

...is probably in the 1992 edition of WORLD PRESS TRENDS.

Published by the International Federation of Newspaper Publishers (FIE).

Circulation, Adventising and Sales Revenues VAT and other taxes

This 175-page report gathers key information and data on the press industry in 30 major countries, analyzing circulation and revenues and the fiscal and regulatory environment. World Press Trends is a reference document giving both a global and country by country picture on the state of newspapers throughout the world shers associations in 38 countries, individual new ons and 14 national and international news agencies. In all, the F

Order Now by Mail or Face FAX (33-1) 46 37 06 51

Available through the International Herald Tribune 181 avenue Charles-de-Gaulle; 92521 Nauilly Codex, France

Analysis and Summary Trends from 1987 to 1991 on:

Advertising expenditure distribution per media

(newspapers, magazines, TV, radio, others).

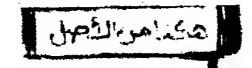

Readership, circulation, revenues.

Tax regimes; public subsidies;

Payment is by credit card only

Please ship ____ copies of the 1992 edition of "WORLD PRESS TRENDS" at 800 From francs ($140) each plus shipping: in Europe; francs ($5.50); ourside Europe 40 francs ($7).

Card Number:
Exp. Date	Sgnature	· ·
Name	 	 	-
Company
Address	·
City/Code/Country	 	•
	·
Td	Far.		29-7-92

SPORTS COLVE

OLYMPIC SCOREBOARD

MEDALS

A/PACIFIC

1992 A M J J

Change

÷2.09

0.69

-0.06

-0.67

0.32

-0.59

-1.23

+0.17

-1.23

Ciose Piev

5 654.39

1,422,34

1.506.30

589 70

3.0.

517.46

4,008 22

4.5.10

50.51

296 1288.40 +1.31

the economy.

inge 30 and the Mount

Resources Oy

in exampled 450 million;

... Crown Forest Industries

Riverside Forest

5. 4. million). rice for Table percent to 4.692

(27) [14 (ell 37.1 percent to in the first government was of provention the first ball to-

Functions and cut its profit

utting Plan

- ... - - un Tarre stock.

and the second second area de la constanta des over a least control of percents of the country of

Clarving Back

2.00 Extends

7,0773 1. 人名法格特赛

Hissile Program

алын ши Мир У

מאנים ושבירובי ביינו ב

riva, erer in sees,

ument yett

3.3.2

7.60 15.373 34 +0.35

.63

.40

9.10

7.57

Tokyo Nikkei 225 2.5

٠, ٢,

Country Standings

Unified Team Chias Germony South Korea

Tuesday's Finals

All DO

Men's Rami-berryweight
GOLD— Antal Kovacs, Hungary
SILVER— Raymond Stevens, British BRONZE— Theo Meller, Netherlands, and Omitri Sergeye, Unified Team
Werman's Hehrt-bearyweight
GOLD— Kim Mi-lung, South Korea
SILVER— Yoko Tanabe, Japan BRONZE— Loeitid Meignan, France, and Irene de Kok, Netherlands SHOOTING
Man's air pigget

SHOOTING
Man's der Pistel
GOLD— Wang Yifu, China
SILVER— Sergel Pyllanov, Unified Team
BRONZE— Sorin Bobil, Romania
Skeet, clay target

BRONZE— Sorin Bobil, Romania
Staet, clay target
GOLD— Zhong Shon, China
SILVER— Juan Jorge Giba Yarur, Peru
BRONZE— Bruno Mario Resetti, Italy
SWIMMING
Women's 400-meter freestyle
GOLD— Dogmar Hose, Germony
SILVER— Jonet Evons, United States
BRONZE— Hoyley Lewis, Australia
Men's 180-meter freestyle
GOLD— Alexander Popov, Unified Team
SILVER— Gustova Barges, Bruzil
BRONZE— Stephan Caron, France
Women's 180-meter backstroke
GOLD— Krisztina Egerszesi, Hungary
SILVER— Tunde Szabo, Hungary, BRONZE— Lea Loveless, Unified States
Men's 200-meter backstroke
GOLD— Martin Lopez-Zubero, Spoin
SILVER— Viodimir Salkov, Unified Team
BRONZE— Stefana Battistelli, Italy
Women's 400-meter freestylo relay
GOLD— United States
SILVER— Stefana Battistelli, Italy

SILVER -- China BRONZE -- Germany WEIGHTLIFTING Feotherweight (60kg)
GOLD— Neim Suleymanosiu, Turkey
SILVER— Nikolai Peshelov, Bolgarie
BRONZE— He Yins Diens, China
GRECO-ROMAN WRESTLING

SZRØ
GOLD— Jon Ronningen, Norway
SILVER— Alfred Ter-Mkritchian, Unified Toom BRONZE— Min Kyung-kas, South Karea

GOLD- Attilo Repka, Hungary SILVER— Islam Dusuchiev, United Tean BRONZE— Rodney Smith, United States

GOLD— Hector Parez, Cuba SILVER— Dennis Koslovski, United States BRONZE— Sergel Demischkleyitch United Teom

SHOOTING

MEN'S AIR PISTOL
Final

1. Wang Yifu, China, 6848 points; 2, Serguel
Pyllanov, Unified Tearn, 684.11 1, Sorin Babil,
Romania, 684.1; 4. Xu Haifens, China, 681.5; 5, Sokari Johannes Paosanen, Finland, 680.1; 6,
Jerzy Pietrzak, Pokand, 680.1; 7, Tanvo Khristov Kirvakov, Bulgaria, 679.7; 8, Roberto Di
Donna, Italy, 678.5; 9, Kim Sean-II, South Korea, 581; 14, Stanislav Jirkal, Czechoslovakia, 581; 11, Philippe Coka, France, 579.

12, Spass Gueorgulev Kaprinkov, Bulgaria,
578; 13, Hors-Jurgen Neumoler, Germany, 578;

578; 13. Hons-Jurgen Neumoler, Germany, 578; 5/16; 13, Hors-Jurgen Neumoner, Germany, 2/18; 14, Ishan Agit, Hungary, 5/17; 14, Ben Amonette, United States, 5/17; 14, Rodney Colwell, Conada, 5/17; 14, Shein-Olov Fiskebeck, Norway, 5/17; 14, Mamoru Incsakil, Japen, 5/17; 19, Phillie Ad-ams, Australia, 5/6; 19, Gernot Eder, Germany, 5/6; 19, Francisca Sanz Cancia, Spain, 5/6. TARGET SKEET

TARGET SICET
Final

1. Zhans Shan, China, 223 points; 2. Juan
Jorge Giba Yorur, Peru, 222, (offer shoot-off);

2. Bruna Morte Rossetti, Boty, 222; 4. Ioan
Taman, Romania, 222; 5. Jose Mar la Colorada
Gonzalez, Spain, 222; 4. Martitiew Dryke, Unitset States, 221; 7. Luce Scribani Ross, Hoty, 197; 8. Eric Swinkels, Netherlands, 197; 9,
Zhang Xindons, China, 197; 10, Firma Emilia
Roberti Buebud, Argentina, 197; 11, Lubus
Adamec, Czechoslovakia, 197; 11, James Gravez, United States, 197; 11, Alexandra Tcherkassov, Unified Team, 197.

WEIGHTLIFTING

(6-KILOGRAM CLASS Final Final I. Noim Sulsymonostu. Turkey, 142.5 snotch. 177.5 clean and lerk. 220.0 total; 2. Nikoka Stover Peshatov, Butgaria, 137.5.167.5. 252.3; 1. He Yitsalans, China, 130.0. 165.8. 275.0; 4. Neno Stovanov Yerzilaki, Butgaria, 130.165.2, 252.5; 5. Voterios Leonáldi, Graeca. 127.5. 162.5. 252.5; 6. Ru Hyan II. North Korea. 127.5. 160.0. 287; 5. 7. Artilo Czonka. Hungary. 127.5. 167.5. 252.0; 8. L. I. Goe Son. North Korea. 130.0. 190.0. 280.0; 9. Marcus Stephen. Western Somoci. 177.5. 167.5. 255.0; 8. L. J. Oze Son. North Korea. 130.0. 190.0. 280.0; 9. Marcus Stephen. Western Somoci. 177.5. 167.5. 250.0; 18. Poul Bello Toracco. Romonic, 120.0. 155.0. 255.0. 11. Yosuter twents. Japon. 120.0. 130.0. 270.8; 12. Marco Spanishi. Germanty. 117.5. 150. 267.5; 14. Suplano Kafila, Indonesia, 117.5. 150. 267.5; 15. Reuven Hedinatov, Israel. 115.6, 150.0. 267.5; 14. Azzedine Basbus, Alseria, 115.6, 150.0. 265.5; 14. Azzedine Basbus, Alseria, 115.6, 150.0. 265.5; 17. David Bally. France.

, rio, 1150, 1500, 2650; 17, David Bale, France, 1200, 1425, 2625; 18, Bryon Jacob, United States, 1775, 1450, 2625; 19, Riadh Khedher, Iroq, 122.5, 140.0; 262.5; 20, Kazuo Sato, Japan,

, 21, Juse Horocia Villegas Sarria, Calambia, 117.5, 149.0, 257.5; 22, Siveral Naciambihu Pil-iol, India, 115.8, 149.0, 255.0; 22, Cecillo Leal lol, India, 1153, 1403, 2550; 22. Cacillo Ladi Sonchez, Spain, 1153, 1403, 2550; 24. Gustovo Malauskos Mantredi, Arpentina, 1653, 1453, 2836; 25. Juon Menuel Cueto Ortega, Domini-con Republic, 1125, 1353, 2475; 26. Marcalo Gondolfo Loez, Argentina, 1975, 1353, 2425; 27. J. Mattide Cebalkos Jimenez, Panoma, 1103, 1303, 250 0; 22. Abdolfol Juna, Kenva, 1803, 1150, 2150; 29. Osman Marcanares Bon-illa, Honduras, 925, 1159, 2975; 30. Martinela Randriamanniva, Madagoscar, 853, 1103. 1850; Bracer Barrio Marcando, Colombia.

72 Kilispram
72 Kilispram
Round 1
Irana De Kak, Netherlands, def. Lastitia Melantan, France: Ulta Werbrouck, Belgium,
def. Sandra Godinho, Portusal; Kaharina Hokansaan, Sweden, def. Hell Johanna Syria, Filkland: Skin ka Mensen Gattlerree, Oubuldef.

Elena Bessova, Team Unified: Josie Harton, Britain, def. Sandra Bandra Backer, Unified & States; Kim Mi-Jung, South Korea, def. Pulawati Utama Susilio Rahayu. Indonesia.

Rosed 2
Ireno De Kok, Netherlands, def. Simona Marchia Bictore, Porsenia: Ulia Werbrouck.

Marcala Richter, Romania; Ulia Werbrouck. Betelum, def. Asenoca Lesivakaruakitotava, Filir, Kafurina Hakanason, Sweden, def. Ma-lade Erisane Nsuema, Gobon; Yoko Tar-abe, Japan, def. Cristina Corto Luque, Spain;

S. Y

1150, 1450, 2600.

JUDO

MEN'S AIR PISTOL

Final

1, Dagmor Hote, Germany, 4:07,18; 2, Jonet Evans, United States, 4:07,37; 2, hotyley Jone Lewis, Australia, 4:11,22; 4, Erika Hossen, United States, 4:17,50; 5, Kerstin Kielposs, Germany, 4:11,52; 6, Isobella Arabuki, Beigland, 4:13,75; 7, Mailir Nilsson, Sweden, 4:14,10; 8, Subu Chibo, Jopan, 4:15,71, Cassiation Final

1, Philippa Langrell, New Zeoland, 4:12,76; 2, Sandra Cam, Belgium, 4:14,11; 3, Irane Dalby, Norway, 4:14,46; 4, Beatrice Nicoleta Conda, Romania, 4:14,90; 5, Carlo-Creolo Negros, Romania, 4:14,90; 5, Carlo-Creolo Negros, Romania, 4:14,92; 6, Oiga Spiichalova, Czechoslovakia, 4:16,41; 7, Manuelo Melchiorii, Italy, 4:20,73; 8, Hana Cerna, Czechochlorri, Italy, 4:20,75; & Hong Cerno, Czechoslovakla, 4:21.50. WOMEN'S 100-METER BACKSTROKE WOMBIN'S 180-METER BACKSTRDKE Final.

1. Krisztina Egerszegi, Hungary, 1 minute 00.68 seconds; 2. Tunde Szoba, Hungary, 1:07.14; 3. Leo Loveless, United States, 1:07.25; 4. Nicole Stevenson, Australia, 1:07.75; 5. Joseph Wagstoff, United States, 1:01.51; 6. Jacone Mechan, Australia, 1:02.07; 7. Nina Jivanevskala, Unified Team, 1:02.36; 8. Yako Kalkawa, Japan, 1:03.23.

WOMEN'S 40-M FREESTYLE RELAY Final

1, United States (Nicole Haislett, Dara Tor-1, United States (Micole Haislett, Dara Tor-res. Argel Martina, Jenny Thompson | 3 min-utes, 37.46 seconds (world record): 2, China (Zhuang Yang, Lu Bin, Yang Wenyi, Le Jin-gyri 3:40.12; 2, Germany | Franzista Van Almsick, Simone Osygus, Danielo Hunger, Manuelo Stellmachi 3:43.46; 4, Uniffed Teom, 2:43.68; 5, Netherlands, 3:43.47; 6, Denmark, 5:47.81; 7, Sweden, 3:48.47; 8, Conada, 3:49.37.

Spain; Reging Felicities Schuttenheim, Ger-many, del. Niurka Marene Gutterrez, Cubo; Josie Horton, Britain, def. Soroia Andre. Bro-zii; Kim Mi-Juna, South Korea, def. Alson Webb, Conada; Katerzyna Juszczek, Poland, def. Mario Canga. Ecuador. ROWING

Round 3 Irene De Kok, Netherlands, det, Ulig War-

Irene De Kok, Netherlands, det. Ulig Wer-brouck, Belalum; Yoko Tanabe, Jasen, def. Katarina Hakansson, Sweden; Jasie Horton, Bribain, def. Regino Felicitas Schuttanheim, Germany; Kim Mi-Jusa, South Korea, def.

Rouad 1
Jorge Aguirre Wordt, Arpentino, def. Pat
Roberge, Canada; Rodu Ivan, Romania, def.
Dettet Knorrett, Germany; Stephane Yndineou, France, def. Hengky Pie, Indonesia, Round 2

Masolastvill, Israel.
Stephane Traineau, France, def. Bjorni Aspeir Fridriksson, Icolond; Leo White, Seaside.
Callf., det. Aimon Elshewv. Eayst: Yesushre
Kal. Japan. def. Dano Panilic. Independent;
Theo Moller, Netherlands, def. Violada Burba, Lithuania; Aurelio Bernandez Miguel, Brazil,
def. Mamute Mbamba, Zalire; Jil'i Sana, Czechoslovakia def. Mohamed Aiv Doukoure,
Guineo; Antal Kovoca, Humoarv, def. Molses
Martins Tarres, Angola, Dmitri Sargeev, Unifled Team, def. Vadims Volnovs, Latvia,
Round 3
Odvop Ballimyann, Mangolia, def. Jarge

Odvop Ballinnyam, Mangotta, def. Jorge Aguirre Wardi. Argentins: Pawel Nashid, Paland, def. Robert Von De Wallo, Belakam; Raymond Stevens, Britain, def. Rodu Ivan, Romania; Belarmine Salgodo Martinez, Cuba, def. Luisi Guido, Italy; Lao White, United States, def. Stechane Traineau, France; Theo Meiler, Netherlands, def. Yasuhiro Kol, Japan; Aurelio Bernandez Mauel, Brazil, def. Jiri Sasna, Czechoslovakia; Antal Kovacs, Hungary, def. Dmitri Sergeev, Unified Tsom.

Round 4
Pawel Nastula, Poland, del, Odvog Ballin-

nyan, Mangolla; Raymond Sevens, Britain, def. Bekarmina Solpado Martinez, Cuba; Theo Meller, Netherlands, def. Leo White. United States; Antol Kavacs, Hungary, def. Aurelia Bernandez Miguel, Brazil.

MEN'S 101-METER FREESTYLE

Final '

SWIMMING

WOMEN'S SINGLE SCULLS ELIMINATIONS (First 3 to semifical, rest to repechage)

(First 3 to semificate rest to repectory: Heart 1 1. Anne Marden United States, 7:40.12; 2, Silk-en Laumann, Conada, 7:46.16; 2, Antonia Svater, Greece, 7:51.25; 4. Patricia Reid, Britain, 8:00.64; 5, Violeta Yordanovo, Bulgarin, 0:06.41.

8:50.64; 5. Violeta Yordanova, Sulgaria, 0:98.41. Heat 2 1, Annelles Bretadel, Belgium, 7:50, 02; 2. Corinne Le Mool, France, 7:50,94: 2. Beate Schramm, Germany, 8:00.81; 4. Kristina Po-plovskala, Littuania, 8:06.31; 5, Kim Fol Ho, Hong Kong, 5:1219.

Hong Kong, 5:1219.

Next: 2

1. Elisobeta Liza, Romania, 7:4294; 2. Mario Brandin, Sweden, 7:4701; 3. Irene Elis, Netherlants, 7:52,13; 4. Andrea Cass, Austro-les, 7:50.0: 5. Kotalin Sartos, Hungary, 8:00.5.

Repechase
(First 3 to sentified; rest est of consectifion)

1. Patricia Reid, Britain; 2. Andrea Coss, Austrolia; 3. Kristina Paplayskaja, Liftwania; 4. Violeta Yordanova, Bulgaria; 5. Ho Kom Fol, Hong Kong; 4. Katalin Sartos, Hungary, WOMEN'S QUADRUPLE SCULLS

8LIMINATION

Réund 2

Jorge David Aguirre Wardi, Argentina, dei.
Moussa Satt. Senepol; Odvor Beitinnyam, Mangolia, def. Joseph Ndilmbi, Gaboni; Pawel
Nashria. Poland, def. Yoon Sans-Sik. Korse;
Robert Van De Walle, Betgium, def. Poscol
Kaya. Central African Republic via welkover; Radu Ivan, Ramania, def. Parrial Legras. Hairas, Haiti; Raymond Stevens, Britain, def. Indrak Perteban, Estania; Betarmina Salpado Martinez, Cuba, def. Illos
Niloss, Greece; Luigi Guido, Italy, def. Simon Magalashvill, Israel.

Stephane Traineau, France, def. Bjarni As-BLIMINATION (First to floor A, rest to resectoses)

1. Germany (Kersin Aweller, Sybille Schmidt, Birgil Peter, Kristina Aweller, 6:24.79; 2. Romania, 6:27.51; 2. Holland, 6:33.84; 4. China, 6:40.32; 5. Bulgaria, 6:46.40.

6:33,84; 4, Chino, 6: 40,36; 5, Bulgario, 6: 46,40.

Nest 2

1. Unified Team | Ekalerina Khadatavlich,
Antonina Zelfikovlich, Tailana Ousfloujonina,
Elena Khloptsavol, 6:36,17; 2, United Slotes,
6:36,72; 3, Czechaslovakia, (Lubica Novotnikava, Akichaela Bursaova, Hona Kafturu, Irana Saukupaval 6:37,20; 4, Denmark, 7:80,34,
WOMEN'S COXED EIGHTS ELIMINATION ELIMINATION

1, Conada I Kirsten Barnes, Brenda Taylor, Mesam Delehaniy, Shannon Crawford, Mar-nie Mchean, Kay Worthinston, Jessica Mon-roe, Kathleen Heddie, Lesley Thompsoni 6:11.44; 2, China, 6:14.59; 3, United States, 6:15.52; 4, Czechoslovakia, 6:31.54.

 Germany (Amesiret Strouch, Sylvia Doerdelmann, Kathrin Hoocker, Done Pyritz, Cerstin Petersmann, Ute Wagner, Christiane Horzendorf, Judith Zeidier, Doniela Neunosti :11.70; 2. Unitled Team, 5; 15.04; 3. Roma 6:16.74; 4 Britoin, 6:21, 63, Resectage (First 4 to Finef A, rest to Finel B)

(First 4 in Finet A, rest to Finet B)

1. Czechoslovakia Licaka Zavaditova,
Eliska Jondova, Renoto Beronkova, Mortina
Setcikova, Sabina Telenska, Michaela Vavrova, Hana Zakova, Hana Doriusova, Lenka
Kavacoval J 2. United States (Tina Brown, Shannon Dov, Betsy Mccaoo, Mary Mccaoo, Sorah Genoier, Tracy Rude, Kelley Jones,
Diana Olson, Yasmin Fornoqi J 2. China (Lin
Thini. Ala Lineta, Pet Jirvan, Na Yapuwa, Liu MEN'S 108-METTER FREESTYLE Final

1, Alexander Papov, Unified Team, 49,82 seconds; 2, Gustava Borges, Brazil, 49,43; 3, Shephan Caron, France, 49,50; 4. Jon Dissn. United States, 49,51; 5. Mott Bloodi, United States, 49,53; 6. Toamy Werner, Sweden, 49,43; 7. Christian Troeser, Germany, 49,4; 8. Genady Prisoda, Unified Team, 50,25.
Consolation Final

1. Ricardo J. Busaur's Hechy, Puerto Rica, 49,92; 2, Rainundas Mazuolis, Ultimonia, 50,12; 4. Nils Rudolph, Germany, 50,42; 5. John Steel, New Zeoland, 50,69; 6. Christopher John Fyder, Autimila, 50,78; 7, Roberta Glerio, Holy, 50,81; 8. Andrew Balldon, Australia, 50,93. Diana Otson, Yasmin Foronai; 2 China (Lin Zhiai, Ma Linain, Pel Jiayun, He Yanwan, Liu Xirone, Liane Xilina, Coo Mawring, Zhou Shauyina, Li Ronghaoj; 4 Unified Team (Svetlana Fil, Marina Zhaoi, Irina Gribka, Sarsiauk, Natello Grigorieva, Ekoterina Kotko, Elena Medvedevali 3, Romanio; 6 Britain, MEN'S COXED PAIRS ELishi RATIONS

Heat 1

1, Poland (Platr Basta, Tomasz Mruczkowski, Bariosz Srazi, 7:02.12; 2, France, 7:02.77; 3, Spain, 7:04.67; 4, Austria, 7:14.29; 5, Czechoslovokia, 1:18.87; 6, Brazil, 7:18.62.

1, Britoin Lientina Searle, Gree Searle, Gorry Gerord, Paul Herbertl, 6:5431; 2, Re-mania, 6:5487; 3, Cuba, 7:0467; 4, Germany, 7:07,60; 5, Bulgaria, 8:0356, I, Heat 3

Australia, 90.8; 7, Roberta Gierlo, Haly, 50.81; 8, Andrew Boildon, Austrolia, 50.93, MEN'S 200-METER BACKSTROKE Fleat

1, Martin Lopez-Zubera, Spoin, 1 minute 58.47 seconds; 2, Viodimir Selkov, Unified Team, 1:56.87; 3, Stefano Battistelli, Haly, 1:59.40; 4, Helline 104, Japon, 1:59.20; 5, Tripp Schwenk, Unified States, 1:99.20; 4, Tipp Meters Committee, 1:99.20; I, flaty (Cormine Abbaanale, Giuseppe Ab-baanale, Giuseppe DI Copular), 7,00.42.2, Liffu-cola, 7,94.71.5, United States, 7,94.76; 4, Uni-fled Team, 7;22.61; 5, Argentina, 7;39.32, MENS COXLESS FOURS ELIMINATIONS United States, 1:97/31 & Tino Weber, Germony, 1:97/81, 7, Tamos Deutsch, Nursarry, 2:00.06; 8, Stefaon Moerie, Belgium, 2:00.91, WOMEN'S 488-MECTER FREESTYLE 1, United States (William Burden, Jeffre McCoughlis, Thomas Bohrer, Bobylot, Pat-rick Manningi, 6:00:93; 2. New Zooland, 6:01.01; 3, Stownic, 6:0491; 4, France, 6:15.23; 5. Remania, 6:24. 63.

Heat 2 koy, Nicholos Green, James Tamkinsi, 5:59.10; 2. Netherlands, 6:01.19; 3; Germany, 6:09.07; 4. Britain, 6:22.73; 5. Estonia, 6:27.97.

1. Spoin (Fernancia Huerta, Jose Maria De Marco Perez. Jun Luis Aguirre Barco, Pernando do Molina Costillo). 6:01.51: 2. Italy, 6:02.26: 3. Unified Team. 6:02.84. 4. Condot. 6:03.97. MEN'S QUADRUPLE SCULLS ELIMINATION

Neat 1 . 1. Germany (Andre Willims, Andreas Holek, 1. Germany (Andre Willims, Andreas Holek, Srephan Volker), Michael Steinbach), 5:454; 2. Holy, 5:46,47; 2. Unified Toam, 5:52,69; 4. Sweden, 5:36,00; 3. Britoin, 5:57, 18. Heart 2. 1. France (Florenzo Di Glovenni, Fobrice Leciere, Yves Lomeroue, Samuel Borothary), 5:47,80; 2. Holland, 5:47,39; 3. Betalant, 5:53,47; 4. Poland, 5:54,13; 5. Austria, 6:61,12. Neet 3.

Near 3 1, Norway (Lors Blonnes

1. Norway (Lors Biomess, Roff Thorsen, Kietii Undset, Per Albert Scotersdoll, 5:44,83; 2.5wftzerland, 5:47,14; 2. Australla, 5:49,15; 4. United Slotes, 5:49,28; 5, Spain, 5:55,59. MEN'S COXED EIGHTS ELIMINAYIDNS MEN'S COXED EIGHTS ELIMINATIONS
Heat 1

1, Canada (John Wolloce, Broce Robertson, Michael Forgeron, Darren Barber, Robert Mariand, Michael Rascher, Andrew Croeby, Derek Parter, Terrence Pout J. 5:32.57; 2, Brit0ln,5:36.01; 3. South Atrico, 5:37.83; 4. Czechooln, 5:34,91; 3, South Atrica, 5:37,85; a, Gzecno-slevekia, 5:41,85; 5, Japan, 5:42,97.

Heat 2

1, Remenic, Hach Vizitu, Danet Dobre, Cloudiu Marin, Iviica Ruican, Vireit Taksan, Vasile Mostocan, Marin Ghearshe, I 5:30,21; 2, Germany, 5:32,98; 3, Denmark, 5:34,65; 4, Hely, 5; 44,97; 5, Santo, 5:42,34.

Heat 3

1. United Stotes (Michael Tell, Christian Sohe, James Scott Munn, Jeffrey Klebacki, Robert Shepherd, Malcolm Boker, Richard Kennelly, John Parker, Michael Moorel 5:13.37; 3. Austrolia, 5:34.28; 3. United Team, 5:38.59; 4. China, 3:38.98.

MENTS SPRINGBOARD PRELIMINARY

DIVING

MENTS SPRINGBOARD PRELIMINARY

(Top 12 advance to final)

1. Tan Llangde, China. 426.390 points: 2.

Mark Lenzi, United Stales, 409,110; 2. Albin Kiliat, Germany, 392.100; 4. Voleri Statsenka, Unified Team, 382.200; 5. Jerce Mondrogen Vacquez, Mexica, 394.489; 6. Dmitri Soudine, Unified Team, 384.89; 6. Dmitri Soudine, Unified Team, 384.89; 7. Edwin Jongelans, Netherlands, 383.130; 8. Michael Murphy, Australia. 381.300; 9. Mark Rourke, Conada, 379.200; 10. Jookim Andersson, Sweden, 378.480; 11. Davide Larenzini, Italy, 375.570; 12. Kenf Fersuson, United States, 374.220.

13. David Bedard, Conada, 372.540; 14. Lan Wel, China, 369.990; 15. Bob Morgan, Britain, 384.60; 17. Fernando Piotos Alvarez, Moxica, 388.69; 17. Fernando Piotos Alvarez, Moxica, 388.69; 17. Fernando Piotos Alvarez, Moxica, 385.470; 18. Jon Hampel, Germany, 333.850; 19. Christian Styren, Narvary, 347, 940; 28. Evan Sinwari, Zimbobwe, 345.870; 27. Ison Gamogi-shi, Japon, 344.400; 22. Niki Stalikovic, Austria, 397.50; 23. Jose Conizares, Sogin, 336.840; 24. Jursen Richter, Austria, 336.750, 322.30; 24. Alexee Kogelev, Belgium, 323.440; 27, Peter Ivanov Trilinov, Buigario, 328.20; 29. Alessandro De Botton, Italy, 212.690; 29. Phillippe Duvernay, Franca, 319.140; 39. Cralo Vaushan, South Africa, 297.510; 31, Kello Kaneta, Japan, 295.740; 22. Grzesorz Kardronski, Poland, 226.060.

BOXING

BANTAMWEIGHT (54 Kilogram)

BANTAMWEIGHT (54 Kilogram)
First Round
Wavne Mccullough, Ireland, del. Fredrick
Muteweto, Ugando, 29-7; Chatree Suwanyod, Tholland, del. Viadislav Antonov. UniEed
Teum, 6-4; Mohammed Soba, Nigeria, del,
Robert Cibo, Polond, RSC, 2:27 3rd round;
Serolim Simeonov Yodorov, Bulgaria, del,
John Sem, Popua New Guinea, 11-8; Joseph Chango, Zambla, del, Mogna Ruben Rulz SanChez, Guatemola, 7-3, Li Gwang Sik, North Korea, def, Laszia Boanor, Hungary, ret, 1;00 3rd round; Sergia Reves, U.S. del, Harold Romirez Ganzalez, Puerto Rica, 10-1, MUDDLEWEIGHT (75 Kilogram)
Round of 16
Chris C. Byrd, U.S., del, Mark Edwards, Britaln, 21-3; Alexandre Lebziak, Unified Teom, shaped, Justann Crawford, Australia,
1 minute Ss seconds, 2 Round; Ahmed Dine,
Algeria, del, Tommada Russa, Indiv. PTS 6-4;
Raymond Joval, Holland, shaped, Likou Allu, Western Samoo, 1:3d, 3 Round,
NEAVYWEIGHT (91 Kilogram)
Round of 16
Arnold Van Der Lilige, Holland, et Freelia

Round of 16

Arnold Van Der Lilde, Holland, def, Emello Left, Western Somoo, 14-9; Paul Douolos, Ire-land, def. John Potterson, Sweden, 8-1; Alexel Tchouolinov, Unified Team, def, Vidas Morkevicius, Lithuppid, 7-3.

CYCLING

any, 10.252 seconds 1, Jens Fledler, Ge

Roberto Chiappa, Italy, 10,516; 5, Jose Moren Perinan, Spain, 10,550; 6, Keni Carpenter United States, 10,561; 7, Frederic Magne Oranea States, 18361; 7, Frederic Magne, France, 10,417; 0, Alonar Kitsia, Lotvia, 10,749; 9, Eric Schoefs, Belgium, 19,819; 14, Jarrostov Jerabek, Czechoslovakia, 10,873; 11, Kelli Kollima, Jopan, 10,992 12, Rolf Furrer, Swifzerland, 10,935; 13, Jose

Morta Lavito Morales, Argentino, 11.024; 14 Nikolat Kovch, Unified Toom, 11.030; 15, Jhon Nikotal Kovch, Untifed Tourn, 11,200; 15, Jhonn Jalme Gouzalez Jimenez, Colombia, 11,097; 16, Jan Andrews, New Zealand, 11,102; 17, Dirk-Jan Van Hamerez, Netherlands, 11,284; 18, Maxwell Cheesman, Trialdad & Tobogo, 11,448; 19, Livingstone Alleryne, Barbados, 11,559; 20, Andrew Mark Myerk, Jamadica, 11, 537; 21, Collimanta Tutts Wildoto, Indonesia, 11,97; 22, Sean Bloch, South Africa, 12,186; 23, Parin Androlin Medical Residence, 11,181; 11, 86. Padra Antonio Vaca Montero, Bolivia, 12, 34, WOMEN'S INDIVIDUAL SPRINT PRE-LIMIRARY I, Ingrid Haringa, Netherlands, 11, 419 sec-onds: 2, Felicio Boliomeer, France, 11, 508; 3, Anneti Neumann, Germany, 11,489; 4, Galino

Enukhing, Unified Team, 11.679; 5. Tany Dubnicotf, Canada, 11.773; é, Eriko Sa Estania, 11.657; 7, Canale Paraskevia-Columber, Landon, 11,7/3; & Eriko Solumbe, Estania, 11,87; 7, Comnie Paraskavin-Youns, Indianopolis, Ind., 11, 946; 8, Rillo Ruzmaria, Lithuania, 12,88; 9, Wans Yon, China, 12,154; 14, Aliko Kuraki, Jopan, 12,51; 11, Conjeta Larred Chirinos, Vanezuela, 12,608; 13, Otgo BASKETBALL

MONDAY'S LATE GAME

TUESDAY'S RBSULTS India 1, Argentina 0 Unified 7com 7, Motovsia 2 Australio 5, Egypt 1 Pokiston 1, New Zeolond 0 Neitherlands 3, Spoin 2 Germany 2, Britoin 0 SPAIN 187, ERAZIL 188 SPAIN 181, ERAZIL 188
Brazil (40-100): Top Scorers—Villos Boos 916-0-3 20, Guerre 1-2-0-4, Victorino 5-6-0-13, Viana 2-3-0-6, Schmidt 11-173-10-44, Totals 3033-4-17-100. Rebounds—38 (Victorino 10, Viena 4, Santos 5, Machado 5), Assists—7 (Villos Boos 3, Guerro 21, Foels—37, Fouted eah—Guerra, Victorina, Viana.
Spain (53-101): Top Scorers—Villocompo 516-48-25, Jofresa 1-5-3-3-11, Jimenez 8-16-0-18, Orengo 3-40-612, Andreu 3-18-0-12, Totals 34-51
9-20-101, Rebounds—26, Lofresa 4, Jimenez 7, Andreu 51, Assists—18 (Arcego 2, Jofresa 3, Jimenez 2, Herreros 51, Foels—30, Foeled out—Jofresa, Orengo, Andreu

TUESDAY'S RESULTS Talwan 1& Puerto Rico 1 United States 10, right 0, 8 innings MONDAY LATE SCORES 12 Spain 1

VOLLEYBALL

Brozil Unified Team

TUESDAY'S RESULTS Cuba 3, Algeria 0 (15-4, 15-2, 15-3)

is, ie-i4| Frence: 2. Josep 2 (15-8, 9-15, 15-11, 10-15, 15-9) Brazil 2. Unified Teem 1 | 15-6, 15-7, 15-9, 16-14| Iledy 3. Spelo 8 (16-14, 15-6, 15-7)

FIELD

Arsenting Egypt

Spala Unified Team New Zealand

SOCCER

HOCKEY

MEN

Pool A

TUESDAY'S RESULTS

Sweden 4, Morocco 0 Poroguoy 0, South Korea 0 Spain 2. Egypt 0

YACHTING

MEN'S 476 CLASS, RACE TWO 1. Eduardo Costo and Bernardo Multer, Bra-zil, 4,00 points; 2. Morton Reeser and Kavin Burnham, United States, United States, 2,00; 2, Poul Brotherion and Andrew Herminas, Britain, 5,70; 4, Herman Johannessen and Pol Mccarthy, Norway, 8.00; 5, Shinil Otsu and Motahica Hirobe, Japan, 10.00; é. Dirk Bel mons and Johan Bellemans, Belalum, 11.70; Anomalica Hirobo, Japan, 10,00) & Dirk Belle-mans and Joian Bellemans, Belgium, 11,70; 7.
Magnus Lundgren and Urban Lagoeus, Swe-den, 13,00; & Nisel Cochrone and Jeffrey Eck-ard, Conoda, 14,00; 9, Craie Greenwood and Jon Bilber, New Zeotond, 15,00; 10, Jord Coloffor and Francisco Sunchez, Sepin, 14,00; 11, Tonu Toniste and Toomas Todiste, Estonia, 17,00.

WOMEN'S OF CLASS, RACE TWO 1, Yumiko Shigo and Alicia Kinoshito, Ja-par. 6.00 points; 2. Theresa Zabell and Patri-cia Guerra. 5poin. 3.00; 2. Mario Quarra and Anna Barabino, Italy, 5.70; 4. Cloudia Swan and Monica Scheel. Brazil, 8.00; 5. Lestio Ecnot and Janet Shearer, New Zoaland, 10.00; & Jennifer Isler and Pamela Healy, United Styates, 11.70, 7, Pepp Hardwiger and Christina Pinnow. Germany, 13.00: & Debra Jarvisond Sue Carr. Britain, 14.00: 9, Ida Andersen and Tonje Krisleasen, Neutry, 100 Andersen and Tohle Kris-leasen, Norway, 15.00; 10, Jennifer Lidgert and Addy Bucek, Australia, 16.00; 11, Fiorence Le Brun and Odlie Barre, France, 17.00; 12, Susanne Ward and Marienne Helifan, Den-mark, 18.00; 12, Penny Stamper and Sorah Malana, Canada, 18.00 Mclean, Canada, 19.00.

chik. Unitled Team, 20.00; 15, Renata Srbova and Radmilo Dobnerovo, Crechoslovokia. 21.00; 14, Margarita Pazas and Karla Gutlerrez. Mexico, 22.00; 17, Katri Laike o Siungo-Taliberg, Finland, 23.08,

MODERN PENTATHLON

INDIVIDUAL CROSS COUNTRY

1. Manuel Barrosa, Portugal, 12 minutes
26.07 seconds, 127 points; 2, imre Tildemann,
Estania, 12:43.0, 1276: 3, Edward Zenovka,
Unified Team, 12:50.02, 1255; 4. Christophe
Ruer, France, 12:55.76, 1240, 5. Gintarus Staskevicius, Lithuania, 12:56.97, 1227. 130-KILOGRAM ELIMINATION Round 1
Group A
Alexandre Kareline, Unified Team, def. Andrew Borodow. Canada, pin; Condido Mesa Rasell, Cuba, def. Boungama Toure, Senegal, pin; Milan Radakovic, Independent, def. Guli-

TEAM CRDS COUNTRY

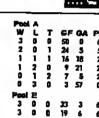

1, Lithuania I Viadimiras Macialovas, Gintras Sloskevicius, 7omos Nariusi, 321 points, 2, Unified Team, 3573, 3, France, 3344, 4, Spoin, 3572, 5, Hungary, 3489, 6, Britain, 3480, 7, OVERALL INDIVIDUAL

OVERALL INDIVIDUAL
(After four evento: fencine, shooting, swimming and cross country)

1. Edouard Zenovko, Unlifled Team, 4625; 2. Arkadivsz Skrzypaszek, Poland, 4519; 3. Arkio Mizser, Humpary, 455; 4. Girthros Stoskevicius. Lithuonko, 4374; 5. Christophe Ruer, Franca, 4509; 6. Jose Enriquez, Mexico, 456; 7. Richard Phelps, Britoin, 436; 8. Anotolii Starostine, United Team, 4337; 9. Rob Stull. United States, 4329; 16. Roberto Bomprezzi, Itoly, 4316; 11. Inner Tildemonn, Estonio, 4310; 12. J.M. Gostiolan, United States, 4295.

TEAM TOTALS 1, Unified Team 13,168; 2, Poland, 12,996; 3, Hungary, 12,981; 4, France, 12,758, Unified States, 12,754; 6, Lithuania, 12,650; 7, Hoty, 12,410; 8, Sritain, 12,541; 9, Germany, 12,527; 10, Czechoslovaka, 12,484; 11, Sweden, 12,42; 12, Mexica, 12,270; 13, Spain, 12,079; 14, South Korea, 12,006; 15, Latvia, 11,861; 16, Egypt,

ROLLER HOCKEY

TUESDAY'S RESULTS Switzerland 9, Japan 2 Angolo 2, Austrelio 0 Portugal 1, Argentina 0 Italy 15, United States 2

MONDAY'S RESULTS

WRESTLING

52-KILOGRAM

Final Jon Ronningen (Gold), Norway, del Alfrei Ter-Muritchian I Silveri, Unified Team, 15- if 1.0; Min Kyung-kap (Branze), South Korea, det. Shown Sheldon, United States, retired. 68-KILOGRAM

Final
Affilio Repka | Goldi, Hungary, def. Islam
Dousoutchiev (Silveri, Unified Team, 39-80;
Rodney Smith | Bronzel, Unified Styles, def.
Cecilio E. Rodriguez Perez, Cuba, 33-1.8. 189-KILOGRAM

Hector Millon Perez (Goldi, Cuba, del. Der-nis Marvin Kaslowski (Sliver), United States. 3.0-1.0: Sergel Demiachkievitch | Bronzol, United Teom. def. Andrzej Wronski, Poland.

iermo Diaz Gulierrez. Mexico, pin; Ioan Gri

Group E
Panaglatis Pikiliais, Greece, def. Jerzy Charomanski, Poland, points; Tian Lef. Chino, def.
Kenichi Suzuki, Joan, ein: Lazisci Klauz, Hungary, Tamas Johansson, Sweden, both disauallied for breaking rules; Ranguel Ivanov Guerovski, Bulgaria, Matt Ghaffari, Chandler, Artz, both disqualified for passivity.

Round 2

Round 2

Group A

Andy Baradow, Conado, def. Bounama
Toure, Senegal, pil. Alexandre Kareline, Unified Team, def. Condido Masa Rosell, Cubo, pin, Juha Matti Abokos, Finland, def. Milan Rodakovic, Independent, points, loon Griports, Romania, def. Guillermo Diox Gufferrez, Merrin, praet superiarlis.

Crosp B
Panopiotis Pikilidis, Greece, def. Kenichi
Suzuki, Japon, points. Tion Lei, China, def.
Jerzy Choramenski, Poland, points. Tornas Jahansson, Sweden, def. Matt Ghaffart, Chandler, Ariz, points, Lasrio Klauz, Hungary, def.

Round 2
Group A
Andy Borodow, Canada, def. Condido Meso Rosell, Cubo, Pinj. Alexandre Kareline, Unifled Team, def. Juha Motti Ahokas, Finland, paints; loom Grigoros, Romania, def. Milan Rodokovic, Independent, points.

Tomas Johansson, Swe Pikilidis, Greece, points: Laszio Klauz, Hum pary, def. Tian Lei, China, points.

EQUESTRIAN

Individual

I. Motthias Andreas Baumana. Germany, Alabaster, Team Corna, 4.88 points—4.89 points: 2. ion Stark, Britain, Murphy Himsell, Team Corns, 4426—4426; 2. Karen Dixon,
Britain, Gel Smart, Team Comp. 4426—4460;
4.Mary Elizabeth Thomson, Britain, King William,
Team Corns, 47.25—47.29; 5. Mark Todd,
New Zasland, Wellon Graylon, Team Corns,
New Zasland, Wellon Graylon, Team Corns.

I, Britoin (Richard Dorfor Wolker, Koren Dixon, Mary Elizabeth Thomson, Ion Stork), 13400 polnis; 2, Germany (Molfalas Andreos Bouthoms, Cord Hermann V, Mysespass, Rolf Ehrenbrink, Herbert Biocker), 146,00, and processed a lateral and the second and the sec

ALL EYES ARE ON US.

SEIKO Official Timer of the Games of the XXV Olympiad

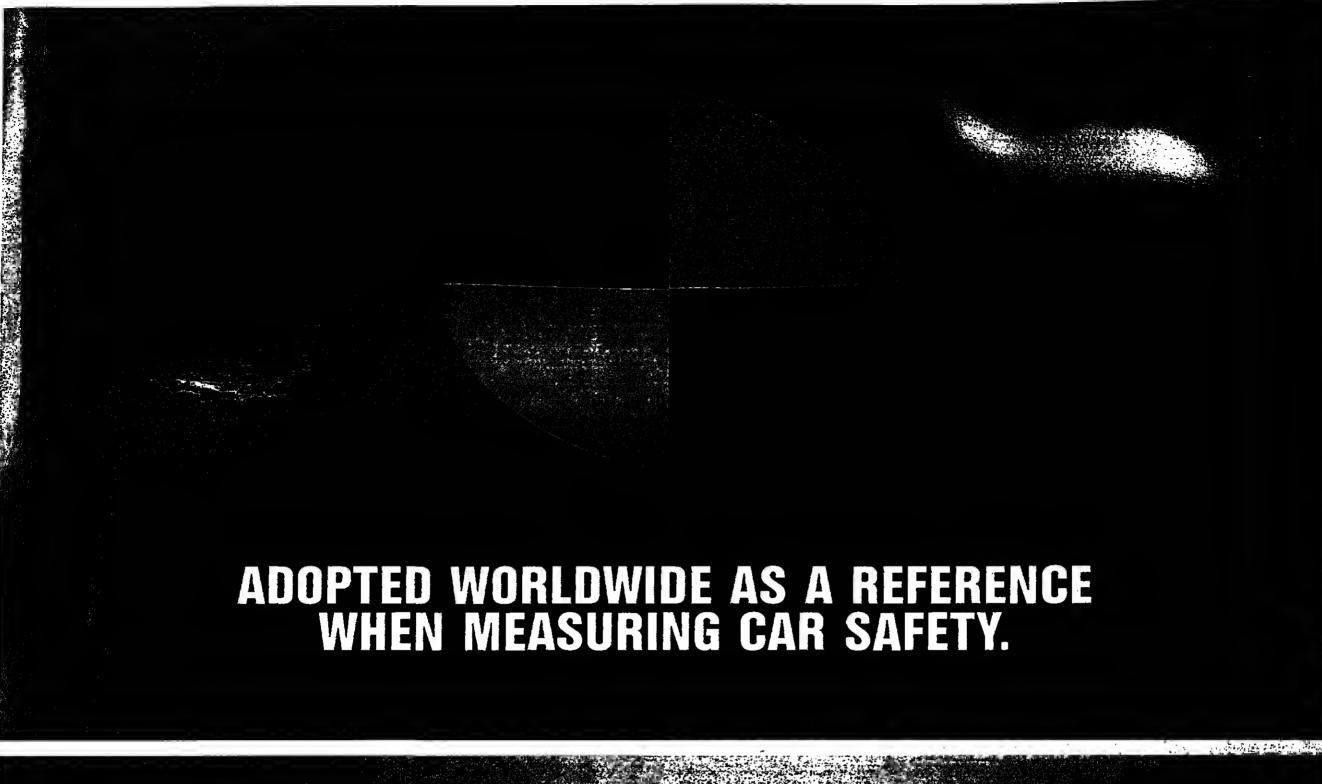

AFTER THE PERFORMANCE,

Seiko. The world's most versatile scoring and display equipment.

At BMW we believe the more you can trust a car, the more you'll enjoy it.

Which is why we go out of our way to ensure, through innovative engineering and comprehensive testing, that BMW provides a standard of safety to which the whole industry can refer.

Each and every BMW is equipped with advanced safety features designed not only to help the car better sustain an impact, but more importantly, to help drivers avoid accidents altogether.

Preventing collisions is the idea behind a number of "active safety" systems.

These include suspension systems engineered for greater stability and handling in emergency manœuvres. Dual-circuit brake systems. Ergonomically designed seats to keep you comfortable and alert at all times. And an instrument panel clearly arranged and within easy reach.

In case of an unavoidable accident, however, a BMW is ready with a variety of "passive safety" systems to minimise damage and injury. An extremely rigid passenger cell acts as a crucial survival area, remaining stable in even the most severe collisions. Carefully engineered "crumple zones" ensure controlled deformation. Both the front and rear seat belts are specially designed to prevent collateral injury. And upon impact, the doors automatically unlock to assist occupants in escape or rescue.

All of which is designed not only to protect you, but to inspire you. Because the joy of driving is the joy of feeling secure.

And in the final analysis, the pleasure you derive from a car is perhaps the most important measure of all.

THE ULTIMATE DRIVING MACHINE and apri temsine of

Marita of Morocco, a des afare is middle-distance mi gare the mid-1980s, he closed the Barcelona Class Welling & Sports writer, ne emiraciones in his n is Redeveloped the injust hweid 1502- and 5,005 in must helder had hoped world

non, I won the 5,000 min medy a bronze in the 800 vuldnot like to say that 速放 Salmi said.

lighing as Health Harmer the Rules reported Theorems.

& OFFSHORE COMPANIES

Entreprise lea taille région conseils spécia investissement

HT. 181, Ave Neutly

st Saddam before pot Mr. Bush lets vances pawns. The team made on Suni's widespread misied justification for when Saddam sticks mber or October. 32 with a clear-cut Even if he does, that the has achieved in o the Bush adminis m in April to reverse air force fly again in may translate into aft and pilots — an bility for Mr. Bush seeking last week's a clearly relished the nander in chief's hat glory to disenchanted ens may man out to be e cuming enough to id the flexibility given of steadily weakening idens up the stakes.

ately deter him from nert and Strawt Al e track about frag The er fiere time before the in in that and diead on -- the international : 5 - 2 5 - - H-48em (Se

g in der normalität ihr sombe 6--15 ... Da 1727 224

han (The son made by See

. - Hener Fickard -- ಆದರ್ಭ ಬರ್ವಕ್ಷಭಾತಗಾಗಿ The section of the se The second of the second in any a the symbol Tables . To lie The same of the sa The second second ASSESSMENT OF THE PROPERTY OF

المناسلة المناسبة

*Also -We urgently need Representatives - Worldwide, To It., Salt Motivated, Experies Contact *K.T.R. ENTERPRISE, Level 23, CP Tower, 313 Stom Road, English 10500, Thailand. Fac: +66 2 231-0448 Ta: 81182 COHO TH

SPORTS OLYMPICS

When Running Is a Dangerous Game

By William Drozdiak Washington Post Service

BARCELONA - The air-raid sirens would tell Mirsada Buric when it was time to go for a run. While her neigh-bors ducked into cellars with the first wail, she would lace up her shoes and dart into Sarajevo's mean streets, ready to dodge suiper builets in pursuit of her Olympic dream.

"I felt stronger at those moments," the 22-year-old Bosnian runner recalled. "I would hear people cheering me on from their basement windows, and it became my personal resistance against the people shooting at us. Besides, I was often the only person in the streets, so it was easier to run."

Buric's ordeal in preparation for the women's 3,000 meters is being hailed as perhaps the most inspirational symbol of these Olympics, one that illustrates the triumph of personal will over political violence. It also serves as a tragic commentary on the fate of all Yugoslavian athletes, who onec formed one of the strongest teams in the Olympics.

After R year of agonizing civil war, Yugoslavia's aix republics have frag-mented into separate national teams. Croatia, Slovenia and Bosnia-Herzegovina are competing under their own flags and colors. Macedonia has oot yet been recognized and will wear neu-tral white. Serbia and Montenegro, making up what remains of Yugoslavia, cannot appear in team sports because of United Nations sanctions. The brutality of the fighting has made it difficult for old teammates to speak to each other. Monday night, Buric said, she talked with Suzana Chirich, the Serbian 10,000-meter runner. They have been friends since they met in 1984 as members of the Yugo-slav national team. "I told her about the horrors f had seen and been through, about torture in prison camps, about the bombings, about running through the streets and never knowing when a mortar would hit or a sniper would shoot you," Buric

"But she simply could not understand that her own people were trying to kill me and my people because she gets different information. We finally agreed that it was impossible to talk about war and we should speak only about sports from now on.

A graduate of Sarajevo University's journalism school, Buric said she became fatalistic about exposing herself to the dangers of running through streets riddled with falling mortar shells and sniper fire because she had no alternative in training for the

The city's main stadium for track and field was under constant bombardment and she felt less exposed when running through the streets because she could stay close to walls or duck into doorways when the firing became intense.

The perilous training regimen she fullowed is not expected to yield a medal. Burie, the Balkan champion at

"The only way to remain sane during a war is to try and maintain a normal daily routine." Buric said at a press conference here. "People in Sarajevo still try to go to work even if it is very risky. Children still play between the houses even when the snipers are shooting. So I figured f had to go on running preparation for the Olympics."

Buric says she was nearly shot twice by snipers, but continued training by changing her route through the city. All of her training gear was confiscat-ed when Serbian soldiers ransacked her house, and Buric says she is "still looking for a proper pair of shoes." By Friday, she had all but aban-doned her hopes of reaching Barcelo-na. But then, without advance notice, Buric and nine other Bosnian athletes were escorted nut of their besieged capital by the United Nations Protection Force. They arrived here just hours before the opening ceremonies on a plane chartered by the International Olympic Committee.

"Even when the plane left the run-way, I could not believe we would make Buric said, "Now that we are here, I'm enjoying the atmosphere at the Olympic Village, but I also feel strange. It's very difficult to adjust to the pleasant life here when my heart and soul are still with friends and family members who are suffering back home."

Wrought by the war has interfered too much with her conditioning and concentration. Moreover, she says she is too preoccupied by the fate of her brother, who disappeared two months ago and has not been seen or heard from since, to worry about winning.

"I'm just grateful to be here, because I think it is the greatest honor to represent a oewly independent country that is trying to survive," Buric said.

She says her closest brush with death occurred during a bombardment lasting two days and two nights that destroyed her native village about three miles outside Sarajevo. "The attack came from all directions, and I found myself lying on a concrete floor in the basement with 40 other women and children."

After the group decided it was necessary to seek escape or face death, Buric and her neighbors were seized by Serbian gunmen and placed in a labor camp for 13 days. She says they were held as hostages while rival Serbian and Bosnian forces worked out a deal. In the end, she was released along with 350 other Muslim women and children in exchange for 38 Serbian militiamen.

"At a certain point you realize you have no choices; you just do what is necessary to survive each hour and each day," Buric said. "I just wish I could see the day when the fighting

The only way to remain sane during a war is to try and maintain a normal daily routine.'

U.S. Team Feuds Over Relay Choice

By Michael Janofsky New York Times Service

BARCELONA - A simmering dispute among several members of the U.S. men's Olympic track and field team and its head coach, Mel Rosen, intensified Tnesday when two leading 400-meter runners criticized the coach, one calling him "unprofessional" and "inconsistent" and the other accusing him of lying.

The remarks, by Steve Lewis and Danny Everett at an afternoon news conference, came as a result of their continued unhappiness over Rosen's in-tention to include Michael Johnson on the 1,600-meter relay team.

Despite the fact that he has been the world's leading runner at 200 and 400 meters for two years, Johnson competed only in the 200 at the Olympic trials last month in New Orleans.

Rosen declined to be drawn any further into the issue, which has followed the team from New Orleans to several European meets to Barcelona, where the track and field competition begins Fri-

He has stuck by rules, adopted in December, that allow the coaches to select any member of the Olympic team to run the three rounds in both the 400 and 1,600 meter teams.

In a statement issued through the U.S. Olympic Committee, Rosen said, "I don't think it would be helpful for team morale for me to engage in a war of words because our plan is still to put our strongest four-by-400-meter relay team on the track."

Rosen said a final decision on the relay personnel would be made at the deadline, twn days before the first-

But he has already indicated who they would be, and that's what has upset Lewis and Everett.

The names reflect a different selection process for the two relays - the first four finishers in the 100 meters at the trials - Dennis Mitchell, Mark Wither-spoon, Leroy Burrell and Mike Marsh for the shorter relay, and the top three finishers of the 400 - Everett, Lewis and Quincy Watts — plus Johnson, rather than Andrew Valmon for the 1,600. Valmon was the fourth-place finisher in the trials. While the latitude in selection is designed to enable the coaches to put the st team possible on the track, Lewis and Evereti, among others, have charged that it was purely a "Michael Johnson rule," designed to get him on the relay team no matter what he ran in New Orleans. Never mind that Rosen has given no indication he would use Carl Lewis in the 400-meter relay final. Lewis has Olympic gold medals for 100 meters and the 400-meter relays in 1984 and 1988. only in the long jump after finishing

Tokyo world championships last year lost to Britain when Antonio Pettigrew was outrun on the final leg.

Steve Lewis, the Olympic 400-meter champion in the 1988 Olympics, said that Rosen told Johnson before the trials he would be on the relay team, even if he chose not 10 compete in the 400. But once he didn't, Lewis said, Valmon deserved the fourth spot, oot Johnson.

Lewis said that as a result of assuring Johnson a place oo the relay team, the coach was ainconsistent in what be was saying to other athletes, unprofessional and not truthful with Valmon."

Everett had enough problems without getting further immersed in the relay team controversy. He revealed that a sore right Achilles tendon might force him to withdraw from the competition. But he supported Lewis completely, say-person. If you look at the four-by-one ously. It's an insult to those who ran in the event. I've lost all respect for him."

Michael Johnson: Controversy.

Further, Everett charged that Rosen's

'spot," he said of the shorter relay team.
"If Mcl selects the team and I'm on it, fine. If I'm an alternate, that's fine. I'm ready for either case. I'm in the best shape of my life."

OLYMPIC NOTEBOOK

■ Aouita Is Ont, Friend Says Said Aouita of Morocco, a dominant figure in middle-distance running since the mid-1980s, has pulled out of the Barcelona Olympics because of injury, a friend told Renters on Tuesday.

Najib Salmi, a sports writer, said Aouita was suffering from painful nuscle contractions in his right high. He developed the injury during a month's high-altitude training in France. The world 1,500- and 5,000-meter record holder had hoped to run in Barcelona over one or both of the distances. Acuita, 32, won the 5,000-meter gold in Los Angeles in 1984. But after operations on his calves, be the 1,500 meters after qualifying for the semifinals. "I would not like to say this is the end of his career, but I am afraid it might be," Salmi said.

won only a bronze in the 800 meters at Seoul and dropped out of Cycling as Health Hazard Olympics organizers have appeated to cycling teams to stop un-gathorized training on main roads, which has led to a series of accidents, Reuters reported Tuesday. Pedro Palacios, a spokesman for the organizing committee, said there had been five road accidents involving cyclists, some of them on the ring road around Barcelona. He gave no details of which teams were involved

Gilbert Felli, sporting director of the International Olympic Committee, appealed to team officials to prevent cyclists training without said. Lewis had been proper logistical support and ando to it, she added.

■ Johnson Arrives

sprinter who cast a long shadow over the Seoul Olympics by failing a drugs test, has arrived in Barcelona, Agence France-Presse reported

Tuesday. Johnson, whose whereabouts had been somewhat of a mystery, turned up on Monday for his ac-creditation, the Canadian delegation said. Like many of the leading attractions here, Johnson will not be staying in the Olympic Village.

reprimanded for giving a live re-port by portable telephone while

He opens his campaign for the 100-meter gold on Friday. ■ Lewis Draws a Reprimand and impressions" during the ceremony for the French sports daily L'Equipe, an 1OC spokeswoman said Lewis had been cautioned not Finding Their Way Barcelona organizers are posting

Lewis violated the Olympic

Charter by working as a journalist and could face sanctions, the International Olympic Committee said.

Lewis was reporting his "feelings

Ben Johnson, the Canadian guides on special buses carrying printer who cast a long shadow athletes, officials and media because some of the Spanish drivers have been getting lost.

"There have been problems," an International Olympic Committee spokeswoman said Tuesday. Things are not going as well as Pedro Palacios, the Barcelona organizing committee spokesman, said there were 20 incidents Monday in which buses were lost, de-layed or canceled. "We're on the way to solving the problem," he said. "Every bus will have an assistant guide. Some of the drivers aren't from Barcelona and didn't know their way around." About 200 bus guides have been hired, he said, including taxi drivers and retired policemen.

Lackluster U.S. Beats Italy: Now a Big Inning — Cuba

The U.S. baseball team got ready Tuesday for the Olympic spotlight with another uneven vic-tory. B.J. Wallace struck out a tournament-high 14 and Jeffrey Hammonds drove in two runs in a 26-3, in its first two games. The Cubans beat the Italians, 18-1, on Monday.

In another game Tuesday, Wang Kuang-shih hit a two-run homer to power Taiwan to a 10-1 victory over Puerto Rico. Right-hander Kuo Lee striking out six. Once again, the U.S. team, with three victories and no losses, showed that it's not in Cuba's league. Only Wallace's pitching and a five-run penseful ending. Wallace, a first-round draft choice whn has signed with the Montreal Expos, gave up just runs. five singles. The weak-hitting fraitans got just two runners to second base in the game, called ried

"That's the best game we've pitched all sum-

There was nothing outstanding about the offense until the eighth, when the U.S. team finally

Fraser and a couple of other players came on the field to complain after Paolo Ceccaroli hit fifth, and Fraser thought the inside pitch was a payback.

Tempers cooled quickly, and the game ended two batters later. The U.S. offense sputtered, leading only 4-0 after six innings against a team weak in patching. The Americans had one runner picked off and ing Rosen has been "lying to a lot of people, with a lot of double-talk," "Michael Johnson could have been anybody," Everett said, "But our con-cern is that they made the policy for one and take the top four people, why oot with the four-by-four? I think the coach has mishandled the situation very seriselection of Johnson constituted a conflict of interests, in that Rosen and the runner both have contractual relationships with Nike Rosen has heard that accusation before and denied it every time. For his part. Carl Lewis was staving

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

• SECRETS REVEALED •

marching in the opening ceremony of the Barcelona Olympics, The Associated Press reported Tuesday.

U.K. & OFFSHORE COMPANIES FROM £95

Ready Made or Own Choice of Name U.K. LTD 295 £199 TITE PIC £165 IRISH (Non-Res) DELAWARE £195 COLORADO £195 2295 £295 BAHAMAS PANAMA £295 All contrames include company seal, momentations, register & all ction documents as required by law. Fall acontract & doubtilation services All paices fully inclusive. Seme day service available. Proc advice, brookstre, some check

ON BUT CHENES AS AND TO CHENES AND CHENES AND STORMS IN THE STATE OF T DEFENDED.

The Company Store Limited SARRINGTON CHARGES
SE ROSELS JOHN STREET
SE ROSELS JOHN STREET
Tel: (0)51-256 1256
Part: (0)51-256 0653
Tele: GRIT?

0800 262662

OBTAIN DUAL NATIONALITY & SECOND TRAYEL DOCUMENTS LEGALLY

SECOND TRAVEL DOCUMENTIS LEGALLY
It Coold Save Your Life and Forume, Also, became a P.T. (perpetual invedier) and legally avoid more, provennents and hassle.
Denover insider facts about Andorst/
Gibraltur/Moussoy/Campione/Switzerland.
New car — how to buy for 1/2 price. How become a legal TAX EXCILE.

Free Brochave: Scope, Box 1629
62 Murray Road, Waterlooville, UK, P08 91.
Tel.: +44 705 39255 - Fast: +44 705 59175
Advice that your accusations of lavyers Advice that your accomments or lawyers not dure tell you — even if they knew! Please quote box box to. when empiring.

OFFSHORE COMPANIES INSURANCE COMPANIES BANKS

Established 10 years in providing offshore services to companies engaged in all types of businesses ASTON CORPORATE MANAGEMENT 19 Ped Road, Douglas, Ble of Man Tell: UK 624 625571 Fax: UK 624 625126 or London Tell: [71] 222 8866

Swiss Management Group seeks financing for takeover (MBO) of serious Swiss enterprise. Approximately: SF 20 million. Please tax: = 022-7760017 (Geneva) =

Entreprise leader, secteur santé, taille régionale, recherche conseils spécialiste indépendant : investissement, financement.

> Box D408 IHT, 181, Ave. Charles-de-Gaulle, Neuilly Cedex 92521.

VEGETABLES & FRUIT *Tropicai -Fresh Vegetables and Fruits And Rice from Thailand Offers to Export on a

METALS, STEEL, WOOD, FERTILIZERS From Russia

Please address to our Commercial Centre in Budapes Phone/Fax: (361) 166 99 33 WESTADA Trading Ltd.

21 BILLION DOLLARS Motion Pictures are America's second argest export creating over 21 billion dol-lars in sales. There are a few outstanding opportunities to share in these profits. Call or fax for more information now Tel.: (310) 917-4422 Fax: (310) 917-4425 USA

OFFSHORE COMPANIES BY LAWYERS * NOMINEES * ADMINISTRATION * TRUSTS * CONSULTANCY

PANAMA E295 BAHAMAS E296 TEL: 44-71-352-2274 FAX: 44-71-352-2260

PRIVATE TRUST FUND == We are seeking to appoint finance brokers and/or financial interme-diaries to represent The Trust in specific regions of Europe, North America and Australasia,

The successful Appointee will have a proven business record in commercial lending. Confidentially guaranteed, in the first instance please address your application via facsimile to Mr. Park Hee So, Executive Director. Telefax number: (62-21) 850 5254.

BAYTREE INVESTORS an In-ternational Acquisitions firm is seek-ing to buy Combanies with turnover of $10,000,000 plus in Trucking, Manu-facturing, Mechanical Contracting, Financial Services. Financial Services.

Principals or their adviseu, please connect.

JOHN FITZGERALD B.L.,

BAYTREE INVESTORS

6, SULLIVAN'S QUAY.

CORK.

IRELAND.

Telephones 353 21 963877

Fax: 353 21 310273

CURRENCY TRADERS

FEAL-TIME TRADING

Making from 41592 thru 62092.

Gave 243% PROFIT In 10 WEEKS Thy b Floor Contact: US24hous+7days.USA Tel:305-251-5752-Fee:305-254-3272

SLC's at less than 77% cost. 10 Million USD purchases 2 SLC's 1 for 10 Million and one for Million USD. Transaction contract to be drawn up in Geneva. within 3 days after proof of funds are available. Any amounts. FAX Germany: 5141-22988.

mer," Coach Ron Fraser said. "B.J. did every-Compiled by Our Staff From Dispatches thing he should have done. He kept getting BARCELONA - Still unbeaten, Still unimstronger. He was outstanding." "I had command of all of my pitches," Wal-

10-0 victory over ftaly, the weakest team in the provided the game's only excitement.

The Americans were expected to have an easy time against Italy, which had been outscored,

Chien-fu picked up the victory, going the full nine innings and allowing just three hits while eighth saved the Americans from another sus-after eight under the 10-run rule.

Nomar Garciaparra with a pitch. Garciaparra was involved in a home-plate collision in the two caught stealing (one at home), had botched two sacrifice bunt attempts and ended one threat by hitting into a double play. Hammonds tripled home a first-inning run and singled home another in the fifth. Phil Nevin hit a solo homer to start the five-run eighth. The Italians made four errors, all leading ft was another example of why Fraser is worried heading into the game against Cuba, the gold-medal favorite. Fraser would love more gold-medal favorite. Fraser would love more time to work out his team's kinks. (AP, AFP) States' 1,600-meter relay team in the

COMMERCIAL & INVESTMENT PROPERTIES

SEALED BID SALE

SALE BY RTC AS RECEIVER FOR PERPETUAL SAVINGS BANK, F.S.B., SOLE SHAREHOLDER OF SAD REALTY CORP., A WHOLLY-OWNED SUBSIDIARY

294-ROOM, 10-STORY HOTEL, APPROX, 256,036 SO. FT.

OMNI GEORGETOWN HOTEL 2121 P STREET, NW WASHINGTON, D.C.

BID OPENING DATE & LOCATION August 26, 1992, 11:00 AM

Omni Georgetown Hotel, Smithsonian Suite PROPERTY INSPECTIONS By Appointment Only

July 28-30 & August 4-6, 11-13, 18-20 MINIMUM BID: $10,000,000

15% DISCOUNT FOR CASH

FINANCING AVAILABLE TO QUALIFIED BIDDERS $500,000 CERTIFIED OR CASHIER'S CHECK REQUIRED TO BID

To Order Brochure and Bid Package, call: 1-800-525-0777

Broker participation invited. In cooperation with Washington, D.C. Broker Robert Melnick Real Estate.

This solicitation is void where prohibited by law.

Bid Packages Require Signed Confidentiality Agreements and a Fee of $250. Checks or American Express accepted. IBS & ASSOCIATES, INC.

Real Estate Consultants & Auctioneers 200 North LaSalle Street/Suite 2820/Chicago, Illinois 60601 Ph. 312.701.0777 Fax 312.701.0102

Marbella/Estepona 1 km to sea 100, 000 sq.m. to sea 100, 000 sq.m. of beautitui land P.P. for 85 villes/medical centre or 3rd Age Village. Own water - Sea views. Value £20 per sq.m. will accept £15 per sq.m. or John venture. Also at 500 metres to Marbelle Club unique magnificient unmod. residence set in 8,000 sq.m. own land scaped grounds P.P. granted for clinic health sgm or gimilar. Bents valuetion £1.2 million. Will accept £750,000 for immediate sale. ALGARVE From Luxury Villes to Town Apartment

Tel.: 081 740 5148 Fax 681 749 8647 London Rustic Land, Country Cottages To Commercial Property & Developmen Projects on the Alganve. M. J. RODBIGUES

Estrada de Yale de Lobo

B135 Almandi

Tel.: 351.89.394578/398415.

Fax: 351.89.396182.

Budapest VIII
To sell conveniently located menty constructed affice business as a whole or in reputate further. Completion according to larger's requests. Best-ment consisting of oil wants, 8 office floors, 9 top floors (office or manufacts use).

10 purchase within 8 minutes waiting distance. Net surface 1,50 agas. Price per same. Sins $100.- for office floors of Sins $50,000.- for the whole building. Sirs 1,52,000- for the whole building.

Ready for occupancy in James 1969.

PROBADIO AG, Niesbelerstrasse M, 1969 Zarich.

Tel: 41+1/20 IS 71. Fact 41+1/20 IS 97.

Humberts · Leisure

On the instructions of Crest Nicholson Pic and Camper & Nicholsons Marinas Ltd

Three superb and profitable

UK marina businesses

Gosport Marins, Hampshire
385 serviced berths: a world class marina beside the Soleni at the entrance to Portsmouth Harbour Neyland Marina, Pembrokeshire 420 serviced berths in Milford Haven, South West Wales Amble Marina, Northumberland 220 serviced berths on the North East Coast

All these marinas have excellent on-shore facilities For sale as a whole or in lots with the benefit (if required) of a Camper & Nicholsons Marinas management contract Substantial offers are invited for this exceptional opportunity

CAMPER & NICHOLSONS MARINAS

For Sale by Public Tender end of August 1992

071-629 6700

25 GROSVENOR STREET + LONDON WIX 9FE

THE LADY GREGORY, SLIGO, IRELAND Major Hotel Development Opportunity Situated in an area which is famous for its connections with the Irish post Yeats, has its own airport, and is known as the capital of the North West, this property has great potential for development as a hotel or leisure facility. • Main building of 90,000 sq ft and additional buildings of 37,900 sq ft approx.

• Full P.P. for 156 bedrooms, 3 bars.

3 restaurants & Conference centre • Liquor license in place

. Full P.P. for 20 chalets & swimming pool. Viewing: By appointment GUNNE, 176 Pembroke Rd., Ballsbridge, Dublin 4, Ireland Tel: Dublin 682588 Fax: Dublin 682991

COMMERCIAL & INVESTMENT PROPERTIES

appears every WEDNESDÁY

To place and advertisement please contact your nearest I.H.T. office or representative or call Paris:

Max Ferrero: 46.37.93.82 — Philip Orna: 46.37.93.36 Fax: 46.37.93.70 — Telex: 613595

Page 11 SPORTS OLYMPI

Chinese Diver Takes Lead Into Men's Finals

By Gerald Eskenazi New York Times Service

BARCELONA - Tan Lianede of China had made an Olympic career of finishing second to Greg Louganis in the 3-meter spring ported:

On Monday, there was nn Louganis, but the new breed of American divers joined Liangde in qualifying for the champinnship.

It wasn't easy for the world champion, Kent Ferguson. For after his final dive, he didn't know whether he would be among the 12

He found a quiet place in the medical emergency room to watch

GAMES ROUNDUP

television and look at the parade as 24 divers still were in the competi-

Ferguson, though, made it as the 12th man and joined his fellow American Mark Lenzi, Lenzi, who arrived last week with a sinus infectinn, jet lag and a temperature of 101 degrees Fahrenheit (38.3 degrees centigrade), was second by a vide margin behind Tan and comfurtably ahead of Albin Killat of

None of the scores will count in medal competition on Wednesday, but Tan produced 426.390 points in the seven dives, more than 17 points ahead of Lenzi. When Louganis beat out Tan fur the guld in 1984 and 1988, they were required to perform 11 dives. This year's lower number nearly enst Ferguson his Olympie

"We had discussed all week the fact that good divers will be elimi- the Cuban's powerful left. nated if they don't have good early dives," explained his coach, Ron O'Brien. "You don't get a chance in make them up."

"Nerves," said Ferguson. Like every American diver at Barcelana, man and woman, he has never been in an Olympics before.

cans, stressing dry-land training with somersaults.

Dine was always going to be a problem for Russo as a first-round opponent, having beaten him at the Mediterranean Games, But Falcinelli suggested his man had landed more scoring blows despite a slow

In bantamweight, Chatree inined the Thai in the second round nar of Hungary. The bantamweight American Sergin Reyes bobbed and weaved his way to a 10-1 points decision over Harold Ramirez of Puerto Rico, and the Irish bantamweight Bantamweight Joel Casamayor was the first Cuban in action and although be beat Devarajan Venkatesan nf India, he found his opponent more elusive than expected. The two men circled each other warily for much of the first round as the young Indian tried to avoid

Antal Novacs of Hungary, the 1990 European junior champion, wan the Olympic light-heavyweight judo nile by outpointing

Theo Meijer of the Netherlands, the 1991 European champion, won could not prevent her North Korebronze by outpointing Indrek Per-Tan, though, is part of a Chinese telson of Estonia in the repechage more acrobatic than the Ameri-■In other events, wire services re-

The Italian boxing middleweight Tomaso Russo became the first world champion to fall at the Olympic boxing oo Tuesday. Ahmed Dine of Algeria dumped Russo in the first round on a 6-4 points decision to the fury of Italy's coach. Franco Falcinelli.

Suwanyod of Thailand pulled off a major upset when he defeated the world bronze medalist, Vladislav Antonov, in the first round. And Li Gwang Sik, who beat Suwanyod nn points in the Asian amateur final, when he overpowered Laszlo Bog-

Wayne McCutlough demolished Uganda's Fredrick Muteweta.

Raymond Stevens.

contingent that bas dominated the consolation round. The other tula on points. Wnrld champion Kim Mi-Jung of South Korea beat ber arch rival Yoko Tanabe of Japan oo a 2-0 decision in the women's under 72kilogram light-heavyweight final. Laetitia Meignan of France forced Josie Horton of Britain into submission with an armlock to win bronze. The other bronze went to Irene De Kok nf the Netherlands, whn pinned ber final opponent, Regina Schuttenhelm of Germany, to 30 seconds for a knockout ippon

Kim Gwang Suk, the tiniest big 9.925 with a daring routine on the asymmetric bars in the wnmen's team event. But the mark, the best of the day's first twn sessions, an team from trailing in fourth

France was leading at the end of Pargat Powar scored nff a penalty bronze went to Dmitri Sergeev of the Unified Team who beat the world silver medalist Pawel Nas-worlds in the second session, with Germany corner to give India a 1-0 victory nver Argentina, and a four-goal flurry in the final 15 minutes lifted rivals the Commonwealth of Independent States and the United over Malaysia.

> last of the day's four sessions. monocoque machine, cut nearly three seconds from his own day-old world record in the Olympie 4,000meter individual cycling pursuit on

> Boardman, 24, elocked four minutes, 24.496 seconds in beating Denmark's Jan Bo Petersen in the econd elimination round.

In field hockey, Lee Bodimeade gymnast in the Olympics, scored a scored two goals to lead Australia to a 5-! vietnry over Egypt. The Australian captain, Warren Birmingham, scored on a penalty stroke seven minutes into the second half to open a decisive 3-1

In other games, team captain

the Unified Team to a 7-3 victory

States, were competing later in the In soccer, two typically opporast of the day's four sessions. tunist goals by Tnmas Brolin In cycling. Chris Boardman of steered Sweden tn a 4-0 victory Britain, riding a new carbon-liber over Morocco in a crucial group C match. Brolin looked jaded in Sweden's opening 0-0 draw with Paraguay but was at his influential best this time.

> He scored Sweden's first and fourth goals in a victory that leaves them well-placed to qualify for the quarterfinals, Hakan Mild and Jonny Roedlund added the other goals and Morocco's problems worsened when Mohammed Badraom was sent off in the 65th minute for a tackle from behind on Roedlund Ghana was thwarted by Danish goalkeeper Niels Jorgensen in group D and had to settle for a 0-0 draw. Jorgensen saved well from Maxwell Konadu and Samnel Ku-mah in the first half and denied Konadu again in the 75th minute with a superb stop. The draw left Ghana on three points, one ahead of Denmark, with a match remain-

On Monday night, Andrzej Juskowiak scored on the first shot of the game to start Poland on its way to a 3-0 victory over a stunned Italy in the first round of the Olympic soccer tournament.

Three yellow cards each were handed out in the first half by refer-

The victory gave Poland a 2-0-0 record and four points in Group A with one game remaining, that on Wednesday with the United States. Italy fell back into a tie for second as Suleymanogln's name was with the United States at 1-0-1 for changed to Naum Shalamanov, the second, and last, quarterfinal berth from the group.

Spain beat Egypt, 2-0, on two second-half goals Mooday night. It Egypt's second loss in preliminary round play. (AFP, Reuters, AP)

Turk Lifter's Show: Brief but Brilliant

By George Vecsey
New York Times Service

BARCELONA - The Pocket any way they could. Hercules does not need to carry all

He is a two-time champion at the came back last year. age of 25. He said he did not need a world record or a searing feud with another country. He flexed his muscles three times in public, a matter of seconds, and called it a night with a combined total of 705% pounds (320 kilograms), well below his 1988 record of 755 oounds.

It was different four years ago when Suleymanoghi won a gold medal for Turkey after escaping from his former home in Bulgaria. Then he was glad to prove the political point.

But Tuesday night he defeated a Butgarian lifter, Nikolai Peshalov, in the featherweight, or 132-pound (60-kilogram) weight class, and said they were competitors, not en-matter at all. Any opponent is the same for me." Peshalov lifted 672 pounds and

He Ying Qiang of China finished züski of Bulgaria and Valerios strode off the platform. Leonidis of Greece in total weight with 650.

The Pocket Hercules has been an international sports figure since 1988, when he won his first gold medal. Western audiences learned ish minority in his homeland of Bulgaria, and was a weight-lifting

But in 1984, Bulgaria joined the Soviet boycott of the Los Angeles games, and Suleymanogin was deprived of a chance to win a medal as a teen-ager. Then came a period of heavy pressure on the Turkish minority, against his wishes

In 1986, he escaped from the Bulgarian team while touring in Australia, and he asked to settle in was Spain's second victory and Turkey. His prominence put great pressure on Bulgaria to release Suleymanoglu's family, which it did, and in the wake, tens of thousands of other ethnic Turks left Bulgaria

He became the nation's greatest that weight anymore. It was quite sports here by setting a world reenough for Naim Suleymanogiu to cord at Scoul. His triumph had win another gold medal Tuesday made him wealthy, and he retired, but he found life a bit dull. He

> Tuesday night, around 20 of his supporters waved the red Turkish flag in the balcony of the Spanish Industrial Pavilion, an airy hall next to the Sants railroad station downtown. Basically, Suleymanoghi let ev-erybody do what they were going to do, and then he came ont and collected his medal. The first half of the competition was the snatch, in which the bar is raised from the floor to the overhead position in one motion. The other eight contenders had done their lifting before Sulcymen-oglu made his appearance, a 5-foot (1.52-meter) man with brown hair, in a bright blue tank top and shorts. He showed up at 7:11, 41 minutes into the competition. He took a "That was in 1988," Suleyman-deep breath or two and lifted 314 ogh said later. "But now it doesn't pounds over his head. Elapsed time: less than half a minute.

He made another abortive attempt at 337% and then was about to make a third attempt but apparthird, although tied with Neno Ter- ently a flashbuib went off and he

Then came the clean-and-jerk, which involves two separate lifting motions, one to the waist, and then one upward. Suleymanoglu lifted 374% pounds in the first attempt and 391 in the second and then how he had grown up in the Turk- unbuckled his protective belt and flipped it to his trainers. His 1992 Summer Games were over.

Suleymanogln said afterward that he had never grown tired or jaded from all the adulation in his home country, and he said, "I want to compete in the 1996 Olympics." He has four years to prepare for another few seconds of competer tion.

To subscribe in Germany just call, toll free, 0130 84 85 85

(IT'll take time)

BOOKS

THE END OF THE COLD WAR: Its Meaning and Implications

Edited by Michael Hogan. 294 pages. $44.95 hardback; $13.95 paperback. Cambridge University Press, 40 West 20th Street, New York, New York 10011.

CLOSING PANDORA'S BOX: Arms Races, Arms Control, and the History of the Cold War

By Patrick Glynn. 445 pages. $30. New Republic/Basic Books, 10 East 53d Street, New York, New York

Reviewed by Martin Walker

DUSK falls on the Cold War, and the owl nf Minerva is not only spreading her wings just as old Karl Marx always said she would, but is performing some breathtaking aerobatics. The rush of the historians to judgment might have been predicted; what comes as a bappy surprise is that their debates and contentions are more passionate, and more sprightly, than ever. Rarely does one come across so enter-

Trouble finding books from America? U.S. titles are now a phone call away. 1-203-966-5470 Worldwide 1-203-966-4329

1-800-255-2665

Toit Free U.S.

Introducing *Bnok Call," the oldest books by phone service in the USA. Our staff of experienced book sellers will help you find any US title in print. Whether you want a new bestseller or a hard-to-find book, we can help. Try Book Call and discover why people around the world turn to us for their reading needs. Immediate shipment worldwide

Credit cards or checks . Ask about our special overnight gift delivery . Receive our free monthly new title forecast . Mail orders welcomed . Corporate accounts welcomed . Open 24

taining a compilation of academic essays as Michael Hogan's collection on the sub-ject of the Cold War. It is a treat, inspired perhaps by envy at the sheer audacity of Francis Fukuyama's suggestion that we nition that "The Soviet collapse was part much sooner and cost much less." have reached "The End of History." The of a much more general economic catastoiling masses of academe emerge from their libraries, blinking in the postwar suntight, and thrill us with daring swoops as they revisit their earlier judgments.

"It was left in the people of Eastern Europe and now the Soviet Union itself . to remind us of a fact which many nf us had become too sophisticated to see, which is that the Cold War really was about the imposition of autocracy and denial of freedom," writes John Lewis

Gaddis.

GNUST

SESMY

NOVCOY

INBOAL

DOONESBURY

SCHOLAR! HOW DO

Sixty pages later, Chicago's Bruce Cumings retorts: "Only a myopie Eurocentrism could yield such conclusions." Cumings says: "The Cold War consisted of twn systems: the containment project, providing security against both the enemy and the ally; and the hegemonie project, providing for American leverage over the necessary resources of our industrial rivals."

JUMBLE THAT SCRAMBLED WORD GAME to Metro Arrold and Bod Lee

Yesterday's Jumbles: RAVEN MADLY PUZZLE ASTRAY

KNOW.

TRIED THAT

ONCE. YOU'VE GOT SOME EDGE

LIKE SHAT.

THAT CHEF WAS

Liberated by hindsight, these historitrophe of the 1980s, more severe in the Third World domains of the West than in the Soviet Empire." This is true of Africa, true in parts of Latin America, but changing, and thumpingly wrong-headed, in the Pacific Rim. All this is par for Chomsky's magnificently idiosyn-Ronald Steel reminds us how serviceably the enforced geopolitical stasis of the Cold War looked after everybody's interests: "The Americans kept the Germans in check, and the Europeans kept the Americans in check." This is not just a new version of General Ironside's neat definition of NATO as an organization designed by Britain to keep the Americans in, the Russians out, and the Germans down. The institutional permafrost which settled over the northern hemisphere was that "had the Cold War not militarized ans delight in diving into grandiose new the historical dialectical argument betheories of what comes next. Only Noam tween East and West, the triumph of Chomsky is predictable, with the admo- ,'market and democracy' would have come > can Enterprise Institute, was special as sistant to Ken Adelman, the director of the Arms Control and Disarmament Administration, and has now produced the most cogent and informative history of the Cold War, of arms control and of U.S. strategic policy to have emerged from the conservative mind, Imaginatively researched and elegantly written, this is as stout a defense of Ronald Reagan and the Strategic Defense Initiative as we are likely to see. But an argument that encompasses British Liberals wanting naval arms control with Germany before 1914, British conservatives seeking appeasement before 1939 and American cold warrings is quite a stretch.

Martin Walker, the U.S., and formerly Moscow, bureau chief for Britain's Guardian newspaper, wrote this for The Washington Post. also very useful for the Soviets. The Russian scholar Alexei Filitov argues cogently

by Al Gore
DIANA IN PRIVATE, by

A BRILLIANT MADNESS.

by Patty Duke and Gloria

HEAD TO HEAD, by Lesier

Thurow
LINCOLN AT GETTYSaURG, by Garry Wills
PEROT, by Todd Mason ACQUIRED TASTES, by Pe-

ACQUIRED TASTES, by Peter Mayle REVOLUTION FROM WITHIN, by Gloria Steinem GIVE WAR A CHANCE, by P.J. O'Rourke
BACKLASH, by Susan Faludi
ELEANOR ROOSEVELT, by Blanche Wiesen Cook

ADVICE, HOW-TO AND MISCELLA-NEOUS

A RETURN TO LOVE by

LIFE'S LITTLE INSTRUC-

TION BOOK, by H. Jackson

Brown
HARVEY PENICK'S LITTLE RED BOOK, by Harvey
Penick with Bud Strake
MORE WEALTH WITHOUT RISK, by Charles J. Gi-

YOU NO HARM. DE

SEEK ONLY

BEST SELLERS

13

The New York Times
This list is based on reports from more than
.000 bookstores throughout the United States.
Vecks on list are not necessarily consecutive.

FICTION

GERALD'S GAME, by Ste

THE PELICAN BRIEF, by

John Grisham WAITING TO EXHALE, by

Terry McMillan SCRUPLES TWO, by Judith

DARK FORCE RISING, by

POSSESSING THE SECRET OF JOY, by Alice Walker
MZADI, by Peter David SAHARA, by Clive Cossler ...
FATHERLAND. by Robert

COLONY, by Anne River Sid-

JEWELS, by Danielle Steel ...

JAZZ by Toni Mourison
ALL AROUND THE TOWN.
by Mary Higgins Clark
OH THE PLACES YOU'LL

DIANA: HER TRUE STO-RY, by Andrew Morton THE SILENT PASSAGE, by

TRUMAN, by David McCul-

NONFICTION

SOME GENETIC EDGE

GETTING GOOD GRADES IS A RACIAL CHAR:

TELL EV

PEANUTS

BEETLE BAILEY

CALVIN AND HOBBES

PROBLEM IS YOUR BIG. HOT

OUTSIDE

THE SHADE TORAY WHERE'S

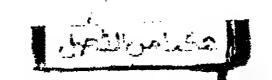

REX MORGAN

h Wrestling Upsets and Drama Rul Aprille Printer - Presser BARCELONA — Assilta R

unin Lopez Zubero. who ening denote world champing on Dougenishing of the Un fem in one of two draw les Remages : Norway season Alee Ter-Micrity dite Cartel Team South mi Kyng-Nar Min won

au te the cogram class Gr

her woulde find Tuesda

h na 10-kaopram divi Ham Class Perer of Cuba budthe gold with the sliver g plans Residues a of the U Sus má Sezer Demiachicie die Umfied Team taking

Rominsen scered two po tilia venneg throw a second bethe built with both wite daming victory as time end. A While the Chances judge, me Shee coasules with the create of N in in the Lineary cho ingen's victory — 21 the becas Ten-Manushian was soulder high by his coach.

After a few seconds of ins diberation between the office

louingms victors was confu and Misturbian came back c locards and sumped on the ! He fell to the floor in any were as he walked to the dre monater the bout. More that lor lan the Norwegian fans all dancing and cheering the by in the greets of the Oly Nere was more drama in th blogan inal when Repka sc a major surprise by bearing D

Roba's improbable 1-0 vis oratine after he had twice sto be bont because of an inj the managed to control paties in the later stages despend that was badly swollen. Maiher lighter had scored the regulation five unitures or towns. Repka spun Dugue the gold the point he neede Volleyba

By Sandra Bailey
New York Tomes Service
ARCELONA — He's No.
2 tomorade and No. 1 in torccards and No. 1 in again of high-fiving against of high-fiving against tash-taiking to ide same to ide against the first tash against the first tash against the first tash against the first tash against tag now he's just another and gry in a crowd of look-a tie [19, men's volleyball in a third straight gold med

Man was almost a side | 15-12 | 10-15 | 11-15 | 16-14 vic on Canada. They c ither determination so their heads shaven, a same son, the man at the controversial cent

other of the courtoversial rev team's opening game de international Volley look the victory a s Show;

the wake, tens of thousands of which Turks left Bulgaria y ten courts the nation's greater Second His triumph had have weathy, and he retired a feared His triumph had have weathy, and he retired a feared life a bit dull He scap night, around 20 of) Steps waved the red Turking the talcony of the Spanie mal Paytion, an airy hal Sants railroad station

. Suleymanoghi lei er do what they were going to then he came out and col-The first half of reposition was the snatch a Taused from the the overhead position in Ther eight contenders but Line before Suleyman Pocarance a 5-lon The man with brown hair garage land shore. or or Eprison He took erica of two and lifted 314

the head Elapsed era half a minute. the excellent abornive at then was abou Cashing west off and he the clean-and-jet ... the separate life the water and the A Stranganogh Wo the first and of the second and the ec an protective beh ad is trainers. His 1997 Curries were over. "- 212 seid efternan and group used a duianen in ha الله عند الله and he said "I wan

Drama Rule

Agence France-Presse

of Hungary pulled off a major up-set in the 68-kilogram class Greco-Roman wrestling final Tuesday by beating double world champion Is-

Team in one of two dramatic

Jon Ronningen of Norway de-fended his 52-kilogram title by overcoming Alfred Ter-Mkrttchian of the Unified Team. South Korea's Kyung-Kap Min won the

In the 100-kilogram division,

Hector Milian Perez of Cuba collected the gold with the silver going to Dennis Koslowski of the United States and Sergei Demiachkievitch of the Unified Team taking the Rouningen scored two points with a winning throw a second before the buzzer, with both wrestlers

While the Chinese judge, Zhigang Shen, consulted with the offi-dials, a screaming crowd of Norwo-gian fans were already cheering

Ronningen's victory -at the same time as Terr-Mkrttchiau was lifted

After a few seconds of intense deliberation between the officials. Rouningen's victory was confirmed and Mkrttchian came back down to earth and slumped on the mat. He fell to the floor in anguish twice as he walked to the dressing room after the bout. More than an hour later the Norwegian fans were still dancing and cheering the vic-tory in the streets of the Olympic

There was more drama in the 68-kilogram final when Repka scored a major surprise by beating Dugu-

Repka's improbable 1-0 victory came 38 seconds into sudden-death overtime after he had twice stopped

the bout because of an injured

But he managed to control Duhiev in the later stages despite a hand that was badly swollen.

shoulder high by his coach.

claiming victory at the end.

bronze.

lam Dougoutchiev of the Unified

BARCELONA — Attila Repka

subscribe in Germany just call, toll free, 0130 84 85 85

re a di las 1996 Olympia.

- o prepare for

New York Times Service
BARCELONA — He's No. 9 on the scorecards and No. 1 in the departments of high-fiving fist-pumping and trash-talking. And that's how you'll have to identify Bob Samuelson from now on, beause now he's just another big, bald guy in a crowd of look-alikes as the U.S. men's volleyball team pursues truth, justice and maybe even a third straight gold medal.

In what was almost a sideline, the U.S. men struggled to a 15-12, 15-12, 10-15, 11-15, 16-14 victory Tuesday over Canada. They came out with their determination solidified and their heads shaven, the more closely to align themselves with Samuelson, the man at the center of the controversial reversal of the team's opening game with

The United States won that opener in five sets, but a jury set up by the International Volleyball Federation took the victory away after upholding a Japanese protest. The basis of the reversal was the jury's finding that Samuelson was game in the fourth set, with the the yellow card should have come with a red card and an analysis. with a red card and an automatic

France defeated Japan, 15-8, 9-15, 15-11, 10-15, 15-9; Cuba beat Algeria, 15-4, 15-2, 15-3; the Netherlands beat South Korea, 15-5, 15-5, 15-7; Italy beat Spain, 16-14, 15-6, 15-7, and Brazil beat the Unified Team, 15-6, 15-7, 9-15, 16-14.

The players met Monday night and, at the suggestion of star Steve Timmons, shaved their heads to match the pate of Samuelson. condition. There was the hint of other action — "I don't want to comment on that," Samuelson said — but for now, the high visibility pretty domb to see us step out on the United States does not have a repmuelson said. "It was a show of support for me and for team unity."

bone to pick. The reference, Samuelson ex-

BARCELONA - For a while, it start of the match: "Of course 1 was," he said. As for being intimidated at the looked as though Boris Becker and Christian Rund might miss the closing ceremonies. Becker outlasted his little-known Norwegian opponent Tuesday in an Olympic marathon, the first match of the Barcelona Games on center court. The score was 3-6, 7-6 (7-2), 5-7, 7-6 (7-2), 6-3. Becker has played better but rarely longer; the match took 4 hours, 50 minutes in the sweltering ter get my act together." midday sun. A courtside thermometer registered the temperature at 108 degrees Fahrenheit (42,2 centigrade) and Becker lost seven

"I think it's not very clever to have organized this tournament with matches in five sets in the summer in Spain, when it is always

Top seed and 1988 gold medalist Steffi Graf had the second match on Court I and was done before Becker. She needed just 35 minutes to beat Lupita Novelo of Mexico, 6-1, 6-1, while fourth-seeded Mary Joe Fernandez swept Li Chen of China, 6-2, 6-3.

in other men's matches on Barcelona's red clay, top-ranked Jim Courier beat Ramesh Krishnan of India 6-2, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4, and fourthranked Goran Ivanisevic of Croatia survived a comeback by Portugal's Bernardo Mota, 6-2, 6-2, 6-7 (5-7), 4-6, 6-3. No. 12 seed Emilio Sánchez, the first Spaniard to play, needed seven match points to subdue fiesty Todd Woodbridge of Australia, 6-1, 7-6 (7-1), 6-2. Seventh-seeded Guy Forget of France climinated Cristiano Caratti of Italy, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2, while ninth-seeded South African Wayne Ferreira beat countryman Christo Van Rensburg, 7-5, 6-2, 2-

A victory by the 19-year-old Rund would have been a stunning upset. Ranked No. 312, he had only one previous victory this year, and that came in a challenger match.

Rund listed his previous career highlights as reaching the quarterfinals of the Orange Bowl juniors tournament and winning a satellite tournament in Hong Kong. "I was talking with a friend about who I'd like to meet here, and the Neither fighter had scored after the regulation five minutes. In overtime, Repka spun Duguchiev code net the at the airport Friday code net the arrangement of the code net the airport Friday code net the a over to gain the point he needed for and told me I was playing Becker, I

Martin Lopez Zubero, who was born in the United States but is swimming for Spain, won the 200-meter backstroke in record time. Kristina Egerszegi, inset, set a record in the 100-meter backstroke. In Wrestling, Upsets and Becker, Put in a Long Hot Spot, Staves Off Defeat As for being intimidated at the forehand, backband and occasion. Becker improved to 51 this user. Becker improved to 51 this user.

the spectators that were seated be-start of the match: "Of course 1 was," he said. But in his Olympic debut, Rund played more consistently from the seline than Becker.

> "I had never seen him before," the fifth-ranked Becker said. "I realized after the first set that he can play good tennis, and that I'd bet-

> While Rund rarely made mistakes, Becker struggled with his Boris Becker needed refreshing after his five-hour match.

For Chinese Woman, a Final Gold

MOLLET DEL VALLES. Spain — Zhang Shan of China on Tuesday became the first, and probably last, woman to win an open Olympic skeet shooting competition.

The 24-year-old student didn't miss on 200 targets in the three-day match, establishing an Olympic record and tying the world mark as she broke 23 of 25 targets in the final round to win the gold with a

The International Shooting Union has decided to eliminate wom-

China also took home the gold in the men's air pistol, with Wang en from Olympic skeet after this year.

Yifu winning with a 684.8 score.

As for being intimidated at the forehand, backhand and occasional volleys. At one point in the second set, the German offered his racket to > hind him, as if to suggest they could But Becker kept at it, and in the fourth-set tiebreaker, he finally found his stride. He served consecutive aces in taking a 2-1 lead and another ace to go up, 6-1. A service break in the fourth game of the final set put Becker ahead to stay.

"He played a very good tie-breaker," Rund said, "and I was a little too tired in the fifth set."

Becker improved to 5-1 this year in five-set matches.

"I have to play better to win a medal," he said. "But one good thing is I can last four or five hours, and that's important on clay."

Courier said the heat didn't bother him as much as Krishnan did. The junkballer from India, ranked No. 200, puts less pace on his shots than anyone else on the ATP Tour, Courier said.

"We call him 'The Surgeon' on and dices, and that's what he was doing today. He's very difficult to Ingrid Haringa of the Netherlands rebroke the women's mark.

BARCELONA — World champion Jens Fiedler clocked 10.252 seconds for the final 200 meters Tuesday in the seeding round for the individual sprint, breaking the Olympic record that had been twice individual sprint, breaking the Olympic record that had been twice broken earlier. The German's average speed was 70.230 kph.

Only minutes before, Australian Gary Neiwand had clocked 10.330, and Canadian Curt Harnett 10.368. The old Olympic record of 10.395 was set by East German Lutz Hesslich in Seoul.

Ingrid Haringa of the Netherlands broke the women's mark, clocking 11.419 seconds — after Felicia Ballanger of France had topped the Seoul record of 11.527 set in 1988 by Erika Saloumiaee of the Soviet Union. Saloumiaee, now riding for Estonia, was only sixth fastest.

Union. Saloumiaee, now riding for Estonia, was only sixth fastest.

Cycling Records Fall, and Fall

Ivanisevic was serving with a match point at 6-5 in the third set against Mota, ranked No. 198. Ninety minutes later, they were still on the court.

"He started to play better and better," lvanisevic said. "He hit balls he didn't hit in the first two

The only service break in the final set came at 4-3.

"He missed two or three easy the tour," Courier said. "He slices shots in that game," lvanisevic said. "I knew he couldn't keep playing the way he had been play-

Swimmer Wins Gold for a Land He Barely Knows

By Ian Thomsen International Herald Tribune
BARCELONA — Martin Lopez

Zubero Purcell was born in Jacksonville, Florida, 23 years ago. He was raised there. His first language was English, and he swam for the University of Florida. As it turned out, he grew up to become the United States' best chance at an individual gold medal in Tuesday night's Olympic swimming compe-

Indeed, a flag was raised in his honor this night. It was a Spanish flag. The weight of his new gold medal sprung tears down his cheeks. They were the tears of Spain. He told the disc jockey to play something Spanish, and all around him the people of a country he hardly knows stood proudly, while outside the pool two defeated Americans tried to make sense of their own losses.

Martin Lopez Zubero - he does not use his distracting last name won the 200-meter backstroke in an Olympic record 1:58.47. A dualnational, he can claim to be Spanish only hy ancestry; otherwise he is as authentically American as fast-food and television sitcoms. His victory might have rescued the faltering U.S. team Tuesday night, but instead it only turned a hotter light upon two of its members, Janet Evans and Matt Biondi.

Evans, the world-record holder and defending Olympic gold medalist in the 400 meter-freestyle, lost that race for the first time in 19 major meets dating back to 1986. She smiled leaning forward to receive her silver medal; a few minutes later she struggled to explain herself without crying.

As for Biondi, he pushed off of the wall as the halfway leader of the 100-meter freestyle, for which he holds the Olympic record, set in 1988, and the world mark. By the time he reached the other side, he said, he didn't want to look up at the scoreboard. He finished fifth in 49.53 seconds, more than a second behind his best time.

"Everybody has their time to come and go, and you may be seeing the end, folks," said Biondi, 27, who had been trying to win the sixth gold medal of his career.

"I hadn't raced in several weeks," he said. "I felt lethargic. If I was going to win, I knew I had to be first after 50, but as everyone saw, I got tight at the end."

While Biondi spoke, sitting underneath a patio umbrella overlooking a parking lot, a U.S. relay team of Nicole Haislett, Dara Torres, Angel Martino and Jenny Thompson was celebrating its world record of 3:39.46 in the 4x100 freestyle. China was second at 3:40.12, with Germany third in Biondi disputed suggestions that the U.S. team should be disap-pointed with earlier losses by favorites Jenny Thompson in the 100meter freestyle and Anita Nall in the 200-meter breaststroke.

"I think we're doing great," Biondi said. "I can't ever remember bronze medal is a disappoint-

Alexandre Popov of the Unified waving the flag over his head like Team, the winner in 49.02, led a quartet past the defending champion over the final 25 meters. Yet Zubero, and he spoke in Spanish, "Said Zubero, and he spoke in Spanish, though rather uncomfortably. "I make brought up in a Spanish home. had failed to win a medal. As it turned out, a failure in the wall touchpad had kept his time off the turned out, a faihure in the wall touchpad had kept his time off the scoreboard. When officials came to return to Florida. Should Ameritell him that he had finished second in 49.43 seconds, he was found crying in the adjacent warmup pool. Stephan Caron of France was third in 49.50, while American Jon Olsen, at 49.51, was humped off of the medal stand.

Evans surged to a lead of .61 seconds at 200 meters, but as she looked back, she had wasted too much strength too soon. Dagmar Hase, a former East German who won the first swimming gold medal for unified Germany, passed her in the final meters to win in 4:07.18. Evans was just .19 seconds behind, and Hayley Lewis of Australia was a distant third in 4:11.22

However, Evans pointed out that she had swum two seconds faster than in the U.S. trials five months

"I think the Olympics is just a place where people just do amazing things," said Evans, 20, her voice cracking. "I'm glad I came, just hanging in for four more years. Nobody can take that away from me. I don't look at it like a bitter or resentment thing. Oh my gosh, it's the end of the world? It's not, it's Krisztina Egerszegi of Hungarywon the 100-meter backstroke in an Olympic record 1:00.68, joined on the stand by her team-mate Tunde Szabo, silver medalist in 1:01.14. Lea Loveless of the United States took the bronze in 1:01.43,

Though Zubero was not nearly as recognizable as Evans or Biondi - especially to a country in which he has never lived - the crowd at least identified with his name. Applause and Spanish flags greeted him as he marched among seven competitors into the arena. Uniformed police gathered around the seat of Queen Sofia, who was here hy no coincidence,

Zubero's hrother, David, had won Spain's first swimming medal in 1980, a bronze in the 100-meter butterfly. His sister had also swum for that Spanish team, and Zubero said he was merely following their example in swimming for Spain. U.S. officials wonder about the size of Zubero's reward from the Spanish government, but it bothers them mainly because he holds the world record in the 200-meter backstroke. "I think everybody understands my decision," Znbero said.

A pair of television camera crews aimed their lenses two yards from his face as he snapped tight his cap and fixed his goggles. After 100 meters he was in fifth place, but he made short work of that deficit. As he emerged from his final turn, he was just a hand short of the early leader, Vladimir Selkov of the Unified Team, who finished second in 1:58.87. Stefano Battistelli of Italy was third in 1:59.40.

When I touched the wall, couldn't believe it," Zubero said. "When I saw the gold medal, I couldn't believe it. It's a dream when you're representing your country to do this."

As he left the medal stand and walked along the grandstand, a Spaniard leaned out and threw a knotted Spanish flag to Zubero. Every few steps he stopped and held it aloft to loud cheers. Spain had just won the first gold medal in the U.S. winning so many medals.
You can't ever say that the silver or medal overall, which leaves it behind many countries and Mark

zil, who looked up to see that he I train in the States, but when I come back I feel very much part of cans, he was asked, feel pride in his accomplishment?

"Yes, in a way," he said. If not pride, then envy.

Bald Heads Spike Volleyball Reversal

By Sandra Bailey In other matches Monday,

But the U.S. team is not going

Somebody would have to be Another statement was made by Bryan lvie, whose knee injury cleared the way for Samuelson, a assessed his second yellow card of a reserve, to be called into the first game. Tuesday, Ivie's right knee penalty point for Japan. That would have made it set and match, quietly into the hot Barcelona sun. whose hairdo is the result of a skin approach was the one selected.

"I guess in my mind, on the score sheet there was one yellow card," said Fred Sturm, the U.S. coach. "That's a fact. But the jury decided statement. the referee made a mistake in not issuing the second yellow card."

en de la composition della com plained, was to the 23-to-0 vote to reverse the opening result, a vote by an international jury on which the United States does not have a repulsion of the referee did not want to ing got ragged, the Canadians' court like that, all bald, and not resentative. Even though internations out something is wrong." Sational volleyball rules appear to make it clear that a second yellow up in the chair with a whistle?" Samuelson asked of Acosta card in a game mandates a penalty point, the United States still has a U.S. volleyball players taking to the floor with their heads shaved before Tuesday's narrow victory over Canada.

heard the ruling Monday, "I was fifth, in which teams may score on really angry." Now, he and his their serve or that of the opponent, teammates just want to make a was all monster spikes by Timmons discretion. "Why doesn't he just sit seemed to wither in the fourth. After the Americans took a 4-0 lead, Canada scored the next 12 points in Samuelson said when he first a row en route to taking the set. The and Samuelson. Without a victory, such state-ments ring hollow and the U.S. So how does this all bode for the rest of the tournament, and for

The card was not officially re- team came perilously close to los- Thursday's game with Spain? Is winning ugly acceptable for 12 bald guys on a mission?

Timmons just grinned and wor-ried about something more important at the moment: How was his wife Jeannie, the daughter of Los Angeles Lakers owner Jerry Buss, going to take the absence of his red brush haircut? She was expected from the airport any minute and that was Timmons's concern. As for the volleyball team, he quoted another Los Angeles sports icon, Al

© 1988 COOB'92, S.A. TM

OBSERVER

The Proust of Politics

By Russell Baker

and Ben Cramer does for American politics what Marcel Proust did for the cookie. After dipping his made-leine in tea, you remember, Proust experienced total recall of French social and cultural history from Charlemagne to Maurice Chevalier.

Cramer has ambitions to play in Proust's league, but he has handicapped himself by choosing politics for his explorations. Thus, as of this morning, after just five weeks of reming. I was up to Page 635, Coopter 63.

Reaching Page 635 of Proust's masterpiece, "Remembrance of Things Fast," took me seven years. -dmittedly, I spent three or four of nessure about hawthoms, an expe-The African Queen where Humphrey Bogart has to wade out into that reedy swamp and tow the boat by hand.

Said Cramer's exploration of the neurts, minds and souls of Americalle ambition-crazed presidential candidates moves ahead at a pace and feels childishly frantic to anycare who has journeyed on Proust's analy calleon.

To put it more plainly, there are times when the reader absolutely hates this book. This is not just because it keeps referring to Senator Robert Dole as "the Bobster." Not use because it rarely lets Dole speak a line of dialogue without first having him issue Conan-the-Barbarian grunts, like "Augh" or "Nnggh." No, not just because of these ocexclosed nutry strainings for a dis-tinguive style, you also hate the thing fundate it almost always works. I and I just cannot stop reading the thing. It consumes weeks of my life, drives me up the wall every time it call. Dole "the Bobster," yet I can't stop turning pages.

With Proust, weeks might pass with scurcely a page fluttering in hands gone lifeless in Madame Verdurint's dining room.

Viith Cramer the mind sobs for many: "All right, Richard Ben Cramer, one more 'Aagghh' out of Pab Dole and your book goes out !2. window!" hut fingers have minds of their own about this book. "Let's just see what's on the next they insist, and on they

What makes it even odder is that TEW YORK — In his 1,047pager, "What It Takes," Richment of presidential candidates, the gang who went for the job in 1988: Bush, Dole, Dukakis, Hart, Biden and Gephardt, as of Page 634. Of course nobody who wants to be president can be truly dull, for as Cramer's book and the present campaign year make abundantly clear, only a freakish human being could even be tempted to seek the job, and only an authentic freak can possibly win it.

Still, there have been more interesting freaks than the 1988 crop. (Examples: Reagan, Nixon, Johnson, Humphrey, the Kennedys Three.) Cramer succeeds in making most of his flimsy cast seem fascinating by using the novelist's tech-12:20 years struggling through a nique. This way he can write from inside his politicians, creating them as original characters.

Sure the accuracy of such stuff may be doubtful. It is especially dubious when he tells us what Bush is thinking as he faces death in the Pacific and when he tries to recreate the agony of Dole's struggle to overcome his shattering war injuries. Still, plausibility usually prevails.

maybe because there is so much exhaustively researched data that the skeptical reader finally yields in admiration for Cramer's dogged pursuit of a zillion boring facts.

What is finally irresistible, however, is the alarming picture of what goes into the struggle for an increasingly curious and unattractive office. In Cramer's portrait. what astonishes one who antedates the age of media politics is the immense power demanded by and given to people with no ideas about nor interest in government, but a childlike devotion to election campaigns as games.

Cramer's candidates are all either overawed or overwhelmed by these campaign engineers, "handlers" as they're called this year. The media role is almost as terrifying. Press and TV people will not like the bloody portrait Cramer paints of them. Though I like to think "the media" unjustly maligned by people who ought to know better, I'm not so sure anymore after reading Cramer's persuasive tale of bigfeet and frenzy feeders. That's unusual a book that reopens a closed mind. New York Times Service

The Salzburg Festival: Exorcising Karajan

By Edward Rothstein New York Times Service

S ALZBURG — When the Salzburg Festival began Monday, it might have appeared just business as usual. As in 1989, when I first visited the festival, the town's store windows hold as many record company posters as consumer goods.

Cheryi Studer peeks out of a Lufthansa ticket office. Sir Georg Solti is nestled in lingerie. Neville Marriner is surrounded by flasks of perfume. Here and there are even a few posters of Herbert von Karajan, whose portrait once dominated the festival. Before his death in 1989 — be was sometimes called the "uncrowned king" of Salzburg — Karajan helped turn this festival into one of the major trade fairs for the European music business and a cultural watering hole for the patrician elite willing to pay high prices to witness the festival's meticulously produced concerts, operas and plays.

Even the rituals are intact. The festival, which began in the 1920s as a nationalist celebration of Austrian music and culture in Mozart's birthplace (a sort of Austrian Bayreuth), seems to maintain its old alle-

On Saturday night, at one of the town's main plazas, hundreds of men in loden suits and women in diradls, all holding candles, liltingly swayed and dipped and circled each other in a display of traditional Austrian folk dancing.

And Monday night, ontdoors in the Domplatz, in front of the town's largest cathedral, Hugo von Hofmannsthal's re-working of the medieval morality play "Everyman" was performed, as usual. Hofmannsthal, a founder of the festival, intended this play, with its message of repentance and reflection, to be a festival centerpiece, making Austrian religion part of the religion of Austrian art.

But all is not the same, and will probably never be again. This year, for the first time since Karajan's death, the festival is in completely new hands. Its intendant is Gérard Mortier, formerly general director of the Theatre Royal de la Monnaie in Karajan was born in Salzburg and lived nearby; Mortier is Belgian. Karajan was a cultural and musical conservative who devoted his energies to calculated and virtuosic performances of the mainstream repertory; Mortier made his reputation with adventursome operatic and cultural programming. Karajan was the center of a vast economic network of managers, artists and stage directors, all of whom de-ferred to him; a few years ago, Mortier attacked the "Mafia-like conditions" that held sway during the festival.

The changes are already in evidence. On Saturday night, 8,000 members of the public attended free open rehearsals, followed by an outdoor screening of John Cassa-vetes' film about theater life, "Opening

ANNOUNCEMENTS

At the opening ceremony of the festival Sunday morning, the main address was given by the Dalai Lama, who won the Nobel Peace Prize in 1989. He spoke about the need for international disarmament and the eventual dissolution of all national borders, a harbinger, perhaps, of the aesthetic version of internationalism Mortier represents.

The main opening performance was not a grand opera grandly performed, as was usually the case, but, in a sign of increased emphasis on theater, a new production of Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" by the German director Peter Stein, who has also been made the festival's first superviser of all dramatic presentations.

Sunday night's concert also marked a shift in musical emphasis: There was no sign of the Berlin Philharmonic or the Vienna Philharmonic, the orchestras Karajan made the center of the festival and would have featured at the first major event.

INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFIED

Instead, Nikolaus Harnoncourt was making his festival debut conducting the Chamber Orchestra of Europe, a group of relatively young players, who tended to display some scrappy informality in their ensemble work. The instruments were early 19th-century horns and drums and strings. Only the composition brought a hint of the old festival tastes: Beethoven's Missa Solemnis.

This is just the beginning. The festival, which will run through Aug. 30, will include a series of Messiaen's works, including a major production of "St. François d'Assise," directed by Peter Sellars. This marks a shift in festival repertory as well as a shift in directorial taste. Moreover, the Los Angeles Philharmonic will be in the pit, led by Esa-Pekka Salonen; the production costs are being shared by the orchestra and the Opera de la Bastille of Paris. In addition to the Los Angeles, another American orchestra will be appearing: the Cleveland. Simon Rattle will bring his City of Birmingham Orchestra. The Len-ingrad Philharmonic will play. Pierre Boulez will be leading a series of concerts with the Ensemble Intercontemporain, including a performance of his own work, "Repons." Even William Christic and his early-music group, Les Arts Florissants, will present a series of concerts of music by Charpentier, Monteverdi and Purcell.

This is hardly the usual roundup of Salzburg suspects.

It isn't just that early music and 20thcentury works are being featured. For all his conscrvatism, Karajan always included a sampling of new compositions along with some experimentation. But these were generally token ornaments on an unchanging center. Mortier represents a shift in the very meaning of the festival. Until now, it has been in performance and repertory inseparable from the Austrian and German traditions. In the 1920s and 1930s, the festival focused on Mozart and Goethe and Strauss and Beethoven. As the historian Michael P. Steinberg has shown, the festival was founded to help create a coherent image of a fractured culture. "Help build a mountain of the Grail for the most genuine and great art," read an early appeal for contributions to construct the festival halls. "Enable at the same time the reconstruction of Austria."

Karajan merely continued that goal, as de facto ruler of the festival for 30 years. He added his own privately run Easter festival in Salzburg to the publicly supported summer festival. He paid fees far higher than the international scale. He linked the release of recordings to his opera productions; no expense was spared (a genuine silver rose was used in "Der Rosenkavalier," even in rehearsals). The festival became the pride of Austria.

The question is what will happen now. Can the conservative audiences willing to pay $120 to $360 for an opera be lured without Karajan's mystique? What will happen as the festival becomes more cosmopolitan and presents a greater sampling of international taste? Will variety turn into lack of focus, or will open borders yield more artistic growth? What will happen without Karajan, who towered above the musical scene in ways both good and bad? But Karajan's legacy and Mortier's ambitions plans ensure that whatever happens here will have an international impact on the music world. The festival's challenges - adding young audiences without losing the old, expanding the repertory without diluting its impact, finding a role for itself when its old role is untenable - these challenges actually define our musical era, and not just in Salzburg.

REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE

PARIS & SUBURBS

BEHOLET 50 km west of Paris).

16/32 sp.m. estate,

Iwa 3-story store balkings + 3 connected contages, 1/4% sp.m. shall

+ past, pool house, skyllic situation, estaphanus graders, oil balkings, including 15th century portion of manstructure completely modernized.

Stratet as progressive, OR COFFICE

STRATE As progressive, OR COFFICE.

SPAIN

SITGES - BARCELONA

PEOPLE

Michael Jackson Going To Court to Save Face

Michael Jackson will appear in a London court to use his face "to prove he's not cruelly disfigured." his lawyer said Tuesday. Jackson has filed a libel suit against the Daily Mirror newspaper, which last month carried stories describing Jackson as disfigured. The Mirror. replied to Jackson's suit by reprinting Tuesday a photograph that ran with the series and daring Jackson to allow himself to be photographed without makeup.

□. -A very fit and nearly 84-year-old Milton Berle has just been named special adviser to Arnold Schwarzenegger, chairman of the president's Council on Physical Fitness and Sports. Berle will appear in a public service television announcement, riding a bike and hitting a speed bag to promote exercise for the senior set. And if the proof is in the pudding, Berle, who walks a lot, rides a stationary bicycle and shadowboxes, is it. His doctor says he has the body of a 40-year-old.

To celebrate 40 years on the throne, Queen Elizabeth II was wined and dined by five of her prime ministers: Sir Edward Heath, Lord Wilson, Lord Celleghan, Lady Thatcher and John Major. Peter Ustinov provided the laughs with a dialogue based on comments previous sovereigns and their prime ministers had made about one another.

Christie's on Tuesday sold paintings formerly owned by the jailed Australian tycoon Alan Bond for a total of 5.75 million Australian dollars ($4.26 million). The anction house called the Melbourne sale a great success. Bond is serving a 21/2year sentence for illegally inducing a businessman to invest in an unsuccessful bid to save the merchant bank Rothwells Ltd. _ TI ~

Maurice Gibb of the Bee Gees told a BBC TV program to be aired on Wednesday that he knew he had teached rock bottom as an alcoholic last October when he brandished a gun at his wife and children. "I thought 'Oh my God, he's going to Adam said. Gibb, who is 42, said he took his first drink at 17 when John Lemon bought him a Scotch-and-

PERSONALS
THE SACERD HEART OF JESUS are takened, glorified, foreid and pre- yeard throughout the world, now and state. Socied Meant of Jesus, proy set at. Somi Jude, whiter of morales, set, for us. Somi Jude, bein of the latitude, proy for us. Amen, Soy file judge who have a day, by the ninth Latitude proy for us. Amen, Soy file latitude proy your will be onswered. It latitudes been known to fail. Publi- co to must be premised. MG/17.

tux fred CD/S

Californius 36, Ot-8027 Zuich Tis 815915, Fast 01/202 76 30 164, 01/202 76 10 new TAX-REE used Songs Eaver + Chemples + etc.

Ancrescos + Bayre or Juguer + etc.
Co-Sile: + Jeep + Juguer + etc.
Soms day regulation possible
1 mousable up to 5 years.

AUTOMOBILES

A.C. COSHA 427 REPLICA
Monaco based firm has recently
"2-red exclusive rights of distribution for power in beauty in Europe.
"2-rable with both 306 & 427 big block

.RASERATI TAX FREE SALES RHD/ LHD, oil models plus £1 million parts resultory Meserati Sole UK Importer. Alandien Moderna Concessionaires Tel: [44] 702 223404 Fax: [44] 703 287791.

PERSONALS TO ALL MY PRENDS in Europe, need help ASAF, Will travel. Thank you, Grucon, Danke Schoene, Mera Bien. Christian.

ANNOUNCEMENTS 80/RDEALIX WINES THE BEST PIBCES, Specialized company, INVEST or for your pleasure. Westerwise delivery, storage possible in fact free warehouse Tel $33 4203 6767 Fox 4203 8601

ANNOUNCEMENTS

ARMORED VEHICLES

OLYMPIC TICKETS All Events Available Call New in U.S. Pernational Access Code + 1-213-734-1938 AUTOMOBILE MARKET

FRED OPERT RACING WORLDWIDE new Us made free shapping teturope between CD change loaded $66,900 BMW3185Cps surroof orroom223.995 BMW355Scps leather overcod224.995 GMC Typhoonlarkeather 200hp329,999 GMC Typhoonlarkeather 200hp329,799 GMC Typhoonlarkeather 200hp3

OLYMPIC TICKETS 3 43 487 2578 Barcelona, Spain

ANNOUNCEMENTS

ALCOHOLICS ANONYMOUS English speciarry meetings drafty. Tel: PARS 46 34 57 65 or ROME 678 0320.

CLYMPIC TICKETS Opering coverantly, basisstated/basing final, terms. Tet 3-3 3012570 asis 257, 34 0 8/6248 TOEL SHIGANTE, American Gelbarint, gives gustor feature, (all styles), especially Blues. Teh Fore (1) 46 28 37 66. SATELLITE TV

NESS INTLUS. MANUFACTURING rep for intl soldide equipment, RM computers. Deal direct for best prong. We stip workforde. Calu-Tax 603-035-6278 USA BYTERA SATELLITE. Morrocco to Si Tropes. Quality satellite installations & marrierance. Rest from 10FF/day. New Arabe MBC channel. R. Morros. Tel (+33) 9378/78.00. Fox 9325.46.74

ANNOUNCEMENTS

MOVING WE MOVE YOU & YOUR

GRANDMOTHER'S CRYSTALS GROSPIRON GROSPRON SYTERNATIONAL Tel: Peris 1-47340264

BUSINESS SERVICES

Companies, Trust, Banking, Manage-ners, Investment & Property Services, Int Investment Management Ltd. P O Box N-4826, Norson, Bohamos Tel: 807-325-1126 FAX: 807-322-3719

ACTION BITS MOVES Free estimate - Excellent service price Worksholds representation For information prices France Paris (32–1) 49 85 18 96 Nica (33) 93 26 13 15

MOVING

interdean PARIS (1) 39569000

FOR SALE AUSTRIA

AUSTRIA - VRENNA: real estate / oper-thrent house. Aproximately 6,000 sq.m. lawer proce, crimical incurred. DAGS 0,000, selling price: DAGS million. Reply to: Connect Viserina. From 00431-S05/7 10

FRENCH PROVINCES OWNER SELIS 3/5 ROOMS, Cornes Bargon prices, F2,500,000/F3,500,000, Tel (33) 93 39 21 12, Faz 93 38 14 92 GERMANY

FLORIDA GOLF COURSE and/or maining loss for sale. Contact Pr pol. Fax: 407-465-9677 USA

One of the most recognitions villes in the area, 600 squal living space, 2,400 squal land, 100 m from beach, Healed

the area. 600 sq.m. faving space, 2,400 sq.m. lend. 100 m from beach, Heated part. Come with enterwater view of pool. Waterfall. Mari-teres court, 7 httpstocs, 5 bothrooms, 2 very large living areas, diring room, very new bidgen and dark wood, cold stare room, interphone, 3-room servents gustrers, lidetien and both. A dream in a beautified care. 20 minutes from Barcalona, 15 from Barcalona areas of a companily or any highway. Call agent + 34 [9] 3 - 894 0514

USA GENERAL

Pages 11 & 15 FOR MORE CLASSIFIEDS

FOREIGN EXCHANGE FUTURES AND OPTIONS MARGINED TRADING MANAGED CURRENCY

ACCOUNTS

Peter Cruddas, Managing

Director of Currency ragement Consultants Ltd. will be in Cannes and Monte Carlo between 3rd and 16th August 1992.

If you would like an apabove services or to receive a copy of our brochure, please contact: CURRENCY MANAGEMENT

CONSULTANTS LTD Witschester House 77 London Wall London EC2M 5ND Telephone: 071 382 9745

Fax 071 382 9487

Telex: 8812591 CMC

READERS ARE ADVISED that the International Here'd Tribune cannot be held responsible for lass of

comages incurred as a reed that readers make ap-propriate inquiries before sending any money or en-ering into any binding oring into any bine

CATHER GARMENTS of excellent critics offered by reputed Manufacturer is safty of 5000 gaments per month. The witness and mans gaments in critic Cow and Goot Nappa. Very book reportation. References can be a state of Cartest SAMCO ENTERPRISES

W.

er te aı

Vŧ

FACTORY: 54 Wheeler Road 2nd Gross Frazer Town Bengalore 56005, India, Telephone 91 812 56660 Telephone 91 812 56660 Telephone 91 812 261468

N.L COMMODITES We will entertain major / separation major / separation for export. Trustworthy & reliable M.C.S. the SMANUFACTURED LASER PRINTER
Some costradges for export from U.S.
High profit morean, high demand, from 203.355-7521 Tel: 203.355-7521 DISTRIBUTORS SOUGHT. Overly an terrang 8 protection starters AX K. Evers 802-951-2387 USA
12VI'S; VINTAGE CLOTHING

No. Fr. 609-875-1207, USA Clothing and 4/05 per candom layholders with interest in officiality before peak of 1.5 912 per and US$.257 per respec-tion of the second of the peak of 1.5 912 per and US$.257 per respec-tion only interested in saling the whole the lat Contest Me Polly or 1.5 Merce; ledy (39) 78/75/074

RUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

RARE
1989 PORSCHE TURBO CABBIOLET immoulate, White, Navy top & micro 5 speed, low miles. Tol. 516-66-1103 of 516-979-0300 USA.

BUY OR RENT THE MOST huminous armored cars or "AMANE Fresige". Cadillac, Mercedes, Chevrolets, Paris (33-1) 42 30 70 66, Fax 42 88 29 91

DIPLOMATIC STATUS 2ND TRAYEL DOCUMENT Premarily Central and South American countries with excellent trade relations to Europe are expanding diplomatic corps worldwid

For further information please contact B.P.J.

Reprincipalities 60 F D-4000 Duesseldorf 1 Phone: +49-211-890 36 18 Fase: +49-211-890 39 99

THE GAMING INDUSTRY

COPPEE & TEA Company seeks PRENCH INVESTOR/PARTNER for operations & expansion. New STORE now open in Paris. For in Paris 1-45.67.40.11 BUSSIA. Our company in the country's central region is ready to represent your interests in the local market. ICUL-TURA I BUZNESS, UESCA Kommas-crathevision 7, Vorgnest 394000, Russia. Tel: 07-3255/384 416-366-8034 Toronto, Canada

SALES AGENT WANTED For Europe's First Troval Cord which gives up to 50% discount in 1000's of Hotels in 125 countries. High profit, minimum mestarent $840, Many carea still open for representation. ETROPENT TRAVEL NO. NO. 101. Na. 100. No. 101. Na. 101. Na can be insurated on the well, For teeth posts, if you are looking for a true money maker, and you are a well experienced distributor - Contoct us teday. Mr. A. Rovin, GM, R.Y. Ltd., Israel. Teleface 972-7-374881.

RAISE CAPITAL FROM U.S. Controlling interest in U.S. issaed company for role for rewrite merger. If you are profitable company the is an excellent apportunity to get listed in U.S. estandiction of the company that is an excellent apportunity to get listed in U.S. estandiction of the company that is an excellent apportunity to get listed in U.S. estandiction of the company that is an excellent apportunity to get listed in U.S. estandiction of the company that is a second reference of more than 22,000. Send information on your company to receive further details to K.N. Murty fice. No. India 91-11-4580608.

GERMAN INVEST 2. CAPITAL made.

GERMAN INVEST & CAPITAL seeks awastors for Berlin and surroundings. Fax: Germany 0049-30-3044679

SALE . PURCHASE . RENTAL ASBECK ENGINEERING ARMORED VEHICLES Poppelsdorfer Allee 104: 5300 Bonn 1 GERMANY Fax 00-49-228/63 65 83 - Phone 00-49-228/65 99 88

AUTOMOBILES AUTO RENTALS OWNER MERCEUES 600 1967 Aug. Finished dark medilic blue. Full light grey hide. Full specification. This car has lived as Bournerworth for most of its life, Total mileage 57,504 miles. Fully documented Merceules service file. F 1090/week F 1090/week F 1090/week I) 12.61.68.68 (1) 44.87.18.68 | 1) 34.29.80.68 New corp - Urain RENAULT S RENAULT CLIO th are, 10ths Aeroedes service file finant date of birth. Unique, cripinal and wireprotable £30,000 Tel:44) 703 283404 Fas:(44) 703 282971.

93.21.11.18 56.24.18.18

AUTO SHIPPING SAVE ON CAR SHIPPING. AMESCO, Kribbest 2, Aniwerp Belgium, Toffrom US, Africa, Regular Ro-Ro scaling, Free hotel. Ti 32/3/231 4239 Fa 232-6355

BUSINESS

OPPORTUNITIES

GOVERNMENT AGENCY or questions of the party to help self & distribute LEMEX 11 A HEGHTY EFROCENT HERBAL PRODUCT FOR ARRESTING AIDS. Need in each developing country, frui hame, fringing obliny, your to, and tell na. to LEMEX LABORATORIES LTD. Fox. 1-906-358-4807 USA.

RSHING, HUNTING, GRAZING. Troubled read estate leasted partner step holds valuable option short-term apportunity to acquire 3,300 acres odiposite to preserved area in Rocky Mountains for a fraction of its value. Write Reply Box 5332, LHT, 550 Thard Ave. 10th ft, NY, NY 10022

SAN FRANCISCO

EXCLUSIVE COMPANIES
FROM GERMANY for all purposes including also unestment courseling and purposes for insmediate service content
face +49 7351 3552

REFRIGERATOR TRAILERS
New cluminum T.J.L. molers with the lotest eurospecs & cartificates, Tel. 617-938-1820, Fase 617-938-1572 USA.

PRESHOLD INVESTMENT FOR SALE AND HOLD INVESTMENT FOR SALE AND AND HOLD INVESTMENT FOR SALE AND HOLD INVESTMENT IN THE PROPOSITION REVEAL INCOME SALE English contractly centrally located in Sizzanon, Polarid [1] It betwee from Berlish, Alac lease of 4-story building ideal for offices, beds. disco., nighticks, prob., shops etc. Tell Fox 48 91 4795 or write 159, Secretin, et. Gradulta 7, Poland.

BE YOUR PRC GARMENT SACTORY We sell & make garment of sik & denin, Fox (852) 4773803 Hang Kong

GMC Typhoonlafter #2079527.975
Mazdat 3 RV Turbo looded $22,790
Mazdat MCSconvertide Most $15,799
Mazdat MCSconvertide Most $15,799
Mazdat MCSconvertide Most $15,799
Lesus 5:80 4door superloaded$40,979
Lesus 5:80 4door superloaded$40,979
Capratte of colors outo & dept. $27,979
Lesus 6:80 4door superloaded$40,979
Capratte of colors outo & dept. $16,291
Corvette of colors outo & dept. $16,291
Corvette of colors outo & dept. $21,979
Jeep GrandCherol ect. and 6:621,979
Jeep GrandCherol ect. and 6:621,979
Jeep GrandCherol ect. and 6:621,979
Juga GV + Rat outo 1.3ur $5,977
Phonel : 201-3271111 Fazzl : 201-3278222

OCEANWIDE MOTORS nor 1972 brokers for Mercedes, BM Forsche, GM & Ford. Worldwide delivery, repartmon & shapment OCM - GERMANY Tersteegesstr 8, D-4000 Duesseldorf 1et (0) 211 - 434646, For: 4542120

BUSINESS

OPPORTUNITIES

MARINE TRADER AND LOGISTICS

NVBNTOR of a machine for a horse, looking for manufacturer to help pur product on market. Has been potented in Weshington. Do not have odual model, only drawings. Reply: CKE, PO Box 414, Sergented, NJ 0/621 USA

GF, CE 1958 Assertic, N., SSI 4 US WANT AN AMERICAN PARTHER? For marketing technical or estate calculations of the calculation of the calculation

EXTILE MADE-UPS. AS types in 100%.
Cotton, Poly Cotton & Terry: direct from the manufacturers for details;
Tel- UK 81 675 3531 Fox 81 675 6244.

Trade & volume byers over.

SEL MONEY. Become a Loan Broker: Free details, Deet IT-253, Francial Free details, Deet IT-253, Francial Free man, 120 134 59, Brooklyn.

NY 11215 USA [18] 766-800 Est.

200 [24 Hos.] FAX [18] 965-300.

WANTED, independent distributors. High tech equipment. Used for stop stollang/devisites. Clinically tested. Low investment/invenedous profit. Tel. Fizz. (305) 936-1638 USA.

FARN S1,000 EVERY WEEK HOW? 2 return flights to Europe for S15. Investment $2,000. Distributers required oil over Europe now. Tel Mon-Fn 9 30-5 00pm, UK 81 459 3745 STERUIZENS 80/08/17/50KD, now?

used. We carry a large inventory sterline parts, all types. Also Medic New York, FAX: 516-489-7364 USA.

USTRALIA, fri] Marketing Co. seels

AUSTRALIA. In: I Morketing Co. seeks emportation. $100 start; unlensted income potential. Fro: 467-547-8610 USA.
RECESION PROOF I Mousewife works on from home earned less morth £15,000. Cali London 44-71-730 5001 or fros. 44-71-730 58112.

EPILIN, HINEST SWISS DEPELATORY was from removed seeking distribu-tors. APS Manile For: (622) 623 1983. PRC SUGAR. USSSSM MT FOR. Jeon USS 45'doz. your brand & design. for (622) 477'80'S Hong Kong

ATK WORLDWIDE TAX FIRE CARS.
Export + shipping + registrollon of new & used cars. ATK NV, Termindles 40, 2930 Brosstood, Belgarin, Florie CJ 6453022. Telex: 31535; Face CJ 6457109. ATK, since 1999. BURD + U.S.A. SPECIFICATIONS

TAX FREE CAIS

E.A.C. General Deyroothers 1130A,
2586 BY, The House, Holland, Tel31 70.3557245 Fa 3500424 T# 33220

AUTOS TAX FREE AUTOS TAX FREE

RUTTOREN TRUCKS BY, Over 300 used con, trucks, buses and varie in stock. De Reit 11-21, 4891 RV, Ris-bergen, Holland, Tel (31) 1606-3830. Fax (31) 1606-3817 PREJAR! MONDIAL T 3,4 1989 model, red, 12,000 km. No catalyze. Now registered with Switz for free plates. Tel. Incl. 41-1910 85 BA. Fox-41-1910 06 45.

BUSINESS

OPPORTUNITIES

BUSSIA Business Opportunities and investment, FAISTAX TRADING & CONSULTING US Tel: 703-876-4080, Fax 876-7226, MOSCOW Tel: 27735-72

Fox 67-5 Y22A MOSCOW Tel: 29736-7

DISTRIBUTORS for US firm entering lapon, Mercap, Australia No, entering lapon, Mercap, Australia No, entering lapon, Mercap, Australia No, entering lapon, Mercap, Australia Fox DB, 301-881-6270 or NCB 19705 Wathreston C 2006

IS PROPESSIONAL RASEBALL seem for sole. Nationally recognized Class. AA Merca Leopus difficile. FAX 9157-525-725 USA for debats.

MBUTARY Surplus. Vehicles & equipment from US & European creap.

Letadol LCS, Germany, Tel: +47 621-41906 Fox; 47-627-415910.

MCREASING PROPES GUIDES, free catalogue. Signa. 9 Great Rused St. London, WC1837NL Fox: 71-580779.

CAPPSHORE COMPANIES. IPCI 1/5

CONTROL OF THE PROPERTY OF THE

ATTORNEYS

ATTORNEYS IN NEW YORK CITY

ATTORNEYS IN NEW YORK CITY
With to stracture durients by your commerced and financed needs. Our offices will be all your service to provide legal services, assistance with real estate residue and relocations and strovels of full portificion with financial expert furnition with examing only programs for text benefits. Access to U.S. capital markets; public and private security efferings. TV & film co-productions.
SCHWARTZ GUISTEN & ASSOCIATES
10 E 4015 Street, 4446 Fig. 10016.
Tel: 212-889-0800 Fox: 212-827-979
FRANCOUTT Let 4446-97-5197
Fox: 4447-459-7517

LA. LAW U.S. Citizenship in qualifications. Banking. International Commerce, levestment. HOFLER 8, 1885CN, 1et. 213-663-9098, Fost: 213 662-0835/Deutsch 618-881-9270 USA.

BUSINESS SERVICES

CREAT ENHANCEMENT
Stand-by letters of credit, insurance & corp, guarantees, casignable fixure gold elivery & deposit certificates, performance bonds, import & expert quarantees. FAX your information toburche 48 18 1979, American 214 596-6646 or 214-270-1539.

GERMANY, YREPHEM, crossroads of Europe, 60 km sooth Fronkfurt resport, near Mannheim Heedeberg, 180 squa, new offices (DM 18,00 sgm), and 800 sgm, industrial building? I mines high, (DM 12,00 sqm), doed for Strage, dash busion, production, waterbassing services consider, 181; + 49-6204-71005, Fan. 49-6204-6351 BUSINESS MESSAGE CENTER

CONSULTANTS U.S. BASED INTERNATIONAL Consulting from with 60 years conduced experience in Loth America will selling distribution network for your products in this very dynamic marketplace Excellent governmental & business contacts. Present for particulars to [216] 872/077 USA.

FINANCIAL SERVICES

Please reply in English
VENTURE CAPITAL CONSULTANTS
Investinate Bondows
16311 Venture Bird, Selbe 999 finding, Colferatio 97436 U.S.A.
Telett, 651355 Venture 15A
Fox No.: (818) 905-1698
Lot.: (818) 789-0422

FORMER BYT'L CIVIL SERVANT offers word processing + deat top publishing service. We'll presented is speedly done. Perhaps you have long documents job have not the time to do inhouse. Arme Livery, Square Tetaud, 14270 S. Autoric Charles Fernand. PRIME BANK 16Z30 St. Angeau, Chorente, France. GUARANTEES Venture Council Business From Real Estate Long Term From and Financial Guarantees All Types of Projects No Commission Until Funded Brokers Protected STANBLING UPON A PROBLEM ? Contact vs. C.E.D.) Fors Tel (33-1) 4874 3567 Fox 4780 4772
Consulting & services perpendicular and a second for in the processing of these francing applications.

USA IMMAIGRATION LOTTERY for USA green cord. File July 29 to Aug. 28 for 36 countries, Contract Immigra-tion Law Offices of C. James Coope, Derwar, Colorado USA, 9 on - 4 pm wastering Tul. 2017/17 1 2029 LW. weelidays, Tel- 301/371-1822 USA COMENG TO EUROPE All Euro-services offered by US/ Lucembourg operation. Fox 352-4(4)/L CONTACT BURGPE AMSTERDAM.
Full professional information authorized desk services per library day or larger.
Tel: +31.20.684.7777 Fax: 688.1374

WORD PROCESSING, desitop publishing and translation fervices, account of pictures, degrans etc., Weentoch lazer printer), 7el (1) 42 00 21 68 LETTIES OF CREDIT, Standby & Constructed production. Press and penaltic requirements to FAX: 803-254-2773 USA. 7773 USA.
YOUR OFFICE IN ISRAEL Fully 98viced offices Tel Avrv. Fgs: 9723.6950132 Tel: 695668 Januariem Fax: 972-2-29739. Tel: 257303

STUMBLING UPON A PROBLEM 7 Cortor us CEDIL 16, Fore 33-11, 45 74 35 67 or Fore 42 80 47 22. Corsuling 8 services LONDON ADDRESS BOND STREET. Mail, Phone, Fox, Telex, Conference room. Tel: 671 479 5197 Fox 479 7517 2ND TRAVEL DOCUMENTS. Privacy International Funding, 1 spiritos Sources, Fax: (UIQ 44 2) 554 (400. BUSINESS TRAVEL to Onest-Austrolad Africa No. 8 50 Attenta. Sove up to 50% No cou-pors, no restrictions. Imperial Coroda Tel. 514341-7227 Febr 514341-7998.

ALL PURPOSE LETTERS OF CREDIT Francial 8 hall Trading Services Worldwide Securies Ud., 2053 65 come 84d, #415, N. Marail Seach Fra 33190 USA Fox 305/922-2033 FINANCIAL INVESTMENTS CURRENCY TRANSES Softwore +453% from April 15, 1992 from April 15, 1992 ACTUAL TRADBING. CONSISTENTLY PROFITS 359 FO 500% + per year, Lease USSSOO, FREE TRAIL: FAX: 305-254-3772, Tel: 305-251-6762 in USA, 24 hours.

35% BETURN ON DOLLARS invested World Of Corp. S.A. announces (new concept in horizontal drafting, for information, Ray Prop., President For 305-979-2668 Tet 305-979-5120 USA. CAPITAL AVAILABLE SUCCESSIVE AMERICAN morketon executive with financial copinal to a rest seeks apportunited investment correr in Switzerfood, Box 530, BiT 850 Third Ave. 10 fl. NY, NY 10222

IMMEDIATE & UNLIMITED for ALL business projects AMIN US. ST MIL/NO MAX. 1 TO 2.5% OVER UBOR SINGLE ANNUAL PAYMENTS TEMS UP TO 20 YEARS (717) 397-7490 (U.S. FAX) WORLWIDE FINANCING US $50 mi

CAPITAL AVAILABLE

hors & up for new & existing businesses. Tel: 915-673-1861 USA 24 hrs. CAPITAL WANTED

NEED $3,000,000
U.S. for unique 2,073 ours Son francisco, California Boy Area readentol development with sovereign nation solus. High return, water investment,
ANII Volley Tol. 510/465-1461 USA Face
510/268-1161. SERVICED OFFICES

OFFICES PARIS 8TH Coll Berting Meanmons Tel (35-1) 42 94 60 00 Fex 42 94 60 01

Ring CARLYCEL, & you're in house

YOUR OFFICE IN BRUSSES Mail - Phone - Fast / Teles -Mailfragus Servess - Meeting Roome CORTACT BUSINESS CONTER Tel: 32 2 536 8677 Fast 32 2 536 8697 Teles: 61344

PROXY BUSINESS CENTRE Brand new office & deak in Hong Kong. Convenient location, HK/Towon resoly mode Cos. Replacemed Office Besiness Address, Co. Secretarial/Normessy Accountry/Abding/Tox & Management acres/ton-p. Shipping documents, etc. Tel (852) 516/7021 Fox (852) 516/7046. ACTE COTE D'AZUR MULTURIGUAL BUSINESS CENTESS.
ACTE NICE neor inflicipant
Tel (33 93 18 8/ 08 767 93 18 15 21.
SOPHA ANTIPOLISSiones Park

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE SWITZERLAND

A LIFETIME OPPORTUNITY You can own a lovely apartme on Lake Geneva or in a popul rountain resort. Attractive vil or General Marigones available Globe Plan SA, roe Error 10, 2003 Januaryan Smitzerland 1000 Lausanno, Switzerland. Tel 41-21-312 35 12 Fax 20 23 70

REAL ESTATE TO RENT/SHARE

LONDON RENTAL SPECIALIST rate UK 71 409 7822.

IONGHTSWITDGE EAA/right serviced luxury flots beside Horrods. From £34 in Kensington. Oxbridge Aportments Tel: [7] 835-1611 Fess [7] 373-0036. PLITNET super specious town house, 5 becks, 2/3 recoptions. 2 boths, o tractive garden, Close High Street transport. CC/5/wk. UK 81 788 8446

HOLLAND PRITER BRUSH EROKERS International housing service for (remi) furnished housins/apartment CXrusemonstr. 5, 1075 NB Amsterdam Tel (31) 29-6768022 Fax 6799666

PARIS AREA FURNISHED

LAMY (1) 47 23 53 14 5 ov. Pierre ler de Serbie, Paris 16. me DELOS. Apartments shart-lang ten

SERVICED OFFICES

ATTENTION EXECUTIVES ATIENTION EXECUTIVES fraishes year business manage in the informational Heroid Itämen, where more than a third of a million readers workfoolin, most of whem one in business and industry, will read it. Inst lakes as [Panis 618595] before 10 a.m., sawaring bast we got slain; year back, indicate which insper oredit card year with the charge it to, the number and year managed and post minerage can appear within 48 hours. Flaces also include year address and telephone member for our fligs. GENEVA.

BOKAL FOR TRADING ROOM.
Fully equipped office with on-fire information systems. 100 sources

41-22347 4727 Fox (41-22)346 8159

YOUR OFFICE IN BARCELONA
Reserve your office now, from Pros
8.500. Long and short term. Phone-lim
Teles-Multilingual Secretary-typing. Teles-Multilingual Secretary-typing. Teles-Multilingual Secretary-typing. Teles Multingual Secretory typing. Tel 34-3-2150606, Face 34-3-2160681. MUNICH AIRPORT AREA, fully equipped office with secretary [Germos/English], coll/fox [67] 8441-9157

YOUR ADDRESS near Champs Byses LS.P. (since 1957) 5 nee d'Arbois 7500 Pars. Tel (1) 4359 4704 Faz 4256 2335 LONDON WI BUSINESS CENTRE All foolies, 24 hours occurs. Tel UK (44) 71 735 4048 Faz (44) 71 735 7779.

YOUR OFFICE IN LONDON 70p per day. Mail, Phone, Fox. Th., all services. Tel: 71 436 0766 Faz; 71 590 3779.

Page 19 FOR MORE BUSINESS MESSAGES

SALES -

NEWLY RENOVATED MODERN 3-STAR HOTEL

COMMERCIAL/INDUSTRIAL REAL ESTATE

PRINCIPALITY OF MONACO 1000 SQ,M, OFFICE PREMISES For sole (— one entire floor) in obers building, in excellent state with conditioning and 15 parting spaces.

RENTALS

AGED 7 and 9 Bd des Moulins MC 98000 MONACO Tel: (33) 93 50 66 00 Telev: 479417MC Fax: (33) 93 50 19 42

CANADIAN R.Y.-M. RISHING RESOLUT full service operating resort located in Northern Scalatichavern, Everylate lodge operation or would be well suited for use as a private or corporate retired. Accessible early by Rose place. US $279,950, Tel: 402-497-3072 USA.

(Commercial company on shares) closer of large real estate of best location, investment value: SF 8M. Full details available by mandatory RINUS - FIDUCIARIA AG, CH-4663 AABBURG, Fox 41/62/413873

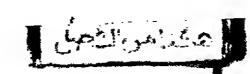

SWISS CORPORATION

2 MINE WARRHOUSE PROPERTIES
90% + occasionsy. W. Coast Florida.
N.O.1 5450, $4564 Tel. 813-251-322
For 813-254-7391 USA. Sel or Inde.
CTRUS GROVES-COSTA BICK-Pointnol return 24%-60% + $516-516
Tel/Tox 447-547-8610 USA Broken welcones.

30 min Ancen-Provence, France.
20 rooms. 12th century 9-room Outs
House, restaurant for 70 inside and 100 outside. Heated swinning.pool, 3-agre park, Porting. 1 four beach, mountaint 6 Marseilles Intl cirport, hundreds of borist sites nearby.
FF7,500,000. Tel. (23) 92/72/88/6
Fee. [33] 92/72/88/5
cak for Mr or Mrs DE VELEES

Wall Street stocks som from falling interest rate: carnings reports from se bial average rose about 3 90 points (Page 9) Dow Jones Up-38.64

337271 The Dollar

Imprime par Offprint, 73 rue de l'Evangile, 75018 Paris.

Honecke forced B To Berlin From Ex Ex-Communist Faces Trial in 1 fast Germans L

the (Johal Yewspa) Bearing Bridge - Park

The second secon

Town Frank

Constitution of the State State TERAL - Ent House Refer to the corner East ET III Pir Heresses defia on the Bettern that To has the Commence Chen English and Angeles duran a state & Brite N The arm - -- see any line SECTION SECTION SECTION CAN lette East the tracky deve he with the second that ired Jacob Just an muraster, Sal of all received for male de rate: - " "In the court of the land again Sesue The Boy a Trailer of the attention to settle in the face. Mr. Henseker landed at Beilig in a Russium payermine death taued to an outsving ligefreicht hanger Gernian planted to take from the Manaest Berrie is the part of the efficient him a courge street, donaid in משם אב אבעול בינים זה החשו affects the would for Atlantin serve - pe All - De reier ed to fich grants from Last Oceanas

School of Honorary left Mo

affinition of the month people dial .. L'a mali alorne LOCKE If converted Mr. House TERSOLUTE: Some Grand new have pi Marus - Lemmas Cer We ertreume ei erfreit. But th the restor system thank the agang Mr. Honecker. Mr. Homedwar dines moth halding of the wall wiself ! megentally derives the char

See HONECKE

1

Mr. Honecker giving a Wednesday as he left the Falling Inter

1.4815

1.9208 127.85 5.003